A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous coveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

A MYSTERIOUS CASE.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED IN CONNECTION WITH A YOUNG MAN'S DISAPPEARANCE.

Here is Another Holmes' Story—A Reputed Wife Who Tried to Have Him Apprehended Last January—Her Story Partly Verified.

Special to the Times.

COMBER, Aug. 17.—Word has just reached here that Melvin Campbell, a young man employed by Ed. Smith in the lumber camp in Rochester township, has disappeared and all efforts to trace him have proven fruitless. The last seen of the young man was on Monday morning when he was mounted on horseback riding out of the woods. He had recently purchased the horse which he rode, he went toward the Tilbury West town line. Nothing more was seen of the man or horse until Wednesday morning when the latter was found securely tied to a farmer's fence in the vicinity of Staples.

From the appearance of the ground around where the horse had tramped the animal had been there some time before discovered. It was thought that the animal, which is young, and commands a good appearance, had been stolen, the thief had become frightened and left the horse tied to the fence to avoid detection.

FOUL PLAY FEARED.

The horse was afterwards recognized by the employes of the camp as that of Campbell's and then the search for the young man began but so far his footprints have not been discovered. Foul play is suspected by some. He had no money on his person and had not drawn his wages for two months back. The young man came here from Detroit. He is described as being bright but of a retiring nature and is about 20 years of age.

ANOTHER HOLMES STORY.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 17.—A woman who registered as Mrs. H. H. Holmes, accompanied by a five year old girl, was at the Gilmour house at Columbus, Miss., on January 18 of this year. They called on a justice of the peace and produced a paper which she claimed she had found in H. H. Holmes' effects at the castle. This paper, which was signed by H. H. Holmes, gave a detailed account of the murder of George H. Thomas and his subsequent sinking by Holmes and Pietzel in the Tombigbee River, near Columbus.

The woman stated that she was Holmes' wife, and that he had ill treated her for the preceding two years, and that she hoped by his conviction to secure her share in his property. The register shows that Pietzel stopped at the Gilmore hotel on January 18, 1893, a date that agrees with the alleged confession.

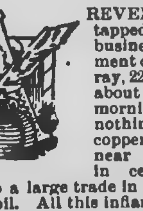
ROBBED AND SET ON FIRE.

A COAL OIL WAREHOUSE IN TORONTO VISITED BY INCENDIARIES.

Only the Promptness of the Fire Brigade Prevented an Explosion and Extensive Conflagration.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.



A REVENGEFUL thief tapped the till at the business establishment of G. & J. Murray, 224 Yonge street about 3 o'clock this morning and finding nothing but a few coppers started a fire near the oil tank in cellar. Messrs. Murray do a large trade in American and Canadian oil. All this inflammable liquid is stored in the cellar in air tight tanks thickly covered with sheet iron. That was how the fire was discovered at 3 30 this morning by the officer on Albert street beat. He noticed a smell of smoke and climbing over the sheds on the Albert street lane discovered the cellar door open and the flames bursting out. He at once turned in an alarm and the Yonge, Lombard, and Bay street reels were summoned. The firemen succeeded with the aid of the Bay street chemical engine, in getting the fire under control within ten minutes. The damage was slight and is fully covered by insurance.

EXPLOSION NARROWLY AVERTED.

Messrs. Murray are well pleased with the prompt action of the fire brigade. Had the fire been discovered a little later it would have succeeded in forcing its way upstairs. As it was the heat was so intense that the lead plumbing pipes in the cellar had already melted and the sheet iron coverings of the oil tanks had peeled off. In another five minutes there would have been a disastrous explosion, and only the effective working of the Bay street chemical averted a calamity as it was.

THE ACT OF A BURGLAR.

An examination of the premises showed that the fire was undoubtedly incendiary. Some one had climbed over the rear sheds, broken a window in the cellar door and sliding back the bolt had opened it. The burglar then went up the cellar stairs to first floor where he pried open the till. Finding only a few coppers he apparently though of getting even for all his trouble. He took a number of bundles of lampwicks down cellar and placed them near the tanks where the oil had dripped from them. This move, which he doubtless considered a clever one, frustrated his devilish intention. The wick instead of aiding him caused the fire to smoulder, and the smoke noticed by the policemen was due to the same reason.

The watchman noticed a suspicious looking character in the vicinity of Albert and Yonge streets at 1.30 this morning. Shortly before the alarm was turned in the watchman observed this same man coming along Albert street and disappear down Shuter. When the alarm was rung it occurred to him that the man with the slouch hat had perhaps been a firebug and a policeman was at once despatched after him. But the man had vanished.

Shot by a Constable.

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 17.—Settlers near the line of construction of the Parry Sound and Arnprior railway have complained of the depredations of the navies. Constable Grier went to investigate, and got warrants for Harvey Henderson and Pat Candel on the charge of selling liquor to the workmen illegally. On Thursday Grier met Henderson, and shot him during the excitement following. It is thought he cannot live.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS LEAVE.

The Ottawa Seachers do not Like Their Castigation—Reports Popular.

Special to the Times.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 17.—Today the Christian Brothers of this city made preparations for their immediate departure to pastures new, but their exact place of destination could not be ascertained. Their household effects were sold by auction this morning. The report of the commission was received with much favor. Those acquainted with the general working of the schools feel that the commissioners were none too severe in their denunciation of the Brothers' methods as teachers.

N. Bonaparte Wyse, son of the eminent French engineer, whose death was announced by cable this week, reached here today. He says his father is not dead. The mistake arose out of the death of the great engineer's brother.

TO BLOW UP PARLIAMENT

A PLOT TO DESTROY THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT DISCOVERED.

Socialists and Anarchists Published a Red-Hot Sheet Calling for the Destruction of the Houses of Parliament.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 17.

SINCE November 4th, 1605, when a certain Guy Fawkes and others engineered such a scheme but were detected and hanged, the possibility of a plot to blow up the House of Parliament has been one of the pet scares of British officials, and regularly, year after year, ever since the vaults of the Parliament House previous to the assembling of that body are formally searched for powder barrels with the old time ceremony and minuteness.

SOME BASIS FOR THE SCARE.

This year, however, there was some little show of cause for the apparently unnecessary precautions taken, for with the opening of Parliament comes the discovery, real or imaginery, of a scheme to send the commoners and lords unexpectedly skyward in a body. Whether the story be true or not, the afternoon papers yesterday made quite a sensation out of affairs and the inhabitants of this great metropolis have not half done talking about it. Simmered down to cold facts it appears that there was some foundation for the report, and it rested upon the following basis of facts:

Some few weeks ago the manager of a local printing and lithographing company was asked by a foreigner, described as "dark looking and mysterious," (of course) to lithograph a weekly paper for a Turkish company. As no knowledge of the Turkish language was necessary for the job, the manager of the English concern undertook the contract, and lithographed thousands of copies of the Turkish weekly, the paper being mostly sent abroad.

FRIGHTENED THE PRINTER.

A few days ago, however, two detective sergeants from Scotland Yards sailed at the lithographing establishment and asked to see the manager. The latter appeared all smiles, scenting some new business; but his jaw fell and he turned very white when asked if he was aware that he was suspected of being engaged in a plot to blow up the House of Parliament and that his visitors hailed from Scotland Yard. In reply to the unfortunate manager's protests of innocence, the detectives explained to him that he had been printing in the guileless looking Turkish weekly red hot anarchistic literature calling upon Socialists and others to combine for the purpose of blowing up the House of Parliament upon the occasion of the opening session.

SIXTEEN MEN ON THE PATH.

One article actually stated that sixteen men were really on their way to England, from various points, in order to make the necessary arrangements for sending the members of Parliament and peers of the realm skyward.

In spite of his protests, the terrified manager was escorted to Scotland Yard to the detectives, where he was confronted and examined by the Chief of Detectives and a Police Commissioner. To these officials the thoroughly frightened manager of the lithographing establishment explained all the circumstances of the case, gave a full description of the "dark and mysterious" looking foreigner, established his innocence of any complicity in the treasonable publications and went his way, much relieved, upon promising not to lithograph any more Turkish weeklies without first ascertaining the nature of their contents.

IS IT A MARE'S NEST.

The police first got wind of the affair owing to the boastings of some London anarchists. But the story of the latest "gunpowder plot" is far from being as it might have been, and there is a strong suspicion in more than one quarter that the Scotland Yard authorities have unearthed a mare's nest.

PRESIDENTIAL PROSPECTS.

Gen. Weaver Says the Nominees will be Whitney and Harrison.

Special to The Times.

WACO, Texas, Aug. 17.—General Weaver in an interview with the Associated Press representatives yesterday, said the cause of free silver was rapidly gaining ground and that both old parties were being materially weakened. He says, in his opinion, William C. Whitney will be the Democratic nominee for President, though Cleveland may develop some strength, while the Republicans are for Harrison, Morton, Allison, McKinley in the order named. He thought Harrison would receive the nomination, and there is no room for two Republicans and the Democratic party is doomed. He believed Senator Sherman's speech at the Zanesville convention would be the outline of the Republican national platform.

HOW IT IS EXPLAINED,

The Chinese Minister's Opinion as to the Origin and Extent of the Massacre.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Herald's London special says: Kung Tajen, the Chinese minister plenipotentiary to the courts of London, Brussels, Paris and Rome, in referring to the recent massacres of the missionaries, declared they were on this, as on previous occasions, mainly the work of Russians, who had availed themselves of the exceptional circumstances in order to work mischief and loot property in the confusion which ensued.

SEPARATE SCHOOL REPORT

THE COMMISSION REPORTS ON THEIR CONDITIONS.

No Teaching of English Worthy of the Name in the Boys' Schools—In Those Taught by the Sisters Everything Was Satisfactory—Recommendations Made.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—The departmental commission appointed to inquire into the condition of the Separate schools of Ottawa and to investigate charges made against Inspector White by Rev. Brother Flamian of the Christian Brothers has handed in its report.

Inspector White's charges were that there were too frequent charges of teachers; in the lowest classes there were many pupils of rather advanced age for such divisions; there was no attempt made to secure uniformity in the grades of work done at the different schools; absence of uniformity in the hours of assembling and dismissing the schools; the need of uniform examinations conducted by competent persons appointed by the Board; the absence of proper instruction to boys in English; too many text books, some of them inferior in quality, and an absence of uniformity in the prices; inadequate equipment and accommodation in the schools.

CONCLUSION OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

The commission find as follows:

Arithmetic—Standing poor in all schools but St. Joseph's, which is taught by lay teachers.

Geography (boys)—Poor as regards both knowledge and style with the exception of St. Joseph's. The work of the girls was generally fair.

Composition and Grammar—Papers in English and French, with exception of St. Joseph's boys, deficient in neatness. Pupils didn't know the ordinary rules of English composition. The work of the girls was excellent.

History—All classes weak except one in Gingue's school and a girls' class in St. Joseph's.

Spelling—Boys poor, girls good. At St. Joseph's school the spelling was excellent.

Reading and Literature—In reading there was a general lack of expression with the exception of St. Joseph's. In literature there was an intelligent grasp of of the subject matter.

NO ATTEMPT TO TEACH ENGLISH.

Regarding the question of English in French schools the commissioners say: "From a consideration of all the facts and from a careful examination of the French schools we can come to no other conclusion than that there is no attempt worthy of the name made to teach English in the boys's schools. The teaching is largely giving to the pupil written forms, whose sounds when spoken by him convey no idea to his mind. If the instructions of the Educational Department with reference to the teaching of English were followed and a teacher capable of teaching English employed for every class the text books for translation could be laid aside and the pupils would learn more English in six months than many of them know now after having been at least four years at school."

With regard to the teaching of the Brothers the conclusion of the commission is that, as regards the purpose of education and the means of securing it, the Brothers are not familiar with modern methods of teaching.

As to the Sisters, the commissioners say: The teaching of the Sisters showed good general scholarship. From the way in which they taught their lessons they evidently understood that education is training, and can be secured only by the self exertion of pupils.

The commissioners found that Inspector White's statements regarding the shortcomings of the schools were borne out by the facts.

CHILDREN HEAVILY HANDICAPPED.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—In view of the report of the Ontario Commission, the Citizen roundly condemns the Separate schools of Ottawa. It says: "It is clear there has been very good ground for the agitation against the present constitution of the schools and for a change in the the teaching body. Inspector White's criticisms are borne out by the facts. If Catholics are to engage in the struggle of life on an equal footing with their fellow-citizens, they must be equally well instructed. The youth that goes into the world unable to speak English is heavily handicapped."

KILLED HIMSELF.

No Doubt But That Walker the Sport Suicided.

Special to the Times.

DETROIT, Aug. 17.—There is no doubt now that Fred Walker, the Guelph bookmaker, committed suicide. His wife and others who are familiar with his handwriting positively indentified the letters he left, in which he indicated his intention of doing away with himself.

Lost a Foot.

THOROLD, Ont., Aug. 17.—A young man named Daniel Coyle belonging to the town while getting off a G.T.R. train in motion here last evening fell and had a foot taken off by a wheel passing over it. He was taken to the hospital. A horse belonging to James Dabball was run down and killed by a Niagara Central train here last night.

Another Disappearance.

COMBER, Aug. 17.—Word has just reached here that Melvin Campbell, a young man employed by Mr. Ed. Smith in the lumber camp in Rochester township, has disappeared, and all efforts to trace him have proved fruitless. The last seen of the young man was on Monday morning, when he was mounted on horseback riding out of the woods. Nothing more was seen of the man or horse until Wednesday morning, when the latter was found securely tied to a farmer's fence in the vicinity of Staples.

Serious Revolt.

SOFIA, Aug. 17.—It is reported here that one hundred villagers were killed in the attack on August 9th by Bulgarians on the village of Janakli, in the Kirdjali district. The insurgents lost ten men. No women or children were killen.

License Inspector Dead.

DUNDAS, Ont., Aug. 17.—Mr. Joseph Bowman, license inspector for North Wentworth, died at his house in Dundas yesterday morning in his 72nd year. The deceased was born of U. E. Loyalist parentage at Niagara, near the whirlpool.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 17 1895,

Doctors' prescriptions are now called remedial orders.

The United States government demands of Spain the immediate settlement of the Mora claims; but the same government reserves to itself the right to take all the time it wants to settle the Bering sea claims. What is sauce for the Spanish goose seems inappropriate as a relish for the Yankee gander.

If it is true that Holmes is to be tried for the murder of the Williams girls in Chicago, it simply shows that he has not yet lost his cunning. He is probably the instigantor of the move. It is simply absurd to talk of trying a man for the murder of persons whose bodies have never been found, and who, therefore cannot be shown to have been murdered.

Japan has decided to issue no more passports to Japs leaving for Canada unless they have sufficient money to engage in farming or trade. By this Japan has more than proved her claim to recognition in the brotherhood of nations. While the nations of Europe are eager to unload there needy citizens on other people, Japan is upright enough to keep her poor at home. Justice demands that the people who produce a pauper class should support them.

In Taganrog in Russia a company of Barishuiks, or small traders, finding they could not reach their destination one night, decided to sleep in the open air. One of them, however, refused, and went to a cottage not far off. In the morning he found his nine companions had been murdered in their sleep and 48,000 roubles which he had were stolen. The murderer was found soon after; he had joined the band disguised as a trader, had drugged them with morphine, and then killed them.

LAKEFIELD.

COUNCIL MEETING—A meeting of the Council was held on the evening of Monday 12th inst. The Reeve and Chairman of the Road and Sidewalk Committee arrived very late having been detained on business at Bridgenorth, which business, however, had no connection with the picnic at Chemong Park.

The Finance Committee's report recommending payment of accounts amounting to $235.04 was adopted.

A bylaw, to borrow $400 for current expenses was passed.

The clerk was instructed to write the Reeve of Douro requesting the immediate attention of that municipality to the matter of the island belonging to this village which has been wrongfully sold for taxes by the Douro Council.

A discussion took place on the subject of the Electric Light in the village, and Councillor Burgess was instructed to enquire into the matter.

A by-law was passed prohibiting the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks of the village, and bicyclists will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

CHARGE OF LARCENY—At a court held on Wednesday 14th in. the Town Hall, David Darling was charged before Messrs. Edmison and Nelson with the larceny of 19 turkeys, the property of Thomas Hockaday.

County Attorney Wood prosecuted and E. B. Stone appeared for the defendant. After a patient and full investigation the bench acquitted the accoused of any criminal intent, but decided that the turkey were the property of Mr. Hockaday. Nine of the fowls have disappeared, and a civil action for their value may follow.

T. V. C.—Quite a boom in canal matters has been in progress this week and the village has been alive with valuators, surveyors and engineers. Messrs. Pope and Strickland have been here as valuators, and contractors for this section have been represented by Mr. Alymer, a member of the firm.

Several property owners have been notified to vacate their holdings forthwith, but are rather disinclined to do so until they receive their compensation cheques.

Four stalwart would-be navvies received free lodging and breakfast on Wednesday from the constable, and were requested to call again later on in their quest for work on the Canal.

AUCTION—On Thursday 15th Mr. G. McIlmoyl, offered for sale the Planing Mill and water power the property of Mr. I Griffin, but in spite of a considerable attendance no bid was made and the property is now for sale by private contract. This is a valuable property and there is little doubt that a purchaser will soon be forth coming.

A small house and lot near the railway track was also offered but with a similar result.

ACCIDENT—A sad accident happened this morning at the Pine Grove cheese factory near this place. The youngest child of Mr. Robert Little was playing in the verandah and fell head first into the rain barrel which stood at the end of the verandah. The child was drowned before its parents missed it.

CYCLE CLOTHES.

Designers Are Busy Keeping Pace With the Demand for Them.

The bicycle craze continues to spread. Old men and maidens, rich and poor alike, are learning to tread a wheel. Since manufacturers have reduced the prices, and have begun to sell machines on the instalment plan, almost anybody can afford a wheel, and the clerk and shopgirl ease their consciences by reflecting that the saving in car fare will pay for the bicycle.

Though a very necessary costume, a bicycle suit is not a very serious matter so far as quantity of material is concerned. For riding purposes the less material the better, and expediency is fast getting the best of modesty in deciding upon the number of yards.

The days of the skirt are numbered, and it grows shorter in length and scantier in girth each season. There are sure to be some bloomers somewhere about a bicycle rider, and they are not always concealed. A great many women wear the sweater which men find so useful. These looked very odd at first, when they were made with close fitting sleeves. But now there is a sweater in the market made with sleeves puffed to the elbow. This is much prettier and will be found very useful by feminine athletes.

Old tennis balls that can no longer be used for the game can be made to do good service for the children's outdoor sports. Sew the covering together where it has been ripped, with stout linen thread and crochet a cover over it of a soft material. They will last a long time.

Bird Foods Explained . . .

Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of bird seed in the market? Because we have made birds and bird foods the study of a lifetime, therefore we know just what birds require, and each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected seed with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25c. Much of the seed fed to birds is positively injurious. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

LITERARY NOTES.

It is said that Esther, in General Wallace's "Ben Hur," was named after his mother.

"Thanatopsis" means "a vision of death." Bryant's poem of that name was published in 181[illegible] It has been set to music.

"The silver fork school" was a name given to a group of writers of fiction in England who laid great stress upon matters of etiquette.

Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn-writer, was not born blind, but lost her sight when very young. Her husband, Alexander Van Alstyne, is also blind.

Captain Charles King, the novelist, is a West Point graduate. He has served in the United States artillery and also in the cavalry. He was retired from active service in 1879 on account of a wound received in the Apache campaign of 1874.

Homer is the poet to whom is assigned the authorship of the "Iliad" and "Odyssey." Of his personality nothing is known. Seven cities have contended for the honor of his birth.

Maarten Maarten's first book was called "An Old Maid's Love." His real name is J. M. W. Vander Poorten-Schwartz, and he is a Hollander by birth.

The Astor Library in New York City is an endowed reference library. It was founded in 1849 by John Jacob Astor, and it has received successive gifts from different members of the family. The library numbers over 245,000 volumes, and is, for the most part, admirably selected. Its range is general.

The real name of Madame Sans-Gene was Therese Flequer. At the age of eighteen she donned the garb of a French soldier, and for twenty-two years she participated in the military glories of France. With Napoleon's fall her career ended. Her last days were not prosperous. After Napoleon's fall she opened a cook's shop, which failed. In 1818 she married a quartermaster of the gendarmes, a friend of her youth. Eleven years afterward her husband died, leaving her in very poor circumstances. Finally she was compelled to beg a place in a Hospital des Menages, where she dictated her memoirs and died.

POINTS FOR SHOPPERS.

A novelty among ribbons is the stiletto-toed or perforated sort. These come in pale delicate tints alone.

Black and white are likely to be a livery this year, the ground white, the stripes narrower and closer together than usual.

Big, white wash buttons come to match the white braids of various designs that are shown to trim suits of duck, pique and Galatea.

Tiny Chine flowers, on white grounded glaces, are much used for evening dresses and for blouses, and recall the Dolly Vardens, popular some time since.

A novelty in blouses is made of an India-patterned silk handkerchief, the corners being used to form pointed epaulets and basque, with straps of dark-red velvet over the shoulders.

Linen grenadine is a material of very loose weave, and is shown in brown and wood tones. It is found chiefly at the linen stores and comes in plain, dotted and striped designs.

A waist of soft black silk seen recently was made in a blouse effect, with violet velvet choux or rosettes set in irregular fashion about in its fullness. The collar was of silk, with violet rosettes.

"Angel" sleeves are shown on the tea gowns, those of a cobwebby net with an applique border being very fleecy and halo-like. They (the sleeves) are very long, with wide, fan points, and are most graceful and effective.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

In country stables there is no excuse for foul odors.

Whatever you would like a pig to be you can have by selecting a boar that is a pattern of what you want.

When horses are kept in dark stables and brought out into the sunlight, the eyes are in great danger of injury.

The temperature of a stable should never go below the freezing point. The proper temperature is about sixty degrees.

Solitary confinement in a dark stable has a tendency to make a horse vicious. It affects the brain, as it does the brain of a human being in such confinement.

When hogs are fed upon alfalfa, they can be finished up nicely on Egyptian corn, and in some sections where alfalfa grows, this corn grows better than any other fat-producing grain.

At the last Smithfield show of England lambs of about 300 days of age tipped the scale at 222 pounds, giving about two-thirds of a pound of growth per day since birth. A fine record.

Young animals should be fed considerable bulk in order to develop the stomach. Heifer calves especially should be fed considerable bulky food. When concentrated food alone is fed, the stomach is contracted.—Farmer's Voice.

NEWSPAPERDOM.

Ten editors are members of the English parliament.

There are twenty-five women running country papers in Kansas.

A Spanish paper in the Pyrenees regularly suspends publication in hot weather.

One undoubted Americanism has taken firm root in England; the Times has adopted "gerrymandering."

In order to foster British commerce with Japan the British Trade Journal has determined to issue a regular quarterly edition in Japanese and to print and publish it in Japan.

Longmans, of London, are starting a new magazine for spotrs, to be called the Badminton Magazine, which will also contain "fiction which possesses a more or less pronounced savor of sport." The editor will be Mr. Alfred Watson, who assisted the duke of Beaufort in editing the Badminton Library.

PROGRESS OF SCIENCE.

A lady in Atchison has a poodle dog which has just been fitted with a glass eye.

Upon the meeting of the 54th Congress each member will find on his desk a button, a pressure upon which will be promptly answered by a page.

Billiard balls of cast steel have been made and used successfully at Stockholm. They are hollow and weigh about as much as the ordinary ivory balls. A lathe is used to turn them to perfect smoothness.

The advance of natural history within the last 100 years has been so great that the science is practically a product of the century. Even as great a naturalist as Linnaeus thought that swallows pass the winter under the ice, and held other beliefs which may now seem equally absurd.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

HOLMES TRIAL.

He Will Probably be Taken to Chicago—Conference Today At Which It Was Decided by District Attorney Graham of Philadelphia to Give Him Up.

Special to the Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—It has practically been decided that H. H. Holmes, the alleged murderer of Minnie and Nannie Williams, B. F. Pietzel and half a dozen others, will go to Chicago for trial for the murder of the Williams girls. This is the outcome of a lengthy conference held in this city today between W. A. Capps, of Fort Worth, Texas, and District Attorney Graham. After the conference Lawyer Capps said that he had urged the District Attorney to allow Holmes to go to Chicago and that Mr. Graham could hardly refuse to grant his request.

WORK ON THE BRESLAU MURDER.

Photographs of the Scene and Kirchinski's House—No Accomplice Suspected.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 16.—Detective Greer and Detective Klippert are at work on the Breslau murder case. They do not think there was any accomplice to the deed.

Messrs. Greene & Co. yesterday photographed the spot where the dead man was found, and also Mr. Hagey's house, Kirchinski's house and surroundings. The ground traversed in the case will be surveyed.

BRIEF WIRELET.

The Vatican will shortly institute an apostolic delegation in Mexico, with functions similar to those of the delegation at Washington.

Cuban insurgents placed dynamite on a railroad track at Bolandron Bridge, and an entire train was destroyed with many Spanish soldiers.

The Novoe Vremya publishes advices from Vladivostock showing that the outbreak of cholera in China, Corea and Formosa is becoming serious.

The anniversary of the battle of Rezonville, during which several sanguinary cavalry engagements took place, at Mars la Tour, was celebrated yesterday.

The sealing schooner Bow Head has been seized at San Francisco for sealing in prohibited waters.

The will of the late John Hodge, one of the most prominent citizens of Lockport, N.Y., is missing.

A union catechism compiled by a Catholic priest is said to be now in use in both Protestant and Catholic schools in Pittsburg.

Railway presidents in the Trunk Lines and Central Traffic Associations interested in keeping up the freight rates are in session in New York.

Henry McClain died at Washingtonboro', near Lancaster, Pa., yesterday, from the effects of food becoming lodged in his throat. He starved to death.

Actor Andrew Byrnes, of the Eight Bells Company, was probably fatally shot in the lobby of the theater at Norwich, Conn., on Wednesday night by a man named Fenton. Jealousy.

Spanish troops have started for Cuba to suppress the rebellion.

Weakness is the symptom, impoverished blood the cause, Hood's Sarsaparilla the cure. It makes the weak strong.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS.

SHE WILL FORGE THE LAST LINK IN THE CHAIN AGAINST DURANT.

Saw Him Go Into the Church the Night the Murder Is Thought to Have Taken Place—Thought He Was a Very Exemplary Young Man.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—A local paper says the last link in the chain of evidence against Theodore Durant has been discovered. Mrs. Leake, fifty years of age and a member of the church who lives across the street from Emanuel church, has reported to the police that she saw Durant and Blance Lamont enter the church at 4.10 on April 3rd, the day of Miss Lamont's disappearance. She knew both Durant and Miss Lamont intimately and therefore cannot be mistaken as to the identity. On April 3 Mrs. Leake sat at the window of her residence nearly all the afternoon, looking for her daughter whom she expected to arrive from San Mateo. At 4 o'clock she saw a couple coming up the street, one of them she instantly recognized as Durant. As the couple came nearer she recognized the girl as Blanche Lamont. Miss Lamont wore a short school girl's dress and carried a package of school books. The dress and school books were afterwards found secreted in the church. When the couple reached the church gate they stopped for a moment. Durant opened the gate and they passed through. Mrs. Leake knew of nothing detrimental to Durant. She had always considered him "such an exemplary young man" but notwithstanding the fact she thought it exceedingly imprudent for the girl to go into the church with him alone. She imagined that they had some errand in the church and expected in a few minutes they would come out. She watched carefully but the gate did not open.

DID NOT SEE HIM LEAVE THE CHURCH.

There is only one entrance to Emanuel church during the week, and that is by the side gate and rear door. Mrs. Leake knew the young people would have to pass through the gate, and she wanted to see them on the street again before she left the window. She waited a long time, but household duties finally called her to another part of her flat, and she was obliged to give up her vigil.

THE CHAIN COMPLETE.

Mrs. Leake's testimony completes the chain of evidence against Durant. These school girls saw Durant and Blanche Lamont riding on a Powel street car at 3.30 on the day that Miss Lamont disappeared. Attorney Quinlan saw the couple a few blocks from the church a few minutes before four o'clock. Now comes Mrs. Leake who says she saw Durant and Miss Lamont near the church a few minutes later. George King, the organist, has already testified that he entered the church about 5 o'clock and saw Durant coming out down from the attic. Durant's hair was disheveled, his face was red, he was panting for breath and was in a state of utter physical and nervous collapse. In answer to enquiries he explained that he had been engaged in arranging electric lights in the loft and had been overcome by gas.

FIGHTING IN CUBA.

Insurgents Attack a Spanish Force and are Repulsed—A Town Assaulted

Special to the Times.

HAVANA, Aug. 16.—Advices from Tanta Clare are to the effect that a Government column under command of Major Zubias arrived on Wednesday at the Natalia plantation, in the Sagua district. Shortly after its arrival it was attacked by a band of rebels, who were repulsed and dispersed. The rebel loss is not known. The Government loss was one killed.

The town of Cumanayagua, in the Cienfuegos district, has been attacked by rebels. No details of the fighting have been received.

Hon. Mr. Dickey Promises Better Accoutrements for the Militia.

Special to the Times.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 16.—At the close of the meeting of the Provincial Rifle Association yesterday, Minister of Militia Dickey presented the prizes and received a complimentary address. Replying to it, the Hon. Mr. Dickey said he would do everything in his power to further the interests of the militia in Canada, and would see that they were provided with better accutrements. He also stated that an order to the amount of $50,000 had been given in London for Lee-Medford rifles for the use of the Canadian militia.

FIGHTING IN CUBA.

A Train Load of Volunteers Blown up With Dynamite

Special to The Times.

TAMPA, Florida, Aug. 16.—The officially revised despatches cabled from Havana and the accounts of Cuban passengers who arrive by the various steamers continue to tell two different stories of the progress of the insurrection in Cuba. Passengers from Cuba last night report that on last Wednesday an insurgent band under Managas encountered a band of Spanish guerillas at Colon. Eighty five of the latter were killed while the insurgent loss was seven killed and 32 injured. A train bearing a large detachment of Havana volunteers to Santa Clare district was destroyed by dynamite at Bolondon railway bridge. Very few volunteers escaped death. The explosion was terrible. Campos has ordered the Spanish troops to dress in blue checked goods to distinguish them from insurgents it having been discovered that the Spaniards occasionally shot one another through mistake. Hospitals are being constructed wherever Spanish troops are stationed to care for yellow fever and wounded patients.

WOMAN SAVED THREE LIVES.

She Took Her Son, Daughter and Sister Through Blazing Rooms.

Special to The Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 16.—The presence of mind and heroism of Mrs. Peter McCormick, of No. 1,518 Rutter Street, probably saved the lives of three persons this morning. She was awakened at three o clock by suffocating smoke to find her home in flames. The fire had already attacked the only stairway, but Mrs. McCormick awoke her nineteen year old son and led him to the street. She then dashed into the burning building, aroused her fifteen year old daughter and piloted her through the smoke filled and blazing rooms to safety.

Mrs. McCormick then made a third trip up the fast succumbing stairway and, arousing her sleeping sister, Mrs. Perkins, who was suffering with rheumatism, guided her in safety to the street where she was taken care of by the excited neighbors.

When the engines arrived nothing remained for them to save but the brick walls. Fifteen hundred dollars will probably cover the money loss.

Getting Ready for the Fight.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 16.—The contract for the erection of the Florida Athletic Club's amphithepter is let. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway gave its check for $20,000 for one thousand reserved seats to the contest to be sold along the line. A letter has been received here saying that Fitzsimmons will probably train at Terrill, a small town thirty miles east of Dallas. Corbett's quarters at Galvestion are being fixed up for his reception.

THE TRUTH.

Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst, D. D., the great reformer, writes October 24, 1894: "Mrs. Parkhurst and myself have used Pond's Extract so long and so constantly that we can speak appreciatively of it and in terms of warm commendation."

Rev. Chas. S. Robinson, D. D., editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prize it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfills every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, writes November 13, 1894: "I have been using a great deal of Pond's Extract for the past year in gargling, as I find it affords great relief in colds."

During the past month the Pond's Extract Company have received over 2,000 orders from physicians. We have on our books testimonials and orders from most of the Governors and many of the Senators of the United States; from the royalty of Europe, such as Her Majesty the Queen of Roumania, the Duchess of Cumberland, Princess of Wied, and others too numerous to mention.

When the clergy, the medical profession, statesmen and royalty all unite in praise of an article it seems unnecessary to say anything additional, but we do find it necessary to warn the public against imitations. These words of praise are all in favor of Pond's Extract—the genuine and only.

It is because of its intrinsic merit and high reputation that Pond's Extract has been imitated. If it were not of such great value and so world renowned there would be no imitations.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested In the Recent Medical Discovery.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected namely, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

LOOKING FOR LAND.

A Delegate from Austro-Hungary Going to the Northwest.

Special to The Times.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Prof. Olekow, who occupies the chair of agriculture in the University of Lemburg in Galicia, a province in the northern part of Austro-Hungary, yesterday visited the immigration office in the Department of the Interior. He is in Canada in the interests of a number of farmers in his native province who wish to emigrate. One of the officials of the department who speaks German was told to accompany the professor to the Northwest in search of a place of settlement, which he can recommend on his return. It was said yesterday in the department that these people are a most desirable class of immigrants. The professor while in the city was taken to see the Experimental Farm, with which he expressed himself highly pleased.

A DOUBLE LYNCHING.

Father and Son Dispatched Together by an Angry Mob.

Special to the Times.

Ellensburg, Wash., Aug. 17.—Charles Vincent, who shot "Mike" Kohlopp, and his father, who shot John Burgin in a drunken brawl Sunday, were lynched at an early hour on Wednesday.

The sheriff made resistance, but had a small force guarding the jail and was overpowered. Young Vincent was hanged to a railroad bridge and his body was shot full of holes. His father was hanged near by.

Some of the most prominent citizens in town participated in the lynching. A few were masked, but the majority made no attempt to disguise themselves. There has been a good deal of lawlessness in the neighborhood for the past year, and it was the general belief that a sharp lesson was needed.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Shortage of City Bonds.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—A shortage of some $40,000 has been discovered in the civic treasury bonds. It is in the shape of missing bonds, and the official who is responsible is W. M. McDunnough, city accountant, who is dying of jaundice. His friends have made an offer of settlement.

Twenty Thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking of his beauties. He ships them by mail and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 45 King street west

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." Mrs. Dalton, 56 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

The Classic Baseball nine arrived on the late train last night, for their game with the Peterborough today.

Attempt to Murder.

John Holbrook was arrested on Saturday by County Constable Moore on a charge of attempting to murder his daughter, Mrs. Weese, of Havelock. He will have a hearing before Magistrate Mathieson at Havelock, on Tuesday afternoon.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 651 Stewart street,

The Band at Chemong.

The Fire Brigade Band went to Chemong Park on Saturday night and rendered a select program for the benefit of the guests at the hotel. They were invited to a splendid repast by Mine Host Fobert, which they did ample justice to. The guests were delighted with the music.

This Should Be Stopped.

When the City of Peterborough steamed out into the Little Lake on Saturday afternoon, it had to pass close to where fully 50 boys were swimming. Half of this number were perched on land or piers exposing themselves to the gaze of any who happened to look in their direction. This is a frequent occurrence, and a stop should be put to it.

That Bridgenorth Affair.

The following participants in the disorderly fight that took place at Bridgenorth on Monday last, were tried before County Magistrate Edmison on Saturday afternoon and each fined $5 and $5.33 costs: W. Coon Miles Coon, Bridgenorth; Henry McNorton Young's Point; Austin McConkey, Lakefield; Wm. Pearson, Harvey; W. Lipsett, Buckhorn.

New Goods

At Clegg's, now arriving every day for the fall trade. Not only fine and expensive furniture, but the cheaper lines as well. Good common chairs at 33c, a good bedstead, all hard wood and well finished, for $2. Mattresses, springs, pillows, etc. Cheap extension tables and sideboards. Four flats one hundred feet long filled full of furniture and all at bottom prices, A. Clegg, 427 George street.

Bicyclists In Town.

A touring party of bicyclists, members of the Wanderers Bicycle club, came to Peterborough on Saturday night. They were met by members of the P.B.C. and shown around. Yesterday the party wheeled to Chemong and Lakefield, and today they will go down the river. The party consists of: Messrs. J. W. Johnston, Robert Duthie, Victor Lee, C. Thompson, A. Brownlee, H. May, H. H. McNamara, G. Greer, B. Nicholls, D. C. Ross, Bruce Robinson, John Mebarg.

Two More Caught.

Yesterday morning Detective Shore went to Omemee in search of additional evidence in the counterfeit case, and afterwards went out to the country and arrested two more of the Murphy family, Frederick and Richard, who were brought to town last night and were given a short hearing in County Magistrate Deacon's office. They will be held on the charge of passing counterfeit coin, and will have their preliminary hearing along with the rest of them on Monday.—Lindsay Post.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

An Excursion Over the Route of the Trent Valley Canal.

The excursion of the season will take place over the route of the Trent Valley Canal, to Cameron Lake, under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the George Street Methodist church, on Tuesday next, August 20, per G.T.R. to Chemong, and steamer Columbian. Train leaves G.T.R. station at 8.40 a.m., connecting with Columbian at 9. This is positively the most delightful trip of the season. Steamer passes through Chemong, Buckhorn and Pigeon Lakes, thence up the picturesque Bobcaygeon River and through the locks to Sturgeon Lake, passing Sturgeon Point with its score of handsome summer residences, and thence into the magnificent Fenelon River, passing within full view of the miniature Niagara, on the left, and entering the largest and most expensive set of locks on the entire Trent Canal system. The lock is known as the double lift lock, having three enormous gates. After an hours stay here for dinner (25 cts.) and where the fine Howry Saw Mills are situated, the steamer will pass up the Fenelon River to Cameron Lake—one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the country. Returning, Chemong will be reached at 8.30, and home at 9 p.m. Tickets, round trip, $1, for sale at THE TIMES office, Peterborough and at the station.

TO DAY'S ATTRACTIONS.

Two Lacrosse Matches this Afternoon—Baseball this Morning.

Peterborough will be invaded today by a large number of Foresters and Knights of Pythias from Toronto, who will arrive on excursion trains this morning.

A splendid program of sports has been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors and they should be able to spend a pleasant day.

The leading event of the day will be the lacrosse match between the Athletics and the Tecumsehs of Toronto. The latter is a strong team and should the Athletics succeed in worsting them, it will indeed be a victory. The Athletics will play a strong team composed as follows:

Wasson, goal; Bolin, point; Turnbull, cover point; Brown, 1st defence; Jos. McDonough, 2nd defence; McCabe, 3rd defence; T. McDonough, centre; Phalen, 3rd home; Rubidge, 2nd home; Lipsett, 1st home; Galley, outside home; J. McDonough inside home; P. J. Doris, field captain.

The game will be called at 2.30 p.m., on the Driving Park Grounds.

Immediately following this game, the II Athletics and II Elms of Toronto, will play. The teams are:

II Athletics.		II Elms.
Wasson	goal	Harvey
Brown	point	Shoemaker
Lynch	cover point	Soules
Green	1st defence	Creelman
Craig	2nd "	Wardrobe
Thompson	3rd "	Waghorn

This morning the Peterborough baseball nine will play the Classics, of Toronto.

The Junior Park nine will also play the Crawford's of Toronto.

EVOLUTION OF A CONVICT.

The "Cat" Converts an Incorrigible Into a Meek Young Man.

Henry Davy is a Peterborough young man, who fell into evil ways, and incidentally, into the hands of the police of the town just named. He was convicted of an offence against the laws of his country, and was sent to the Reformatory at Penetanguishene, in hope that the lessons there taught him would make him a fairly good citizen. The hope was vain. The authorities at Penetang were unable to do anything with their charge, and finally sent him as an "incorrigible" to complete his term in the Penitentiary here.

Now, the man whom the penitentiary authorities cannot manage, or the will that they cannot break, does not exist. Davy was not aware of this, when he arrived here, and he determined to continue the conduct that had caused the Reformatory people to be glad to get rid of him. He indulged in outbursts of ill temper. He became "sulky." He gave but an unwilling and tardy obedience to the commands laid upon him. He quarrelled with his fellow convicts, and in short, fully justified the term "incorrigible" that had been applied to him.

The penitentiary authorities looked on at Davy's conduct with mild surprise and pained regret. They applied mild measures of punishment to his first offences, without effect. He heeded not the correction. Then sterner measures, growing sterner still, were adopted, as the convict's conduct became more reprehensible. And thus war was instituted between the authorities and the convict. Davy was serving his first term in the "Pen" (though he had four times been sent to the Central Prison) and was not aware of the resources which the Warden and his assistants could draw upon. So he kept on "cutting up," and at length he put the climax upon his bad behavior by attacking a fellow convict, and administering to him a pretty severe drubbing.

This was more than the mildest of Wardens could stand. Mr. Davy was put under restraint, and his case was taken into consideration by the ruler of the "Pen," the result of some consideration being a decision to flog the representative from Penetang.

Preparations was made. The triangle was set up, the "cat" was taken from its retting place, Davy was examined as to his chances of being able to stand the punishment, and was then "attached" to the triangle. A stalwart guard stood by holding the "cat," the surgeon was in attendance, and everything was in readiness for the infliction of 12 lashes upon the offender. The guard who held the "cat" stepped into position. "One." The word free from the lips of the master of ceremonies, the cat swished through the air and fell upon the bare back of the convict. He writhed, but gave no cry. "Two." Again the cat rose and fell, and again the convict writhed and twisted, but still he uttered no sound. With regular cadence the stripes were inflicted, and before half the dose had been given. Davy was howling with agony. He yelled for mercy, and begged to be let off. But he had earned his punishment, and it was inevitable.

At length the lesson was over. Davy was relieved from his "painful position," received the attention of the surgeon, and was then led off to reflect upon the text: "The way of the transgressor is hard."

This closing scene in the little drama was enacted one day towards the end of last week. The lesson has had its effect. Davy is now aware that he is not in the Reformatory, although he believes that there is much more "anguish" in Kingston, for evil doers, than there is in Penetanguishene.—Kingston News.

A MONSTER PICNIC.

Annual Excursion of the Patrons of Industry to Jubilee.

On Monday, September 2, the Patrons of Industry will hold their annual harvest home picnic and excursion to Jubilee Point. All the boats on the lower waters have been chartered to convey the excursionists from the different points on the river, and the picnic will be attended by thousands of people.

One of the features of the day will be the speaking, and many prominent speakers will be present. Among them will be, Prof. Mills, of Guelph College, president of the Peoples' Salt Company, Goderich, and Grand President Mallory, of the Patrons of Industry.

This picnic will probably be the windup of the boat season, as immediately afterwards the City of Peterborough will go into winter quarters.

Large posters announcing the program for the day will be out in a few days.

Bargain day in raspberries, watermelons peaches, bananas, cucumbers and tomatoes at J. B. Oke's. Telephone 301.

Beyond all comparsion the largest, oldest, richest and most complete Arenic and Zoological enterprise in the universe. Noted for its matchless magnitude, magnificence and merit. Now increased in every way except in price of admission. You will see larger tents, double menagerie, more sensational features, more greater acts than ever before exhibited in this or any other country, without a rival, without a blemish, honestly advertised, honorably presented, truthful, moral and instructive.

Pure and Free of any Objectionable Features, No Games of Chance, No Humbugs, No Exaggeration, Everything as Advertised.

We permit no fakirs or confidence men in or about our tents, and tolerate no trickery of any kind whatever. Ours is a clean, wholesome and moral exhibition, conducted on better lines than any other circus show in America, and you can safely take your families; or your wives, sweethearts and children are perfectly safe to visit our mammoth show unaccompanied. We call upon and invite the honest criticism of ministers, members of the press and the public generally to speak of us as they find us. If our show is not as represented, and if it is not the largest, most elegant and refined circus and menagerie ever in Canada, as well as the most extensive, don't give us the encouragement of your patronage.

SELLS BROTHERS, Sole Owners and Managers

Will be at The Driving Park, Peterborough, Saturday AFTERNOON & EVENING August 24th

SELLS BROS' GIANT
3 BIG CIRCUSES 3 SEPARATE RINGS

All new superlative sensations, 5 continent menagerie, 50 mammoth cages, gala hippodrome races, army of artists. 1000 people, 500 horses and ponies, 300 all feature acts, 1,000 wonderful sights, 12 monster waterproof tents, 3 special railway trains, $3,500,000 actually invested to perpetuate its grandeur. A GREAT CIRCUS.

Sells Brothers Will Spread Their Tents in Peterborough, Saturday. Aug. 23

Sells Brothers' great circus will spread its mammoth tents in Peterborough, Saturday, Aug. 24. The death of Adam Forepaugh and P. T. Barnum placed Sells Bros. in first magnitude. Sells Bros.' enormous united show is now the oldest and largest in every respect. In genuine merit and enterprise they are to be assigned first place, while in features of originality and genuine excellence they lead. This is the 24th continuous year of their experience in the show business; a longer period than any other can boast of, and in all that time they have proved able, honorable, progressive, and popular caterers to the millions of amusement lovers. Arrangements have been made with all railroads and steamship lines to run excursions at reduced rates on the day of the Big Show.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

"TECUMSEHS" BEATEN BY THE ATHLETICS BY 6 TO 1.

Peterborough Baseballists Defeat the Classics Two Games—The Elms Down the Juniors and the Crawfords Triumph Over the Junior Park Nine.

There were sports galore in Peterborough yesterday, and this town made an excellent showing against opponents of some standing in lacrosse and baseball circles.

It was Toronto's Civic holiday and several hundred Torontonians came to Peterborough to spend the day. Two excursions were run from the Queen City, one by Court Cosmopolitan, No. 5687 and Circle Cosmopolitan, No. 113, A.O.F., and one by the Knights of Pythias. The number of visitors, however, did not come up to the expectations of the local lodges which had made preparations to receive a large crowd, but the committee composed of Messrs. A. H. Webb, Alf. Kingscote and James Craig, looked after the comfort of those who did come, and all spent a pleasant day.

THE CLASSICS DEFEATED.

The sports were started at 10 o'clock on the P.A.A.A. grounds when the Classics, the intermediate champions, of Ontario, crossed bats with the Peterboroughs. The game was not witnessed by a large crowd, but it was a splendid game. The champions were a decided "mark" for McCabe's pitching and batted in vain at his professional curves, while out in the field Tighe, Dolan, King, and LePage on 2nd and 1st, snaffled everything that came their way, so that the visitors were held down to 6 runs for nine innings. The home team had no difficulty in feeling the Classics' pitcher and pounded the pig skin for 12 runs. Tighe, McCabe, Lyttle and LePage doing the heavy batting. The teams and score were as follows:

PETERBOROUGH.	RUNS.	TORONTO.	RUNS.

THE AFTERNOON GAME.

In the afternoon the Peterboroughs gave the Classics a worse drubbing, and the game was more exciting and witnessed by a larger crowd. Peterborough did some magnificent batting and pounded the ball to the fence at frequent intervals. McCabe made a home run, sending the sphere over the left field fence, and crossed the home plate amid great cheering. LePage held first base down in great style and scooped everything that came near him. He batted a two bagger and brought two men home. All the Peterboroughs played good ball. The Classics were mystified with McCabe's pitching and showed up lamentably weak at the bat. The score was as follows:

THE CRAWFORD'S VICTORY.

The Crawfords of Toronto, played with the Junior Park Nine at the conclusion of the above game, and succeeded in winning the match in a score of 16 to 14 runs. The teams and score were:

The Lacrosse Games.

The largest crowd was attracted to the Driving Park grounds in the afternoon to witness the Tecumsehs-Athletics and Elms II Junior Peterboroughs games. It was expected that the Tecumsehs would send their senior team to compete with the Athletics and the large crowd was very much disappointed to learn that the Tecumsehs had sent down a scratch team.

The ball was faced at 2.45 and it was seen from the outset that the Athletics could play all around their opponents. In fact, after the first goal, which the Athletics scored in a few minutes, they simply played with the Tecumsehs, and refused dozens of chances to score, simply to make the game last a while. The Athletics played a beautiful combination game and "passed" the rubber back and forth with skill, precision and the greatest ease. The game closed with six goals for the Athletics and one for the Tecumsehs. The teams lined up as follows:

ELMS II VS. JUNIOR ATHLETICS.

This was a splendid exhibition game, and fine playing characterized it from the face off to the finish. The teams were very evenly matched, and had it not been that the Juniors were playing in very hard luck and against doubtful decisions, the result would have been different.

The Juniors scored the first goal after a hard fight, and the Elms got the sphere and shot it through the flags in the second game. In the third, the ball was at Peterborough's goal, hit the goal post and bounced back. Hundreds would take their oath that it did not go through, but the umpire, a Peterborough man, gave the goal to the visitors. The next goal Peterborough won without a doubt. Just as the ball was at the goal, and the men were in the scrimmage, Galley and his check got into an altercation, and the referee called time. Before the word was passed to hold the ball, it was put through the Elm's goal, but the referee would not allow it, so the Juniors lost two goals. The next goal was taken by the Elms, making the score 3 goals to 1. Only hard luck lost the Juniors the game, as they were in splendid form, put up an excellent defence and were more than a match for their opponents. The teams lined up as follows:

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING.

A Little General Business Transacted—Accounts and Motions.

A special meeting of the town council was held last night at which there were present Mayor Kendry in the chair and Councillors Cahill, Sproule, Best, Denne, Phelan, Dawson and Mason.

Communications were read as follows:

From H. Wills, asking that sidewalk in front of his property on Park street be moved out, so that he could build a boulevard.—Granted.

From Mr. George Dunford, stating that the office at 392 Water street was now in possession of Dominion Government and asking that it not be placed on the assessors' roll for taxes.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were referred to the Finance Committee:

Mrs. Dunsford	$ 1 50
T. E. Boddy	2 30

LICENSE COMMITTE.

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your License Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That the request of William McNern to have a butcher's license which he has purchased transferred to him be granted.

2. That the request of George W. Rubidge for a refund of a portion of a billiard license fee paid by him be not granted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. S. SPROULE,
Chairman.

In connection with the accounts Councillors Best and Sproule moved that the account of Mr. F. Burnett for bridge timber and plank be paid, and Councillors Dawson and Denne moved that the account of Ontario Sewer Co. for drain tile, amounting to $52 be paid when certified to by street inspector. Both motions were carried.

Councillor Sproule moved the third reading of a bylaw providing for chimney sweeping.

Councillor Mason opposed the bylaw, thinking it unnecessary, and that it would cause countless police court cases, without being of any benefit to the town. He moved a resolution to shelve the bylaw.

Councillor Dawson seconded the motion, on much the same grounds.

Councillor Sproule was informed by the clerk that the bylaw had not been passed on its second reading, so he withdrew his motion for the time being, first explaining the necessity for the benefit of its provisions.

A by-law providing for the supervision and construction of sewers was passed on its third reading and became law.

General Manager McGill, of the Ontario Bank, was introduced to the Council and given a hearing. Mr. McGill stated that the Nicholls trust had $15,000 which it desired to invest in town debentures but as no debentures would be matured until 1897, he would like the town to use the money at 5 per cent. until such time as the debentures could be had.

The Council was unanimous in accepting the offer, and it was considered a good arrangement whereby the town simply borrowed from the Trust instead of from the bank.

The Council then adjourned.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

An Excursion Over the Route of the Trent Valley Canal.

The excursion of the season will take place over the route of the Trent Valley Canal, to Cameron Lake, under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the George Street Methodist church, on Tuesday next, August 20, per G.T.R. to Chemong, and steamer Columbian. Train leaves G.T.R. station at 8.40 a.m., connecting with Columbian at 9. This is positively the most delightful trip of the season. Steamer passes through Chemong, Buckhorn and Pigeon Lakes, thence up the picturesque Bobcaygeon River and through the locks to Sturgeon Lake, passing Sturgeon Point with its score of handsome summer residences, and thence into the magnificent Fenelon River, passing within full view of the miniature Niagara, on the left, and entering the largest and most expensive set of locks on the entire Trent Canal system. The lock is known as the double lift lock, having three enormous gates. After an hours stay here for dinner (25 cts.) and where the fine Howry Saw Mills are situated, the steamer will pass up the Fenelon River to Cameron Lake—one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the country. Returning, Chemong will be reached at 8 30, and home at 9 p.m. Tickets, round trip, $1, for sale at THE TIMES office, Peterborough and at the station.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

SHAMROCKS VS. CAPITALS

THE GREAT GAME IN TORONTO WAS A DRAW EACH WINNING THREE GOALS.

Carson Ruled off for a Foul—Jake Gaudaur Beats Durnan by Half a Length—John S. Johnson Beats Fred Young and Wins the $1,000—Civic Holiday Sports in Toronto.

(Special to the Times.)

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—Ten thousand people witnessed the great lacrosse match between the Shamrocks and the Capitals this afternoon at the Island. The result was a draw, and darkness prevented the tie being played off. Each team scored three goals. It was a splendid exhibition game, and both teams played great lacrosse. In the fifth game, Carson, of the Capitals was ruled off for a foul, and the sixth game was played with 11 men on each team.

Jake Gaudaur Beats Durnan.

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—The race between Champion Jake Gaudaur and Eddie Durnan was witnessed by thousands. Gaudaur shot past the finish buoy ½ length ahead of Durnan, who gave him a great race.

Johnston Defeats Young.

TORONTO, Aug. 19—John S. Johnson and Fred Young raced a mile on the island track this afternoon for $1,000 a side. Young challenged Johnson several days ago and much interest was centered in the results. Johnson easily defeated Young. Time: Johnson, 2.07; Young, 2.17½.

A MYSTERIOUS DROWNING.

A Floating Body Found in the Otonabee Identification and Buried.

On Friday last a young Welshman, named Wm. Ashworth, in the employ of Mr. Adam King, Kincaid's Farm, North Monaghan, was sent by Mr. King to cut some corn on his farm. The young man did not return, and search was at once instituted for him.

The neighbors in the vicinity were notified of the boy's sudden disappearance, but as no trace of him could be found, Mr. King came to the conclusion that he had left his service.

But the mystery was solved on Sunday afternoon, when a number of young men, who were paddling by the farm, discovered the body of a young boy floating in the water.

It was immediately brought to the shore, and it was soon learned that it was the body of the unfortunate young Welshman.

It seems that the boy had no fear for the water, and would often make trips to the river shore, and enjoy himself, and it is supposed that on Friday he visited the river and there met his untimely end.

The unfortunate boy was only 15 years of age, and belonged to a Home in Toronto.

The body was brought to town Sunday night by Undertaker Belleghem, and word was sent to the Home authorities in Toronto in connection with the affair.

The remains of the unfortunate boy was interred in the Little Lake cemetery yesterday afternoon.

An Expression of Sympathy.

At the last regular meeting of the St. Peter's branch, No. 30, of the Catholic Mutual Beneficial Association, of Peterborough, it was moved by Bro. Geo. Ball and seconded by Bro. S. Anglesey:—

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to call from this life our late brother and worthy President, Mr. Thomas Dolan, and while we, his brother associates, humbly submit to the will of Divine Providence, we nevertheless keenly feel the great loss that we have sustained in the death of so good a member and officer, one who always sought to promote the best interests of our brotherhood, who had ever proved himself to be a good citizen, a kind husband and a loving father, and to the end practising and maintaining the deepest devotion to faith and fatherland, and our prayer will be for the eternal repose of his soul.

Be it resolved that we tender the bereaved family our sincere condolence and pray to our Heavenly Father, in His Divine mercy, to console and comfort them in this, their time of sore affliction. It is our desire that a copy of this resolution be presented to the family of deceased, and that it be published in the local papers, in the Catholic Register and Catholic Record, and that it be entered on the minutes of our Association, and our charter be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days.

Signed,
W. J. DEVLIN,

The Owen Electric Belt

The only scientific and practical Electric Belt made, for general use, having batteries that generate a strong current of Electricity that is under perfect control and can be applied to any part of the body, for the cure of

Nervous Diseases

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of Nervous Diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, etc., that the old modes of treatment fail to cure. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by any medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is pursuing a dangerous practice. Properly treated, these diseases can be

Positively Cured

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will most assuredly do so. It is the only known power that will supply what is lacking, namely nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system. It will most assuredly cure,

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 17 1895.

THE DEPOSED QUEEN.

The dethroned Queen of Hawaii has proved herself to be one of the most discreet persons of her time. She has been driven from a throne to which she believed she had a perfect right. She was and is convinced that the majority of her subjects desire to see her at the head of the Government of the Hawaiian Islands, yet so far as is known she has not allowed a hasty or an imprudent word to pass her lips. Other dethroned monarchs have complained bitterly, the exqueen of the Hawaiian Islands has been silent, or nearly so; other royal personages after they were deposed have themselves plotted, and incited others to plot, to procure their restoration. Queen Liliuokalani has given the Government no reason to complain of her as a disturber of the peace. Those who are opposed to her and who are the active supporters of the new government readily admit that she lives quietly. A government paper says: "She still firmly believes in a restoration, and refuses to take, as far as we can learn the advice of some of the most intelligent of her old friends, who recommend her to accept the situation." It is said that if she gave in her adherence to the Government she would receive from the Republic a handsome allowance. But she refuses all offers. Her attitude is not approved by some of her best friends. They believe that there is no chance of her being restored and that it would be best for her, best for them, and best for the country if she would formally renounce all claims to the throne. "This," a Hawaiian Government paper says, "she naturally hesitates to do just as long as there is the slightest hope of restoration. That 'she hopes against hope' is of course to be expected, and she should not be severely blamed for it." That her opponents speak in this kindly and considerate manner of the ex-Queen speaks volumes for her prudence and good sense and also for their moderation.

We read that many of the native population of the Islands are taking the oath required by law to enable them to exercise the right of citizens, but there are, as far as we can find out, still more who remain loyal to the Queen. But their loyalty is not of an active sort. When they were a large majority of the inhabitants of the Islands they could not pluck up courage enough to strike a blow for the Queen, and it is not likely that they will do so now when they have become morally and numerically weaker. It is evident that the President of the Republic has nothing to fear from the Royalist party. This is perhaps the secret of the moderation of his Government, and the good nature contempt with which they regard the Queen and her partisans. The Government of the Republic is working as smoothly and seems as secrue in the possession of power as if it had been established a hundred years, and there is no likelihood of its being disturbed in the near future.

Japan is having more trouble subduing her new subjects in Formosa than she had in conquering China. Those plucky Formosan rebels will make fine material for the Japanese army when they become reconciled to the government of the Mikado.

It is now pretty certain that the loss to depositors and note holders from the failure of the Bonk du Peuple will be very little if any. The rapidity with which the bank is recovering from its temporary embarrassment is a gratifying proof of the elasticity of the Canadian banking system.

CAN WE ASPHYXIATE MICROBES?

A French Scientist Believes that Argon May be the Food of Bacteria.

A French scientist is making investigations regarding the part the newly discovered gas "argon" plays towards bacteria. The new gas which has so long been a part of our atmosphere without our knowing it, has been combined with oxygen, hydrogen, chlorine, phosphorus, sulphur, potassium, sodium and many other elements without any result. So far as the scientist can ascertain, "argon" has no effect chemically upon the higher animals. It may, however, be necessary to the nourishment of bacteria, and this is what he proposes to find out.

Supposing "argon" not to be necessary to man and necessary to bacilla, sterilization will be rendered much easier and the door be opened to all sorts of bacteriological possibilities.

In a Buffet Car.

The famished man fell into the arms of the relief committee, gasping for food. To the miserable man they brought soups, fishes, loaves and other things, and for six steady hours he devoured all they brought.

Doctors clustered round him and finally announced that he would live. Then they gave him brandy and bade him tell his awful tale.

"I—was—there—five—days," he whispered hoarsely, "five days. If you had not rescued me I would surely have starved to death."

He sank back, exhausted at the effort, which had evidently been too much for him. All the members of the committee clustered around him and pleaded with him to tell where he had been. At last he revived sufficiently to murmur:

"In a buffet car." All, everyone there present who had traveled in a buffet car and tried to get something to eat shuddered and covered their hands with their faces. Even strong men turned away their feet and cried.

She Has the Sleeves.

"There, my love," said the young husband, as he placed a large bundle on the table, "I've bought you a pair of sleeves."

"Oh, you darling," exclaimed the delighted wife. "I'm so happy. Anything will do for a dress."

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS.

The Eminent Novelist, His Career and His Much-Discussed Work.

In view of the conflicting opinions on the subject it would be a hazardous thing, perhaps, to presume to give a true rating of the value of Mr. William Dean Howells' literary achievements. By many and probably the great majority of intelligent readers, he is regarded as by all odds the greatest American novelist since Hawthorne. By some equally intelligent people, however, he is placed on a much lower literary plane. But no one denies him the possession of rare genius and the capacity for producing excellent and valuable work. The chief offense laid at Mr. Howells' door by critics is that his novels are simply photographic reproductions of the everyday, matter-of-fact life of everyday people. Their object, it is said, seems to be nothing more than to show how shallow and selfish and self-deluding everybody is. There are many arguments, however, to be advanced in favor of Mr. Howells' literary methods, but this is not the place for controversy.

Mr. Howells has had more or less to do with printer's ink from his early boyhood. His father owned and edited a weekly newspaper at Hamilton, O., for a number of years, and young Howells began to set up type almost as soon as he could read. He received nearly all his schooling in a practical way at the "case." What sort of a boy he was, and what he learned that books could not teach, he has himself told us in his autobiographical "A Boy's Town." The young printer had literary ambitions which not only budded, but blossomed, to some extent, before he was in his "teens." His place at the printer's case in his father's office gave him the advantage over other boys with literary longings, for it offered him an opportunity to get his own effusions into type without their first having to run the cruel gauntlet of some cold and unsympathetic editorial office. His first efforts had the form of verse, a field of literary achievement in which Mr. Howells has never been very successful and which he wisely abandoned after he had collected and published one or more volumes of poetry. One of these collections was issued at Columbus, O., in 1860, under the title, "Poems of Two Friends," John J. Piatt being a joint partner in the affair.

In the same year that the joint volume of poems appeared, Mr. Howells did a more admirable service for his country, and incidentally for himself, by writing up a campaign biography of Abraham Lincoln. This work netted the sum of $160, and what was much better, it was the means of getting an appointment from the subject of his biography as Consul at Venice. He made much the same use of his experiences abroad, while in the services of his country, that Bayard Taylor did in Germany, John Lothrop Motley in Spain, and James Russell Lowell in England. His "Venetian Life" and "Italian Journeys" bear testimony to this fact. Two more delightful and instructive books about Italy have never been published. Before going abroad Mr. Howells had found high favor in the eyes of The Atlantic Monthly, and when he returned he became assistant editor of that periodical under James T. Fields. In 1872 he succeeded to the post of editor, continuing that relation until 1881, when he resigned that he might devote himself more completely to original literary work.

Mr. Howells has made for himself so many homes since he became a man of letters that it would be impossible to describe them all. He lived at Cambridge for a time, then at Belmont, some five miles out of Boston, and he also has a residence, as every literary man must have some time or other, in Boston, on Beacon street, in the Back Bay district. In recent years he has had apartments on Fifty-ninth street, New York, looking out upon Central Park. Mr. Howells has no "fads" in the way of decorations or curios, and his working rooms are filled up chiefly with the things that are useful to a craftsman of his kind. Mr. Howells has "let the dead past bury its dead;" he is intensely concerned with the present and the future. His library cases show only a random series of books in ephemeral-looking bindings.

There are Baedecker's guides, dictionaries, pamphlets, and current fiction. The only resemblance of a "'collection" in which he indulges is some literature of foreign languages, which he uses as his tools. He cares nothing for bindings, or the rarities of the bibliophole's art. In his house you find no noticeable blue china or Chippendale, no trace of the bric-a-brac enthusiasm. In his parlor are tables and chairs, perfectly proper and comfortable, but worthy of no attention in themselves. On the walls are some few old paintings from Florence, a pleasing photograph or two, an original water-color by Fortuny, which has a little history, and an engraving after Alma Tadema, presented by the painter to the author.

Mr. Howells writes on old fashioned blue paper, creased, with lines wide apart and in a handwriting that is not so good as the signature, being a trifle scrawly and full of straight lines. He displays no groveling habit of making the same letters twice alike. He writes only in the morning. After that he devotes himself to his family, to whom he is greatly attached, and of whom he is justly proud.

Familiar Phrases.

"To put a flea in his ear," to indicate a sharp rebuff, is a proverbial saying found in all languages having a literature.

The expression "to rain cats and dogs," indicating a severe shower, is found in Dean Swift. It is supposed to be of proverbial origin, and much older than his time.

"Familiarity breeds contempt" is a proverb found in one form or another in every English and Asiatic language having a literature. Its earliest form is believed to be the Sanskrit.

To "turn the cold shoulder" is probably a very ancient proverb. It first appears in a literary form in Scott's "Antiquary," where it is used with exactly the significance attached to it at present.

"To put one's foot in it" is an English country saying. After the milk is drawn from the cows it is commonly placed in large flat pans and set on the ground to cool, in which position it is an easy matter for a clumsy fellow to put his foot in the pan.

"A feather in his cap" has a Hungarian origin. During the centuries when war with the Turks was constantly going on a Hungarian soldier was allowed to wear one feather on his cap for every Turk he had killed, and so the slaughter of an additional foe meant an extra feather.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

ROBBED AND SET ON FIRE.

A COAL OIL WAREHOUSE IN TORONTO VISITED BY INCENDIARIES.

Only the Promptness of the Fire Brigade Prevented an Explosion and Extensive Conflagration.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.

A REVENGEFUL thief tapped the till at the business establishment of G. & J. Murray, 224 Yonge street about 3 o'clock this morning and finding nothing but a few coppers started a fire near the oil tank in cellar. Messrs. Murray do a large trade in American and Canadian oil. All this inflammable liquid is stored in the cellar in air tight tanks thickly covered with sheet iron. That was how the fire was discovered at 3.30 this morning by the officer on Albert street beat. He noticed a smell of smoke and climbing over the sheds on the Albert street lane discovered the cellar door open and the flames bursting out. He at once turned in an alarm and the Yonge, Lombard, and Bay street reels were summoned. The firemen succeeded with the aid of the Bay street chemical engine, in getting the fire under control within ten minutes. The damage was slight and is fully covered by insurance.

EXPLOSION NARROWLY AVERTED.

Messrs. Murray are well pleased with the prompt action of the fire brigade. Had the fire been discovered a little later it would have succeeded in forcing its way upstairs. As it was the heat was so intense that the lead plumbing pipes in the cellar had already melted and the sheet iron coverings of the oil tanks had peeled off. In another five minutes there would have been a disastrous explosion, and only the effective working of the Bay street chemical averted a calamity as it was.

THE ACT OF A BURGLAR.

An examination of the premises showed that the fire was undoubtedly incendiary. Some one had climbed over the rear sheds, broken a window in the cellar door and sliding back the bolt had opened it. The burglar then went up the cellar stairs to first floor where he pried open the till. Finding only a few coppers he apparently though of getting even for all his trouble. He took a number of bundles of lampwicks down cellar and placed them near the tanks where the oil had dripped from them. This move, which he doubtless considered a clever one, frustrated his devilish intention. The wick instead of aiding him caused the fire to smoulder, and the smoke noticed by the policemen was due to the same reason.

The watchman noticed a suspicious looking character in the vicinity of Albert and Yonge streets at 1.30 this morning. Shortly before the alarm was turned in the watchman observed this same man coming along Albert street and disappear down Shuter. When the alarm was rung it occurred to him that the man with the slouch hat had perhaps been a firebug and a policeman was at once despatched after him. But the man had vanished.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make as much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

LOOKING FOR LAND.

A Delegate from Austro-Hungary Going to the Northwest.

Special to The Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17,—Prof. Olekow, who occupies the chair of agriculture in the University of Lemburg in Galicia, a province in the northern part of Austro-Hungary, yesterday visited the immigration office in the Department of the Interior. He is in Canada in the interests of a number of farmers in his native province who wish to emigrate. One of the officials of the department who speaks German was told to accompany the professor to the Northwest in search of a place of settlement, which he can recommend on his return. It was said yesterday in the department that these people are a most desirable class of immigrants. The professor while in the city was taken to see the Experimental Farm, with which he expressed himself highly pleased.

Shot by a Constable.

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 17.—Settlers near the line of construction of the Parry Sound and Arnprior railway have complained of the depredations of the navies. Constable Grier went to investigate, and got warrants for Harvey Henderson and Pat Candel on the charge of selling liquor to the workmen illegally. On Thursday Grier met Henderson, and shot him during the excitement following. It is thought he cannot live.

Another Disappearance.

COMBER, Aug. 17.—Word has just reached here that Melvin Campbell, a young man employed by Mr. Ed. Smith in the lumber camp in Rochester township, has disappeared, and all efforts to trace him have proved fruitless. The last seen of the young man was on Monday morning, when he was mounted on horseback riding out of the woods. Nothing more was seen of the man or horse until Wednesday morning, when the latter was found securely tied to a farmer's fence in the vicinity of Staples.

License Inspector Dead.

A WINNER

The George Street Photograph Gallery, under the very able management of H. J. Byers, has now taken a place second to none in the business.

The reason is apparent. I spare no pains to make my work the very best that can be had.

You run no risk whatever if you leave your order with me. You will lose nothing if I fail to please you.

Come in and see my work anyway.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING

HERE IT IS IN SHORT ORDER FOR BUSY READERS

Telegraphic Tidings From all Parts of the Globe Condensed and Assorted for Easy Reading

Among the passengers who arrived at New York on Saturday by the steamer Etruria was Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto.

Emperor William has returned to Berlin looking in remarkably good health, as a result of his recent yachting and shooting in England.

Owing to the immense crop it is calculated that Nebraska is richer today than she was this time last year by thirty-nine million dollars.

Some alarm has been created in London by a report that the Scotland Yard authorities have unearthed a plot to blow up the Houses of Parliament.

Mr. Wm. Evans, a marble dealer, Hamilton, Ont., was found drowned in two and a half feet of water at the foot of Simcoe street, Hamilton, yesterday morning.

Despite frequent hints, Nasrulla Khan will not leave England, and the European sovereigns have politely intimated that they are not desirous that he should visit them.

At the annual meeting of the Cobden Club, held in London Saturday, Baron Farrer, who presided, said that the prospects for more general free trade were favorable.

The commission appointed to investigate the recent massacre of missionaries at Ku Cheng have arrived safely. Important arrests have been made in connection with the massacres.

It is probable that three thousand garment workers employed in the sweat shops of Chicago will go on strike shortly. The workers are organizing, and will demand better pay and shorter hours.

The steamer Etruria, which arrived at New York on Saturday from Liverpool, lowered her best previous passage, made in October, 1893, of six days and eighteen minutes, by one hour and fifteen minutes.

During a severe thunderstorm on Saturday afternoon John Johnson, son of Mr. Humphrey Johnson, a farmer living near Springfield, Ont., was killed by lightning while hanging a bridle up in the barn.

Patrick Quinlan, the janitor of Holmes' castle in Chicago, with his wife, has been discharged from custody. There is now no prospect of Holmes ever being tried in Chicago upon the the evidence secured so far.

The question of the developement of the mines in British Columbia is at present attracting much attention in London financial circles, and it is probable that several mining experts will visit the province in the autumn.

The Canadian Gazette strongly urges the Canadian artillery corps to arrange to compete at the Shoeburyness artillery meeting of 1896, as the Canadian riflemen do at the meeting of the National Rifle Association at Bisley.

It is understood that a slight coolness that existed between the Queen and Emperor William, on account of the Emperor negotiating the Czar's marriage without consulting her Majesty, has completely passed away.

It is announced that Lord Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, will make a statement in the House of Lords today to the effect that Lord Wolseley will succeed the Duke of Cambridge as Commander-in-Chief of the British army.

The Christian Brothers of St. Patrick's and St. Bridget's schools, Ottawa, whose resignations were recently accepted by the Separate School Board, have been recalled to Toronto. Their furniture and effects in Ottawa were sold on Saturday afternoon.

A sensation was caused in civic circles in Montreal on Saturday by a report that a considerable shortage had been discovered in the City Treasury department. Certain securities which were in the hands of Mr. W. H. McDunnough, the City Accountant, are missing, but it is expected the loss will be made good by his friends. Mr. McDunnough is at present very ill at his residence.

The most violent and disastrous thunderstorm which has visited the lake region south of Chatham, Ont., swept over Rondean on Saturday afternoon. It only lasted ten minutes, but in that time it did an immense amount of damage. Nearly all the summer cottages were demolished, and several of their occupants injured by the flying debris. The velocity of the wind was estimated at ninety miles an hour.

HOLMES' CASTLE ON FIRE.

THE MYSTERIOUS CHICAGO DENS DESTROYED.

Very Disastrous Forest Fires—Great Havoc Across the Line—Fatal Boat Upset—Pietzel's Burial Place Known.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, August 19.

AN alarm of fire has been turned in from 63rd and Wallace streets. It is reported that the Holmes castle is burning.

Later. — The destruction of the Holmes castle is practically complete.

HOWARD'S BURIAL PLACE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 19. — Detective Geyer and Inspector W. A. Gary of the Fidelity Insurance company have returned to Indianapolis to resume the search for the body of Howard Peitzel. Geyer says he is now satisfied that Howard Pietzel was murdered and the body disposed of in this city.

MILLIONAIRE MAGOWN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Frank A. Magown, a possible Republican candidate for governor for New York, ex-mayor of Trenton and head of several large manufacturing enterprises, disappeared from his home at Trenton, a few weeks ago and there was much comment over his absence. It was intimated that he had failed in some of his large business enterprises. Today it became known what caused his sudden disappearance. A despatch from El Beno, Ok., states that ex-mayor Magown of Trenton registered there August 1st and that he has begun proceedings against his wife for divorce. The Magowans are well known members of society at Trenton. Mr. Magown is President of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Co., the Trenton Rubber Co., the Eastern Rubber Co., and several other large manufacturing concerns. He is rated as a millionaire.

FLED FOR THEIR LIVES.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 19.—Three Forks, a little mining camp in Slocum County, British Columbia, was entirely wiped out by the fierce forest fires which continue to rage with unabated fury throughout the country north and east of here. The inhabitants left everything and fled for their lives.

Roseland, B. C., was surrounded by the fires, and for two days it was threatened with destruction. The flames are now travelling east eating up the forests and the homes of many prospectors and miners who are in the path of the fire. Reports of loss of life have been received here, but cannot be verified.

FATAL UPSET.

BUFFALO, August 19.—While changing seats in a row boat off the piers this morning Charles E. Gillig and Henry Sect upset their little craft and were drowned. Andrew Lehner, a companion, was rescued. Mr. Gillig was a partner in the importing wine house of Gillig Bros.

LUXURIOUSLY ENTERTAINED.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Lord Lonsdale it is declared, expended $200,000 in the four days entertainment of Emperor William at the family castle in Cumberland. Not only "the family servants," but all the retainers on the Lonsdale estate were provided with special uniforms for the occasion and money was distributed broadcast by Lord Lonsdale to the surrounding villages to enable them to decorate in the Kaiser's honor. He will return the visit at the Kaiser's special invitation next summer. It is mentioned that one of the Emperor's presents to Lord Lonsdale was a gold cigar box, with the imperial crown and arms in magnificent rubies and diamonds, which cost $5,000.

HOLMES' BETTER HALF.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—The alleged wife of H. H. Homes, Mrs. Howard, as she is known, is about to leave Philadelphia for Boston where, it is said she will spend some time with Miss Helen Mudget, the sister of the noted criminal Holmes. Mrs. Howard had kept in strict seclusion during her residence in this city but is alleged to have said that she knew nothing that would incriminate the man who posed as her husband. According to her own story she first met Holmes in Chicago. They were married in December, 1893, in Denver and Mrs. Howard, whose maiden name was Yoko has her marriage certificate to prove the fact. Mrs. Howard, it is said had perfect confidence in the man she believed to be her husband and never suspected he was a swindler or worse. To her Holmes explained that he changed his name on account of several real estate transactions. She also claimed to have property of her own in Indianapolis worth $8,000.

Mrs. Howard will be 26 years old next Monday. She is a small woman with finely cut feathres and golden hair. She was educated in Western College, Ills, and is a fine musician.

A WAR SCARE.

An Urgent Letter From the British War Office.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The British war office has issued an urgency letter to the city officials and metropolitan boards and guardians asking whether in the event of war they would be prepared to allow the war department to utilize the infirmaries for the mobilization of army corps for home defence. The letter is probably of routine affair, without significance, but some of the Sunday papers will try to raise a scare over the matter. Lloyds calls it alarming and says that naval and military men at the service clubs told a Lloyds inquirer that never in their experience had the war office so suddenly issued such an alarming circular. They could not imagine any reason for such proceeding on the part of the war department and indulged in the gravest surmises over the matter.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills however has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

Seven Lives Lost.

OCEAN CITY, Md., Aug. 19.—Seven lives yesterday paid the penalty of the over crowding of a small sail boat and the fright of the women aboard who by going to one side when the boat shipped some water overturned the little craft. The boat contained ten persons and of these only three were rescued. The dead are: Wm. Storrs, his wife and their two daughters; Lulu and Lena Hall, sisters, 16 and 13 years; Myrtle Stevens, aged 11. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

Lost on Thursday, 15th August, a gents diamond tie pin, with fancy gold setting. Finder will be rewarded by leaving same at THE TIMES office.

A Warning of Fro

The weather bureau at Toronto feared frost last night. It was expected that there would be frost in the Northwest and in some parts of Ontario.

Mr. Stone Will Defend Them.

Lawyer E. B. Stone, of Peterborough, says the Lindsay Post, will defend the Murphy family, charged with making counterfeit money here.

Head of the Lakes.

The steamer Columbian goes on her trip to the head of the lakes today. This is a beautiful trip and takes the excursionist to the end of the Trent Valley Canal as mapped out for this section.

Peterborough Bonds Scarce.

At the Council meeting last night, General Manager McGill stated that the brokers in Toronto considered Peterborough's bonds excellent investment, and he has heard brokers complain that our bonds could never be got a hold of. This speaks well for Peterborough.

Round Rice Lake.

The Steamer City of Peterborough will run a special trip on Wednesday, August 21, round Rice Lake, calling at all points on the river. She will stop at Idyl Wild, Harwood, Gore's Landing and Bewdly. Will leave the Locks at 9 a.m., and return at 8 p.m. Fare for round trip, 50.

New Goods

At Clegg's, now arriving every day for the fall trade. Not only fine and expensive furniture, but the cheaper lines as well. Good common chairs at 35c, a good bedstead, all hard wood and well finished, for $2. Mattresses, springs, pillows, etc. Cheap extension tables and sideboards. Four flats one hundred feet long filled full of furniture and all at bottom prices, A. Clegg, 427 George street.

The Business World.

A meeting of the creditors of Henry Rehder, general merchant of Paris, was held in the Walker House Friday afternoon when a statement was presented showing liabilities of about $20,000 with assets slightly in excess. The principal creditors are in Hamilton.

The creditors of James P. Murray have not yet decided as to the disposal of the estate. Another meeting will be held shortly.

Were They in Peterborough.

Excitement was occasioned on the street Friday morning, by the report that the safe of the Barrett Milling Co., Ltd., had been blown open and robbed during the night, says the Port Hope Times. The job was evidently the work of professional burglars, as the work was accomplished very neatly. An entrance was obtained to the mill by forcing the front door. The thieves secured about thirty dollars. Their is no clue to their identity.

A Desired Change.

A change has been made in the mail service on the Grand Junction, and the cause of complaint on the part of those residing between here and Belleville has been removed. The mail car from Belleville arrived here at 8.15 and left again for that city at 8.40. Today a change came into force and now the mail from Belleville will arrive at the usual time 8.15, but the mail for Belleville and intermediate points will not leave until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The mail car will be attached to the mixed that leave a 3 p.m.

Cupid's Wily Tricks,

There was great excitement around Nogey's Creek on Sunday evening. The excitement spread to this village on Monday, and by the evening of that day it had excited Kinmount. Miss Graham, of Harvey, had mysteriously disappeared on Sunday, and when inquiries came to be made, it was found that Mr. Lee was also missing. Search was made, messengers were dispatched, all manner of dire threats were made, and at last it was discovered that the young parties were at Kinmount and that the necessary legal ceremony had been performed to permit of their taking a summer vacation without a chaperon.—Bob. HELD THEIR BAGGAGE.

The Classics Couldn't Pay up Because Mr. Connors Wouldn't Pay Them.

Proprietor Huffman, of the Huffman House, held the baggage of the Classic Base Ball Club early this morning for a board bill amounting to $13.00 and some odd cents. The Classics are mad. They say they could pay their bill if Mr. Connors, whom they recognize as the manager of the Peterboroughs would pay them the guarantee he promised them. Manager Connors says he never promised them a cent, and that's what the trouble was about, when Officers McGinty and Adams were called over to the Huffman House between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning.

The Classics have in their possession the post card upon which is written the terms upon which they came to Peterborough:

J. J. Patton, Secretary Classics Baseball Club, 70 Lombard Street.

DEAR SIR,—Yours to hand. In reply would say that we would be willing to play either one or two games on August 10th. We will give you the same terms as we gave the Dauntless, namely: one half gate receipts for morning game and $12 for afternoon game, or $15 for the afternoon alone. As we only get $20 out of it I think it is a very good offer as your expenses are light.

Answer by first mail or telegraph,

Yours, etc.,
M. CONNORS,
Manager P. B. C.

Peterborough, August 11, 1895.

Mr. Connors denies that he wrote this postal card or offered the Classics one cent to come here. He positively denies writing the card. The police say they will make it hot for the man who did write it.

The Classical ball tossers were a picture of woe as they stood around the lobby of the hotel this morning. They were "broke" and their baggage was seized. Not only did they receive a good drubbing in the games of yesterday, but they got not a cent for coming here.

Proprietor Huffman says Mr. Connors arranged with him to accommodate the Classics, but he does not hold him responsible for the board bill. He is looking to the Classics for the unlucky thirteen dollars, and the Classics are looking to Mr. Connors for their guarantee money.

All of which goes to show that it is harder to bat financial curves than it is Dan McCabe's phenomenal down shoots.

THE DAISY'S MACHINERY.

It Has Been Raised and Will be Brought to Peterborough,

The machinery of the steamer Daisy has been raised from its watery bed, and was found to be very little damaged. Two scows, a diver and three men did the work of raising without much trouble.

The machinery was in 24 feet of water in the Trent river about five miles below Hastings. It will be brought to Peterborough on the North Star in a few days.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Work Has Actually Begun On the Lakefield Section.

Messrs. Brown and Aylmer, of the firm of Brown, Love & Aylmer, the contractors for the Lakefield section of the Trent Valley Canal, were in town yesterday, and made arrangements for the commencement of the work at Lakefield, and in a few days several hundred men will be at work.

Mr. Greenwood, C. E., and his staff from the office here, went up today to strike the lines of the route for the gang of men who are starting work cleaning the route and grubbing, etc. Mr. George Hilliard has been placed in charge of this first gang of men.

Mr. Schrieber, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, will be here on Friday to inspect the route and work will proceed with all possible dispatch.

Gangs of Italians are passing through Peterborough to Lakefield to go to work.

GRAIN CROPS ARE GOOD.

Bulletin Issued by the Bureau of Industries —Light Crop of Hay.

According to the crop report issued by the Ontario Bureau of Industries there will be a good grain harvest. The chief feature of the report is the lightness of the hay crop. The season has been a most trying one to pastures. The prolonged drought rendered the fields bare and brown. In some places in the west live stock are said to have bitten the grass to the roots; a few farmers cut down small trees and fed the leaves to the cattle as a treat, and others fed growing oats and peas to the animals. These, however, were exceptional cases. There was a marked decrease in the milk flow, in some instances amounting to 50 per cent. of the June record.

Reports regarding fall wheat are not unanimous, although on the whole they may be regarded as favorable. The crop was cut earlier than usual, but notwithstanding the rapid ripening the berry is frequently described as plump and of good quality. The spring wheat crop was ripening unevenly as correspondents wrote and only a small portion has been cut. The area is reported as a little smaller than usual, and the yield is 14.8 bushels per acre, the drought and the grasshoppers making a strong combination against it.

There has been a wide range in the fields of oats reported, some very poor fields being referred to, while others are mentioned as giving as high as 62 and 70 bushels per acre. The average yield is 31.6 bushels per acre this year, which is about three bushels below the average.

Bicycle Forecasts.

"What will be the styles in bicycles next year?" a big manufacturer was asked. "About the same as they are this year," he replied. "There will be some changes in '96 models, but not a great many. Public taste and the competition in trade demand something new, of course. One change, a change in appearance alone, but one that will be quite general, I think, will be an increase in the size and a decrease in the gauge of the tubing used in making frames. Some people think that will add grace to the general lines of the bicycle. It will add nothing to either the strength or the weight, though, for while the diameter of the tubing will be greater, the gauge, or thickness, will be reduced. That change, therefore, is only for the sake of change. Another thing in the styles for next year is this: The lines in the framework tend more than ever to the horizontal and parallel, that is to say, more of the frames will be high at the saddle post. There will probably be many other changes of minor importance which the designers of the various firms think will add to the appearance of machines, but there will not be many of importance."

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. IS THIS TRUE SPORT?

The manager of the Athletic Lacrosse Club will be upheld by right thinking people and all lovers of true sport, for refusing to pay over to the aggregation which palmed itself off as the Tecumseh Lacrosse Team, the $45 guarantee which was offered the Tecumsehs seniors to play the Athletics a game yesterday. The Athletics' manager, through Mr. C. S. McDonald, of Madoc, negotiated with the Tecumsehs seniors to play here yesterday, and had the Tecumsehs seniors came here, they would have received the money promised, but the Athletics would be very foolish to pay the aggregation that came here yesterday, for the miserable game they put up.

The citizens of Peterborough were lead to believe that they would witness a game of unusually good lacrosse, and the reputation of the Tecumsehs would warrant an expectation of this kind. The effect of it is, that sport is damaged seriously, by reason of the base misrepresentation which was perpetrated, by sending to Peterborborough not the senior Tecumsehs, but a team composed of the scrapings of Toronto, men who could not play lacrosse with 4-year-olds, as was evidenced by the miserable game they played yesterday.

The Tecumsehs wanted to stay in Toronto yesterday to witness the Shamrock-Capital match, the Johnson-Young bicycle race, and the Durnan Gaudaur race, so they scraped up a team from anywheres. Anybody who wanted to go to Peterborough and scoop in the $45 was allowed to join the aggregation that came here. This is the story of the Elms, who gave the snap away, and more than this, if better evidence than the game they put up is needed, the men who represented the Tecumsehs openly boasted that they came to Peterborough simply to get the guarantee money, and they did not care shucks whether they got a goal or not. This is an outrageous fulfilment of an agreement made in good faith, and it is a stain upon the Tecumsehs that will remain with them for some time.

This is not the first scurvy trick that Toronto has played upon Peterborough. During the summer the Athletics offered the Independents a sum of money for a match, and another scraped up team came here, and the Athletics beat them four straights in 28 minutes. Toronto must think that, Peterborough cannot play lacrosse. THE TIMES is authorized by the manager of the Athletics to say that the Athletics will be willing to play the senior Tecumsehs on the Island in Toronto any time they will play. The Athletics want a chance to show Toronto that Peterborough can play lacrosse.

THE TIGER'S JOKE,

"This is a great town," said the hippopotamus to his friend the giraffe, on the billboards in the Opera House arcade last night.

"How's that," asked the elephant, who was chasing a spider along the wall with his trunk.

"In several ways," replied the hippopotamus. "In the first place I like the people—they don't chew tobacco. Now, when I was in Brockville, I was spat all over, and some boys tore off a part of the lithograph that showed the beautiful curl of my tail."

"It's all on account of the baby," said the giraffe. "The birth of that kid has raised you in the estimation of the people. If you did try to chew it up. I noticed that Stocker came around and pasted you up fresh this morning."

"What a neck you've got," retorted hippy. "He filled my eye full of paste, and just when I was trying to see who that girl was Walter Phelan was walking with."

"If he'd filled the other with paste you'd been out of sight, wouldn't you?" chuckled the educated seal.

Whereupon the ostriches set up such a laugh that the man in the telephone office sent in a false alarm to the fire hall.

"I've got a conundrum," said the tiger "that I don't think you fellows have ever heard. Why is the Athletic lacrosse team the great team on earth?"

"Give it up," yelled the whole menagerie.

"Well, they never Phelan anything they go at. They are not Green at the game and when the ball went to go through their goal Ernie Was(-)on hand. They may Turnbull and Lynch their opponents or McCabeLipsett all that get in his way, and once they get the sphere near the goal they let her go Galley gher."

The elephant reached out and placed a sod on his back to cool his spine, and the merry-go-round organ peeled an air and threw the peelings away.

A Metal Breadboard
THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check it is almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

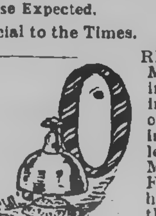
DID GIBNEY SUICIDE?

THE MIND READING WOMAN OF ORILLIA DECLARES THAT HE DID.

Her Powers Have Been Tested Before and the Orillians Have Great Faith in What She Says—Developments in the Gibney Case Expected.

Special to the Times.



ORILLIA, Aug. 20.—More than ordinary interest is taken here in the disappearance of W. C. Gibney, the insurance man, who left his home at Mount Albert last Friday. The interest has been aroused by the prediction of Mrs. Hicks, the local Witch of Endor, who has foretold that the body will be found tomorrow in the water. The prophetess, who lives out of town, "over the hills near the rocks," is not at all what one might imagine a dabbler in mysteries and oracles to be. Mrs. Hicks is the wife of a farmer, has a large family grown up and is a devout communicat of the St. James Episcopal church. She has long had a reputation as a shrewd reader of the cards, and many an anxious lover has consulted her. She doesn't pretend to read fortunes, but merely to express the secrets of the pasteboards.

HER POWERS WERE TESTED.

Recently Mrs. Hicks' powers were put to a test that has established her as a sage among the people, and even those who scoff at anything supernatural have come to believe that there is something in it after all. When the eldest son of Canon Green, of St. James' church, was drowned recently, Lake Couchiching was repeatedly dragged for the body, but without success. At last some of the young friends of the dead boy thought of Mrs. Hicks. Having scanned the cards she declared that the body would be found lying on a bed of stones in the water off the point at Heron's Island. She further stated that the body could be distinctly seen from the surface. Heron's Point was visited by a searching party, including Mr. Hicks, the husband of the prophetess, and two companions of the drowned boy named Charles Caldwell and Robert Walker. Mr. Hicks failed to see the boy, but the sharp eyes of the boys soon detected the still form, lying just as Mrs. Hicks had described. When the body was brought to the surface it was found that the face had been cut and scored by the stones in a peculiar manner, another circumstance which Mrs. Hicks had accurately foretold.

AND THEY WERE DOUBTERS.

Of course there were doubters who said that the husband had previously discovered the body and had informed his wife. It was hinted that it was only after a $50 reward had been offered that Mrs. Hicks saw fit to prophecy so circumstantially. There were others who said that it was a simple process of deduction, and that Mrs. Hicks, having been long residing near the lake, knew more than ordinary people about its currents and eddies. Knowing where young Green had gone down she had inferred shrewdly where his corpse would finally lodge. However that may be, Mrs. Hicks is now regarded with supernatural awe.

Gibney, it will be remembered, hired a livery rig in Orilia, and driving out in the country left the horse and buggy with a farmer, advising him that he would return at 5 in the afternoon. He did not come back, and after three days the farmer wrote to the liveryman to come for his property. Searching parties were organized and Gibney's coat—a spare one that he had carried with him—was found on the rocks near the water in a dense woods infested by bears, lynxes and other wild animals.

SAYS GIBNEY DROWNED HIMSELF.

Opinion was divided as to whether Gibney had perished in the jaws of a bear, had thrown himself into the lake in a fit of the blues, or had simply taken this method to divert the scent from his whereabouts. In this dilemma Mrs. Hicks was consulted. She unhesitatingly declared that it was a case of suicide and that the body would be found in the water tomorrow. True, she did not say where. Nevertheless the town is eagerly expectant of the denouncement, and should Gibney's body be found tomorrow Mrs. Hicks' fame as a seer will be impregnable.

SAW DURANT AND BLANCHE.

Another Witness Who Will Help to Draw the Net Around the Prisoner.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The police have found another witness who will testify against Durant. He is a conductor on the Mission street electric road and will testify to having seen Durrant and Blanche Lamont on his car on the morning of April 3, the day when the unfortunate girl met her death.

Durrant has both denied and acknowledged that he accompanied Blanche on that morning. This new witness will settle the matter definitely. He knew the young man and the girl, because they were frequent passengers on his car. Nearly every morning they were on their way to school. Blanche going to the High School and Durrant continuing his journey to Cooper College.

On the morning of the third, the young people were together. The conductor remembers them distinctly. They took transfers to the Larkin street line, where they again transferred to Sutter street. It was then that Durrant made an appointment to meet her in the afternoon and go with him to church to get a copy of "The Newcomes" which she was reading.

SEPARATED BY CHLORAL.

A Husband Compelled to Seek a Divorce Owing to his Wife's Devotion to the Drug.

Special to the Times.

WESTFIELD, Mass., Aug. 20.—Notice of a divorce suit entered by her husband was served by a deputy sheriff upon Mrs. W. F. Gill on Thursday. She is a sister of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, of New York. The charge made is gross and confirmed habits of intoxication by chloral.

William F. Gill, known as an actor, author and publisher, and Miss Edith Oliver-Gwynne were married in New York on November 12, 1888, by the Rev. W. S. Rainsford.

A Cheap Illuminant.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—W. C. Edwards, M.P., is prospecting at Buckingham for lime stone and proposes to make acetylene gas to supply Montreal and Toronto with illuminant at fifty cents a thousand.

HOTEL HORROR.

Twenty People Roasted Alive in a Burning Hotel—Begged to be Killed—The Work of Rescue—Number of Victims Recovered.

Special to the Times.

DENVER, Aug. 20.—About 10 o'clock a woman's hand protruded from a pile of building material. A space was cleared around it, and when the form was removed it was discovered that the woman was dead. Lying beside the body was the corpse of a child.

At five a.m. the body of an unknown man was recovered and taken to the morgue. Half an hour later the remains of Conductor Burns were discovered. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Greiner were found clasped in an embrace of death under the debris. They had undoubtedly died from suffocation. Ropes were stretched around the scene of the disaster, but as the day advanced they and the extra police failed to keep back the excited friends of missing people and of curious bystanders. The hastily organized surgeons' corps did nobly. With 50 feet of brick wall tottering over their heads they wended their way early along the corridors, down stairways and past shaky partitions to reach the injured. About six o'clock last evening a severe wind storm came down upon the city, and the work of became extremely precarious. The boy who was in charge of the boiler at the time of the accident appeared under the influence of liquor. How he managed to turn the injector back and escape without injury is a mystery. The boilers are said to have been in excellent condition. The terrible destruction wrought by the explosion is in evidence everywhere within three blocks of the scene. Stores in the neighborhood had their fronts demolished. Along Larimer street, in the rear of the building, there is not a whole plate of glass for a block. The loss, however, will hardly exceed $75,000. The hotel was worth about $25,000, and the furnishing about $10,000. Everything is totally destroyed. The McMann block which adjoins the hotel was also heavily damaged. It was occupied as a furniture store by the A. Lillyblake Furniture Co., and was damaged to the extent of $25,000. The boiler head which wrought such terrible destruction to life and property, after crashing through the rear wall, crossed a ten foot alley and struck a brick barn with sufficient force to destroy it. Ex Governor Routt said to a United Press reporter today: "In my opinion the explosion was caused by dynamite instead of the boiler. I think it was a plot to kill Mr. Gumery. He is superintendent of construction at the government buildings, and lately discharged a number of men. These men have been heard to threaten his life. I do not think a boiler explosion would have wrecked the building in this manner." Ex-Governor Routt's suspicions are not given credence by the authorities.

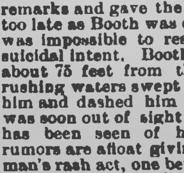
STOICALLY FACED DEATH.

A NIAGARA BARBER'S PLUNGE INTO THE HORSESHOE FALLS.

The Deed of a Daredevil—Joseph Booth a Barber Who Has Been Working at the Clifton House Courted Death by Plunging Into the Falls.

Special to the Times.



NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 20.—A deliberate suicide took place this afternoon. Joseph Booth, who has been the barber at the Clifton House for the past three summers and been looked upon as a man of more than ordinary intelligence, left his shop about half past ten after getting through with his morning's work and nothing more was seen or heard of him until one of the guests of the hotel, a German by the name of Hoff de Spitz returned to the hotel and related the fact that Booth had jumped over the falls about half past two o'clock. It seems Hoff de Spitz went out for a walk after lunch and came across Booth in the park, recognizing him as the barber in the hotel who had shaved him in the morning. The two men walked up towards the falls together and when they were near the horse shoe falls Booth surprised his companion by saying: "Wait here and I will show you what it TAKES NERVE TO DO."

Booth then left Hoff de Spits and went up towards the island. Hoff de Spitz waited patiently and watched on all sides and much to his astonishment he saw Booth wading out in the river opposite the electric railway power house about one hundred yards above the brink of the horshoe falls. He then realized the man's remarks and gave the alarm but it was too late as Booth was out of reach and it was impossible to rescue him from his suicidal intent. Booth kept his feet until about 75 feet from the shore when the rushing waters swept his feet from under him and dashed him over the falls. He was soon out of sight and nothing more has been seen of him since. Several rumors are afloat giving reasons for the man's rash act, one being that he has been living a very fast life of late and beyond his means and that he has lost heavily in all kinds of games of chance and even had his barber tools pawned to raise money, and another that a young lady had jilted him.

CHINA STUBBORN

Declines to Allow the British American Inquiry.

Special to the Times.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20.—The Mercury states that the Chinese Government has refused to allow the British and American consuls at Foo Chow to make any enquiries into the massacre of Christians at Kuaheng, where they and other members of the commission of inquiry arrived a few days ago.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Hong Kong confirming the report of the refusal of the Chinese Government to allow the British and American consuls to inquire into the Kucheng massacre. The dispatch adds that the Chinese soldiers are plundering the people who fall, that the foreigners are the cause of their sufferings, and that it is necessary to destroy them. Further incendiary placards have been posted in Canton.

The Pall Mall Gazette has a dispatch from Shanghai saying that a French gunboat has left Hankow for the purpose of opening up the province of Houh Nan. The gunboat will proceed up the Yang Tse Kiang as far as the Ting Hoo Lake, which is over 1,000 miles north of the district covered by the France-Chinese treaty.

FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE.

A BOILER EXPLOSION CAUSES DEATH AND SUFFERING.

While Repairing a Gas Furnace It Becomes Clogged, and is Followed by an Awful Explosion—Workmen Torn and Bleeding.

Special to The Times.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 20.

SIX workmen were instantly killed and several others injured by an explosion of gas at furnace H, of the Carnegie mills at Braddock. They were repairing a clog in the machinery at the top of the furnace when the disaster occured.

FELL AS IF THEY WERE SHOT.

A few minutes before the explosion occurred one of the top fillers dumped a barrel of material into the bell of the furnace, which he had forgotten to raise. This clogged the top of the furnace and prevented the gasses escaping. A gang of 16 men, in charge of James Harrison, were sent at once to the top of the furnace to remove the obstruction. All were closely crowded around the bell of the furnace, removing the material which had been dumped on it, when there was a terrific explosion, and men, barrows, tools and material were hurled in all directions. Flames, deadly gases and smoke belched from the furnace top, and the gang of men fell as if shot. Only one man was killed instantly. He was blown from the furnace top along the metal roadway, along the elevator shaft, down which he fell, and striking on a car, was cut in two, one half of his body falling on one side of the car and the other half on the other side.

FIFTEEN TORN AND BLEEDING MEN.

The explosion was heard all over Braddock, and crowds at once rushed to the scene, but none expected to witness such horrors. A relief crew was quickly organized, and went to the top of the furnace, where lay fifteen men, bleeding, torn, burned and dying. The flames and smoke were still coming from the furnace, and the work of rescue was very dangerous. But, covering their hands, faces and heads with clothes, the rescuers went bravely to work. The injured men were all leaning over the mouth of the furnace when the explosion occurred. Three men died before they reached the bottom of the elevator shaft, and the others soon after. The contents of the furnace were blown out and scattered hundreds of yards around the furnace, falling in all parts of the yard, cutting and burning ten men who were working below but none were seriously injured.

FIERCE SHOWERS OF FIRE.

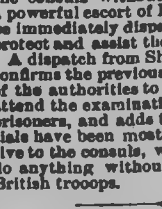
The fierce showers fell on the carpenter shop of the company, about 100 yards from the furnace, and it was soon in flames and was destroyed with its contents. The bell of the furnace was shattered, the roof of the cast house was crushed in and ruined; the contents of the furnace was scattered abroad, and the belief is that the furnace is badly damaged and may have to be rebuilt. If this should be the case the total damage will be $30,000.

CONSULS BARRED OUT.

NOT ALLOWED AT THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE MASSACRES.

China Will Not Allow England's and America's Representatives at the Massacre Investigation—More Troops are Needed There.

Special to the Times.



HONG KONG, Aug. 20.—Information has been received here confirming the previous reports that the Prefect accompanying the commission of enquiry into the massacre of Christians at Kucheng, as well as the Chinese officials at that place, have positively refused to permit the British and American consuls to be present during the examination of the prisoners connected with the outrages. The consuls have made a formal protest, and the matter has been referred to the Viceroy. In consequence of this action of the Chinese authorities, serious difficulties are expected.

ARE THEY AFRAID.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—A despatch from Shanghai to the Pall Mall Gazette ascribes the action of the Chinese officials at Kucheng in preventing the British and American consuls from being present at the examination of the persons arrested for participating in the massacre of Christians at that place to fear on the part of the authorities that the testimony of the prisoners will inculpate them.

The refusal of the authorities, the despatch says, shows the futility of allowing the consuls to start on their mission without the accompaniment of a strong British military escort. As the matter stands the consuls are powerless and the whole enquiry is a farce.

PUBLIC FEELING

among Europeans in Shanghai is strongly inclined towards the conviction that British Minister O'Connor should demand from China an independent enquiry by the consuls without delay and also that a powerful escort of British troops should be immediately dispatched to Kucheng to protect and assist them.

A dispatch from Shanghai to the Times confirms the previous reports of the refusal of the authorities to allow the consuls to attend the examination of the Ku Cheng prisoners, and adds that the Chinese officials have been most offensively destructive to the consuls, who are powerless to do anything without a proper escort of British trooops.

Nearly Killed by a Baseball Bat.

WINDSOR, Aug. Aug. 20.—Johnnie Howson, a 10 year old son of Manager Howson, of the Walkerville brewery, may die from injuries received by being struck on the head with a baseball bat Saturday. He was watching a game when a player named Healy threw his bat, which struck the boy and broke his skull.

G.T.R. Sheds in Ashes.

AURORA, Aug. 20.—A second attempt to fire the Grand Trunk Railway freight sheds here was successful last night. The fire was started by means of oily waste and the sheds and contents were totally destroyed. A first attempt was made two weeks ago, but the fire was extinguished before doing much damage.

CHINA IS A WRECK.

How much better it would have been for the world and for the Chinese themselves if Britian had been able to do for China the work which she has done and is doing for India.

India would now in some respects be another China if the natives had not been brought under the influence of western civilization. China, with all her ancient civilization, has been able to do little for herself in comparison with what Britian has done at a profit for India. China is in the grip of aranchy masked in the tyranny of antique despotism, while India rests under the blessing of equal laws, which restrict the authority of high and guard the freedom and property of the humble.

The public opinion of China is expressing itself in the massacres. China as an authoritative empire has been broken by defeat. The Pekin Government has ruled in the strength of popular acceptance of the legend that it was powerful. Riots and massacres are the Chinese way of expressing the opinion that a Government too weak to defeat Japan is not strong enough to rule China's millions. Anarchy must grow with the spead of this conviction, and foreign interference must follow anarchy. If some enlightened power like Britian interfered, foreign interference would be the begining of better days for the Middle Kingdom.

To the Hon. Mr. Dickey, minister of militia, the thanks of the Canadian militia are due for his decision to spend $50,000 in the purchase of Lee-Metford rifles for distribution among the Canadian regiments. Possibly this is pandering to the spirit of militarism; but if we're bound to be bad let us be very bad, and have the best instruments of evil that are going.

The news comes by cable that His Holiness the Pope has blessed the Spanish armies that are going to quell the rebellion in Cuba. Which reminds us that a little more than a hundred years ago the Pope formally blessed the biggest fleet that ever sailed to do battle against an enemy; and yet the little fleet of frigates commended by Howard and Drake and manned by stout English sailors appeared to be more powerful than the papal blessing.

Leading negroes of Washington talk of establishing a general store in that city for the patronage of their race exclusively. Seven negro girl graduates or a local business-school are the main promoters of the plan and they have secured considerable of the necessary capital. It is calculated that each of the 80,000 negroes in the city spend at least $1 a week in trade. On this $80,000 of weekly business, a profit of $5,000 is figured. Aside from the novelty of the undertaking, the public will feel a big increase. In it be. cause of its possible benefits to the negro race.

Greensburg is one of those Kansas towns in which it should be a pleasure and a privilege not to live. Five years ago it had 2,500 inhabitants. Now there are 123. It has a bonded debt of $45,000 with practically no valuation to pay it. The few people now there decline to pay their taxes, and lots and buildings are being sold by the Country Treasurer Farmers come into town and buy tax certificates for little or nothing. These they desire for the bulidings, which they remove, caring nothing for the lots. Five years ago a flouring mill was erected at a cost of $7,000, the city giving $3,000 in cash. Recently this building was purchased for a few dollars and removed to Colorado.

STEEL CLAD FORTS.

HOW THE LOWER BAY OF NEW YORK MAY BE MADE IMPREGNABLE.

Romer Shoal Utilized—Eight Powerful Rifles to be Mounted in Heavily Armored Revolving Steel Turrets—Other Guns Between Them.

Veterans of the late American civil war who saw the effect of shells bursting in old fashioned masonry walls at Fort Pulaski and at various other points in the south do not need to be told that defences like Fort Wadsworth and Fort Lafayotte are not now forts at all. Under the fire of old fashioned Dahlgren and Parrott guns even, they would not be forts, but slaughter pens; and before the devilish energy of modern high power rifles they would crumble like stucco.

Fort Hamilton having a considerable amount of earthwork, would not be quite as bad, but it can [illegible] longer be regarded as a serious protection for New York. On Sandy Hook there already exist modern earthworks of great value for both their resisting and attacking powers, and sites for similar gun emplacements have been selected on Coney Island and its vicinity.

But while these batteries would do much to resist the approach of a hostile fleet toward this city, it has been deemed desirable to design even stronger fortifications.

On a line running about east-northeast and west-southwest, across Romer Shoal, four steel turrets are to be set up. The old method of building a foundation in shallow water by throwing down loose rock and then placing concrete blocks on top of this rip-rap work will probably not now be adopted. It is expected that steel piling will be sunk to take the weight of the forts, and these piles will then be connected by steel plates until the water can be pumped out. Ample space below the lowest tide level will thus be secured for machinery, magazines and quarters.

Upon solid foundations will then be erected sloping barbettes, above which will be revolving turrets. The backing of both barbettes and turrets will be much more solid than that which can be given to similar defences on board ship, and there is every probability that the forts will be absolutely invulnerable to the heaviest ordnance mounted on any ship of war. As the barbettes must extend several feet below the lowest low water mark, and also several feet above the highest high water mark, it is proposed to face them with cement so applied as to protect the metal from the corrosive action of the salt water.

Each turret will have its own revolving machinery. The thickness of the armor plate will be determined by the relative status of armor and the gun at the time when the forts are ready for their steel protection, and—to a certain extent—the calibre and length of gun will be dependent upon that relative status. It is to be expected, however, that the four forts will contain eight of the most powerful pieces that can be made.

The alignment of the forts is such as to enable all of them to command the approach to the main ship channel and to sweep the whole front of the bay entrance. With such a battery in place the ocean bottom from Navesink lights to Rockaway Beach could be made a great mine field, and a hostile fleet could have little hope of clearing a way through the torpedoes commanded by such guns.

In the wing connections between the turrets will be mounted a number of 6-inch rapid fire guns, with, perhaps, also a few 8-inch.

A lighthouse caps the summit of one of the turrets, though in war time, of course, there would be no light, and probably the structure itself would be taken down.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums [illegible] bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve [illegible], instead of [illegible] distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

BORROWED SEX.

WOMEN WHO HAVE MADE THEMSELVES FAMOUS AS MEN.

Queen Christina of Sweden Exhibited Many of the Masculine Vices as Well as Virtues—"Sir James" Barry of the British Navy Was a Woman.

Instances of girls receiving the training and education of boys and of women disguising themselves as men are not as rare as may be supposed. Strong-willed women with features masculine have found it easy to deceive their own as well as the other sex. In some cases the assumed character became a second nature and assumed the common characteristics of the stronger sex.

Perhaps the most noted woman brought up as a boy was the famous queen, Christina, of Sweden, the daughter of Gustavus Adolphus. The king's disappointment at the birth of a daughter instead of a son was so great that the little girl was dressed as a boy and had tutors and valets instead of maids and governesses. She also received a boy's education, being well grounded in the sciences, the ancient and modern languages and in statecraft. She proved her knowledge of this last by bringing to a conclusion the disastrous Thirty Years' War in 1648, contrary to the device of her ministers, the treaty of peace being in every way a most advantageous one for Sweden. She encouraged the development of the arts in her kingdom and did her best "to rule and be respectable," as is publicly put by one high authority. Declaring her determination not to marry, in 1650 she "solemnly took to herself the title of king."

Her education having been opposed to the development of the feminine instincts, naturally Christina exhibited many of the masculine vices as well as virtues; she lavished wealth and dignities on worthless favorites, and finally resigned the crown in 1654, at the age of 28, to travel over Europe in masculine garb, creating a sensation wherever she appeared.

Her entrance into Paris was made on horseback, with an escort of a thousand men. She rode astride, had a cane in her hand and pistols in her holsters. During a visit to the theatre she swore, sprawled on her chair, throwing her legs over the arms, and assumed positions never seen except in a man. After making herself a nine days' wonder, Christina outraged all Europe by having her favorite, Monaldeschi, put to death—it is said by some in her very presence. Cardinal Mazarin having notified her of the king's displeasure, she replied in a haughty letter that "Christina was a queen wherever she might chance to reside." and advising "Jules" to so conduct himself as to meet her favor. She died at Rome in 1689, aged 63.

"That impudent woman, the Countess of Shrewsbury,"—as Evelyn calls her, the "wanton Shrewsbury" of Pope—made herself the talk of all England in the reign of Charles II. by disguising herself as a page to follow the Duke of Buckingham. She was said to have held the duke's horse thus attired while he fought with and killed her husband, the Earl of Shrewsbury, in a duel.

Those who doubt the possibility of a woman being able to keep a secret should read the story of "Sir James" Barry, who died July 25, 1865, on the retired list of the British navy as senior inspector general of the medical department. This person, at the age of eighteen, became a hospital assistant in 1813, and two years later was made assistant surgeon. After serving with skill in different successive grades she was made inspector general in 1858 and retired on half pay in 1859. On her death in 1865 word was at once dispatched to the department that the late inspector general was a woman. The landlady in whose lodgings she had lived for years and her black servants were equally ignorant of the fact. Lord Albemarle, who met death in 1819 at Capetown, at the house of the governor, Lord Charles Somerset, described her as "the most skillful of physicians and the most wayward of men." She had the appearance then of a beardless lad of the Scotch type with reddish hair and high cheek bones; her style of conversation was decidedly superior. She actually fought a duel with an officer who called her effeminate and expressed his belief that she ought to wear skirts.

Who she was still remains a mystery to the general public; she was said by some to have been the granddaughter of a Scotch earl, and to have chosen the medical profession in consequence of her love for an army surgeon, but the truth of this is not known.

Instances of borrowed sex have been numerous in every war. Two sisters, Felicite and Theophile Fesney, the younger only thirteen, lived in the village of Montange during the French revolution. Finding that their soldiers were insufficient in number to repel the attacks of the enemy, one night they slipped on the clothing of a brother and charged in the front rank of the national guards. Their intrepid behavior brought them to the notice of Gen. Dumouries, he discovered their sex, and attached them, with their father and brother, to his staff. They were in every action that followed, and always in the front rank in a charge. Theophile killed a general officer in an engagement near Brussels, while at the battle of Jemappes she disarmed and captured a gigantic Hungarian, carrying him prisoner to the general. The two sisters aided the general in his escape after capture, and they retired, resuming their feminine garb. The younger married a Belgian general, but Felicite died single.

Some years ago a gentleman who was investigating revolutionary records in Richmond came across the names of two persons by the name of Lane, who had received pensions for services during the revolution. One of these names being that of a woman, he was curious enough to inquire about her until he found a descendant. The two proved to have been man and wife. Lane had enlisted in the beginning of the war in Manchester, across the river from Richmond, and having been sent north to Washington's army, was wounded severely and faithfully nursed by a soldier belonging to the same company. Having recovered, naturally the two became devoted friends and, the term of their enlistment having expired, they reenlisted together, and were sent to Gen. Lincoln's army in Georgia. In the siege of Charleston the soldier was wounded; not until then did Lane discover the sex of his devoted comrade. He, in turn, became nurse and she recovered and married him. She had been in love with Lane before his enlistment, but made no impression upon him. When he entered the army she ran off from home and became "a soldier laddie" that she might be near him.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful specu'ators operate on a regular system

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

HOLMES' CASTLE ON FIRE.

THE MYSTERIOUS CHICAGO DENS DESTROYED.

Very Disastrous Forest Fires—Great Havoc Across the Line—Fatal Boat Upset—Pietzel's Burial Place Known.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, August 19.

AN alarm of fire has been turned in from 63rd and Wallace streets. It is reported that the Holmes castle is burning.

Later. — The destruction of the Holmes castle is practically complete.

HOWARD'S BURIAL PLACE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 19. — Detective Geyer and Inspector W. A. Gary of the Fidelity Insurance company have returned to Indianapolis to resume the search for the body of Howard Peitzel. Geyer says he is now satisfied that Howard Pietzel was murdered and the body disposed of in this city.

MILLIONAIRE MAGOWN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Frank A. Magown, a possible Republican candidate for governor for New York, ex-mayor of Trenton and head of several large manufacturing enterprises, disappeared from his home at Trenton, a few weeks ago and there was much comment over his absence. It was intimated that he had failed in some of his large business enterprises. Today it became known what caused his sudden disappearance. A despatch from El Beno, Ok., states that ex-mayor Magown of Trenton registered there August 1st and that he has begun proceedings against his wife for divorce. The Magowans are well known members of society at Trenton. Mr. Magown is President of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Co., the Trenton Rubber Co., the Eastern Rubber Co., and several other large manufacturing concerns. He is rated as a millionaire.

FLED FOR THEIR LIVES,

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 19.—Three Forks, a little mining camp in Slocum County, British Columbia, was entirely wiped out by the fierce forest fires which continue to rage with unabated fury throughout the country north and east of here. The inhabitants left everything and fled for their lives,

Roseland, B. C., was surrounded by the fires, and for two days it was threatened with destruction. The flames are now travelling east eating up the forests and the homes of many prospectors and miners who are in the path of the fire. Reports of loss of life have been received here, but cannot be verified,

FATAL UPSET.

BUFFALO, August 19.—While changing seats in a row boat off the piers this morning Charles E. Gillig and Henry Sect upset their little craft and were drowned. Andrew Lehner, a companion, was rescued. Mr. Gillig was a partner in the importing wine house of Gillig Bros.

LUXURIOUSLY ENTERTAINED.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Lord Lonsdale it is declared, expended $200,000 in the four days entertainment of Emperor William at the family castle in Cumberland. Not only "the family servants," but all the retainers on the Lonsdale estate were provided with special uniforms for the occasion and money was distributed broadcast by Lord Lonsdale to the surrounding villages to enable them to decorate in the Kaiser's honor. He will return the visit at the Kaiser's spec'al invitation next summer. It is mentioned that one of the Emperor's presents to Lord Lonsdale was a gold cigar box, with the imperial crown and arms in magnificent rubies and diamonds, which cost $5,000.

HOLMES' BETTER HALF.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—The alleged wife of H. H. Homes, Mrs. Howard, as she is known, is about to leave Philadelphia for Boston where, it is said she will spend some time with Miss Helen Mudget, the sister of the noted criminal Holmes. Mrs. Howard has kept in strict seclusion during her residence in this city but is alleged to have said that she knew nothing that would incriminate the man who posed as her husband. According to her own story she first met Holmes in Chicago. They were married in December, 1893, in Denver and Mrs. Howard, whose maiden name was Yoko has her marriage certificate to prove the fact. Mrs. Howard, it is said had perfect confidence in the man she believed to be her husband and never suspected he was a swindler or worse. To her Holmes explained that he changed his name on account of several real estate transactions. She also claimed to have property of her own in Indianapolis worth $8,000.

Mrs. Howard will be 26 years old next Monday. She is a small woman with finely cut features and golden hair. She was educated in Western College, Ills, and is a fine musician.

Among the passengers who arrived at New York on Saturday by the steamer Etruria was Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto.

Cheap Butter.

The Rural New-Yorker has the following hint to butter-makers:

"I wish that you would send me some one to buy that butter," said a commission merchant pointing to about 50 tubs of all kinds and sizes piled up in a corner of his store. "First-class butter never stays in the store over night, but I don't know what to do with that stuff. The use of cottolene has almost destroyed the demand for the cheaper grades of butter. A dealer who buys a good deal of cheap butter was in here, and I offered him the whole lot for 14 cents a pound. He took a number of bills from his pocket, and showed me where he had purchased a number of different lots for 4½ cents per pound. He said that, while some of it was nothing but grease, some was fair butter. What we are to do with that stuff, I don't know; I wish that they wouldn't send it here. There is a lot in five-pound pails. The man who sent it, also sent some in tubs. The latter was good butter, and sold at once, but he had evidently packed the poor stuff in pails thinking that the packages would sell it. But there they are." Why will people make good milk into poor butter, and then expect people to buy the stuff at good butter prices?

Best Way to Sell Wool.

Another wool season is at hand, and one of the problems which no doubt confronts our readers who have wool is where and how to dispose of it to the best advantage possible. Like all farm produce it finds its way to the large markets for distribution, and the fewer hands it passes through before this distribution takes place the more money he realizes for his wool. Such being the case, it is certainly for the best interest of the wool-grower to ship his wool direct to the large markets or points of distribution in order that he may realize the most money possible for it. The necessity for doing this at present is much greater than if wool was bringing as good price, and when the profit to be gained by the grower of wool shipping direct to market is brought to his attention, as is intended by this article, we think he will take advantage of it. There can be but one possible obstacle, that is confidence in securing the right kind of a house to receive and sell his wool to the best advantage possible and one which will remit his money promptly. Confidence is the foundation of all business transactions

GREAT SAVING BY PURCHASING THE LARGER SIZES

THE TRUTH.

Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst, D. D., the great reformer, writes October 24, 1894: "Mrs. Parkhurst and myself have used Pond's Extract so long and so constantly that we can speak appreciatively of it and in terms of warm commendation."

Rev. Chas. S. Robinson, D. D., editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prize it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfills every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, writes November 13, 1894: "I have been using a great deal of Pond's Extract for the past year in gargling, as I find it affords great relief in colds."

During the past month the Pond's Extract Company have received over 2,000 orders from physicians. We have on our books testimonials and orders from most of the Governors and many of the Senators of the United States; from the royalty of Europe, such as Her Majesty the Queen of Roumania, the Duchess of Cumberland, Princess of Wied, and others too numerous to mention.

When the clergy, the medical profession, statesmen and royalty all unite in praise of an article it seems unnecessary to say anything additional, but we do find it necessary to warn the public against imitations. These words of praise are all in favor of Pond's Extract—the genuine and only.

It is because of its intrinsic merit and high reputation that Pond's Extract has been imitated. If it were not of such great value and so world renowned there would be no imitations.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills however has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

A FATED FAMILY

Violent Deaths and Awful Injures Overtake All.

Special to The Times.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 20.—The death of E. W. McClosky in the Gumery hotel disaster in Denver is the latest of a most remarkable series of disasters in one family.

A year ago last winter one of the sons of Mr. McClosky was drowned while skating here. The following fourth of July another son was crippled for life by an explosion of fireworks in Kansas City. Later another son was shot and seriously wounded in Cripple Creek.

A few weeks ago Mrs. McClosky was burned to death and a daughter was frightfully wounded.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individua delights.

A HORROR.

Three Hundred Russian Soldiers Slain and a Barracks Wrecked in an Explosion—Nihilists Undermine the Whole Place—Many of the Fiends Arrested.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Daily News publishes a dispatch from Trieste, saying that newspapers there report an explosion having occurred today at the artillery barracks at Toola, capital of the Government of that name in Russia.

Three hundred persons are said to have been killed, including many officers.

The barracks are a heap of ruins. An examination of the cause of the explosion led to the discovery that the barracks had been undermined everywhere.

Many arrests have been made of persons suspected of being implicated in the outrage, [illegible] been the [illegible]

[illegible] EARLY SESSION.

It Is Expected That Parliament Will Meet in November.

Special to The Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—In official circles a very early session of Parliament is expectee. Before Bowell left for the west orders were given to rush the departmental reports. Lately a Minister has stated that Parliament would be called by November if Manitoba does not act, so as to have a full discussion of the school question before the Christmas holidays.

The advocates of remedial legislation urge this course, since if Parliament meets in January a little obstruction would postpone the passage of a measure until such a date that it would become the action of a moribund Parliament. Everything points to an early session if necessary, and those who ought to know say that upon this the Government is agreed.

FIVE BOYS DROWNED.

Nobody saw how it Happened, but the Bodies tell the Tale of Sorrow.

Special to the Times.

DES AULNAIES, Que., Aug. 20.—A sad drowning accident occurred yesterday of 5 youths, aged from 14 to 18, who were in a light boat. The five bodies were found near land about 7 o'clock. The bodies were altogether when found. The names of the victims are as follows: David St. Pierre, Amedee E. Pelletier, Edmund Carron, Joseph Morin, Wilifrid Labrecque.

Nobody has any knowledge of the accident or how it happened. This place, which is in L'Islet county, seventy eight miles below Quebec, was formerly called St.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 651 Stewart street.

To Inspect the Sewer.

The construction of the sewer is creating quite a little talk. A number of ratepayers have raised some objections to the way the work is being done, and some of the Councillors are determined that it shall be inspected by a disinterested engineer, if they have to pay the cost out of their own pockets.

Where the Tecumsehs Were.

The Tecumsehs went to Fergus yesterday and faced the Thistles of that town only to be beaten in a C.L.A. match. It was the finest and closest exhibition of lacrosse ever witnessed in Fergus. The Tecumsehs only had seven of their regular men on the field. The score after the two hours was four to one in favor of Fergus.—Toronto Telegram.

New Goods

At Clegg's, now arriving every day for the fall trade. Not only fine and expensive furniture, but the cheaper lines as well. Good common chairs at 33c, a good bedstead, all hard wood and well finished, for $2. Mattresses, springs, pillows, etc. Cheap extension tables and sideboards. Four flats one hundred feet long filled full of furniture and all at bottom prices. A. Clegg, 427 George street.

That Counterfeiting Case.

The case against the Murphy family charged with making and passing counterfeit money was opened for preliminary hearing before County Magistrate Deacon yesterday morning in the police court. The charges against each one are being taken up separately, and a large number of witnesses are to be examined. It will likely take several days to go over the vast amount of evidence to be produced. Mr. A. P. Devlin is the prosecuting attorney, and Mr. E. B. Stone, of Peterborough, is looking after the interests of the prisoners.—Lindsay Post,

The Board Bill Paid.

The Classics were partly paid their guarantee money yesterday, and Proprietor Huffman accepted the amount and released their baggage. They went home yesterday with anything but kind feelings towards Peterborough baseballists, and with painful memories of their visit. The Classics were certainly deserving of better treatment than they received. The incident will be told everywhere, and the result will be that it will be difficult to get a ball team from an outside place to come to Peterborough in the future on promises. This kind of treatment of visiting teams has done more to kill baseball in this town than anything else.

Wedding Bells,

At five o'clock yesterday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, Rev. Father Scollard united in marriage Miss Lillie Dineen, eldest daughter of Mr. R. Dineen, and Mr. J. H. Macdonald, Lake street. A number of friends were present to witness the ceremony. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Lillie Hurley. The bride was attired in ashes-of-rose cashmere, and was assisted by Miss Lizzie Flynn, of Havelock, who was dressed in gold brown cashmere. Mr. J. Hughes attended the groom. Guests were in attendance from Montreal, New York, Port Hope and Havelock. The presents received were numerous, there being thirty pieces of silver alone. Mr. William Dineen presented the bride with a check, and the groom's gift was a Heintzman piano. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left on the seven o'clock G.T.R. local for Port Hope, from whence they proceed to Rochester and New York.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Walter Brooks, of Peterborough, Barely Escapes Death by Drowning.

A very narrow escape from death by drowning was the experience of Walter T. Brooks, son of Mr. Thos. Brooks, of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company.

With his friend David Price, at whose father's house in Belleville young Brooks was visiting, the lads took a skiff and started for a sail, intending to go to Massassaga Point, a popular summer resort, four miles from the Bay city. It was between three and four o'clock when they reached the steamer 'Ella Rose," which was going down the bay. The boys got in the swell of the steamer, and, as is often the case, the boat capsized and the boys were soon struggling in the water. Young Brooks managed to hold to the boat for some time but Master Price went down before a rescue party arrived and was drowned. His companion was taken from his serious position completely exhausted and the doctors who were called in had great difficulty in reviving him. Mrs. Brooks went down to Belleville last evening, and is now with her son at Massassaga Point.

The body of the unfortunate boy had not been recovered late last night, but the search for it is being continued.

THE CHEESE BOARD.

All the Factories Sold at a Good Price—3,784 Boxes Boarded.

The factories sold readily at the meeting of the Cheese Board yesterday afternoon. All the factories except two sold for 7⅞c.

The buyers present were Messrs. Jones, Fitzgerald, Hodgson, Madden, Spence, Cook and Wrighton.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

Mr. Drummond read the following report:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your committee appointed to investigate the charge against certain factories for selling off the Board beg leave to report that the factories so selling are liable to expulsion, but, as there had been two markets and no sale with very hot weather and the salesmen stating that there factories were filled, therefore under the extreme circumstances we would recommend that the matter be dropped.

THE TRENT CANAL.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR,—I notice in THE TIMES this morning that gangs of Italians are passing through to Lakefield. Now, sir, I believe, some little time ago our worthy members of Parliament interviewed the Minister of Canals at Ottawa, and got a clause put in the contract, providing that no foreign labor was to be allowed on the Trent Valley Canal no doubt you can call to mind the time and circumstance of the above, as it was in your paper. I think you might do good just now to the laboring class. If you would bring the facts before the people, and if our worthy members of Parliament get that much done, let us hope that it will be carried out. There are lots of men in this district who needs work and who pays rent and taxes, and I think they should receive work first and not these gangs that are flying all over the country, and the boss of the job receiving $1 or $2 from each one, as they do now on some gravel trains and other place.

Yours fraternally,
A READER OF THE TIMES.

SELLS BROTHERS ENORMOUS UNITED SHOWS
THE LARGEST, OLDEST, AND MOST COMPLETE ARENIC AND ZOOLOGICAL EXHIBITION IN THE WORLD
"RAMESES"
THE FIRST MONSTER GIANT EAR AFRICAN ELEPHANT ever in CAPTIVITY.

Don't Miss Seeing the Largest Show on Earth

Beyond all comparsion the largest, oldest, richest and most complete Arenic and Zoological enterprise in the universe. Noted for its matchless magnitude, magnificence and merit. Now increased in every way except in price of admission. You will see larger tents, double menagerie, more sensational features, more greater acts than ever before exhibited in this or any other country, without a rival, without a blemish, honestly advertised, honorably presented, truthful, moral and instructive.

Pure and Free of any Objectionable Features, No Games of Chance, No Humbugs, No Exaggeration. Everything as Advertised.

We permit no fakirs or confidence men in or about our tents, and tolerate no trickery of any kind whatever. Ours is a clean, wholesome and moral exhibition, conducted on better lines than any other circus show in America, and you can safely take your families; or your wives, sweethearts and children are perfectly safe to visit our mammoth show unaccompanied. We call upon and invite the honest criticism of ministers, members of the press and the public generally to speak of us as they find us. If our show is not as represented, and if it is not the largest, most elegant and refined circus and menagerie ever in Canada, as well as the most extensive, don't give us the encouragement of your patronage.

BROKE THE QUORUM.

Councillor Denne Wanted His Motion Put and the Chairman Refused,

The Street and Bridge Committee met last night with just a quorum present. Street work was the subject of discussion, and everything was progressing smoothly until Councillor Denne offered a resolution providing for work on Gilmore street. Chairman Best refused to put the motion to a vote, and a heated discussion followed. Finally Councillor Denne left the meeting, which broke the quorum and business was suspended.

There is considerable friction between the members of the Street and Bridge Committee and Chairman Best. The councillors feel that they are not consulted enough in matters pertaining to street work—that their chairman is taking too much on his shoulders, and consequently there is a vigorous kick.

Councillor Best is doing efficient work in his capacity as chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, all will admit, but the Committee feel that they are not allowed any say in matters, and of course, this engenders a disturbing element.

It is very probable that some of the councillors will speak their minds pretty freely at the next council meeting, and there will be some breezy passages of words.

DESIRED SECRECY.

She Didn't Propose that the Operator Should Read Her Message.

Operator Christie, of the C.P.R. telegraph office had an amusing experience yesterday afternoon. A sharp featured woman who probably hailed from the back lakes, rushed into the telegraph office to send a message and spying the genial electricity operator said:

"Gimme an envelope!"

At the same time she dived down in her pocket and brought forth a letter.

"Do you send letters here?" she demanded next.

"We send them over the wire," politely responded the operator.

"Well, I want to send one."

"Let me see it, and I will send it."

"No, I will seal it and send it."

"But I must see it and read it and send it over the wire," insisted the operator.

"Well, mine are sealed when I get 'em, and I know nobody reads my letters."

"Yes, I know," explained the operator, "but I have first to write the message for you, and then put it in an envelope and then send it to you by a messenger."

"Well, I don't care; I ain't goin' to have nobody read my letters; somebody else wrote this, and I ain't goin' to have it read."

Thinking, perhaps, to get around the matter in some other way, the operator asked to see the size of the letter. The woman had written out in full what she had to say, and when the young man at the desk saw this, he said:

"I should advise you not to send this, madam, for it will cost you a great deal to send it as it is."

"Well, this letter's got to go, and it's got to go in a hurry."

"Why don't you get a special delivery stamp, and send it that way?" suggested the amused operator.

"What's that?"

"That's something that you get at the postoffice, and it will insure the prompt delivery of your letter."

Evidently this struck the fancy of the woman, for she rushed out of the store to go to the postoffice, while the few spectators could hardly restrain their shouts of laughter until she had reached the street.

OUR DOG COXEY.

The office has got a dog. It wandered in about three weeks ago, laid down by the stove, went to sleep until noon, and then it followed the "devil" home at dinner time and got dinner. Since then it has never left the office, and is now a regular fixture.

On account of its evident vagabond habit the boys named it "General Coxey." Coxey soon learned that the printers ate lunch at midnight, and now every night as the town clock strikes those 12 solemn strokes that fade away in the silvery effulgence of the starry silence, he pushes the door open and walks in and by a mute look demands his share. He gets it, too. Then he goes down on the street and follows the nightwatchman around and plays tag with the other canines, and finally goes to sleep on the steps.

Yesterday some cruel man stuck Coxey's ears together with a piece of chewing gum, and all his dog friends laughed at his indicrous appearance, but he will get even when he grows up for he is only a pup now.

At first the boys used to put ink on Coxey's tail, and then stick paper on the ink and Coxey would whirl around and around until he dropped from exhaustion. The bookbinder also painted his paws with bright purple ink, and Coxey looked very odd. But the boys are attached to Coxey now, and wouldn't harm him for the world.

STREET CORNER LOAFING.

Editor Morning Times.

SIR,—How is it that street corner loafing is so rampant in this town?

Having occasion to go from the west to the east part of the town on Saturday night between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock and at nearly every corner, (the main street included) was disgusted with the speech and conduct of those congregated crowds. I found on reaching my friend's house that they had taken advantage of the darkness to spatter my skirts with a liberal solution of tobacco juice, an insult I have never before been subjected to. As I am a stranger in a strange place and cannot have redress in any other way than to let the public know of the insult I received, I hope you will give this space in your paper. I am,

Yours,

A Metal Breadboard
THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly clense them, and they may easily become dangerous coveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—A well known man named James Johnson who did business at 65 Colborne sgreet under the title of "The York Cap Company" departed for Rochester by the Empress of India on Saturday. He left behind him at his business establishment a beggarly account of empty boxes with a few unfinished hats and caps, the whole outfit not worth more more than forty dollars. W. Bacon, cartage agent, who leased the third floor of the building to Johnson, has put the bailiff in for a ten months rent account, and other small creditors are making anxious inquiries after the cap man's whereabouts. As far as can be learned no one has been let in for any large amount. That more creditors do not mourn his departure is due to the fact that Johnson never inspired them with sufficient confidence to open any large accounts.

HE WAS WITHOUT CREDIT.

Johnson had been in business for fifteen years in Toronto and for a great part of that time was on the ragged edge. His credit was early blown upon and he kept himself afloat by a system of juggling notes one against the other. Three years ago, while conducting business in Colborne street, near Yonge, he made an assignment which was not particularly profitable to his creditors. Since that time he has done business at No. 65, where he employed ten women and a couple of men at his hat manufacturing business. To most of these he is in arrears for wages and the pay day has always been erratic. His dealings were mostly with manufacturers' agents, who sold strictly on commission. At various times he had business dealings with A. A. Allan & Co., Bay street; Samuel, Benjamin & Co., Front street; Thomas May, Montreal, and others. All these firms, however, are secured, their transactions with Johnson always being in the nature of contra accounts.

WAS AN INVETERATE GAMBLER.

Johnson was an elderly man with a wife and family living at 52 Denison avenue. He was familiarly known among business men as "Jimmy" and was an inveterate gambler, cards and horse races being his favorite way of losing his money. Last spring he bought a brick house on Wellesstreet from W. Adams, builder, Beeker street. Johnson paid $300 down but never occupied the place. Mr. Adams is fully secured against loss by a mortgage. About two months ago, Johnson who found that every method of credit was about exhausted, determined to make a splurge. Through Roaf & Roaf, solicitors, he rented the ground floor at 89 King street west in the Romaine building. The landlord was persuaded to fit the shop with electric lights, shelves, counters, etc., and Mr Johnson promised to move in on August 1. When the time came Johnson had not been able to secure a stock.

ANOTHER LANDLORD LET IN.

On Saturday morning Johnson removed his furniture and his family from 52 Denison avenue. He did it somewhere in the early morning, not wishing to displease his landlord, Mr. Carroll, who lives at No. 50, by refusing to pay rent. Landlord Carroll has placed his accounts in the hands of a lawyer. On Saturday night Johnson donned a new suit and a new derby and took his family on the boat to Rochester, where it is presumed, his furniture had preceded him. First, however he wrote a letter to his Colborne street landlord, authorizing him to sell what stock there was as he was unable to pay the rent.

COLLIDED IN MID CHANNEL.

Two Steamships in a Crash—One Sinks but All Passengers are Saved.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A special to the Sun from London gives the following details of a collision in the English Channel between the steamships Seaford and Lion: The Seaford, with 450 passengers, including more than 100 Americans, travelling from Paris to London, collided in midchannal at four o'clock yesterday afternoon with the Lion, of the same line.

The Seaford is one of the finest ships in the New Haven-Dieppe service, which is much patronized by Americans. The Lion was badly damaged forward, but safely landed the passengers at nine o'clock last night, and they reached London before midnight. They lost all their baggage. The Seaford was a new boat, and cost $350,000.

TORONTONIANS IN IT.

Mr. W. H. Carrick, of the Gurney Company, Mrs. Carrick, Mr. J. C. Rolph and Mr. Cromwell Gurney left this city some time ago on a tour through England, Ireland, Scotland and the continent. Mr. Edward Gurney received a cable from Mr. Carrick last evening reporting the above collision, but that the passengers were saved.

ACCIDENT ON THE G.T.R.

Two Cars Derailed by a Runaway Team Near Burlington.

Special to The Times.

HAMILTON, Aug. 21.—The Grand Trunk flyer that left Toronto yesterday morning at 9 o'clock met with an accident near Burlington and traffic was delayed for two hours. At a side road a mile east of Burlington, a runaway team dashed into the baggage car. The horses were pulled under the wheels of the car resulting in two of the cars being derailed. The wagon was smashed, but a man who was in the rig escaped.

Toronto has a Peace Meeting.

MYSTIC, Conn., Aug. 21.—The Connecticut Peace Society, with the Universal Peace Union, convened for their yearly meeting in Peace Grove yesterday. The chief speaker of the day was W. G. Brown, of Toronto. He forcefully and logically urged higher ideals for the home school, church, and State.

Paid at the Cannon's Mouth.

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—The warship Hagen has arrived at Wilhelmshaven from Tangeir, having on board the $500,000 indemnity, which Germany at the cannon's mouth, made Morocco to pay for the murder by natives of a German named Rocestroh.

SIX OF THEM DROWNED.

The Awful Ending of a Buffalo Yachting Party's Outing.

Special to the Times.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 21.—The small pleasure steam yacht Rung Brothers, owned by Burley Bros., of this city, with 13 passengers and a crew of three, foundered early last evening between the inner Government lighthouse and the Reading coal trestle, and six of the passengers were drowned. Their names were: Albert Staffold, Frank Cannon, Frank Rugan, Jacob Bauman, Henry Shingler, and Chas. Fisher.

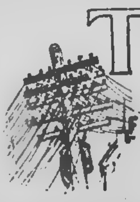
After passing the best part of the day at various Grand Island resorts, the yacht was headed up the river for home. Four passengers were landed at the foot of Ferry street, and the captain made his course for the foot of Genesee street, the point of starting. In doing so he was compelled to cross the lower end of Lake Erie in a spot not protected by the breakwater. A high wind has been blowing all day, and there was a big sea on. Caught in the trough of the waves, when near the Reading coal trestle, off the foot of Georgia street, the yacht careened to one side, filled rapidly, and went down almost instantly.

CAUGHT IN THE DEED.

POLICEMAN PATTON SURPRISED A THIEF ROBBING A TILL.

He Hailed From London But Will Sojourn for 30 Days in a Toronto Jail—A Glimpse into Toronto's Noted Police Court.

Special to the Times.



TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Police Constable while on duty at 5.30 this morning discovered that the window in rear of Lorenzo Forrest's Eudo Mineral Water establishment, 311 Yonge street, had been broken in. He entered and saw a pair of boots in the rear, while in the front office was a spectacled young man of good appearance in the act of emptying the till, An arrest followed and in a few hours the shopbreaker, who gave the name of Walter Clarkson, was arraigned in the Police Court. He pleaded guilty and said he had come from London, Ont., and had been driven by lack of money to sleep in stables. Police Magistrate Kingsford sent him to jail for 30 days. "For shopbreaking!" inquired Crown Attorney Curry who was surprised at the short sentence. "That's enough!" replied His Worship.

TILLY STOLE THE PURSE.

Tilly Coulson, 40 Hayter street, was tried for stealing on Saturday afternoon last from a counter in McKendry's store a purse containing $6.88 which had been laid down by Mrs. Alice Ward while she was trying on a new hat. Mrs. Ward's back was towards her purse at the moment of the theft, but in the mirror she saw Tilly lift it and move towards the elevator. Mrs. Ward followed, but missed the cage, and when she reached the ground floor the accused had disappeared. Tilly was found guilty and sent to jail for thirty days.

Patrick Conley, 123 Bond street, cursed and swore at the Union station and G. T. R. Constable Healy locked him up. Conley pleaded guilty and was fined $1 and costs or ten days.

HE KICKED HIS WIFE.

Wm. Taylor, 10 Price's lane, is industrious when sober, but beats his wife when he gets in liquor. After several assaults she had him arrested. He was shown to have kicked her. A fine of $5 and costs or thirty days in jail was imposed.

Fat Ellen Flannagan went out mashing and was arrested. She promised to leave town and the court jumped at the chance to get rid of her. If she lingers longer than Saturday she will be sent to the Mercer.

John Mitchell has been unusally troublesome to his mother-in-law Mrs. Mary Carlow and on Tuesday night he came to her house drunk, invited in noisy companions and then hit her in the face with his fist. This cost him $5 and costs or 30 days.

BILLY BITTLE WASN'T IN IT.

"Am I in this?" said Billy Bittle, as he went into Mrs. Daley's establishment at 156½ York street on Monday night and found Minnie Earle and "two other ladies," drinking lager. "You are not." said Minnie. "If you want lager you must get some one else to buy it for you." This cold reception annoyed Billy and Minnie swears that he hit her in the eye. She appeared in the witness box with her optic in mourning. The case will be resumed on Friday.

Capt. Wigle, of the Lakeside, was fined $50 and costs in each of two cases of breaches of the liquor law.

P. C. McDonald found Wm. Henderson and Ellen Wellesly in R. F. Dale's stable in rear of 593 Queen street west, Henderson was fined $1 and costs or ten days and the woman $1 and costs or thirty days.

SAVAGE'S LITTLE FLIRTATION.

John Savage is the name given by a man of respectable appearance who was arrested at the Union station on Tuesday night because he was seen donning a set of false whiskers. He interviewed Inspector Stark and said he had been a hotel keeper at the World's Fair and could establish his good standing if necessary. His story was believed, and as there was no charge against him he was allowed to go. His whiskers remain in charge of the police. He told the police that he was disguising himself to facilitate a little flirtation with a young lady who lives on Tranby avenue and who was going to Chicago on the same train as himself.

A Boy's Hand torn to Pieces

NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 21.—Wyckliffe McCiement, aged 9, was walking along the river bank yesterday when he picked up a dynamite cartridge. This he rubbed along the iron guard rail nearly opposite the Clifton House, when suddenly there was an explosion and his right hand, which held the explosive, was torn to pieces.

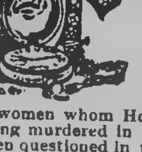
MINNIE WILLIAMS ALIVE.

ONE OF HOLMES' SUPPOSED VICTIMS TURNS UP IN PROVIDENCE.

Lawyer Shoemaker Received a Telegram From Her Stating that the Sender Was Alive and Well—The Authenticity of the Message Remains to be Proved.

Special to the Times.



PHILADELPHIA, August 21.—W. A. Shoemaker, counsel for Holmes, received a message from "Minnie R. Williams," dated Providence, R. I., which stated that the sender was alive and well. This is one of the women whom Holmes is accused of having murdered in the Chicago house. When questioned in regard to the matter, Mr. Shoemaker at first seemed inclined not to discuss it, but finally admitted that he had received such a despatch. "We have contended all along," said he, "that Minnie Williams was alive. We will have no difficulty in producing her at the proper time."

"Do you think the telegram is genuine?"

"It may or may not be. My opinion, however, is that it was sent by Minnie Williams. Holmes told me this, that he supposed that the girl had gone from America, but was induced to send the message by some of his friends.

"It is more than likely that Minnie Williams sent the message and then left town. She has always had a particular fondness for Boston and has many friends in that city. She may have been on her way when she telegraphed me."

The telegram reads:

Providence, R.I., Aug. 19
W. A. Shoemaker, attorney, Philadelphia.
Report that I was murdered absurd. Am alive and well.
(Signed) Minnie R. Williams.

When the message was shown to Holmes he said: "I knew my story that I did not kill her would be confirmed. I am sorry, however, that she has made herself so public by telegraphing. She might as well have written."

The Holmes reiterated the statement he has made so often, that the last time he saw Minnie Williams was when he left her at Toronto with the Pietzel children. The prisoner thinks that Minnie Williams is the best friend he has, and is sure the message was sent by her. The genuineness of the telegram was investigated by Mr. Shoemaker.

W. A. Capps, the Fort Worth attorney who is here trying to prosecute Holmes, was on his way to New York when seen by a reporter. When told that Minnie Williams had been reported alive, he said: "I never thought she was dead. The Fort Worth people think she is alive. She might have been on her way to Boston. She has many friends there who would not be surprised. The message received by Shoemaker is correct."

FLIM FLAM ARTIST.

Hamiltonians Badly Fleeced by a Bold Scamp.

Special to the Times.

HAMILTON, Aug. 21.—A flim flam artist is working small stores in the city successfully. Today he managed to swindle a young woman in Catchpole's umbrella store out of $5. He asked for a $5 bill in exchange for silver, and requested Miss Catchpole to put it in an addressed envelope which he handed to her. He then requested her to count the change to see if it was correct, when it was found to be 25 cents short. The flim flammer said he had received the change from a clerk in a neighboring store, and he asked the lady to hold the envelope until he returned for the correct change. He failed to call again, and on the envelope being opened it contained only a small piece of paper.

MICHIGAN TRAIN ROBBERS.

Blew Open A Safe But Got Nothing—A Brakeman Shot.

Special to the Times.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 21.—The fast express known as the "Flyer" on the Chicago and West Michigan road, leaving Chicago at 5 o'clock and arriving here at 10.40, was held up by five men in a piece of woods just before crossing the Kalamazoo River at 8 o'clock last night. When the train stopped, the brakeman, Timothy Murphy, started back with a lantern. A robber fired three shots at him, one of which hit him in the side, making a serious flesh wound.

Conductor Rice, after a bullet whizzed past his head, retreated to the baggage car. The robbers placed dynamite under the side door, blew it off and sprang into the car. They went through the conductor baggageman and express messenger, taking everything except their watches, and then blew open the safe. It contained no valuables.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills however has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

Broke Her Jaw.

KINGSTON, Aug. 21.—Miss Emery, of Belleville, while at the Thousand Island Park on Sunday, was running to get into the cottage, where she was stopping, when her foot caught in her dress and she fell, striking her face on the steps. Her jaw bone was broken and a gash one and a half inches in length was cut in her face.

A Tremendous Crop.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—Vice-President Shaughnessy of the C. P. R., who has returned from the North West, says of the crops there "We have certainly a tremendous crop not only of wheat, but other grains as well." Is there any danger from frosts?" "No. I think not, those with whom I talked and the people best able to judge of the matter are of the opinion that the danger stage has been passed and that this year's crop will suffer little or nothing from frosts." Advices from North Bay say that 1,553 men collected from all parts of Ontario left that place today for Manitoba and the North West.

Nazrulla Khan cannot be snubbed out of England. If he ever loses his job of being an Afghan Prince he will not make a bad book agent.

Odessa merchants are preparing large consignments of Russian goods for Abyssinia. They will be shipped to Odessa and there transferred to French vessels going to Obock.

Lord Wolseley's appointment as Commander-in-chief of the British army indicates that henceforth ability and not birth will count. Members of the reigning family have hitherto held the position just because they happened to be of the blood royal.

King Menelik of Abyssinia, according to Mr. Flad, a German missionary, is surrounded by French and Russian agents. He asserts that he will whip the Italians, and then, crossing the Red Sea, will free Jerusalem, as the direct descendant of David and of Solomon.

The Globe's standing conundrum. "Has the National Policy made you rich?" has been withdrawn from the columns of that paper. It is understood that a brand new conundrum is to appear in a few days, which will likely read "How is your liver?"

John Dunn is dead again. He was the white man who had lived for twenty years among the Zulus when the British attacked Cetewayo, and who was made Governor of Zululand by Sir Garnet Wolseley after the war was over. His death has been reported a number of times.

On a continent where the English language overwhelmingly predominates it is absurb to try and perpetuate French as anything but an accomplishment. The surprise is that the Christian Brothers of Ottawa should desire to let the children in their schools grow up ignorant of the commercial language of the country.

Piccadilly at night now presents the same sights that used to be seen in Trafalgar square. Hundreds of people are stretched out asleep until 5 in the morning on the pavement bordering on the Green Park. Some spread newspapers under them, but the greater part lie down on the bare ground.

Koch's tuberculine, which has been cast in the shade of late by Dr. Roux's antitoxine, now turns up again as a remedy for insanity. Prof. Wagner von Jauregg of Vienna has experimented with it for four years, curing many patients and improving the mental and physical condition of all on whom it was tried.

When Prince Alexander of Battenberg was kidnapped, M. Hitrovo, the Russian Ambassador at Bucharest, said to the French Ambassador: "I do not understand the scruples of the diplomacy of to-day. It is a misfortune that diplomats are not allowed a free hand any longer, as in the fifteenth century, when everything was permitted—the poniard or poison," afterward, according to the Vossische Zeitung, when the Asiatic department of the Russian Government wished to get rid of Prince Ferdinand, half a million frances were sent to M. Hitrovo, who also furnished the explosive to blow the Prince up on the railroad from Rustchuk to Varna in 1888. Stambuloff saved the Prince's life on both occasions.

FOR A TAX ON NOBLEMEN.

An Ingenious French Idea to Help Pay the National Debt.

French marquises, counts and barons are growing as common as asparagus in the month of May. Every well-dressed man in Paris thinks himself dishonored if his buttonhole is not ornamented with a decoration of some kind, or if on his visiting card a coronet is not engraved. Never have there been more aristocrats in France than under the third republic.

One of the remarkable things about this is that the great majority have no right to prefix a title to their names, but as the offense is a harmless one no serious objections have been raised so far by the authorities. On the contrary, it seems as if the Government were rather inclined to countenance titles. Such is the opinion of a learned Deputy, M. Girault, who when Parliament reassembles, intends to introduce a bill by which all noblemen shall be taxed.

The tariff will be levied according to the rank of nobility selected by a party in quest of arstocratic glory. A prince will be compelled to pay the maximum tariff, a duke will come next on the schedule and all the titles will be submitted to an inflexible law, which M. Girault has carefully prepared, and which is destined to ameliorate the financial condition of the nation and facilitate in years to come the equilibrium of the budget.

However revolutionary M. Girault's plan may appear, no one will deny that it is a most democratic resolution, for a noble title being anything but an article of absolute necessity, only those with money to spare will have anything to pay. It is an original method of making the rich bear a larger share of the burdens of taxation. Without doing this by taxing their incomes direct, it taxes their titles as an article of luxury and as something which gives the possessors a certain homage in the eyes of the people for which they ought to be willing to make compensation.

"M. Girault's law, notwithstanding its originality," says a French writer, "has been turned to ridicule in France before it has been read for the first time in the Chamber of Deputies. There are some who ask if it would not be better to organize an immense lottery, the grand prize of which would be a title of prince and the lesser ones titles of lower order. The journey to Rome would be avoided, and all titles possessed by Frenchmen would be strictly national."

A Woman at the Bottom of It.

A woman was in a hurry to board a Wabash avenue cable car. At the same time a one-legged man was in a hurry to leave the car. The woman collided with the man, knocked his crutch from under his arm and he fell upon the pavement. After the woman had made herself secure in the seat of the car she turned and made a profuse apology. The man was in no mood to accept it. He shook his crutch before her and cursed her. The woman's face grew crimson. The conductor enjoyed the occurrence. In doing so he stepped on a man's corn. The man toppled and fell against another man, knocking off the latter's silk hat. In scrambling to catch it he fell off. He raved and swore, and the man who had knocked off the hat, being pugnacious, jumped from the car and there was a fight. The conductor was heard to mutter: "Always a woman."—Chicago Tribune.

The Turtle's Annual Visit.

A land turtle that without fail for twenty-six years has regularly appeared at the home of Michael Mackey, at Parker Ford, Chester County, came to time a few days ago and was being proudly exhibited around Pottstown by Mr. Mackey yesterday. That gentleman asserts that there can be no mistaking his turtle, as the initials of his name are emblazoned on its shell. He says that its training has been so well developed at his home that at the sound of the dinner bell it comes into the dining-room to receive its allotment of food. It stays around the Mackey premises until September, and then goes off to its winter quarters.—

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE.

A BOILER EXPLOSION CAUSES DEATH AND SUFFERING.

While Repairing a Gas Furnace it Becomes Clogged, and is Followed by an Awful Explosion—Workmen Torn and Bleeding.

Special to The Times.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 20.

SIX workmen were instantly killed and several others injured by an explosion of gas at furnace H, of the Carnegie mills at Braddock. They were repairing a clog in the machinery at the top of the furnace when the disas occured.

FELL AS IF THEY WERE SHOT.

A few minutes before the explosion occurred one of the top fillers dumped a barrel of material into the bell of the furnace, which he had forgotten to raise. This clogged the top of the furnace and prevented the gasses escaping. A gang of 16 men, in charge of James Harrison, were sent at once to the top of the furnace to remove the obstruction. All were closely crowded around the bell of the furnace, removing the material which had been dumped on it, when there was a terrific explosion, and men, barrows, tools and material were hurled in all directions. Flames, deadly gases and smoke belched from the furnace top, and the gang of men fell as if shot. Only one man was killed instantly. He was blown from the furnace top along the metal roadway, along the elevator shaft, down which he fell, and striking on a car, was cut in two, one half of his body falling on one side of the car and the other half on the other side.

FIFTEEN TORN AND BLEEDING MEN.

The explosion was heard all over Braddock, and crowds at once rushed to the scene, but none expected to witness such horrors. A relief crew was quickly organized, and went to the top of the furnace, where lay fifteen men, bleeding, torn, burned and dying. The flames and smoke were still coming from the furnace, and the work of rescue was very dangerous. But, covering their hands, faces and heads with clothes, the rescuers went bravely to work. The injured men were all leaning over the mouth of the furnace when the explosion occurred. Three men died before they reached the bottom of the elevator shaft, and the others soon after. The contents of the furnace were blown out and scattered hundreds of yards around the furnace, falling in all parts of the yard, cutting and burning ten men who were working below but none were seriously injured.

FIERCE SHOWERS OF FIRE.

The fierce showers fell on the carpenter shop of the company, about 100 yards from the furnace, and it was soon in flames and was destroyed with its contents. The bell of the furnace was shattered, the roof of the cast house was crushed in and ruined; the contents of the furnace was scattered abroad, and the belief is that the furnace is badly damaged and may have to be rebuilt. If this should be the case the total damage will be $30,000,

SAW DURANT AND BLANCHE.

Another Witness Who Will Help to Draw the Net Around the Prisoner.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The police have found another witness who will testify against Durant. He is a conductor on the Mission street electric road and will testify to having seen Durrant and Blanche Lamont on his car on the morning of April 3, the day when the unfortunate girl met her death.

Durrant has both denied and acknowledged that he accompanied Blanche on that morning. This new witness will settle the matter definitely. He knew the young man and the girl, because they were frequent passengers on his car. Nearly every morning they were on their way to school. Blanche going to the High School and Durrant continuing his journey to Cooper College,

On the morning of the third, the young people were together. The conductor remembers them distinctly, They took transfers to the Larkin street line, where they again transferred to Sutter street. It was then that Durrant made an appointment to meet her in the afternoon and go with him to church to get a copy of "The Newcomes" which she was reading,

G.T.R. Sheds in Ashes,

AURORA, Aug. 20.—A second attempt to fire the Grand Trunk Railway freight sheds here was successful last night. The fire was started by means of oily waste and the sheds and contents were totally destroyed. A first attempt was made two weeks ago, but the fire was extinguished before doing much damage.

A Cheap Illuminant.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—W. C. Edwards, M.P., is prospecting at Buckingham for lime stone and proposes to make acetylene gas to supply Montreal and Toronto with illuminant at fifty cents a thousand.

The Worst of It.

Sympathizing Friend—Oh, dear, this is dreadful! Even if it has been shown to be a horrible mistake, yet, to think of you being arrested on suspicion of being a shoplifter!

Mrs. Sayles (bitterly) Yes; (boo, hoo)! One of the papers said I was evidently over thirty, too!—Puck.

Memory and Observation.

Little Brother—You mustn't give the dog so much meat. It will make him vicious.

Little Sister—How do you know?

Little Brother—I've heard so; and, besides, I've noticed that the teacher always brings meat for her lunch.—Good News.

Perfectly Simple.

Patron—This vest is too tight around the waist.

Tailor—That's because you throw your shoulders back too much.

And the coat fits too tight around the shoulders.

Tailor—Oh! well, you shouldn't stoop over so.—Chicago Record.

Very Plausible.

Magistrate (severely)—You are charged with kissing this young lady against her will, and on the public highway.

Prisoner—She was in a bicycle costume, and I mistook her for my long lost brother.

Magistrate (briskly)—Discharged! Call th' next case.—N.Y. Weekly.

Makes a Difference.

Johnny—I'd be ashamed to make all that fuss about havin' a tooth pulled.

Tommy—So would I if it was your tooth.—Chicago Tribune.

Mother-in-Law as She is.

Grocer—You seem to be living mostly on canned goods lately.

Mr. Newwed (sadly)—Yes; my wife's mother is away.—N. Y. Weekly.

He Was Deceived.

Tom—So your engagement with Miss Flirty is declared off. I suppose she isn't all your fancy painted her.

Dick—Worse than that, she isn't all she paints herself.—Texas Siftings.

There Are Others..

He—Miss Paterson isn't as pretty as she once was. She has fallen off considerably lately.

She—Yes; since she began riding a bicycle.—Brooklyn Life.

A Long Way After.

Blinks (meditatively)—What a greedy world this is; the great majority of people always after money.

Harduy (sadly)—Yes and a long way after it, too.—Buffalo Courier.

BORROWED SEX.

WOMEN WHO HAVE MADE THEMSELVES FAMOUS AS MEN.

Queen Christina of Sweden Exhibited Many of the Masculine Vices as Well as Virtues—"Sir James" Barry of the British Navy Was a Woman.

Instances of girls receiving the training and education of boys and of women disguising themselves as men are not as rare as may be supposed. Strong-willed women with features masculine have found it easy to deceive their own as well as the other sex. In some cases the assumed character became a second nature and assumed the common characteristics of the stronger sex.

Perhaps the most noted woman brought up as a boy was the famous queen, Christina, of Sweden, the daughter of Gustavus Adolphus. The king's disappointment at the birth of a daughter instead of a son was so great that the little girl was dressed as a boy and had tutors and valets instead of maids and governesses. She also received a boy's education, being well grounded in the sciences, the ancient and modern languages and in statecraft. She proved her knowledge of this last by bringing to a conclusion the disastrous Thirty Years' War in 1648, contrary to the device of her ministers, the treaty of peace being in every way a most advantageous one for Sweden. She encouraged the development of the arts in her kingdom and did her best "to rule and be respectable," as is publicly put by one high authority. Declaring her determination not to marry, in 1650 she "solemnly took to herself the title of king."

Her education having been opposed to the development of the feminine instincts, naturally Christina exhibited many of the masculine vices as well as virtues; she lavished wealth and dignities on worthless favorites, and finally resigned the crown in 1654, at the age of 28, to travel over Europe in masculine garb, creating a sensation wherever she appeared.

Her entrance into Paris was made on horseback, with an escort of a thousand men. She rode astride, had a cane in her hand and pistols in her holsters. During a visit to the theatre she swore, sprawled on her chair, throwing her legs over the arms, and assumed positions never seen except in a man. After making herself a nine days' wonder, Christina outraged all Europe by having her favorite, Monaldeschi, put to death—it is said by some in her very presence. Cardinal Mazarin having notified her of the king's displeasure, she replied in a haughty letter that "Christina was a queen wherever she might chance to reside." and advising "Jules" to so conduct himself as to meet her favor. She died at Rome in 1689, aged 63.

"That impudent woman, the Countess of Shrewsbury,"—as Evelyn calls her, the "wanton Shrewsbury" of Pope—made herself the talk of all England in the reign of Charles II. by disguising herself as a page to follow the Duke of Buckingham. She was said to have held the duke's horse thus attired while he fought with and killed her husband, the Earl of Shrewsbury, in a duel.

Those who doubt the possibility of a woman being able to keep a secret should read the story of "Sir James" Barry, who died July 25, 1865, on the retired list of the British navy as senior inspector general of the medical department. This person, at the age of eighteen, became a hospital assistant in 1813. and two years later was made assistant surgeon. After serving with skill in different successive grades she was made inspector general in 1858 and retired on half pay in 1859. On her death in 1865 word was at once dispatched to the department that the late inspector general was a woman. The landlady in whose lodgings she had lived for years and her black servants were equally ignorant of the fact. Lord Albemarle, who met death in 1819 at Capetown, at the house of the governor, Lord Charles Somerset, described her as "the most skillful of physicians and the most wayward of men." She had the appearance then of a beardless lad of the Scotch type with reddish hair and high cheek bones; her style of conversation was decidedly superior. She actually fought a duel with an officer who called her effeminate and expressed his belief that she ought to wear skirts.

Who she was still remains a mystery to the general public; she was said by some to have been the granddaughter of a Scotch earl, and to have chosen the medical profession in consequence of her love for an army surgeon, but the truth of this is not known.

Instances of borrowed sex have been numerous in every war. Two sisters, Felicite and Theophile Ferney, the younger only thirteen, lived in the village of Montange during the French revolution. Finding that their soldiers were insufficient in number to repel the attacks of the enemy, one night they slipped on the clothing of a brother and charged in the front rank of the national guards. Their intrepid behavior brought them to the notice of Gen. Dumouriez, he discovered their sex, and attached them, with their father and brother, to his staff. They were in every action that followed, and always in the front rank in a charge. Theophile killed a general officer in an engagement near Brussels, while at the battle of Jemappes she disarmed and captured a gigantic Hungarian, carrying him prisoner to the general. The two sisters aided the general in his escape after capture, and they retired, resuming their feminine garb. The younger married a Belgian general, but Felicite died single.

Some years ago a gentleman who was investigating revolutionary records in Richmond came across the names of two persons by the name of Lane, who had received pensions for services during the revolution. One of these names being that of a woman, he was curious enough to inquire about her until he found a descendant. The two proved to have been man and wife. Lane had enlisted in the beginning of the war in Manchester, across the river from Richmond, and having been sent north to Washington's army, was wounded severely and faithfully nursed by a soldier belonging to the same company. Having recovered, naturally the two became devoted friends and the term of their enlistment having expired, they re-enlisted together, and were sent to Gen. Lincoln's army in Georgia. In the siege of Charleston the woman was wounded; not until then did Lane discover the sex of his devoted comrade. He, in turn, became nurse, and she recovered and married him. She had been in love with Lane before his enlistment, but made no impression upon him. When he entered the army she ran off from home and became "a soldier laddie" that she might be near him.

HOTEL HORROR.

Twenty People Roasted Alive in a Burning Hotel—Begged to be Killed—The Work of Rescue—Number of Victims Recovered.

Special to the Times.

DENVER, Aug. 20.—About 10 o'clock a woman's hand protruded from a pile of building material. A space was cleared around it, and when the form was removed it was discovered that the woman was dead. Lying beside the body was the corpse of a child.

At five a.m. the body of an unknown man was recovered and taken to the morgue. Half an hour later the remains of Conductor Burns were discovered. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Greiner were found clasped in an embrace of death under the debris. They had undoubtedly died from suffocation. Ropes were stretched around the scene of the disaster, but as the day advanced they and the extra police failed to keep back the excited friends of missing people and of curious bystanders. The hastily organized surgeons' corps did nobly. With 50 feet of brick wall tottering over their heads they wended their way early along the corridors, down stairways and past shaky partitions to reach the injured. About six o'clock last evening a severe wind storm came down upon the city, and the work of became extremely precarious. The boy who was in charge of the boiler at the time of the accident appeared under the influence of liquor. How he managed to turn the injector back and escape without injury is a mystery. The boilers are said to have been in excellent condition. The terrible destruction wrought by the explosion is in evidence everywhere within three blocks of the scene. Stores in the neighborhood had their fronts demolished. Along Larimer street, in the rear of the building, there is not a whole plate of glass for a block. The loss, however, will hardly exceed $75,000. The hotel was worth about $25,000, and the furnishing about $10,000. Everything is totally destroyed. The McMann block which adjoins the hotel was also heavily damaged. It was occupied as a furniture store by the A. Lillyblake Furniture Co., and was damaged to the extent of $25,000. The boiler head which wrought such terrible destruction to life and property, after crashing through the rear wall, crossed a ten foot alley and struck a brick barn with sufficient force to destroy it. Ex Governor Routt said to a United Press reporter today: "In my opinion the explosion was caused by dynamite instead of the boiler. I think it was a plot to kill Mr. Gumery. He is superintendent of construction at the government buildings, and lately discharged a number of men. These men have been heard to threaten his life. I do not think a boiler explosion would have wrecked the building in this manner." Ex-Governor Routt's suspicions are not given credence by the authorities.

While Trying to Shoot an Eagle.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 20.—A son of John Nott, Southwold, aged 22 years, tried to shoot an eagle on Saturday. The gun exploded and shattered his left forearm badly. An effort is being made to save it.

Suicide by Drowning.

HAMILTON, Aug. 20.—The body of William Evans, a maker of marbleized slate mantels, York street, was found close to the Simcoe street wharf, in about two and a half feet of water on Sunday. Indications point to suicide. He tried to hire a boat the night before but was refused.

"At the age of 15 I commenced to ruin my health. Later on as "ONE OF THE BOYS," I contracted a serious blood disease—SYPHILIS. I was weak and nervous, despondent, pimples, sunken eyes, bone pains, ulcers, hair loose, sore tongue and mouth, drains in urine, varicocele—I was a wreck. I was in the last stages when a friend recommended Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. A dozen other doctors had failed in curing me. Drs. K. & K. cured me in a few weeks by the New Method Treatment. I would warn similar diseased men to beware of Medical Frauds. Drs. K. & K. are reliable, honest and skilful physicians.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.
Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

LATEST FROM FRASERVILLE

From our own Correspondent.

Harvesting is nearly ended and the hum of the threshing machine can be heard on all sides.

A party composed of Jos. Wright, A. Goodfellow and Jos. Reynolds, left for the North West last week.

Mr. James Bullrid, our enterprising cattle buyer, shipped a car load of fat cattle to Montreal on Friday last.

A meeting of the Cavan blazers was held here this week with Mr. J. McGaffery as president. A communication was received to the effect that this society should have the honor of having the first excursion on the Trent Valley canal when completed.

Tramps entered the entrance of Rev. T. S. McKee last night. It is supposed that they were frightened away while at their guilty work as nothing of value was taken. After leaving the village they entered a house belonging to Mr. Abe Clarke and stole some clothing, Mr. Clarke being away. If caught they will be severely punished.

Mr. Samuel Might, Mr. Jos. Roddy and Mr. Burt Wood left for Manitoba this week.

Miss Eva Hutchings, of Toronto, is visiting at her uncles, Mr. Thos. Hutchings,

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individua delights.

Twenty Thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking oe his beauties. He ships them by ma and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 45 King street west

ALL DIFFERENT.

The Designers Keep on Giving Us New Styles in Waists.

One could describe a now fancy waist every day in the year, and then begin all over again for another year and they would all be different. This may not seem so remarkable, but when one considers the limitations which fashion imposes one must conclude that a great deal of ingenuity is displayed by designers in devising all the varieties which are seen day after day on the streets and at the numerous informal parties which are held now in lieu of something more elaborate.

Time was when fancy waists could only be worn indoors and for some dressy occasion. But now they are considered correct for street wear and often appear in church. A pretty spring waist, worn by a spring shopper, in the jam which fills the stores now, was made of black and blue checked velvet. The check was about a fourth of an inch in diameter, and the blue was a robin's egg shade. The bodice fitted close in the back, with some rosettes as a finish at the bottom. In front was the regulation box plait, and on each side from the bust down the waist were folds of blue chiffon which also formed the collar.

Clothes for the Little Ones.

The warm weather is here, and the children are as sensible of it as the older people, even if they do not make as many complaints.

Don't make the mistake of loading a child with the exaggerated long frocks of the Kate Greenaway style, to make her look picturesque and attractive to your relatives and friends.

Give her a sensible attire, in which the little maid can scamper over the fields or rocks, and plump herself into the sand or dirt without being hampered with clothes.

Make them as light and scanty as a sufficient covering will permit, and let her, like her small brother, glory in the abandon and delight of living as nearly like the children of primitive man as the modern ideas will permit.

Fine feathers make fine-looking birds, but the little maid in a blue denim gymnasium dress, with a free use of all her limbs is often more interesting, even with dishevelled locks and mud-stained fingers, than the picturesque child with the fine clothes, who must take her exercise in as moderate a way as her elders.

The Home Dressmaker.

Very often indeed the amateur dressmaker finds herself face to face with some difficulty which she thinks it impossible to surmount, and becomes discouraged and almost willing to give the whole thing up.

One of these self-confessed difficulties is the adjusting of hooks and eyes so that they will not unfasten and leave an unsightly gap.

This difficulty is obviated by sewing on the hooks and eyes alternately, instead of the hooks all on one side and the eyes on the other. Sewed in this way and placed close together, not more than half an inch apart, the dress will stay hooked. This is the method employed by the best dressmakers.

THE MURPHYS ON TRIAL.

discover that she had the bad coins until the following Wednesday, and could identify the coins as the ones he gave her. She heard that the Murphy's were suspected of passing the counterfeit coin.

In being re-examined by Mr. Devlin, the witness said that during the week previous to the 12th of July, Levi, a brother of the accused, came in and got some mixed candles and gave her a counterfeit 10c. piece. She said that she knew it was bad, but she could not identify the piece produced in court.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT.

The next witness was Wm. Elliott, who on being sworn said that he was the husband of the last witness. He knew the accused, Allan Murphy. He said that he was not in the shop when the money was passed.

Mr. Stone asked that this case be dismissed.

The magistrate then di[illegible] prisoner on this charge [illegible]dence.

FREDERICK MURPHY—FIRST CHARGE.

The next case was that against Frederick Murphy charged with passing one counterfeit 25c. piece on July 12th in the store of Wm. Elliott at Mount Horeb.

The first witness in this case was Wm. Elliott, who, being sworn said that he knew the poisoner Fred. Murphy. He came in the witness' store on the 12th of July and purchased 10c worth of machine oil for which he handed him one 25c piece and he gave him his change. He put the coin in the till. It was rumored that the Murphy family were suspected of circulating counterfeit money, and on the following Wednesday he examined the till and found the spurious coin. Mr. Shore, the detective, got the coins.

To Mr. Stone:—He could not swear positively that he got the counterfeit coin from them.

The magistrate then committed the prisoner for trial on that charge.

FREDERICK MURPHY—SECOND CHARGE.

Frederick was then given a hearing on a second charge, that of having passed counterfeit coin on Walter Fleming, in the township of Ops, and Walter Fleming was the first witness, who said that the accused came to his residence on the 3rd of August to purchase some honey. He paid him a 25c. piece which proved to be counterfeit. Mr. Shore got the piece.

To Mr. Shore he said that he had no other money in his pocket. He could not say how long he kept it. He would not swear that he got the coin from Murphy. He did not know how Detective Shore knew that he had a counterfeit coin.

MR. SHORE.

Detective Shore was again put in the box, and after stating his mission in Lindsay as given above, said he asked Mr. Fleming if he had any counterfeit money and he said yes, and that he got it from Fred Murphy.

The Col. also committed Fred Murphy on this charge.

The court then adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

Too Cool for Camping.

The cool weather of the past several days is causing an exodous of campers from the summer resorts in this vicinity. There is a general demand for blankets these cool nights and life under a canvas is far from comfortable without plenty of them. The same afternoon his blankets were returned.

A Sad Bereavement.

The death of Mrs. John Nethercutt occurred at the family residence, Queen street, on Tuesday afternoon. Deceased had been in poor health for some time, gradually growing worse until death came. Nethercutt, Manitoba; and Mr. John Nethercutt, Tweed. She was a member of St. Paul's church. The funeral takes place this afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery.

$100 For One Old Stamp.

This amount will be paid for a 12 pence stamp of Canada, used between 1851 and 1857. Nearly every family has an old package of old letters, and it would pay you to examine them, as many of the stamps used before 1875 are very valuable, and sell for good prices. The stamps were often put on the back of a folded letter, and many are found in this way among old correspondence in banks, offices, old trunks, and many other places. Look over any letters you have, or can get from friends, and send the stamps (on original cover, if possible) to me for inspection, and I will make an offer by return mail. KILLED BY A TRAIN.

A Peterborough Young Man Dies From Fatal Injuries at St. Louis.

The news of the violent death of William McCullough, whose parents live on McDonnell street, this town, has just reached them.

McCullough was a bricklayer by trade and some time ago went to St. Louis to work. Some time last week he left St. Louis on an excursion and on the return and when about 3 miles from St. Louis, he fell from the train while passing from one coach to another, and the wheels passed over him.

He was taken to St. Louis and given the benefit of the best medical skill, but all efforts to save his life proved futile, and after lingering a short time he died.

Before the unfortunate man breathed his last he asked a friend to write to his parents in Peterborough and inform them of his death. The friend faithfully carried out the last wishes of the dying man, and yesterday the parents received a letter containing full particulars of their son's death and burial.

Deceased was 30 years of age, and was well known in Peterborough where he lived with his parents for a number of years.

GOUGH-O'BRIEN.

An Early Morning Wedding at St. Mary's Church.

(From the Lindsay Post.)

One of the most interesting events that has taken place in Lindsay for some time occurred yesterday morning at St. Mary's church. The event was the marriage of Mr. B. J. Gough, of Messrs. Gough Bros., of this town, to Miss Annie O'Brien, one of Lindsay's most estimable young ladies, daughter of Mr. John O'Brien, of the south ward, a well known and respected citizen. Notwithstanding the early hour of the morning the church was thronged with the many friends of the contracting parties. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. G. Gough, of Peterborough, and the bride, who being neatly attired in a brown silk dress, was assisted by Miss Morrow, of Peterborough. The beautiful marriage ceremony of the Catholic church was performed by Vicar General Laurent, and a grand high mass was celebrated in honor of the occasion. After the ceremony the guests were conveyed in carriages to the residence of the bride's father, where the wedding breakfast was partaken of and congratulations were freely indulged in. The happy couple were then conveyed to the 9.30 train for the west, where a goodly assembly of citizens were on hand to wish them all happiness. The train departed amidst showers of rice and old boots, which if there is any luck in such tokens Mr. and Mrs. Gough's [illegible] will be brim full of happiness. The following is a partial list of the [illegible] guest: Miss Dousley, Toronto; Mi[illegible] Kane. [illegible] Fitzpatrick, Ops; John [illegible] Orillia; Alexander Gough, Peterborough; Mrs. T. K. Rogers, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Day, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, Stratford; Mr. J. J. and Mrs. E. D. Gough, Belleville; Master Alex. Gough, Miss Madge Day, Miss Josephine Walsh, Mr. Richard Gough, Mr. and Mrs. B. Morrow, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Hurley, town. The bride was the recipient of many costly and very handsome presents as well as several checks representing a considerable amount.

The wedding trip will include a visit to Erie, Pa., and down the picturesque Hudson river.

The grasshopper pest illustrates the old saw that it is an ill wind that does nobody good. The town sparrows are just fattening on the succulent insect, and even the casual observer can see that the birds are actually growing fat under their peculiar diet. Those who watch the sparrows, particularly in the public parks and squares, can see them stalking the grasshopper in the grass and every now and then taking wing for their nests with a victim.

THE MURPHYS ON TRIAL.

TWO OF THE PRISONERS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL AT LINDSAY.

What Detective Shore Found in the House—Miss Argue on the Stand—Old Man Murphy Appears in Court in a Very Feeble Condition—Mr. E. B. Stone Defending the Prisoners.

Long before 10 o'clock yesterday morning the hour which was set for the opening of the preliminary hearing of the Murphy family, charged with making and passing counterfeit coin, great crowds gathered at the door of the police station. At 10 o'clock the prisoners were marched into court by county Constables Short and Crawford. The prisoners were: Lillie Murphy, Wellington Murphy, Allan Murphy, Wm. Murphy, Frederick Murphy, Richard Murphy, and Jeremiah Murphy. The first six have been under arrest for several days but the later, who is the father, is in very poor health and was not placed under arrest as it was known that the authorities could get him at any time. The magistrate asked the prisoners whether they elected to be tried by him or wished to be tried by a jury and Mr. E. B. Stone, counsel for the prisoners, said that they wished to be tried by a jury.

On the request of the crown the prisoners were to be tried separately and the court immediately started the investigation of the charge against Allan Murphy, who is charged with having, in the town of Lindsay, on or about the 15th of July offered at the store of Mr. G. H. Fox, one twenty five cent piece knowing the same to be counterfeit.

THE FIRST WITNESS.

The first witness was Samuel Shore, who being sworn said that his home was in Ottawa, that he was a constable and detective on the Dominion force. He said that about the 4th of August he received instructions to proceed to Lindsay to look up a case of counterfeit coin. His information did not give any names of suspected parties. He came to Lindsay and heard that some counterfeit coin had been passed at the store of Mr. G. H. Fox and he proceeded there and met Miss Argue, who received the coin and who said she would know the man who had passed it. He said that he learned from Mr. Fox that it was a man named Murphy who had passed it. Miss Argue gave him the coin in question. He also received spurious money from other people, said to have been passed by Allan Muphy. He then went to the magistrate and swore out a warrant to the effect that Allan Murphy did pass the coin at the store of G. H. Fox. On Monday morning August 12th he went, accommpanied by Inspector O'Leary and county Constables Short and Crawford to make the arrests, to the house of Jeremiah Murphy on the boundary line between Manvers and Emily, reaching there shortly after 4 a.m., but did not go to the house until after 5 o'clock. They found the accused in a room occupied by the mother, Lillie Murphy and Frederick Murphy. In the kitchen he found a pair of pants and in the pockets found two counterfeit 25c pieces, a 10c piece and some diamond point clippings. He then displayed the pants and their contents in court. They also found some metal, pieces of zinc, a laddle, a wooden frame for moulding the coin and plaster of paris in a glass jar and also in a bag. The prisoners were brought to jail.

The detectives made another search of the premises on Friday last and found pieces of metal which had been thrown out, one piece, with a print of 25c on it. It was about one inch under ground. Witness held a plan of the house in his hand in describing where the things were found.

To Mr. Stone he said that he had been employed by the Dominion government for 13 years, under the direction of Commissioner Sherwood. He said that he had never seen a wooden frame for moulding counterfeit coin, similar to the one found there, nor a laddle. He showed Mr. Stone a number of coins and said that he found them in Millbrook, Omemee and other places. Mr. Stone asked him if he was trying to secure a conviction of the prisoners, so as to be able to be on equal footing with other detectives who are at present higher up in the profession than he was and created a laugh by saying "it would be quite a feather in your cap to secure a conviction." Witness said that they all denied the ownership of the parts.

In being re-examined he said that he also found some clippings in Williams room.

CONSTABLE SHORT.

The next witness was Constable Short, who said that he remembered the 12th of August and that he accompanied the last witness with Inspector O'Leary and Constable Crawford to make the arrests. Mr. Short's evidence was nearly the same as the last witness. He stated that he was left in charge of the prisoners while Detective Shore and Constable Crawford made a search of the premises. He was relieved for a few minutes and he saw the detective examine the pants and find the counterfeit coins in the pockets. They found some clippings in a basket on the sideboard in the front room. The witness was with the detective when he made his search of the premises last Friday.

To Mr. Stone he said that on Friday they found the piece of metal with the print of a 25c. piece in the embankment of the house about one inch underground. Mr. Stone said to witness, "I suppose you will share half the glory if you secure a conviction" and Mr. Short replied that he did not work for glory but for money.

MISS ARGUE.

Miss Elizabeth Argue was the next witness and she being sworn said that she was employed by Mr. G. H. Fox, in his confectionery store. She said that she knew the accused by sight. She remembered that he called at the store some time in July and purchased some candy for which he gave the 25c. piece. He was served by Chas. Mahar who was in the shop. The boy did not know the combination of the till and she was asked to make the change. When she got the quarter she noticed that it felt greasy and she told the man (Murphy) that it was no good and asked him where he had got it and he replied that he did not know, that it must have been in getting change. He paid her five cents for the candy and said that if the quarter was no good, he had no use for it. She gave it to Mr. Fox. She identified the one produced in court as the one she had by a mark she had made on it with a knife.

To Mr. Stone she said, that Mr. Fox did not tell her that he wanted to retain the coin. She did not know what Mr. Fox did with it. Witness was not sure that she had ever seen the prisoner prior to the day that he passed the money on her.

It now being 12.30 the court adjourned until 1.30.

When the court resumed at 1.30 p.m., Charles Mahar was the first witness, and after being sworn corroborated the evidence of the last witness, (Miss Argue.)

MR. G. H. FOX.

Mr. G. H. Fox was the next witness sworn and said that Miss Argue was the manager of his store and Charles Mahar was his nephew. He remembered the coin in his store which was shortly after the 12th July. He heard the conversation between Miss Argue, the boy and Murphy, and heard Miss Argue say that the quarter was no good. He also examined the coin and said it was bad. Witness also asked the accused where he got it and he said in some of the stores. He handed the quarter to Miss Argue and told her to keep it. She in turn gave it back to him and he kept it in his pocket, he gave it to Detective Shore.

To Mr. Stone he said that his object in keeping the coin was for curiosity sake and he did not intend to lay any information.

WILLIAM MURPHY.

Considerable discussion arose when the crown produced Wm. Murphy to give evidence against his brother and Mr. Stone objected very strongly and said that he was not a compellable witness, but the magistrate ruled that he must give evidence and being sworn said that he was his brother. The accused is his brother. He went on to describe where he had been for the last three years stating that he had been working in Collingwood and other places, but Mr. Stone objected, but he was allowed to tell of his whereabouts during that time. He told who had lived with his father during the past twelve months. He did not recognize the laddie, but when asked what use could be made of it he said that it could be used for dishing soup. Mr. Stone again objected and said he never saw such rulings in a police court before, and Mr. Devlin objected to being interrupted by defendant's counsel while examining a witness. He never saw the box (or supposed mould) and did not know what it might be used for. He had never seen any plaster paris around the place. The witness again got angry and began to talk loud and his counsel told him to keep quiet.

They then brought up the defendant, Allan Murphy, and told him that anything he would say might be used against him at his trial, if committed.

Mr. Stone said that there was no evidence to committ the prisoner on this charge and it was no skill on the part of the detectives to prove that the money passed in Mr. Fox's store was counterfeit, and that if the prisoner had been guilty of making the spurious coin he would not have been so careless as to let it go like that.

Magistrate Deacon then committed the prisoner to stand trial at the fall assizes.

ALLAN MURPHY ON A SECOND CHARGE.

The next one to have a hearing was Allan Murphy on a second charge, that of passing two counterfeit coins supposed to be 25c pieces, to Mrs. Elliott at Mount Horeb, on the 12th of July.

The first witness was Mrs. Elliott. She remembered the prisoner being in the store of her husband on the 12th of July. He asked for some groceries and she served him. He paid her two 25c pieces and I took them as good and put them in the till. When Detective Shore called I gave them to him.

To Mr. Stone she said that she did not

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous coveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

THE NATION'S SHOOTERS.

CRACK SHOTS OF CANADA GATHERED AT THE RANGES.

There Was Almost a Tragedy Yesterday When a Man Coolly Got In the Way of the Bullets—Cease Firing the Order—Hayhurst at the Butts.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—At the rifle ranges have foregathered this week some three hundred and odd of Canada's goodly sons, men who have done not a little to carry the name and fame of the biggest and fairest jewel in the Imperial diadem to the farthest limits of the earth—right to the back of beyond. There are men of whom the Dominion has every reason to be proud, for they are the picked shots of our many crack corps and they have assembled from every portion of the land. British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces have all contributed their quota and on the Rifle Ranges may be seen men from the Pacific slopes and the Atlantic coast, from the lumbering districts and the cities. They are good men to meet in a friendly way, but bad people to encounter in hostile guise, for they can plump a bullet into the bullseye at long range. And a bullseye is considerable smaller than a man.

CRACKS FROM THIRTY-NINE REGIMENTS.

Thirty-nine regiments have sent their representatives, many of whom, like Ivan Skiffskiffsskyskizar, "are well known to fame." Pte. Hayhurst and Col.-Sergt. Skedden are there, and so are Corp. Windatt, the veteran Capt. McMicking, Staff-Sergt. Ogg, Sergt. McVittie, Lieut. Mitchell, Sergt. Ashall, who wears four Wimbledon badges, and Staff-Sergt. Bell, who carries on his arm the Ranleigh badge. And there are some notable absentees, among them Major Thomas, of the 54th, who year after year won his place on the Wimbledon team, and his comrade in arms, Major Cleveland, nicknamed "Perk," who fought through the American Civil war, and who could tell some great stories of how they treated the "darned rebs when they got them in a kind of a corral," which brings us to the fact that the 54th, "Aylmer's Bashi Bazouks," as they were known in the days of yore, are unrepresented, as is also the 57th, which sets great store by the crack shot Lieut. Spearing.

PLEASURE AND PROFIT.

But the meeting is nevertheless a great success and there is pleasure and instruction in watching the marksmen as they lie with the brown stock cuddled lovingly against the cheek, nursing the shot for a lull in the wind or the passing of a cloud, which means a palpable difference of elevation. Then comes the flash and report and the wicked hiss of the bullet followed by the peculiar zip as the missile rips through the canvas. Down goes the target and a look of satisfaction creeps into the keen anxious eyes as the white disk goes up, followed by the target a second later with a little tell tale white patch on the bull's eye. Staff Sergt. Bell, of the Royal Grenadiers quietly placed eight of these in succession to his credit at the 500 yards range in the Walker Cup competition. The first of these was a sighting shot and the others counted five each, a possible of 35. The marksman looked pleased and his comrades of the R. G.'s were tickled for the feat redounded to the credit of the corps and counted in the total.

A MARKSMAN FROM B.C.

Meanwhile Corporal Gould was showing the spectators how they shoot on the Pacific coast. His sighting shot was a bull's eye, followed by another. Then he scored an inner, getting back on to the bull's eye in his third on score. Another inner was followed by two bulls and the last shot was looked forward to with interest. "There it goes whatever it is," remarked the marksman. The man at the butts popped up the red disk, showing an inner, and the British Columbian retired with a total of 32, three short of the possible, which is good shooting with a shifty wind alternating from one side of the range to the other.

"Here are three who ought to do something," remarked a spectator as Major McDonald, of the Kilties, winner of the Gilmour and Gibson matches; Lieut. J. B. Miller of the Q.O.R., and Pte. Mitchell lay together. Lieut. Miller opened with a bull for a sighting shot. Wind caught his next and made it a magpie. Then came a bull's eye, two inners and two bulls; total 30. Pte. Mitchell could not find the target till the third shot, an outer. Another outer followed, next a magpie, then a bull, and he wound up with a mag and a bull; total 20. Major Macdonald led off with a bull, fell away first to the inner, further off to the magpie, and then returned to the bull's eye, where he stayed and wound up with 31.

RED HOT FOR A DANGER SIGNAL.

During this time an incident occurred which might have led to a tragedy. Major Macdonald was just about to fire his third shot; Lieut. Mitchell on the next target had his finger on the trigger, and half a dozen other men were about to turn loose, when something red appeared on the range between the marksmen and the butts. There was a general cry of alarm, and the order to "cease fire" was promptly given, and as promptly obeyed. The red object advanced and resolved itself into a gigantic hat which covered the head of a stout man encased in a long white apron. Slowly and coolly the figure, as if he had eternity at his disposal, marched diagonally across the 500 yards range, while the marksmen speculated as to who and what he was. Lieut.-Col. Hodgins of the G. G. F. G., executive officer, walked forward and interviewed the man who turned out to be one of the camp attaches named Cusack who wanted water for the markers. He was let off with a reprimand and firing was resumed.

THE GRENS' GOT THE WALKER TEAM PRIZE.

The feature of Wednesday's shooting was the winning of the Walker team prize by the Royal Grenadiers captained by Major Bruce. Pte. McVittie, of the Highlanders, proved himself the worthy son of his father by winning the Macdonald prize with 31. The match has to be shit off hand.

A pleasant feature of the meeting in the pavilion was the passing of a resolution of congratulation to Pte. Hayhurst who made a short reply.

The Gordon prize was won by Pte. J. Morland of the 29th and the Walker individual prize by Staff Sergt. Bell with 63 out of a possible 70.

The annual growth in length of the orthoptic, a little instrument stuck into the eye to steady the sight, causes much amusement among the marksmen.

THE LAST DAY'S SHOOTING.

COMPETITION IN THE TAIT-BRASSEY MATCH THE MOST IMPORTANT.

THE RIFLE RANGES, Aug. 22.—Today sees the close of the Ontario Rifle Association's meeting and the keenest interest is being taken in the proceedings. The conditions have changed considerably for the better and much better shooting is being done. The wind is blowing steadily from the east and the marksmen are enabled to gauge its effect with precision. The light is not quite so good, there being considerable haze and the glare from the lake adds to the discomfort of the men, being especially hard on the older competitors who say it is a "young shots' day." The programe is a heavy one, and it includes the Tait Brassey match, which is shot for at 200, 500, and 600 yards, and is competed for by battalion teams and company teams as well as individuals. Following this comes the Gzowski, which is a skirmishing and volley firing match. Eight teams have been entered for the latter, while nearly all the regiments have entered into the Tait Brassey, which is considered the most important match of the meeting. The shooting at the 200 yards has concluded, the highest score being that of Lieut. J. A. Williams, of the 45th, who made 34 out of a possible 35. The scores made in the three days' count in the aggregate, which is the Muloch match. The prizes include the Elkington cup, the Governor General's silver and bronze medals and 42 cash prizes totalling $232. Besides these there are extra series and revolver matches, that are going on all the time.

THE TAIT BRASSEY MATCH.

The shooting in the Tait Brassey is of a high order, and the keenest interest is being taken. At the 200 yards the Q.O.R. lead with an average of 30 1-3, but the R. G., the 13th, the R.R.C.I., the 43rd and the Highlanders are very close. At the 500 yards range about the same order prevails; and the match will be decided at the 600 yards range.

Sergt. Milligan, 48th, made the possible 35, at 500 yards, and 30 at 200 yards, leading to field over the two ranges. For the aggregate, Sergt. Rolston, 37th, Major Macdonald and Sergt. McLaughlin, all Wimbledon men, are in the lead, Private Hayhurst being 10 points behind. Capt. McMicking made 34 at 500 yards.

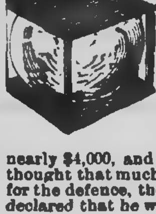
In the extra series, No. 2 range, 500 yards the following tied with a possible 25: Lieut. Crean, Q.O.R.; Pte. Campbell, 42th; Pte. Hayhurst, 13th; Capt. Halton, 30th; Lieut. Ross, 13th; Pte. Smith, 21st. These tied with 24: Staff-Sergt. McVittie, R.G.; Lieut. King, 45th; Pte. Robertson, 13th; Lieut. Col. Hood, P.W.R.; Mr. Van Wyck, Col. Sergt. Skedden, 13th; Sergt. Milligan, 48th; Lieut. Mitchell, 12th; Sergt. Rolstoh, 37th; Lieut. Bent, 93rd; Gunner Chamberlain, B.C.B.G.A.; Pte. Hinds, 45th; Sergt. Crowe 1 B.F.A.

STRONG EVIDENCE THIS.

HUMAM SKIN FOUND UNDER THE FINGER NAILS OF JAENERETTE.

Kurchinski Committed for Trial for the Murder of Old Man Jaenerette Whose Stiff Fingers Bear Damning Evidence Against the Prisoner—The Breslau Murder Case.

Special to the Times.



BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 22.—In connection with the case of August Kurchinski, who was committed for trial yesterday on the charge of having murdered Albert Jaenerette on August 4, there is a piece of evidence which will be offered at the trial, which may help in convicting the accused. Kurchinski's farm is said to be worth nearly $4,000, and while it was generally thought that much of this would be needed for the defence, the accused is said to have declared that he would not spend much for the purpose. He said that in any event he may not have many years to live, and if he is acquitted after spending all his money he will be a beggar, whereas if he is convicted he would leave his family penniless, "and besides," he is alleged to have declared, "somebody may have seen me do it." This strange remark may not, of course, be intended for an admission of guilt, but it is difficult to place any other construction upon it.

HUMAN SKIN UNDER THE FINGER NAILS

Another circumstance which may figure as very strong evidence against the accused has come to light through a microscopic examination of the dead man's finger nails, the body having been exhumed and the fingers removed for that purpose. The substance scraped from under the nails has been carefully examined, and, as was anticipated, small portions of skin were found there. In addition to this, another discovery was made, which was not anticipated. Small shreds of dark blue cloth were found, which will be further examined to determine if they are not identical with the material in the vest the accused is known to have had on on that fatal Sunday afternoon. These facts together with that sworn to by Dr. Bowlby that the marks on Kurchinski's face were just such as finger nails would make, and that the nail of deceased's right fore finger was broken to a ragged edge, all go to furnish strong circumstantial proof of this portion of the Crown's theory,

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 22.—The trial of Kurchinski for the murder of Jaenerette, near Breslau, before Messrs. Mackie, Aherns and McKay, J.P's., took place yesterday.

Apparently the most unconcerned man was Kurschinski himself, who wore a constant smile and a ready eye to look the curious in the face. The only apparent trace of nervousness about him was the picking of his finger nails whilst evidently absorbed in the testimony which was being delivered by the Crown witnesses, were in all about 15 of such to give evidence.

The evidence adduced was chiefly the threatening language used by the prisoner when Jaenerette forbade his family entering the berry patch. Witnesses swore that Kurchinski declared that if he was not allowed to pick berries in the patch, Jeaneretto would pick none. Witnesses swore that Kurschinski said the scratches on his face, which were visible at the time of his arrest, were caused by a limb of a tree, whereas others were put on the stand who made repeated efforts to test this assertion by endeavoring to produce marks of scratches on their own faces without any result.

The medical testimony described various wounds as found on the deceased, none of which were sufficient, in their opinion, to cause death, except the gash across the throat, which severed the wind-pipe. They expressed the opinion that this was done by an instrument other than a razor, quite probably by a jackknife, owing to the jagged condition of the wound.

This closed the evidence of the Crown, and the prisoner was committed for trial

CRUELTY IN THE EAST.

A CHINESE MOB AGAIN ATTACKS AMERICAN MISSIONARIES.

Innocent Blood Shed at Foo Chow—Mobs Parade the Streets Shouting Imprecations on the Foreign Population—The Ameer Snubbed.

Special to the Times.

HONG KONG, August 22.—Another outrage has been committed upon missionaries near Foo Chow. The American mission has been attacked by a large and infuriated mob, armed with various weapons. The chapel and school house of the mission were wrecked and four of the native scholars were wounded. The foreign teacher, however, escaped injury. A strong anti-foreign local feeling prevails at Foo Chow, and it is spreading among the populace; who are parading the public thoroughfares with cries of "Drive out the foreign devils.

THE POPULACE EXCITED.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A despatch to the Times from Hong Kong this afternoon confirms the despatch from Hong Kong announcing the attack upon the American mission near Foo Chow and a dangerous state of the populace of that city. According to the Times' despatch the American school was situated just outside of the west gate Foo Chow. The despatch adds: "The situation at Kucheng is unchanged. Captain John S. Newell, of the United States cruiser Detroit and Dr. Hart have gone there from Foo Chow. More anti-foreign placards and pamphlets are being distributed at Canton."

THE AMEER SNUBBED.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—It is rumored that the Ameer has forbidden Nazrulla Khan to return until he has secured Great Britain's consent that the Ameer shall be diplomatically represented at London. He desires to deal directly with the Government instead of through the Viceroy of India. This impossible demand is supposed to explain the Shahzada's long stay.

IT MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—According to the information obtained by the Associated Press a few weeks ago, the Shahzada visited the Queen at Windsor Castle and personally informed her Majesty that it was the Ameer's desire to be diplomatically represented at London instead of dealing with the British Government through the Viceroy of India. The Shahzada expected an immediate answer, but her Majesty replied that she could not decide without consulting her Ministers. Last week the Shahzada received a definite refusal, and the situation now is unpleasant, if not serious, as the refusal amounts to a snub to the Ameer, and it is thought this may affect the relations between Great Britain and Afghanistan. The Shahzada, however, starts for home, via Paris, next week.

WAS STABBED TO DEATH.

TRAGIC END OF ONE LAVALLY AT A MICHIGAN LOG CAMP.

Reward for Train Robbers—Knight Templars in Session in Boston—The Rescued Capt. of the Argonaut and His Crew—Collapse of a Tall Roof in Chicago.

Special to The Times.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., Aug. 22.—For a short time yesterday a reign of terror prevailed at Thompson's station, Ogamow county. It is a small place, a sort of a rendezvous for men of the logging camps. Yesterday the town was full of lumbermen. Alex. St. Mary and J. Lavally had been drinking; words led to blows and St. Mary drew a knife. Lavally drew back, but before he could retreat he received a wound that caused him to drop to the ground dead. St. Mary was at once taken to jail and placed under strong guards. The greatest excitement prevailed. It was then that some one maddened by the excitement set fire to the town. Thompson has but little fire protection and in a few minutes several of the best structures were in ruins. At the last reports the excitement had not yet died down. Particulars, however, are meagre.

SUNK NEAR JAMAICA.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The steamer Dorian from Kingston, Jamaica, brought to this port today Capt. McGillivray and twenty-four men of the British steamer Argonaut, which foundered on the 6th of August forty miles east of Morant Point, Jamaica. The Argonaut was bound from Halifax for Port Morant. She left Halifax on the 29th of July, and at 8 p.m. on the 6th of August was nearing the Jamaican coast, when her engineers found water pouring into the engine room from the after-hold. An investigation was at once made and the pumps started, but the leak was evidently a large one and the water was gaining at a tremendous rate in spite of the steam pumps. The steamer's head was turned southwest and the engines were pushed to their utmost capacity, in an endeavor to reach the land, but it was seen that the vessel would not keep afloat long enough to enable the crew to land. The boats were launched, and at 10 p.m. the steamer sunk out of sight. The boats landed at Manchineall the next afternoon. The men saved nothing but the clothes they stood in. No cause can be assigned for the leak, but it looked as if a plate had dropped out of her bottom. Scarcely two hours elapsed from the time the discovery was made until the steamer sunk.

To Search for the body of Lenz.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The Vali of Erzeroum will furnish an adequate escort to Wm. A. Sachtleben, of St. Louis, Mo., who is searching for the remains of Frank G. Lenz, the Pittsburg bicyclist, who was murdered while on his way through Armenia, in an attempt to circle the globe on his wheel.

The Other Warwicks Body Found.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 22.—The body of Richard Warwick, who, with his brother, Robert, was drowned on Sunday night in the Thames, was found yesterday opposite the spot where Robert's remains were discovered. An inquest will be held.

Nervous Diseases

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of Nervous Diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, etc., that the old modes of treatment fail to cure. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by any medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is pursuing a dangerous practice. Properly treated, these diseases can be

Positively Cured

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will most assuredly do so. It is the only known power that will supply what is lacking, namely nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system. It will most assuredly cure,

PETERBOROUGH. AUGUST 17 1895.

A CRIMINAL DETECTIVE.

William Greer, provincial detective, is in jail at Perry Sound. He sought to arrest a whiskey pedler, and the pedler ran away. Whereupon the detective drew his gun and fired three shots at the fugitive. The third shot brought the man down with a bullet through his shoulder. The wound is serious and the detective is held until it be ascertained whether the pedler will live. The telegraphic dispatch containing this information proceeds to say that if the pedler dies "a charge of manslaughter will likely be preferred against the detective." We agree with the Hamilton Spectator in asking why manslaughter? Why not murder? The criminal code gives the constable power to use force to prevent escape from arrest, "provided such force is neither intended nor likely to cause death nor grievous bodily harm." In this case grievous bodily harm has already resulted, and death may follow. The detective may say that he did not "intend' to shoot the man; but the fact that he did shoot him seem to the ordinary mind to be proof that the detective was not overly careful in pointing his pistol so as to avoid death or grievous bodily harm.

The pedler had been selling whiskey illegally. Many men sell whiskey with the sanction of the law. Therefore there is nothing criminal in the mere act of selling whiskey. The pedlers offense against the law consists in the fact that he had not secured the permission of Sir Oliver Mowat's government to sell whiskey—not a capital crime, surely. Had the pedler madegood his escape from the detective neithe rlife nor property would have been endangered by his being at large. There was no excuse whatever for the shooting. The man's crime was no greater than that of the cabman who neglects to secure his license. A provincial detective ought to know these things. He cannot plead ignorance of the law. The shooting was quite unjustifiable; the facts that the shooter was a detective and the shootee a whiskey pedler who had no license are no justification whatever. The detective had no more right to shoot that man than any ordinary citizen has to shoot another without cause. In the ordinary citizen's case, if the victim dies, murder is charged, Why should it be manslaughter in the detectives's case?

The contractor of a T., H. & B. Railway bridge in Hamilton has left that city and his workmen with a month's pay inarrears.

Cholera has broken out in the government of Volhyrica and Podolia, in Russia, and single cases have appeared in Hungary.

Providence, R. I., detectives are inclined to regard the telegram sent to Holmes from Providence by "Minnie R. Williams" as a joke.

Cows held up a railroad train in Estremadura, Spain, a few days ago. The engine ran a bull down, cutting him in two, and then could not be started. While the trainmen and passengers were trying to help the engineer the rest of the herd attacked them; they had to take shelter in the cars and were kept there till night, when the herd went off.

In getting her back up over the determination of the British government to inquire into those missionary massacres China may be trying to show that she has some backbone fit for use. The attempt will be useless. Her poor old backbone was so recently fractured by the Japs that it would be dangerous to take the splints off for a while yet.

FOR A TAX ON NOBLEMEN.

An Ingenious French Idea to Help Pay the National Debt.

French marquises, counts and barons are growing as common as asparagus in the month of May. Every well-dressed man in Paris thinks himself dishonored if his buttonhole is not ornamented with a decoration of some kind, or if on his visiting card a coronet is not engraved. Never have there been more aristocrats in France than under the third republic.

One of the remarkable things about this is that the great majority have no right to prefix a title to their names, but as the offense is a harmless one no serious objections have been raised so far by the authorities. On the contrary, it seems as if the Government were rather inclined to countenance titles. Such is the opinion of a learned Deputy, M. Girault, who when Parliament reassembles, intends to introduce a bill by which all noblemen shall be taxed.

The tariff will be levied according to the rank of nobility selected by a party in quest of arstocratic glory. A prince will be compelled to pay the maximum tariff, a duke will come next on the schedule and all the titles will be submitted to an inflexible law, which M. Girault has carefully prepared, and which is destined to ameliorate the financial condition of the nation and facilitate in years to come the equilibrium of the budget.

However revolutionary M. Girault's plan may appear, no one will deny that it is a most democratic resolution, for a noble title being anything but an article of absolute necessity, only those with money to spare will have anything to pay. It is an original method of making the rich bear a larger share of the burdens of taxation. Without doing this by taxing their incomes direct, it taxes their titles as an article of luxury and as something which gives the possessors a certain homage in the eyes of the people for which they ought to be willing to make compensation.

"M. Girault's law, notwithstanding its originality," says a French writer, "has been turned to ridicule in France before it has been read for the first time in the Chamber of Deputies. There are some who ask if it would not be better to organize an immense lottery, the grand prize of which would be a title of prince and the lesser ones titles of lower order. The journey to Rome would be avoided, and all titles possessed by Frenchmen would be strictly national."

A Woman at the Bottom of It.

A woman was in a hurry to board a Wabash avenue cable car. At the same time a one-legged man was in a hurry to leave the car. The woman collided with the man, knocked his crutch from under his arm and he fell upon the pavement. After the woman had made herself secure in the seat of the car she turned and made a profuse apology. The man was in no mood to accept it. He shook his crutch before her and cursed her. The woman's face grew crimson. The conductor enjoyed the occurrence. In doing so he stepped on a man's corn. The man toppled and fell against another man, knocking off the latter's silk hat. In scrambling to catch it he fell off. He raved and swore, and the man who had knocked off the hat, being pugnacious, jumped from the car and there was a fight. The conductor was heard to mutter: "Always a woman." —Chicago Tribune.

The Turtle's Annual Visit.

A land turtle that without fail for twenty-six years has regularly appeared at the home of Michael Mackey, at Parker Ford, Chester County, came to time a few days ago and was being proudly exhibited around Pottstown by Mr. Mackey yesterday. That gentleman asserts that there can be no mistaking his turtle, as the initials of his name are emblazoned on its shell. He says that its training has been so well developed at his home that at the sound of the dinner bell it comes into the dining-room to receive its allotment of food. It stays around the Mackey premises until September, and then goes off to its winter quarters.—

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

THE TRUTH.

Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst, D. D., the great reformer, writes October 24, 1894: "Mrs. Parkhurst and myself have used Pond's Extract so long and so constantly that we can speak appreciatively of it and in terms of warm commendation."

Rev. Chas. S. Robinson, D. D., editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prize it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfills every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, writes November 13, 1894: "I have been using a great deal of Pond's Extract for the past year in gargling, as I find it affords great relief in colds."

During the past month the Pond's Extract Company have received over 2,000 orders from physicians. We have on our books testimonials and orders from most of the Governors and many of the Senators of the United States; from the royalty of Europe, such as Her Majesty the Queen of Roumania, the Duchess of Cumberland, Princess of Wied, and others too numerous to mention.

When the clergy, the medical profession, statesmen and royalty all unite in praise of an article it seems unnecessary to say anything additional, but we do find it necessary to warn the public against imitations. These words of praise are all in favor of Pond's Extract—the genuine and only.

It is because of its intrinsic merit and high reputation that Pond's Extract has been imitated. If it were not of such great value and so world renowned there would be no imitations.

The British Government Asks Hawaii to Cancel It For Cause.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Advices from Honolulu to the 14th instant by the steamer Australia, which arrived today, state that the British Government has made known its opinion that the late trials that the Military Commission held were lawful, and that the Commission was a valid tribunal and fully within the powers of the Hawaiian Government. The Government has also communicated its opinion that the evidence upon which Col. V. V. Ashford, the Canadian, was convicted by the Military Commission was insufficient, and has asked that the British Government declines to interfere in behalf of Johnstone, the ex-Secret Service man, banished summarily with Cranston.

THE AWFUL COLLAPSE

Of the Coliseum Building in Chicago—Big loss of Life Averted.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The Coliseum building which collapsed last night is totally wrecked, and the loss will reach between $150,000 and $180,000. Had the accident happened an hour before, or a few hours later, the loss of life would have been frightful. At 10 o'clock 300 workmen went off duty and at 3 o'clock a.m., 800 more were to have gone to work. It is believed to have resulted from the giving away of the foundation of one of the great arches. The building was 750 feet long, 350 feet wide, and 86 feet high, and there was not a pillar to obstruct the house from any part.

Joseph Booth Did not Commit Suicide.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 22. — The despatch sent from here on Monday last, stating that Joseph Booth, barber at the Clifton House, had deliberately waded out into the Niagara river and had been carried over the cataract, was entirely without foundation. The story was communicated to the local telegraph agent and he wired it without making enquiry.

ANOTHER HOLMES BUILDING.

Said to Have Been Discovered in Chicago by an Amateur Detective.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Another of H. H. Holmes' mysterious buildings has been discovered. The building is all boarded up and the residents of the vicinity say nothing has been done there for a long time. Two weeks ago they say a man whom they identify as Pat Quinlan carted away the last of the furniture and other stuff that was in the building. It was here that Holmes carried on his glass bending business and it is this place for which the police have been looking for more than a month and never found, it being discovered by an amateur detective. Inside there are now nothing but scraps of iron and sheeting with the ruins of the furnaces, which ran the entire length of the building. Pat Quinlan seems to have been the presiding genius of the place.

THE WILLIAMS' MESSAGE

Believed by the Providence Detectives to Have Been a Joke.

Special to the Times.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 22.—The detectives regard the telegram sent from Providence by "Minnie R. Williams" as a joke. They have no knowledge that any such person has ever been in Providence. The original message is in the possession of the W. U. Telegraph Company, and as the company refuse to allow it out of their hands the handwriting cannot be compared with that of the girl's.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills however has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

The charge is that an Indian named Francois beat to death his 16 year old daughter. There will probably be an inquest.

PICKED UP WITH HER DEAD

News of a Wrecked Sealing Schooner—Her Ghastly Cargo.

Special to The Times.

SEATTLE, Wash., August 22.—Capt. Higgins, of the steamer Excelsior, which arrived yesterday direct from St. Michael's and Unalaska, brings news of the wreck of the sealing schooner Walter Earle, of Victoria. Eleven dead Indians were found heaped in the forecastle. The wreck was sighted and picked up by the steamer Francis Cutting, from Seattle to Kodiak, about the middle of July. The Earle was capsized on or about April 14, during a terrific gale, off Kodiak Island, and though a number of craft and steamers were reported to have gone in search for her, none of them found her until the Cutting ran across her drifting with the swells and tides. She was bottom up, and there was nothing about her to indicate that any of the ill-fated crew had made any attempt to struggle to her upturned bottom in hope of prolonging life after she went over. Her rudder was gone, and this to the practised eye of the mariner told the story of the wreck as well as words could have done. The sealing schooner Brena, of Victoria, was also wrecked July 1st on the coast of Shumshu Island, Alaska. The crew were picked up by the British steamer Genevieve.

BLOOMERS AT THE ALTAR.

Married By a Justice the Pair Rode Away on Bicycles.

Special to The Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Two young men, or two young women, it could not be determined which at first glance, entered County Clerk Kemp's office this morning, leading bicycles. They advanced to Marriage Clerk Salmonson's desk and asked for a license. They gave the names of Geo. W. Clark and Eva Mae Christen, aged 21 and 19 years respectively. They got a license and hurried to the office of a Justice of the peace, where they were joined by another young lady in bloomers, who acted as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed, and the party mounted their wheels and rode off.

Double Drowning at Port Arthur.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22.—A fatal drowning accident occurred at Heron Bay, near Port Arthur today. Angus McPhee and James Whalen, both of the latter place, lost their lives.

Death and Destruction at Uxbridge.

UXBRIDGE, Ont., Aug. 22.—Last night the boiler in William Gordon's planing mill at Udora exploded with terrific force, shattering the mill and killing an employee of the mill named Thompson, whose friends reside in Sutton. The money loss is estimated at $1,000.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. Sept. 15th, last day for receiving appeals against primary examination.

A Little Burglary.

On Wednesday night of last week, some one who was no doubt acquainted with the premises, entered Mr. Wm. Whitton's butcher shop in Campbellford, and was rewarded with only 23 cents in coppers which were taken from the till. The thief entered by the back way. He climbed to the roof of the ice house adjoining the shop, lifted a board, dropped through the opening, and then kicking out the lower panel of the door, he pulled the bolt and walked inside. On leaving he opened the door of the ice house which was also bolted, and passed out, leaving it ajar. Money seemed to have been the object of the visit, because there was meat hanging in the shop, but as far as could be seen, none of it was taken.

Feathered and Fur Game

There has been sport for the fisherman beside the brooks and on the river, but the pleasure has been no greater than that which those will enjoy who will soon visit the marshes and tramp the thickets in quest of duck, partridge and other fowl. The hunting season is fast approaching, and the fowling pieces will come into use again in about ten days.

The close season for duck shooting terminates on the first of September. It will then be lawful for any person to kill four hundred, if he is fortunate in running across them.

The killing of hares is forbidden until the 15th of September, the open season covering a period of three months.

Snipe and plover are protected from the 15th of September to the 15th of December of the following year.

Only two weeks is now allowed for deer hunting, between the 1st and 15th of November.

Railway Notes.

Recently the G.T.R. established an up town baggage room at Hamilton and announced that baggage would be called for and taken to the station free. The C.P.R. followed suit, and now Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo goes one better and announces in an advertisement that they will call for passengers at their houses and will convey them and baggage free of charge.

The new agreement about to be entered into by the presidents of all the lines of railways on the continents affects all east and westbound passenger and freight rates, and if adhered to strictly will accomplish an enormous increase in the earnings of the companies interested. Under it contracts with shippers are to be entirely abolished and commissions on tickets are to be stopped. There is to be no money pool but there are to be penalties or infractions of the agreement. There is to be a clearing house to settle balances between roads. A commission is to be created, with the power to make rates and a committee on arbitration is to be appointed to dispose of differences which may arise.

A DARING ROBBERY.

A Tramp Boldly Enters a House and Takes Money.

A daring daylight robbery was perpetrated by a tramp yesterday afternoon, by which he secured $4 in cash.

About 4 o'clock the tramp boldly entered the residence of Mr. Chris Clemence and after nosing around in several rooms, at last spied $4 in cash which he coolly appropriated and then walked out.

Some neighbors informed Mrs. Clemence that the tramp had entered the house and when she investigated she found that the money was gone.

The police have been notified of the robbery and will keep a sharp lookout for the tramp.

A WAGON ABLAZE.

Fire in a Carriage Shop Calls Out the Brigade.

At 25 minutes to 11 o'clock last night citizens on George street noticed volumes of smoke pouring from the rear of Mr. Joseph Yelland's carriage factory, and an immediate alarm was sent in to the fire department.

When the brigade arrived on the scene it was found that an old wagon in the blacksmith shop had caught fire from the forge and was blazing away. The small blaze was soon extinguished. The damage was trifling.

MARRIED IN COURT.

The Law Steps in and Presides at Police Court Nuptials.

There was a scene enacted in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, which, happily, is not often rehearsed in Peterborough.

In the presence of their lawyers a young man and a mere girl were joined together in matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Craig. As may be surmised, the union was a forced one, the strong arm of the law compelling the unwilling groom to right the wrong done the unfortunate girl. A few hours before the marriage the young man was visited by an officer and given the choice of marrying the girl or going to jail. He chose the former and the ceremony was hurried through.

After the ceremony the husband left by one door and the young wife by another in company with her mother, and the two joined together in court, separated on the outside and went their different ways, both crying bitter tears.

The young wife lives near Lakefield and the young husband in town.

ENGINEER SCHRIEBER IN TOWN

The Chief Government Engineer Talks About the T, V. Canal.

Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, Chief Government Engineer, at Ottawa, arrived in town yesterday morning and in company with Mr. R. B. Rogers and Mr. H. T. Strickland, drove to Lakefield and went over the proposed route of the Trent Valley canal at that point.

Mr. Schrieber was seen at the Huffman last night, and when approached by THE TIMES, talked freely of the work in progress. He is an erect, elderly gentleman, very affable in manner, and he courteously answered questions pertaining to the canal.

"Yes, work on the Lakefield section is under way and progressing well. The contractors have a dozen men at work, clearing the land, which of course, is the preliminary work.

"Then the new road diversions must be attended to. Wherever the highway crosses the canal, the roads must be diverted and new ones made, and this is the work that will be gone on with at once. The contractors, I think, will push the work as fast as practical, and it won't be long before the woods will be full of laborers.

"I like your town very much. It looks prosperous and is undoubtedly forging ahead. It is a very pretty town, and the surroundings are delightful. I greatly apmired the scenery along the river as I drove from Lakefield this evening."

In answer to a question Mr. Schrieber said, "there is not the slightest doubt that the Lakefield section will be built at once. Do you think the government would buy up all that land at Lakefield, if it wasn't the intention to build the canal?"

Mr. Schrieber will leave this morning for the Balsam Lake section.

A DAY'S OUTING.

Geo. Matthew's Co. Employees Spend the Day at Jubilee Point.

The Geo. Matthews Co.s' employees' excursion to Jubilee Point yesterday was a huge success. In fact the boys say they had a hog-killin' time.

Fully 250 boarded the City of Peterborough in the morning, and the trip down the river was immensely enjoyable.

At the Point a day of excellent sport rejuvenated the employees. A program of games was faithfully carried out. The prize winners were:

Fat men's race, 100 yards — 1, Frank Matthews.

Employees' race, 100 yards—1, R. Castle; 2, P. Corsey.

Girls' race, 50 yards—1, Katie Green; 2, Bessie Jones.

Single mens' race, 100 yards—1, L. Guerin; 2, T. Bacon.

Three-legged race, 50 yards—1, S. Gaskin; 2, C. Dunnett.

Married women's race—1, Mrs. R. Goodenough; 2, Mrs. Conroy.

Married men's race—1, George Matthews; 2, A. Pellie.

The tug-of-war was competed in by the stalwarts of the establishment. One team was captained by Mr. W. Green and the other by Mr. Frank Baxter. After a hard tug, a mighty tug and an altogether tug, Mr. Green's team won the match amid the shouts of the on-lookers.

An interesting football match and a baseball match followed the above sports, and brought to a close an enjoyable afternoon's fun.

THE CIRCUS TO-MORROW.

The Monster Show Will Give Two Performances To-morrow.

It is definitely settled that we are to be favored this season with one gigantic consideration, which is the laurel crowned Sells Brothers' enormous united shows, America's oldest, largest, richest and best tented exhibition on earth. This will be Sells Brothers first visit to Peterborough, although they have been touring the United States, Mexico and Australia for the past twenty four years, and have met with overwhelming success, as the entire press will testify. Heretofore Canada has been annually visited by one of two big shows, which by agreement have taken this territory alternately, until the death of the original owners, when both of these shows became the property of one firm, and the policy adopted was to "shut out" other shows. Sells Brothers, not wishing to be outdone, have doubly increased their tremendous exhibition by reinforcing all that is great, grand and gorgeous, and will present the biggest, the cleanest, the purest and most respectable show ever seen in this city. The date for the appearance of the big show of the world is Saturday, August 24th. Special excursions will be run on all lines of travel to the only great show coming to this city this season

TOWN TOPICS.

Possibly the next municipal law suit will be Town of Peterborough vs. Ashburnham, to recover $800 which the town claims is due from the village for fire protection. At present the case stands in this position: The town has notified the village clerk that unless the debt is paid at once, the town will immediately take other proceedings to collect, with emphasis on "other proceedings" which gives those words an ominous meaning. It is very probable that unless the village council orders the issuance of a check for this amount at its next regular meeting, the town will immediately go to law.

In 1872 an agreement was drawn up between the two corporations, in which the village of Ashburnham agreed to pay one tenth of the cost of all fire appliances and maintenance of the town fire department, in return for the protection these appliances and this department would give Ashburnham. The town claims that the sum of $800 has long been due, while Ashburnham calmly ignores the debt, until goaded by the indifference of the village solons, the town is determined to have its money.

The Ashburnham council is of the opinion that, when all accounts are totalled up, it will be found that they have paid more than one tenth of the cost of the fire department. They do not think it is a just debt, and they say they will never pay it—at least some of the councillors talk that way.

As to the legal merits of the case, the village council have not much faith in the validity of the agreement. It was never stamped by the corporation seals, and all its terms have not been carried out by the town. One clause provides that two members of the Village Council shall sit at every meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and this provision has been a dead letter.

But we are inclined to think that the town has the best of the situation, for it can cut off the village without fire protection, and then up will go the village insurance rate. It is "third class" now, but only upon the representation that the village has a fire engine.

Dr. Cansalmon, who lives on the edge of beautiful Rice Lake was at the Oriental last night. He is in town taking a course of lessons in hypnotism, and incidentally, was chatting with his numerous friends, telling stories and swapping news. When THE TIMES sauntered in to get the hotel arrivals, the doctor was surrounded by a crowd to whom he was relating the details of a discovery he had made several weeks before.

"Yes," he was saying, "Rice Lake has a hermit, a strange, uncanny looking old man, grizzled and gray, who has lived all alone for years in a little hut that stands hidden among the trees on the edge of the lake. He lives on fish and game and was never known to exist, until I accidentally came upon him. At the time I was trolling for lunge, when looking back I observed a skiff plowing through the the water at a tremendous speed. It had neither sail, oars, paddle wheels or propeller, and naturally I felt a chill run up and down my back when I saw the unusual sight. In the bow of the skiff sat my little hermit, holding in his hands a pair of lines made of buckskin, and he was pulling first one and then the other, and as he pulled, the skiff would turn in the direction indicated by this guidance. He seemed not to notice me at all and passed so near my boat that the spray from his bow flew all over me. Then I was enabled to learn the secret of his craft. Would you believe me gentlemen, he had five big lunge harnessed to his skiff, and was driving them at will like so many oxen. The leader must have weighed fully 100 pounds, and the other four were a little lean, perhaps weighing 75 or 80 pounds. The harness was conveniently arranged, the guiding apparatus consisting of a steel wire which fitted in the mouth, and was fastened back of the gills. When my hermit wanted the lunge to go faster, he had a long rod in the boat to which was fastened a small sunfish. He would plunge this about a foot under water ahead of the fish, the lunge which led would immediately make a spurt to catch it and of course the others followed, and away would go the skiff at the the rate of 50 miles an hour. Ahem,— just press the button, Buckey, and have a drop of skee and 'polly.

"What proof have you of the prisoner's insanity?" asked the presiding magistrate.

"Well, your honor, he bid 41 and didn't have the king—"

Presiding Magistrate—"That'll do; the prisoner is committed to the asylum. Shuffle up the next prisoner."

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph. Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

A SPICY DIVORCE CASE.

HUSBAND OF A TORONTO GIRL SUES FOR A DIVORCE.

His Millionaire Employer is Named as Co-respondent—Both Men Arrested on Counter Charges—A Leading New Jersey Politician Mixed up in It.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Frank A. Magowan is a resident of Trenton, New Jersey, is head of several rubber concerns of some magnitude, has been Mayor of the City, and is now a nominee of the Republican party for the Governorship of the state. Magowen is a rich man, probably a millionaire, and lives in one of the finest mansions in Trenton.

In the next house to the Magowan home have lived Mr. and Mrs. John Albert Barnes. The house belongs to Mrs. Magowan, and Barnes has been superintendent of the rubber works owned by the aspirant for political honors. Barnes is a comparatively young man, who Magowan found in the rubber business in Cleveland.

UNDER MAGOWAN'S WING.

When Magowan took the young man to his factories as manager, he thought he had a prize, and besides giving him a good position, he and Mrs. Magowan took Mr. and Mrs. Barnes under their social wing; installed them in the fine residence next their own, and introduced them to society. All went well for a time, and Magowan, with plenty of money, and popular personally, had a good chance of becoming Governor.

MAGOWAN DISAPPEARS.

A few weeks ago he quietly took a little journey from home, while his wife was at Spring Lake, a summer resort. He did not think it necessary to apprise any one of his trip, and as several heavy bills matured during his absence suspicions were aroused, and it was currently reported that he had become financially embarrassed. No trace of him could be found, and creditors persuaded the courts to appoint a receiver. The newspapers printed the reports of Magowan's disappearance and the trouble with his business.

Magowan saw the reports.

Magowan came back.

And he was angry. He tore around and talked a great deal, until his lawyers finally advised him to quit. Before he stopped talking, however, Magowan said he had been to Chicago on pleasure and business, and that he was not financially embarrassed: that in an hour he could get the cash to meet all his debts; that it was an outrage for the creditors to have a receiver appointed, and that he would take steps to have the court's order set aside.

HE WANTED A DIVORCE.

Then Mr. Magowan set about preventing the reports harming his political prospects, and the sensation subsided, until one day the newspapers were given information that Magowan had passed on through Chicago, when be was away, and had gone to Oklahoma, where, under the peculiarly easy divorce laws he had established residence to enable him to sever the bonds that held him to his wife.

Then there was more excitement and plenty of it.

The report was made public than on a previous occasion Magowan had sought divorce in his own home, but his lawyers told him he had no grounds, and he dropped it, only to try in Oklahama.

MRS. BARNES ACCUSED.

Magowan would neither affirm or deny the report, and the only sign that it was untrue was a story that he and his wife were reported to be on most affectionate terms since the publication of the report of his trip to Oklahoma.

There were other stories, however, and they seem to be the true ones.

It was said that Magowan and Mrs. Barnes, the wife of his employee, were seen a great deal together, too often in fact. One story then said that Mrs. Barnes was on the train which bore Magowan westward to Oklahoma.

THE TWO MEN FIGHT.

Then the stories said that in one occasion Barnes accused Magowan, ordered him from the house, and then resigned. Magowan's version of this story was that Barnes had called him a liar; Magowan knocked him down, and then discharged him.

DIVORCE AND PERJURY.

So far all these were street stories. But now comes the announcement that Barnes is suing for divorce and that yesterday he entered suit against Magowan for $100,000 in a civil action, and caused his arrest on a criminal charge. Magowan gave bail in $25,000 and had Barnes arrested for perjury. Barnes got out on $5,000 bail. During the court proceedings Mr. Magowan threatened to cause the arrest of C. H. Beasley, Judge of the City District Court, who is Barnes' counsel, on the charge of conspiracy.

MRS. MAGOWAN SOOTHED.

A few days ago Mrs. Magowan went home from Spring Lake, summoned by a telegram from her friends, who thought her interests needed looking after. She arrived much exercised over the published reports that her husband had began divorce proceedings. However, upon seeing him she was told everything was all right, and she returned to Spring Lake on the late afternoon train. The explanation given his wife by Mr. Magowan was to the effect that the story was invented by New York reporters and it was untrue.

When seen by a reporter Mr. Magowan admitted having been to Oklahoma, but he would neither affirm nor deny that he had begun divorce proceedings. It was said elsewhere, however, that he had made application for a divorce, alleging incompatibility as a ground of action.

Mrs. Magowan's friends ridicule the idea of his securing a divorce on such an allegation, saying that there can be no foundation for it.

Mrs. Edith Barnes is said to be in New York at the Plaza. A New York paper says that "Barnes' parents, it is said, objected to her, and he married her secretly. She is about thirty five years old, of medium height, with light colored hair, and is propossessing in appearance. Mr. Barnes is still in Trenton, at the Barlow Hotel. He is embittered against Magowan whom he calls the wrecker of his home and denounces on all occasions. Mr. Magowan has five children. The oldest is a young lady of seventeen."

So it stands today.

MRS. BARNES OF TORONTO.

But this story is interesting in Toronto because Mrs. Barnes is a Toronto girl. Her name was Helen Edith Riddall, and she was a daughter of Dr. Riddall, who used to live in Parkdale, and left here for London, subsequently going to the States. Miss Riddall was an operator for the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, and was married to Barnes May 7, 1888, by Rev. F. B. McKee.

MRS. BARNES AT TORONTO.

Barnes was an American. He came from Cleveland, and lived in Toronto a year, from April, 1887. He was superintendent of the Parkdale factory of the Gutta Percha Rubber Co., and after his marriage returned to Cleveland, where he joined the Cleveland Rubber Co. It is thought that he was there when Magowan engaged him.

The present officers of the Gutta Percha Co. today declined to discuss Barnes or his business or personal character. They know little about him, they said.

Dr. Winn, a Parkdale dentist, was married to Miss Connie Riddal, sister of Mrs. Barnes. About a month ago they left for New York or Trenton.

MISS RIDDAL'S YOUNGER DAYS.

Miss Riddall is described by her old associates in the Great North Western Telegraph office as being a very pretty brunette, and of a very lively disposition.

Before coming to Toronto her father was the agent of the telegraph company in Orangeville, and it was there when a very little girl she learned to manipulate the ticker. On coming to Toronto she entered the offices of the Great North Western and made many friends, those of the stronger sex being completely overshadowed, however, by John A. Barnes, who used to wait for her at the door of the office and escort her home.

Until a short three weeks ago both Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were in town, staying with Mrs. Barnes' brother in law, Dr. Wynn, 68 Elm Grove. People who know them well say that the couple gave every evidence of having "money to burn," and Mrs. Barnes seemed very happy, which was only natural, considering her newly acquired prosperity.

The explanation for the presence of so much money, Mrs. Barnes gave in the fact that her husband had sold a patent right in the rubber business for $30,000.

Mrs. Barnes and her sister both wore diamonds of unusual magnitude and brilliancy. Some valuable diamonds were given by Mrs. Barnes to her sister, Mrs. Wynn, and she also gave away three gold watches.

It was just about a month ago, it is said, that Mr. Magowan arrived in town on a business errand and remained here at a leading hotel, while Mrs. Barnes continued being very happy with her husband at Elm Grove.

Before leaving town Mrs. Barnes surprised everything with her prodigality. She wore $2,000 worth of diamonds at a time, and her costumes were the wonder of Parkdale. Finally she took herself and her jewelry back to the States.

A DETECTIVE MURDERED.

Geo. W. Powers, of Grand Rapids, Slain by a Train Robber.

Special to the Times.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug 23.—Detective George W. Powers, of the city Police Department, was shot in the head at midnight by a man whom he attempted to arrest as a suspected member of the gang who held up the C. & W. M. train Tuesday night. Powers died at two this morning. Two men were seen in the city during the day who answered the description of members of the gang. All outgoing trains were watched for them, and they were found by Powers in the smoking car of the Grand Rapids and Indiana north bound train. When Powers attempted to make the arrest, one of them fired at him with a revolver, which he apparently had concealed under his coat ready for immediate business. The two men jumped for the door, and before they could be stopped, escaped in the darkness. A large force of detectives are looking for the two men and the balance of the gang.

PERIL IN THE RAPIDS.

Passengers of the Terrebonne Have an Exciting Trip.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—Thousands of Knights' Templars from Detroit, Chicago and other western points arrived here tonight on their way to Boston.

A sensation was caused tonight by the receipt of a message stating that the steamer Terrebonne had met with a serious accident, but the receipt of further particulars showed that the report was exaggerated. It seems that the Terrebonne while coming through the cascade rapids, sprang a leak and was run down in a leaking condition to the foot of the Lachine canal, where the passengers were landed. There was a large number of Knights' Templars on board on their way to Boston, and they had quite an exciting experience, but fortunately escaped without any serious misfortune. The passengers will be brought into the city by special trains.

BURNED TO DEATH.

An Aged Widow's Shocking Death in Her Kitchen.

Special to the Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Alex. Chisholm, an aged widow lady, who lived alone with an unmarried sister, a Miss Fraser, was accidently burned to death about 7.30 this evening. Miss Fraser was ill in bed and Mrs. Chisholm was in the kitchen lighting the lamp, when her clothing caught fire, and before assistance arrived she was so terribly burned that she only breathed a few minutes. She had an only son, who is an honored citizen of Grand Marais, Mich. Mrs. Chisholm was a sister of the late Col. Fraser, of Fraser's Point, Glengarry.

A BUS DRIVER'S END.

Charles Buck Killed at Ridgeway—The Vehicle Ran Over Him.

Special to the Times.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 23.—A special despatch from Ridgeway, Ont., reports the killing of Charles Buck, a 'bus driver, who runs between Ridgeway and Crystal Beach. While standing in front of the Queen's Royal his team was frightened by a trunk toppling off the driver's seat on their heels and they started to run away. Buck, in attempting to catch their heads, was thrown and run over by the 'bus. The wheels of the vehicle passed over his head. He never regained consciousness and died this morning. The team was not stopped till they reached Crystal Beach. The passengers were not seriously injured.

LOW WATER IN THE NIAGARA.

Causes the Steamer Idlehour of Buffalo to Go Aground.

Special to The Times.

BUFFALO, Aug. 23.—The steamer Idlehour went aground on the Canadian side of the river near Victoria after midnight last night, and it was nearly 5 a.m. before she could be got off. She had stopped to let off a party of Canadian railway men who were having an excursion yesterday. The trouble was caused by low water in the Niagara River.

A YOUNG MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE WHILE HANDLING A GUN.

The Bullet Lodged Over the Right Eye—A Burglar Gets Five Years—A Toronto Woman in China Writes of the Massacre.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Police Constable McIlroy, of the Parkdale division, made a clever capture at two o'clock this morning. While passing up Dowling avenue he noticed a gleam in No. 149, a house whose occupants, James S. Speers and family, are away. The officer quietly slipped to the rear, found the window forced open and saw a man inside walking about and enjoying a pipe. McIlroy kept guard until the burglar came out when he covered him with his revolver and arrested him. "Hurry upstairs, there's another fellow there!" said the burglar. But the policeman remembering that a jailbird in the hand is worth two upstairs, handcuffed his prisoner, blew his whistle for aid and then searched the house only to find it empty. At the police station, the prisoner, who gave the name of Thomas Redmond, was searched and three gold rings, four earrings, twelve silver tea spoons, six napkin rings, two sets of silver nut crackers, three gold pencils, one silver match holder, three old silver coins and other articles were found in his pockets. He was subsequently recognized as Thomas Thornton, a well known burglar but recently released from penitentiary. In the police court this morning he was arraigned and pleaded guilty. "I think you have made up your mind to live by crime," remarked the magistrate. "I will send you to Kingston penitentiary for five years." Thornton is a determined crook. He began his prison career on June 12, 1878, with 30 days for stealing. On December 16, 1881, he got six months in the Central for housebreaking, on July 13, 1888, for burglary, he was sent to Kingston for five years, and on August 23, 1892, for felonious entry of premises, he returned to the penitentiary for three years.

A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

At Jackson's Point yesterday, George Hally, the 14-year-old son of John Hally, of Hally Bros., Toronto, who was camping there with two others, was taking a loaded revolver from a trunk in their tent when the weapon went off accidentally, the bullet lodging in the lad's head over the right eye. Dr. Noble, of Sutton, who was speedily summoned, advised the removal of the injured youth to Toronto, which was done last night by special train.

Young Hally was taken to the Sick Children's Hospital where Dr. Allan Baines and Dr. Peters extracted the ball, which had lodged in the skull. The patient bore up remarkably well, considering his narrow escape from death, and did not lose consciousness. He is out of danger and is residing quietly.

A MISSIONARY'S STORY

Inspector Hughes has received a letter from Mrs. Mina Bee, a missionary in China, who left Canada seven years ago. In speaking of the massacre of missionaries in that country she says the uprisings are attributable to secret revolutionary societies. Mrs. Bee and her husband had a very narrow escape from assassination. They succeeded in scaling the back wall of their home while the revolutionists were coming over the front wall and got away not a moment too soon. The servants in the employ of the missionaries were in the majority of cases faithful, and but for this more would have been slain. Mrs. Bee, who years ago taught in the Victoria street school, and won a scholarship from the Dufferin street school, lost all of her certificates, and writes to the Inspector for duplicates. In her opinion the revolution is by no means over, as the whole of the interior is honeycombed with secret revolutionary societies which are the cause of the uprising.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills however has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

THE SPARTAN AGROUND.

Ran Full Length Upon a Rock Near Alexandria, N.Y.

Special to the Times.

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N.Y., Aug. 23.—The steamer Spartan, of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, ran aground just opposite here last night. The Spartan, being a little out of her bearings, her nose struck a shelf and ran full length upon the smooth rock. The officers say the pilot was blinded by a searchlight on an excursion boat. There were no passengers aboard, and so far as known no damage was done to the steamer. Telegrams have been sent to Kingston for tugs to come and pull her off.

Another Aurora Man Dies Suddenly.

PICTON, Ont., Aug. 23.—G. W. Morrison, of Aurora, died suddenly at the residence of his son-in-law, W. V. Pettit, West Lake. Mr. Morrison and Mr. Pettit went out on the lake for a couple of hours' fishing. Mr. Morrison, who had been feeling unusually well, was taken suddenly ill while in the boat and died before they could get him to Mr. Pettit's residence.

An Almonte Lady's Death on a Train.

Overend Dies from His Injuries.

HAMILTON, Aug. 23.—George Overend, who was thrown from a wagon at the corner of Cannon street and Ferguson avenue last Tuesday afternoon and injured internally, died at the City Hospital last evening. Four of his ribs were broken and pressed against his lungs. Deceased was 22 years old.

THE NATION'S SHOOTERS.

CRACK SHOTS OF CANADA GATHERED AT THE RANGES.

There Was Almost a Tragedy Yesterday When a Man Coolly Got In the Way of the Bullets—Cease Firing the Order—Hayhurst at the Butts.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—At the rifle ranges have foregathered this week some three hundred and odd of Canada's goodly sons, men who have done not a little to carry the name and fame of the biggest and fairest jewel in the Imperial diadem to the farthest limits of the earth—right to the back of beyond. There are men of whom the Dominion has every reason to be proud, for they are the picked shots of our many crack corps and they have assembled from every portion of the land. British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces have all contributed their quota and on the Rifle Ranges may be seen men from the Pacific slopes and the Atlantic coast, from the lumbering districts and the cities. They are good men to meet in a friendly way, but bad people to encounter in hostile guise, for they can plump a bullet into the bullseye at long range. And a bullseye is considerable smaller than a man.

CRACKS FROM THIRTY-NINE REGIMENTS.

Thirty-nine regiments have sent their representatives, many of whom, like Ivan Skiffskiff-skyskizar, "are well known to fame." Pte. Hayhurst and Col.-Sergt. Skedden are there, and so are Corp. Windatt, the veteran Capt. McMicking, Staff-Sergt. Ogg, Sergt. McVittie, Lieut. Mitchell, Sergt. Ashall, who wears four Wimbledon badges, and Staff-Sergt. Bell, who carries on his arm the Ranleigh badge. And there are some notable absentees, among them Major Thomas, of the 54th, who year after year won his place on the Wimbledon team, and his comrade in arms, Major Cleveland, nicknamed "Perk," who fought through the American Civil war, and who could tell some great stories of how they treated the "darned rebs when they got them in a kind of a corral," which brings us to the fact that the 54th, "Aylmer's Bashi Bazouks," as they were known in the days of yore, are unrepresented, as is also the 57th, which sets great store by the crack shot Lieut. Spearing,

PLEASURE AND PROFIT.

But the meeting is nevertheless a great success and there is pleasure and instruction in watching the marksmen as they lie with the brown stock cuddled lovingly against the cheek, nursing the shot for a lull in the wind or the passing of a cloud, which means a palpable difference of elevation. Then comes the flash and report and the wicked hiss of the bullet followed by the peculiar zip as the missile rips through the canvas. Down goes the target and a look of satisfaction creeps into the keen anxious eyes as the white disk goes up, followed by the target a second later with a little tell tale white patch on the bull's eye. Staff Sergt. Bell, of the Royal Grenadiers quietly placed eight of these in succession to his credit at the 500 yards range in the Walker Cup competition. The first of these was a sighting shot and the others counted five each, a possible of 35. The marksman looked pleased and his comrades of the R. G.'s were tickled for the feat redounded to the credit of the corps and counted in the total.

A MARKSMAN FROM B.C.

Meanwhile Corporal Gould was showing the spectators how they shoot on the Pacific coast. His sighting shot was a bull's eye, followed by another. Then he scored an inner, getting back on to the bull's eye in his third on score. Another inner was followed by two bulls and the last shot was looked forward to with interest. "There it goes whatever it is," remarked the marksman. The man at the butts popped up the red disk, showing an inner, and the British Columbian retired with a total of 32, three short of the possible, which is good shooting with a shifty wind alternating from one side of the range to the other.

"Here are three who ought to do something," remarked a spectator as Major McDonald, of the Kilties, winner of the Gilmour and Gibson matches; Lieut. J. B. Miller of the Q.O.R., and Pte. Mitchell lay together. Lieut. Miller opened with a bull for a sighting shot. Wind caught his next and made it a magpie. Then came a bull's eye, two inners and two bulls; total 30. Pte. Mitchell could not find the target till the third shot, an outer. Another outer followed, next a magpie, then a bull, and he wound up with a mag and a bull; total 20. Major Macdonald led off with a bull, fell away first to the inner, further off to the magpie, and then returned to the bull's eye, where he stayed and wound up with 31.

RED HOT FOR A DANGER SIGNAL.

During this time an incident occurred which might have led to a tragedy. Major Macdonald was just about to fire his third shot; Lieut. Mitchell on the next target had his finger on the trigger, and half a dozen other men were about to turn loose, when something red appeared on the range between the marksmen and the butts. There was a general cry of alarm, and the order to "cease fire" was promptly given, and as promptly obeyed. The red object advanced and resolved itself into a gigantic hat which covered the head of a stout man encased in a long white apron. Slowly and coolly the figure, as if he had eternity at his disposal, marched diagonally across the 500 yards range, while the marksmen speculated as to who and what he was. Lieut.-Col. Hodgins of the G. G. F. G., executive officer, walked forward and interviewed the man who turned out to be one of the camp attaches named Cusack who wanted water for the markers. He was let off with a reprimand and firing was resumed.

THE GRENS' GOT THE WALKER TEAM PRIZE.

The feature of Wednesday's shooting was the winning of the Walker team prize by the Royal Grenadiers captained by Major Bruce. Pte. McVittie, of the Highlanders, proved himself the worthy son of his father by winning the Macdonald prize with 31. The match has to be shot off hand.

A pleasant feature of the meeting in the pavilion was the passing of a resolution of congratulation to Pte. Hayhurst who made a short reply.

The Gordon prize was won by Pte. J. Morland of the 29th and the Walker individual prize by Staff Sergt. Bell with 66 out of a possible 70.

The annual growth in length of the orthoptic, a little instrument stuck into the eye to steady the sight, causes much amusement among the marksmen.

THE LAST DAY'S SHOOTING.

COMPETITION IN THE TAIT-BRASSEY MATCH THE MOST IMPORTANT.

THE RIFLE RANGES, Aug. 22.—Today sees the close of the Ontario Rifle Association's meeting and the keenest interest is being taken in the proceedings. The conditions have changed considerably for the better and much better shooting is being done. The wind is blowing steadily from the east and the marksmen are enabled to gauge its effect with precision. The light is not quite so good, there being considerable haze and the glare from the lake adds to the discomfort of the men, being especially hard on the older competitors who say it is a "young shots' day." The programe is a heavy one, and it includes the Tait Brassey match, which is shot for at 200, 500, and 600 yards, and is competed for by battalion teams and company teams as well as individuals Following this comes the Gzowski, which is a skirmishing and volley firing match. Eight teams have been entered for the latter, while nearly all the regiments have entered into the Tait Brassey, which is considered the most important match of the meeting. The shooting at the 200 yards has concluded, the highest score being that of Lieut. J. A. Williams, of the 45th, who made 34 out of a possible 35. The scores made in the three days' count in the aggregate, which is the Muloch match. The prizes include the Elkington cup, the Governor General's silver and bronze medals and 42 cash prizes totalling $232. Besides these there are extra series and revolver matches, that are going on all the time.

THE TAIT BRASSEY MATCH.

The shooting in the Tait Brassey is of a high order, and the keenest interest is being taken. At the 200 yards the Q.O.R. lead with an average of 30 1 3, but the R. G., the 13th, the R.R.C.I., the 43rd and the Highlanders are very close. At the 500 yards range about the same order prevails; and the match will be decided at the 600 yards range.

Sergt. Milligan, 48th, made the possible 35, at 500 yards, and 30 at 200 yards, leading to field over the two ranges. For the aggregate, Sergt. Rolston, 37th, Major Macdonald and Sergt. McLaughlin, all Wimbledon men, are in the lead, Private Hayhurst being 10 points behind. Capt. McMicking made 34 at 500 yards.

In the extra series, No. 2 range, 500 yards the following tied with a possible 25: Lieut. Crean, Q.O.R., Pte. Campbell, 42th; Pte. Hayhurst, 13th; Capt. Halton, 30th; Lieut. Ross, 13th; Pte. Smith, 21st. These tied with 24: Staff-Sergt. McVittie, R.G.; Lieut. King, 45th; Pte. Robertson, 13th; Lieut. Col. Hood, P.W.R.; Mr. Van Wyck, Col. Sergt. Skedden, 13th; Sergt, Milligan, 48th; Lieut. Mitchell, 12th; Sergt. Rolston, 37th; Lieut. Bent, 93rd; Gunner Chamberlain, B.C.B.G.A.; Pte. Hinds, 15th; Sergt. Crowe I B.F.A.

STRONG EVIDENCE THIS.

HUMAM SKIN FOUND UNDER THE FINGER NAILS OF JAENERETTE.

Kurchinski Committed for Trial for the Murder of Old Man Jaenerette Whose Stiff Fingers Bear Damning Evidence Against the Prisoner—The Breslau Murder Case.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 22.—In connection with the case of August Kurchinski, who was committed for trial yesterday on the charge of having murdered Albert Jaenerette on August 4, there is a piece of evidence which will be offered at the trial, which may help in convicting the accused. Kurchinski's farm is said to be worth nearly $4,000, and while it was generally thought that much of this would be needed for the defence, the accused is said to have declared that he would not spend much for the purpose. He said that in any event he may not have many years to live, and if he is acquitted after spending all his money he will be a beggar, whereas if he is convicted he would leave his family penniless, "and besides," he is alleged to have declared, "somebody may have seen me do it." This strange remark may not, of course, be intended for an admission of guilt, but it is difficult to place any other construction upon it.

HUMAN SKIN UNDER THE FINGER NAILS

Another circumstance which may figure as very strong evidence against the accused has come to light through a microscopic examination of the dead man's finger nails, the body having been exhumed and the fingers removed for that purpose. The substance scraped from under the nails has been carefully examined, and, as was anticipated, small portions of skin were found there. In addition to this, another discovery was made, which was not anticipated. Small shreds of dark blue cloth were found, which will be further examined to determine if they are not identical with the material in the vest the accused is known to have had on on that fatal Sunday afternoon. These facts together with that sworn to by Dr. Bowlby that the marks on Kurchinski's face were just such as finger nails would make, and that the nail of deceased's right fore finger was broken to a ragged edge, all go to furnish strong circumstantial proof of this portion of the Crown's theory,

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 22.—The trial of Kurschinski for the murder of Jaenerette, near Breslau, before Messrs. Mackie, Aherns and McKay, J.P's., took place yesterday.

Apparently the most unconcerned man was Kurschinski himself, who wore a constant smile and a ready eye to look the curious in the face. The only apparent trace of nervousness about him was the picking of his finger nails whilst evidently absorbed in the testimony which was being delivered by the Crown witnesses. were in all about 15 of such to give evidence.

The evidence adduced was chiefly the threatening language used by the prisoner when Jaenerette forbade his family entering the berry patch. Witnesses swore that Kurchinski declared that if he was not allowed to pick berries in the patch. Jeanerette would pick none. Witnesses swore that Kurschinski said the scratches on his face, which were visible at the time of his arrest, were caused by a limb of a tree, whereas others were put on the stand who made repeated efforts to test this assertion by endeavoring to produce marks of scratches on their own faces without any result.

The medical testimony described various wounds as found on the deceased, none of which were sufficient, in their opinion, to cause death, except the gash across the throat, which severed the wind-pipe. They expressed the opinion that this was done by an instrument other than a razor, quite probably by a jackknife, owing to the jagged condition of the wound.

This closed the evidence of the Crown, and the prisoner was committed for trial

A CHINESE MOB AGAIN ATTACKS AMERICAN MISSIONARIES.

Innocent Blood Shed at Foo Chow—Mobs Parade the Streets Shouting Imprecations on the Foreign Population—The Ameer Snubbed.

Special to the Times.

HONG KONG, August 22.—Another outrage has been committed upon missionaries near Foo Chow. The American mission has been attacked by a large and infuriated mob, armed with various weapons. The chapel and school house of the mission were wrecked and four of the native scholars were wounded. The foreign teacher, however, escaped injury. A strong anti-foreign local feeling prevails at Foo Chow, and it is spreading among the populace; who are parading the public thoroughfares with cries of "Drive out the foreign devils.

THE POPULACE EXCITED.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A despatch to the Times from Hong Kong this afternoon confirms the despatch from Hong Kong announcing the attack upon the American mission near Foo Chow and a dangerous state of the populace of that city. According to the Times' despatch the American school was situated just outside of the west gate Foo Chow. The despatch adds: "The situation at Kucheng is unchanged. Captain John S. Newell, of the United States cruiser Detroit and Dr. Hart have gone there from Foo Chow. More anti-foreign placards and pamphlets are being distributed at Canton."

THE AMEER SNUBBED.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—It is rumored that the Ameer has forbidden Nazrulla Khan to return until he has secured Great Britain's consent that the Ameer shall be diplomatically represented at London. He desires to deal directly with the Government instead of through the Viceroy of India. This impossible demand is supposed to explain the Shahzada's long stay.

IT MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—According to the information obtained by the Associated Press a few weeks ago, the Shahzada visited the Queen at Windsor Castle and personally informed her Majesty that it was the Ameer's desire to be diplomatically represented at London instead of dealing with the British Government through the Viceroy of India. The Shahzada expected an immediate answer, but her Majesty replied that she could not decide without consulting her Ministers. Last week the Shahzada received a definite refusal, and the situation now is unpleasant, if not serious, as the refusal amounts to a snub to the Ameer, and it is thought this may affect the relations between Great Britain and Afghanistan. The Shahzada, however, starts for home, via Paris, next week.

TRAGIC END OF ONE LAVALLY AT A MICHIGAN LOG CAMP.

Reward for Train Robbers—Knight Templars in Session in Boston—The Rescued Capt. of the Argonaut and His Crew—Collapse of a Tall Roof in Chicago.

Special to The Times.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., Aug. 22.—For a short time yesterday a reign of terror prevailed at Thompson's station, Ogamow county. It is a small place, a sort of a rendezvous for men of the logging camps. Yesterday the town was full of lumbermen. Alex. St. Mary and J. Lavally had been drinking; words led to blows and St. Mary drew a knife. Lavally drew back, but before he could retreat he received a wound that caused him to drop to the ground dead. St. Mary was at once taken to jail and placed under strong guards. The greatest excitement prevailed. It was then that some one maddened by the excitement set fire to the town. Thompson has but little fire protection and in a few minutes several of the best structures were in ruins. At the last reports the excitement had not yet died down. Particulars, however, are meagre.

SUNK NEAR JAMAICA.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The steamer Dorian from Kingston, Jamaica, brought to this port today Capt. McGillivray and twenty-four men of the British steamer Argonaut, which foundered on the 6th of August forty miles east of Morant Point, Jamaica. The Argonaut was bound from Halifax for Port Morant. She left Halifax on the 29th of July, and at 8 p.m. on the 6th of August was nearing the Jamaican coast, when her engineers found water pouring into the engine room from the after-hold. An investigation was at once made and the pumps started, but the leak was evidently a large one and the water was gaining at a tremendous rate in spite of the steam pumps. The steamer's head was turned southwest and the engines were pushed to their utmost capacity, in an endeavor to reach the land, but it was seen that the vessel would not keep afloat long enough to enable the crew to land. The boats were launched, and at 10 p.m. the steamer sunk out of sight. The boats landed at Manchineall the next afternoon. The men saved nothing but the clothes they stood in. No cause can be assigned for the leak, but it looked as if a plate had dropped out of her bottom. Scarcely two hours elapsed from the time the discovery was made until the steamer sunk.

THEORY.

ROYAL SCALP FOOD destroys the diseased germs of the scalp and a healthy action is set up.

It contains the principal properties of the hair that are necessary to its life without which it will not grow. It fertilizes the scalp the same as you do a field of corn and growth is certain. It invigorates the sluggish scalp, cleanses it and thoroughly eradicates all dandruff, which is the forerunner of baldness.

The Band at Chemong.

The Fire Brigade Band went to Chemong Park on Saturday night and rendered a select program for the benefit of the guests at the hotel. They were invited to a splendid repast by Mine Host Fobert, which they did ample justice to. The guests were delighted with the music.

A Desired Change.

A change has been made in the mail service on the Grand Junction, and the cause of complaint on the part of those residing between here and Belleville has been removed. The mail car from Belleville arrived here at 8.15 and left again for that city at 8.40. Today a change came into force and now the mail from Belleville will arrive at the usual time 8.15, but the mail for Belleville and intermediate points will not leave until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The mail car will be attached to the mixed that leave a 3 p.m.

A Sad Bereavement.

The death of Mrs. John Nethercutt occurred at the family residence, Queen street, on Tuesday afternoon. Deceased had been in poor health for some time, gradually growing worse until death came. She leaves a family of three daughters to mourn her loss, Mrs. W. C. Springer, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Campbell, Fraserville; and Miss Rebecca Nethercutt, town, and two sons, Mr. Robt. Nethercutt, Manitoba; and Mr. John Nethercutt, Tweed. She was a member of St. Paul's church. The funeral takes place this afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery.

A Little Burglary.

On Wednesday night of last week, some one who was no doubt acquainted with the premises, entered Mr. Wm. Whitton's butcher shop in Campbellford, and was rewarded with only 25 cents in coppers which were taken from the till. The thief entered by the back way. He climbed to the roof of the ice house adjoining the shop, lifted a board, dropped through the opening, and then kicking out the lower panel of the door, he pulled the bolt and walked inside. On leaving he opened the door of the ice house which was also bolted, and passed out, leaving it ajar. Money seemed to have been the object of the visit, because there was meat hanging in the shop, but as far as could be seen, none of it was taken.

Feathered and Fur Game.

There has been sport for the fisherman beside the brooks and on the river, but the pleasure has been no greater than that which those w'll enjoy who will soon visit the marshes and tramp the thickets in quest of duck, partridge and other fowl. The hunting season is fast approaching, and the fowling pieces will come into use again in about ten days.

The close season for duck shooting terminates on the first of September. It will then be lawful for any person to kill four hundred, if he is fortunate in running across them.

The killing of hares is forbidden until the 15th of September, the open season covering a period of three months.

Snipe and plover are protected from the 15th of September to the 15th of December of the following year.

Only two weeks is now allowed for deer hunting, between the 1st and 15th of November.

Wedding Bells.

At five o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, Rev. Father Scollard united in marriage Miss Lillie Dineen, eldest daughter of Mr. R. Dineen, and Mr. J. H. Macdonald, Lake street. A number of friends were present to witness the ceremony. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Lillie Hurley. The bride was attired in ashes-of-rose cashmere, and was assisted by Miss Lizzie Flynn, of Havelock, who was dressed in gold brown cashmere. Mr. J. Hughes attended the groom. Guests were in attendance from Montreal, New York, Port Hope and Havelock. The presents received were numerous, there being thirty pieces of silver alone. Mr. William Dineen presented the bride with a check, and the groom's gift was a Heintzman piano. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left on the seven o'clock G.T.R. local for Port Hope, from whence they proceed to Rochester and New York.

Railway Notes.

Recently the G.T.R. established an up town baggage room at Hamilton and announced that baggage would be called for and taken to the station free. The C.P.R. followed suit, and now Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo goes one better and announces in an advertisement that they will call for passengers at their houses and will convey them and baggage free of charge.

The new agreement about to be entered into by the presidents of all the lines of railways on the continents affects all east and westbound passenger and freight rates, and if adhered to strictly will accomplish an enormous increase in the earnings of the companies interested. Under it contracts with shippers are to be entirely abolished and commissions on tickets are to be stopped. There is to be no money pool but there are to be penalties or infractions of the agreement. There is to be a clearing house to settle balances between roads. A commission is to be created, with the power to make rates and a committee on arbitration is to be appointed to dispose of differences which may arise.

A MYSTERIOUS DROWNING.

A Floating Body Found in the Otonabee Identification and Buried.

On Friday last a young Welshman, named Wm. Ashworth, in the employ of Mr. Adam King, Kincaid's Farm, North Monaghan, was sent by Mr. King to cut some corn on his farm. The young man did not return, and search was at once instituted for him.

The neighbors in the vicinity were notified of the boy's sudden disappearance, but as no trace of him could be found, Mr, King came to the conclusion that he had left his service.

But the mystery was solved on Sunday afternoon, when a number of young men, who were paddling by the farm, discovered the body of a young boy floating in the water.

It was immediately brought to the shore, and it was soon learned that it was the body of the unfortunate young Welshman.

It seems that the boy had no fear for the water, and would often make trips to the river shore, and enjoy himself, and it is supposed that on Friday he visited the river and there met his untimely end.

The unfortunate boy was only 15 years of age, and belonged to a Home in Toronto.

The body was brought to town Sunday night by Undertaker Belleghem, and word was sent to the Home authorities in Toronto in connection with the affair.

The remains of the unfortunate boy was interred in the Little Lake cemetery yesterday afternoon.

MARRIED IN COURT.

The Law Steps in and Presides at Police Court Nuptials.

There was a scene enacted in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, which, happily, is not often rehearsed in Peterborough.

In the presence of their lawyers a young man and a mere girl were joined together in matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Craig. As may be surmised, the union was a forced one, the strong arm of the law compelling the unwilling groom to right the wrong done the unfortunate girl. A few hours before the marriage the young man was visited by an officer and given the choice of marrying the girl or going to jail. He chose the former and the ceremony was hurried through.

After the ceremony the husband left by one door and the young wife by another in company with her mother, and the two joined together in court, separated on the outside and went their different ways, both crying bitter tears.

The young wife lives near Lakefield and the young husband in town.

THE MURPHYS ON TRIAL.

TWO OF THE PRISONERS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL AT LINDSAY.

What Detective Shore Found in the House—Miss Argue on the Stand—Old Man Murphy Appears in Court in a Very Feeble Condition—Mr. E. B. Stone Defending the Prisoners.

Long before 10 o'clock Tuesday morning the hour which was set for the opening of the preliminary hearing of the Murphy family, charged with making and passing counterfeit coin, great crowds gathered at the door of the police station. At 10 o'clock the prisoners were marched into court by county Constables Short and Crawford. The prisoners were: Lillie Murphy, Wellington Murphy, Allan Murphy, Wm. Murphy, Frederick Murphy, Richard Murphy, and Jeremiah Murphy. The first six have been under arrest for several days but the later, who is the father, is in very poor health and was not placed under arrest as it was known that the authorities could get him at any time. The magistrate asked the prisoners whether they elected to be tried by him or wished to be tried by a jury and Mr. E. B. Stone, counsel for the prisoners, said that they wished to be tried by a jury.

On the request of the crown the prisoners were to be tried separately and the court immediately started the investigation of the charge against Allan Murphy, who is charged with having, in the town of Lindsay, on or about the 15th of July offered at the store of Mr. G. H. Fox, one twenty five cent piece knowing the same to be counterfeit.

THE FIRST WITNESS.

The first witness was Samuel Shore, who being sworn said that his home was in Ottawa, that he was a constable and detective on the Dominion force. He said that about the 1th of August he received instructions to proceed to Lindsay to look up a case of counterfeit coin. His information did not give any names of suspected parties. He came to Lindsay and heard that some counterfeit coin had been passed at the store of Mr. G. H. Fox and he proceeded there and met Miss Argue, who received the coin and who said she would know the man who had passed it. He said that he learned from Mr. Fox that it was a man named Murphy who had passed it. Miss Argue gave him the coin in question. He also received spurious money from other people, said to have been passed by Allan Muphy. He then went to the magistrate and swore out a warrant to the effect that Allan Murphy did pass the coin at the store of G. H. Fox. On Monday morning August 12th he went, accommpanied by Inspector O'Leary and county Constables Short and Crawford to make the arrests, to the house of Jeremiah Murphy on the boundary line between Manvers and Emily, reaching there shortly after 4 a.m., but did not go to the house until after 5 o'clock. They found the accused in a room occupied by the mother, Lillie Murphy and Frederick Murphy. In the kitchen he found a pair of pants and in the pockets found two counterfeit 25c pieces, a 10c piece and some diamond point clippings. He then displayed the pants and their contents in court. They also found some metal, pieces of zinc, a laddle, a wooden frame for moulding the coin and plaster of paris in a glass jar and also in a bag. The prisoners were brought to jail.

The detectives made another search of the premises on Friday last and found pieces of metal which had been thrown out, one piece, with a print of 25c on it. It was about one inch under ground. Witness held a plan of the house in his hand in describing where the things were found.

To Mr. Stone he said that he had been employed by the Dominion government for 13 years, under the direction of Commissioner Sherwood. He said that he had never seen a wooden frame for moulding counterfeit coin, similar to the one found there, nor a laddle. He showed Mr. Stone a number of coins and said that he found them in Millbrook, Omemee and other places. Mr. Stone asked him if he was trying to secure a conviction of the prisoners, so as to be able to be on equal footing with other detectives who are at present higher up in the profession than he was and created a laugh by saying "it would be quite a feather in your cap to secure a conviction." Witness said that they all denied the ownership of the parts.

In being re-examined he said that he also found some clippings in Williams room.

CONSTABLE SHORT.

The next witness was Constable Short, who said that he remembered the 12th of August and that he accompanied the last witness with inspector O'Leary and Constable Crawford to make the arrests. Mr. Short's evidence was nearly the same as the last witness. He stated that he was left in charge of the prisoners while Detective Shore and Constable Crawford made a search of the premises. He was relieved for a few minutes and he saw the detective examine the pants and find the counterfeit coins in the pockets. They found some clippings in a basket on the sideboard in the front room. The witness was with the detective when he made his search of the premises last Friday.

To Mr. Stone he said that on Friday they found the piece of metal with the print of a 25c. piece in the embankment of the house about one inch underground. Mr. Stone said to witness, "I suppose you will share half the glory if you secure a conviction" and Mr. Short replied that he did not work for glory but for money.

MISS ARGUE.

Miss Elizabeth Argue was the next witness and she being sworn said that she was employed by Mr. G. H. Fox, in his confectionery store. She said that she knew the accused by sight. She remembered that he called at the store some time in July and purchased some candy for which he gave the 25c. piece. He was served by Chas. Mahar who was in the shop. The boy did not know the combination of the till and she was asked to make the change. When she got the quarter she noticed that it felt greasy and she told the man (Murphy) that it was no good and asked him where he had got it and he replied that he did not know, that it must have been in getting change. He paid her five cents for the candy and said that if the quarter was no good, he had no use for it. She gave it to Ma. Fox. She identified the one produced in court as the one she had by a mark she had made on it with a knife.

To Mr. Stone she said, that Mr. Fox did not tell her that he wanted to retain the coin. She did not know what Mr. Fox did with it. Witness was not sure that she had ever seen the prisoner prior to the day that he passed the money on her.

It now being 12 30 the court adjourned until 1.30.

When the court resumed at 1.30 p.m., Charles Mahar was the first witness, and after being sworn corroborated the evidence of the last witness, (Miss Argue.)

MR. G. H. FOX.

Mr. G. H. Fox was the next witness sworn and said that Miss Argue was the manager of his store and Charles Mahar was his nephew. He remembered the coin in his store which was shortly after the 12th July. He heard the conversation between Miss Argue, the boy and Murphy, and heard Miss Argue say that the quarter was no good. He also examined the coin and said it was bad. Witness also asked the accused where he got it and he said in some of the stores. He handed the quarter to Miss Argue and told her to keep it. She in turn gave it back to him and he kept it in his pocket, he gave it to Detective Shore.

To Mr. Stone he said that his object in keeping the coin was for curiosity sake and he did not intend to lay any information.

WILLIAM MURPHY.

Considerable discussion arose when the crown produced Wm. Murphy to give evidence against his brother and Mr. Stone objected very strongly and said that be was not a compellable witness, but the magistrate ruled that he must give evidence and being sworn said that he lived with his parents. The accused is his brother. He went on to describe where he had been for the last three years stating that he had been working in Collingwood and other places, but Mr. Stone objected, but he was allowed to tell of his whereabouts during that time. He told who had lived with his father during the past twelve months. He did not recognize the laddle, but when asked what use could be made of it he said that it could be used for dishing soup. Mr. Stone again objected and said he never saw such rulings in a police court before, and Mr. Devlin objected to being interrupted by defendant's counsel while examining a witness. He never saw the box (or supposed mould) and did not know what it might be used for. He had never seen any plaster paris around the place. The witness again got angry and began to talk loud and his counsel told him to keep quiet.

They then brought up the defendant, Allan Murphy, and told him that anything he would say might be used against him at his trial, if committed.

Mr. Stone said that there was no evidence to committ the prisoner on this charge and it was no skill on the part of the detectives to prove that the money passed in Mr. Fox's store was counterfeit. and that if the prisoner had been guilty of making the spurious coin he would not have been so careless as to let it go like that.

Magistrate Deacon then committed the prisoner to stand trial at the fall assizes.

ALLAN MURPHY ON A SECOND CHARGE.

The next one to have a hearing was Allan Murphy on a second charge, that of passing two counterfeit coins supposed to be 25c pieces, to Mrs. Elliott at Mount Horeb, on the 13th of July.

The first witness was Mrs. Elliott. She remembered the prisoner being in the store of her husband on the 13th of July. He asked for some groceries and she served him. He paid her two 25c pieces and I took them as good and put them in the till. When Detective Shore called I gave them to him.

To Mr. Stone she said that she did not discover that she had the bad coins until the following Wednesday, and could identify the coins as the ones he gave her. She heard that the Murphy's were suspected of passing the counterfeit coin.

In being re-examined by Mr. Devlin, the witness said that during the week previous to the 12th of July, Levi, a brother of the accused, came in and got some mixed candies and gave her a counterfeit 10c. piece. She said that she knew it was bad, but she could not identify the piece produced in court.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT.

The next witness was Wm. Elliott, who on being sworn said that he was the husband of the last witness. He knew the accused, Allan Murphy. He said that he was not in the shop when the money was passed.

Mr. Stone asked that this case be dismissed.

The magistrate then dismissed the prisoner on this charge for lack of evidence.

FREDERICK MURPHY—FIRST CHARGE.

The next case was that against Frederick Murphy charged with passing one counterfeit 25c. piece on July 12th in the store of Wm. Elliott at Mount Horeb.

The first witness in this ease was Wm. Elliott, who, being sworn said that he knew the poisoner Fred. Murphy. He came in the witness' store on the 12th of July and purchased 10c worth of machine oil for which he handed him one 25c piece and he gave him his change. He put the coin in the till. It was rumored that the Murphy family were suspected of circulating counterfeit money, and on the following Wednesday he examined the till and found the spurious coin. Mr. Shore, the detective, got the coins.

To Mr. Stone:—He could not swear positively that he got the counterfeit coin from them.

The magistrate then committed the prisoner for trial on that charge.

FREDERICK MURPHY—SECOND CHARGE.

Frederick was then given a hearing on a second charge, that of having passed counterfeit coin on Walter Fleming, in the township of Ops, and Walter Fleming was the first witness, who said that the accused came to his residence on the 3rd of August to purchase some honey. He paid him a 25c, piece which proved to be counterfeit. Mr. Shore got the piece.

To Mr. Shore he said that he had no other money in his pocket. He could not say how long he kept it. He would not swear that he got the coin from Murphy. He did not know how Detective Shore knew that he had a counterfeit coin.

MR. SHORE.

Detective Shore was again put in the box, and after stating his mission in Lindsay as given above, said he asked Mr. Fleming if he had any counterfeit money and he said yes, and that he got it from Fred Murphy.

The Col. also committed Fred Murphy on this charge.

The court then adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Walter Brooks, of Peterborough, Barely Escapes Death by Drowning.

A very narrow escape from death by drowning was the experience of Walter T. Brooks, son of Mr. Thos. Brooks, of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company.

With his friend David Price, at whose father's house in Belleville young Brooks was visiting, the lads took a skiff and started for a sail, intending to go to Massassaga Point, a popular summer resort, four miles from the Bay city. It was between three and four o'clock when they reached the steamer "Ella Rose," which was going down the bay. The boys got in the swell of the steamer, and, as is often the case, the boat capsized and the boys were soon struggling in the water. Young Brooks managed to hold to the boat for some time but Master Price went down before a rescue party arrived and was drowned. His companion was taken from his serious position completely exhausted and the doctors who were called in had great difficulty in reviving him. Mrs. Brooks went down to Belleville last evening, and is now with her son at Massassaga Point.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 24 1895,

A CRIMINAL DETECTIVE.

William Greer, provincial detective, is in jail at Perry Sound. He sought to arrest a whiskey pedler, and the pedler ran away. Whereupon the detective drew his gun and fired three shots at the fugitive. The third shot brought the man down with a bullet through his shoulder. The wound is serious and the detective is held until it be ascertained whether the pedler will live. The telegraphic dispatch containing this information proceeds to say that if the pedler dies "a charge of manslaughter will likely be preferred against the detective." We agree with the Hamilton Spectator in asking why manslaughter? Why not murder? The criminal code gives the constable power to use force to prevent escape from arrest, "provided such force is neither intended nor likely to cause death nor grievous bodily harm." In this case grievous bodily harm has already resulted, and death may follow. The detective may say that he did not "intend to shoot the man; but the fact that he did shoot him seem to the ordinary mind to be proof that the detective was not overly careful in pointing his pistol so as to avoid death or grievous bodily harm.

The pedler had been selling whiskey illegally. Many men sell whiskey with the sanction of the law. Therefore there is nothing criminal in the mere act of selling whiskey. The pedlers offense against the law consists in the fact that he had not secured the permission of Sir Oliver Mowat's government to sell whiskey—not a capital crime, surely. Had the pedler madegood his escape from the detective neithe rlife nor property would have been endangered by his being at large. There was no excuse whatever for the shooting. The man's crime was no greater than that of the cabman who neglects to secure his license. A provincial detective ought to know these things. He cannot plead ignorance of the law. The shooting was quite unjustifiable; the facts that the shooter was a detective and the shootee a whiskey pedler who had no license are no justification whatever. The detective had no more right to shoot that man than any ordinary citizen has to shoot another without cause. In the ordinary citizen's case, if the victim dies, murder is charged, Why should it be manslaughter in the detectives's case?

King Menelik of Abyssinia, according to Mr. Flad, a German missionary, is surrounded by French and Russian agents. He asserts that he will whip the Italians, and then, crossing the Red Sea, will free Jerusalem, as the direct descendant of David and of Solomon.

The Globe's standing conundrum. "Has the National Policy made you rich?" has been withdrawn from the columns of that paper. It is understood that a brand new conundrum is to appear in a few days, which will likely read "How is your liver?"

John Dunn is dead again. He was the white man who had lived for twenty years among the Zulus when the British attacked Cetewayo, and who was made Governor of Zululand by Sir Garnet Wolseley after the war was over. His death has been reported a number of times.

On a continent where the English language overwhelmingly predominates it is absurd to try and perpetuate French as anything but an accomplishment. The surprise is that the Christian Brothers of Ottawa should desire to let the children in their schools grow up ignorant of the commercial language of the country.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHASTE SOCIETY.

The Extravagancies of the Times discussed—A Loan Wanted—Beyond the Vaile—A Literary Treat.

Amongst the vistors present at the Hall of Wisdom last night was, Councilors Best, Stone, Denne, Sproule, and Cahill, Razor Reynolds, (Port Hope), Wm Campbell and Dr. Shaw, Keene; R J. Munro, W. Graham, Dr. Frazer and T. Pettit, Lakefield; W. McFarlane, (President of the Young's Point Liver Complaint Soceity, lately absorbed by the Lime Juice Club) P. P. Young, Capt. Scollard, James Kearney, Young's Point; John Holmes, Burleigh Falls; James Baptie and Robt. Stewart, Frazerville; Mayor Kendry, W. Snowden, Jus. Gough, D. Davidson, Bob. Fife and John McKee, Peterborough. In addition to these gentlemen there were also a large number of titled personages present, consisting of 44 "Reeves" 11 "Colonels" 22 "Captains," 9 "Hons." and 2 "Knights."

There was an unstudied picturesqueness in the attitude of the President as he got rid a cinder in his left eye and began:

"Gentlemen," Sir Richard began, as he gave his nose a last wipe with a red cotton handkerchief, "I hold in my hand a petition from Mary Jane Bascomb, Toronto, asking this Club to use its inflence to suppress extravagance among the people of this continent. I have been giving the subject a great deal of thought of late, and find that the last few years has developed such streaks of extravagance that itis high time some action was taken by an organization like this Club. A few years ago the average woman was satisfied with an ordinary print dress and articles to match, but now where is she? Why, gentlemen, right in sight of my residence are no less than a dozen women who walk out with their bombazine dresses trailing way back, twenty shilling parasols lifted on high, and hats on their heads which never cost less then five to ten dollars. And this, too, when their husbands are scarcely making rent and taxes out of their businesses. I hear of families of workingmen buying ice cream for dessert, strawberries every day of the week for supper during their season, and talking about renting a box at the Post office. I see man who does not earn a dollar a day, with a family to keep, sporting blue neckties, costing 50 cents, and actually putting on kid gloves on Sunday morning! I know of people who pretend to work in summer and live on the corporation in winter, who have cane-seat chairs in the parlor, and like enough a stuffed chair along with them! The clean white floor is covered with a carpet—yes, with a carpet, and the walls are cromos refulgent with gorgeousness! What did our grandfathers and our 4-fathers do? Didn't they live and grow fat and die honest folks and never have any such richness? I tell you that we are living too fast. We have to hold back. When an honest, hard-working dollar-a-day working man must have a stuffed chair to sit down on, a walnut tables to eat his meals on, regular hinges on the front gate, same as the rich folks, than you look out to see crime increase and the measels go whooping through the country.

A LOAN WANTED.

The Secretary announced a letter from "General" Metheral, asking a temporary loan of 40 cents, and promising to refund it at the earliest opportunity.

Putty Konnal was about to rise and offer a resolution granting the loan, when the President waved him down and said:

"This Club makes no loans of less than $15,000, on account of the trouble of making out the papers and putting letters in the post office. The request of Bro. Metheral will therefore be classed under the head of "neglected communications."

BEYOND THE VALE.

"As I was going to remark," said the President, as Bro. Mervin ceased shuffling his feet, "we do not know what a day may bring forth. At the last meeting all was joy and peace, and excepting that we expected another cold dip, we felt that life was full of pleasant spots and clam chowder. To-day—just one short week—it is my apprehensive duty to inform you of the death of our brother, Judge Holdback, of Lindsay. From what I can learn of the sad occurrence, he came to his last hour by falling off the roof of a house. What he was doing on the roof of that house it is not for me to say, except that it was likely he had crawled up there to watch the circus procession. Anyway the fall broke his neck, and the doctors could not save him. He was 56 years of age, and his appetite was good. He joined the club about ten months ago, and he has taken a very lurid interest in its prospects ever since. He had arranged to visit us in the spring and deliver a lecture in this Hall on "How to Live to a Good Old Age," but death steps in and where is Bro. Holdback? As the circus is to be in our midst to-morrow, I hope this will be a warning not to climb on the tops of houses in order to see the elephant. What is the sense of the meetings."

A RESOLUTION.

Cautious Miller said that he was deply grieved to learn that the judge had passed away, and suggested that an action be brought against the circus company for a million dollars.

Bro. Nutmeg Cunningham thought that a resolution of sympathy would be more in order, and thereupon moved the following:

"Whereas it has come to the knowledge of this Club that Judge Holdback, of Lindsay, is no more with us in this cold vale; therefore,

"Resolved that the acute sympathies of the Club in general and each member in particular are hereby tendered to the widow and the fatherless, and that a black ribbon shall be hung on the triangle for thirty days. It is also further

"Resolved that the members of this Club are hereby warned not to climb on the roofs of houses at this or any other season of the year."

The resolution was put and carried by 1921 to 1—Bro. Crease LeBrun voting contrary to sp'te Gus. Gough for bidding 40 without a king.

A LITERARY TREAT.

"I wish here to explain," said the President as he adjusted his spectacles and brushed up his front hair. "That the Hon. Higginbottom Lawless, of Port Hope is present in the ante room and burning to deliver his celebrated address on 'Sentiments.' He arrived hear three or four days ago, and has finished my last barrel of apples, worn my Sunday coat right along, and will be a dead-head on me till he can speak his piece and catch a mixed freight train going to Port Hope. The committee will escort him in, and if that water-pail is upset or any lamps knocked down during his delivery the guilty wretch or wretches will receive a lesson that will remain solid for a hundred years."

THE HON.

The Hon. Lawless appeared with a pair of red gloves in one hand and a lemon in the other, and such was his placidity of mind that when he bit into one of the gloves in place of the lemon he never even changed color. He sized up five feet and six inches, intelligent expression, head cast in the shape of a pear, and feet large enough to trample an onion bed out of sight. He mounted the platform like a steer climbing a side-hill, bowed right and left in response to the applause, and quietly began:

"My friends, I cannot express the pleasure and gratification which I feel to find myself standing here under the sacred shingles of the Hall of Wisdom—a structure whose name is a household word whever the English language greets the ear. (Applause.) I would rather stand here than be buried under a $10,000 monument. Cheers.

The subject of my address is Sentiment. What is sentiment? Where do we get it, and what is it worth by the pound when the market is not overstocked? I answer that sentiment is a sort of molasses and mush surrounding the heart. In some case sit hardens out and turn to stone, while in others it thins out until the heart fairly floats in a pond of sweetness. (Applause. Sentiment has much to do with every action in our every day life. It is business when you start to borrow a pan of flour or a basket of potatoes. It is sentiment that causes a neighbour to lend, instead of demanding spot cash. (Wild applause from Bro. Blanchard) Business actuates the lazy and the shiftless to and old clothes and dimes and quarters. Sentiment actuates women to shed tears over them and stock them up with enough to loaf on for another month. When we have a kicking horse our sentiment is appealed to. We argue the safety of our loved ones requires us to trade that animal off to some preacher who wants a perfectly reliable horse. That's one kind of sentiment. When we buy an excursion ticket to Niagara Falls and reach the grand cataract after a thirty hours' sweat on a cattle car, the immense waste of water appeals to another sort of sentiment. When we love we reveal another phrase of sentiment. If the girl is high-toned and rich the sentiment is all solid. If she is only avaerage, and in debt for her last spring hat, the sentiment is pretty thin and won't last longer than the first bill for meat comes in. (Cries of "You bet!")

"My friends, sentiment writes poetry with one hand and tans the back of the children with the other. It guides our thoughts to friends over the sea. It makes us shed tears for the dead, and yet warns us to cut the undertaker's bill down 20 per cent. Sentiment tells us to love our fellow-men, and yet whispers to us to lock our doors and places torpedoes in our fruit gardens. (Groans.) I have been looking into the matter for the last forty-eight years, and I have come to the conclusion that it was a wise thing to provide the human race with sentiment. If it had been left out by any accident in the mixing the best man among us wouldn't have got a bid if put up at auction along with a lot fence-posts. I could talk to you for three straight weeks on this subject, but observing that my half hour is up I will chop off right here, and hope that it may be my pleasure at some future day to meet you again. Any person who wants his fortune told will find me in the ante room for the next two hours." (Cheers and yells, and such vigorous stamping that three lamps and twenty-two feet of stovepipe fell down and Sir Richard adjourned the meeting.)

Market Reports.

PETERBOROUGH

The market is brightening up. New grain is coming in. Wheat is fetching from 65c to 70; oats 30c for new and for old 34c. Hay is still advancing; new timothy is selling at $16 per ton, and mixed at $14. New potatoes are plentiful at 15c per peck; other new vegetables are much sought after. Plums and all kinds of small fruits are in good demand at fair prices.

Live stock day next Tuesday, when a large number of hogs and sheep are expected. Prices are firmer. Also a good demand for horses and cattle by foreign buyers.

MONTREAL

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

AUG. 23.—No new feature has come to light in the local live stock trade. The market at Point St. Charles was well attended to-day by buyers and the supply of stock was large. Purchasing was done on pretty much the same basis as on Monday and the changes in values were only nominal. A nice lot of superior cattle were sold at about 4-1-4c per lb, but the average of the offering was very much lower. Good butchers' stock changed hands at 3 1-4c to 3-1-2c, in an occasional way the price going up to 3 3-4c. Poorer quality was disposed of for all the way from 2c to 3c and some lean animals went as low as 1 3-4c. Calves went at $5 to $7 apiece. Good export sheep were bought at 3c to 3 1-2c and lambs averaged 2 3-4c on the scales. Hogs have not yet shown any tendency to strengthen, and keep dull at last market prices. They sold to-day at from 5c to 5 3-4c, around which price they have hovered for some time. This price is not expected to go any lower, but it is difficult just yet to say when it will rise. At the East End Abattoir offerings were fairly large, but very little business was done. Prices ranged the same as on Monday. The following are the shipments of live stock for the week ending August 21, as prepared by Robert Bickerdike of the Live Stock Exchange here:—August 16, Gerona, for London, 328 cattle and 1,545 sheep; August 25, Rosarian, for London, 323 cattle and 1,100 sheep; August 15, Parkmore for Liverpool, 726 cattle and 869 sheep; August 17, Mariposa, for Liverpool, 61 cattle and 1,785 sheep; August 21, Lake Huron, for Liverpool, 505 cattle and 1,070 sheep; August 15, Etolia, for Bristol, 341 cattle and 323 sheep; August 15, Warwick, for Glasgow, 399 cattle and 531 sheep; August 20, Pomeranian, for Glasgow, 400 cattle; August 21, Aviona, for St. Malo, 281 cattle. Total, 3,364 cattle and 7,225 sheep.

Lord Wolseley's appointment as Commander-in-chief of the British army indicates that henceforth ability and not birth will count. Members of the reigning family have hitherto held the position just because they happened to be of the blood royal.

Greensburg is one of those Kansas towns in which it should be a pleasure and a privilege not to live. Five years ago it had 2,500 inhabitants. Now there are 123. It has a bonded debt of $45,000 with practically no valuation to pay it. The few people now there decline to pay their taxes, and lots and buildings are being sold by the County Treasurer. Farmers come into town and buy tax certificates for little or nothing. These they desire for the buildings, which they remove, caring nothing for the lots. Five years ago a flouring mill was erected at a cost of $7,000, the city giving $3,000 in cash. Recently this building was purchased for a few dollars and removed to Colorado.

THE CHEESE BOARD.

All the Factories Sold at a Good Price—3,784 Boxes Boarded.

The factories sold readily at the meeting of the Cheese Board yesterday afternoon. All the factories except two sold for 7½c.

The buyers present were Messrs. Jones, Fitzgerald, Hodgson, Madden, Spence, Cook and Wrighton.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

Mr. Drummond read the following report:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your committee appointed to investigate the charge against certain factories for selling off the Board beg leave to report that the factories so selling are liable to expulsion, but, as there had been two markets and no sale with very hot weather and the salesmen stating that there factories were filled, therefore under the extreme circumstances we would recommend that the matter be dropped.

J. M. DRUMMOND,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

The following factories were boarded:-

Darlington Union also boarded 350 boxes of July make.

Mr. Madden commenced the bidding with an offer of 7¼c for the board. Mr. Cook bid 7½c for selections; Mr. Hodgson railed to 7 13-16; Mr. Cook lifted to 7⅞c and Oakdale, Westwood, Ormond, Melrose Abbey, Daisy D, Nowood, Keene and Maple Leaf accepted.

Mr. Hodgson started at 7½c; Mr. Madden raised to 7¾ and this was accepted by North Smith, Lakefield, Pine Grove, North Dummer, Young's Point, Peterborough, Otonabee Union, Central Smith, Fraserville and Warminister.

Mr. Hodgson again started the offers at 7½c, and this was not raised, and Lang, Lakeview, Trewern, Cherry Grove, Missing Link, Myrtle took the offer.

Mr. Cook offered 7½c. and Mr. Wrighton raised to 7¾c. and Bensfort, Mount Pleasant and Warsaw accepted.

Mr. Cook bid 7¾c. for further selections and he received Shearer, Blackstock, Fleetwood and Darlington Union (August.)

Mr. Wrighton started at 7½c and Bobcaygeon was taken. He offered 7½c for further selections and Mr. Fitzgerald increased to 7¾c and this was accepted by Millbrook.

Mr. Hodgson made an offer of 7½c for further selections and Mr. Cook brought it up to 7 13-16, and he chose Cedardale and Stony Lake. Ida sold to Mr. Wrighton for 7½c.

Prior to adjourning Mr. J. M. Drummond commented favorably upon the action of factories in selling on the Board and hoped such would be done in future.

The Board adjourned for three weeks.

VERSES

TO JAMES PENNY, ESQ.

My revered friend, to whom I owe
More than a simple, grateful lay,
Which never, never can repay
A debt, whose worth I only know.

That debt, dear friend, thou know'st well,
And yet I hope I do not wrong,
If in these feeble lines of song
My thankful muse should strive to tell.

How in that month of gloomiest days,
And on a dark and stormy night,
Thy presence like a gleam of light
First shed across my path the rays

Of brighter hope which had till then
Been waning more and more each day,
So that far happier sped away
The hours to prisoner in his den

Than they to me, though unconfined,
For he had hope of being free.
But hope seemed ever fled for me
And darkness brooded o'er my mind,

Till thou, as with a guiding hand
From out a dark and barren waste,
Did'st lead my faltering steps, and placed
Me in a bright and flowery land.

Then sped my bark of life along:
Then did the winds of fortune blow:
Then did the happy moments flow
Like strains of sweet familiar song.

May every good and perfect gift
Attend thee as thou journey'st on,
Till at the last—may it be long
God's angel shall descend and lift

Thy soul to its divine abode,
And they who mourn thy loss shall say:
He lived a long and noble day,
Nobly towards man, and to his God.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most case removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co. STONY LAKE ITEMS.

What is Going on at This Suburban Summer Resort—Goings and Comings.

Miss Ella Brooks, of Percy, is visiting at "Water Lee Brae" at present.

Mr. and Miss Edmonds, of Peterborough, are rusticating at "Cedar Lodge" at present.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Birt are rusticating at the lake and are the guests of H. G. Buck, of "Cedar Lodge."

Mrs. S. Griffin and daughter have returned to Norwood after spending a couple of weeks with her brother, P. W. Reynolds, "Cedar Lodge."

Mr. E. S. Piper, Miss Knowles, of Buffalo, and Mr. Hiram Piper, of Toronto, passed through Saturday morning to Kimo Cottage, Stony Lake.

Miss Hettie A. Richardson, of Detroit, and Miss Mary Miles, of Troy, N.Y., who have been visiting relatives at the lakes, have departed for their respective homes.

Miss Lena McCrae, of Toronto, and John Mein of the Canadian Canoe Company of Peterborough, and Dr. J. C. Moffat and family of Norwood, have taken up their quarters with "Mack" for a few days.

Lewis Kirkpatrick, of Norwood, spent a few days at the lake. He made his headquarters with "Mack" and returned by boat through the beautiful scenery of Stony and Clear Lakes to Lakefield.

H. G. Buck has engaged an engineer for his yacht "Lily," and he is going to enjoy the pleasant breezes by cruising over the beautiful waters of the lake. This arrangement will allow Mr. Buck to man the wheel and enjoy his outing much better.

On Wednesday evening while Dr. Moffat and Mr. Mein were returning from "Cedar Lodge" they met with an accident by the capsizing of the canoe and were towed to shore by Mr. Walker of "Water Lee Brae." The Dr. enjoyed the sport immensely and neither gentlemen were any the worse for their involuntary bath.

Boschink Camp, at Stony Lake, is probably the largest in Canada today, there being fifty six souls all told who are enjoying themselves within its precincts. When a steamer steams into the wharf there are a score or so of the campers down to welcome new arrivals, and altogether those putting in the season at beautiful Boschink seem to be having a most enjoyable time.

The camp is at present composed of the following, the majority of whom are Peterboronians:—

Messrs. G. Rubridge, Adam Hall, Robt. Hall, W. G. Ferguson, Stewart S. Robertson, W. Stern, S. Adams, J. Jeffries, E. Moore, W. Saddler, R. H. Bradburn, W. T. Hall, T. Ferguson, W. Connel, H. Mrs. W. G. Ferguson, Mrs. Adam Hall, Mrs. G. Rubidge, Mrs. Robt. Hall, Misses, Hall, Natress, B. Connel, K. Hall, K. Ferguson, T. Hall, A. Hall, M. Hall, Ruby Harkness, G. Kenday, M. McAlpine, M. Bradburn, M. Robinson, J. Hall, I. Hall, E. Best, A. Hamilton, J. Henderson, E. Jeffries, B. Kerby, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Stark.

THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Changes and Failures Throughout al Ontario

Vance & Co, the Colborne street commission merchants, have offered their creditors 40 cents on the dollar.

Charles Pearce, dry goods, Seaforth, is offering to compromise.

Sargent & Moore, general store, Iron Bridge, has assigned to Richard Tew.

A. J. Evans, builder, Kincardine, has assigned to J. M. Stewart.

J. H. Blong, men's furnishings, Port Perry, has assigned to H. L. Ebbels.

Editors of weekly papers are falling into line with the large crowd of summer tourists and excursionists in having a little leisure time. The Hastings Star will not be published this week, to allow its staff a few days' vacation; The Millbrook Reporter and the Lakefield News take a rest next week; the Stirling News Argus will be silent this week; and the Norwood Register's presses will not run for two weeks. Editor Young, of Trenton, is also holidaying, on a trip to Ireland, Scotland and France.

A FATAL RIDE.

A Grand Trunk Employee Dashed Against a Beam and Killed.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—There was a fatal accident on the G.T.R. at St. Anne's this morning. It appears that Angus McDonald, the twenty year old son of Donald McDonald, laborer, 1 Dorchester street was taking a ride without permission on the top of a freight car. When the tunnel at St. Anne's was reached the young man's forehead struck square against the cross beam at the entrance, crushing in his skull. The unfortunate youth was brought to Montreal and at 6 a.m. he was removed in the amublance to Notre Dame Hospital where his death is hourly expected.

A Mysterious Deed.

CLEVELAND, O., August 23.—C. B. Cameron, of Columbus, O., was found dead in his room at the Weddell House this morning. A revolver lay on the floor near him. There were six bullet holes in Cameron's body. Detectives believe it to be a case of suicide. Cameron was a high Mason, wearing a mystic shrine pin and a diamond ring.

Sturt's Body to Have a Decent Burial.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—Coroner McMahon received a letter from Toronto yesterday from the friends of the young Scotchman. Sturt, who was asphyxiated at the Richelieu hotel last Saturday, requesting him to have the body buried in the Protestant cemetery here. They state they will pay all the expenses of the funeral.

THEY WERE DRUNK

How Robert and Richard Warwick Met Death in the Thames.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The evidence at the inquest on the bodies of Robert and Richard Warwick, who were drowned in the river Sunday night showed that the deceased, together with their cousin, John Warwick were drunk. John testified that Robert first fell out of the boat. Richard jumped in to save him. The witness said he was very drunk and fell asleep in the boat, not waking up until Monday morning. The keeper of Ward's hotel at Springfield admitted having served drinks to the three on Sunday. The inquest was adjourned.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. GRAIN CROPS ARE GOOD.

Bulletin Issued by the Bureau of Industries —Light Crop of Hay.

According to the crop report issued by the Ontario Bureau of Industries there will be a good grain harvest. The chief feature of the report is the lightness of the hay crop. The season has been a most trying one to pastures. The prolonged drought rendered the fields bare and brown. In some places in the west live stock are said to have bitten the grass to the roots; a few farmers cut down small trees and fed the leaves to the cattle as a treat, and others fed growing oats and peas to the animals. These, however, were exceptional cases. There was a marked decrease in the milk flow, in some instances amounting to 50 per cent. of the June record.

Reports regarding fall wheat are not unanimous, although on the whole they may be regarded as favorable. The crop was cut earlier than usual, but notwithstanding the rapid ripening the berry is frequently described as plump and of good quality. The spring wheat crop was ripening unevenly as correspondents wrote and only a small portion has been cut. The area is reported as a little smaller than usual, and the yield is 14.8 bushels per acre, the drought and the grasshoppers making a strong combination against it.

There has been a wide range in the fields of oats reported, some very poor fields being referred to, while others are mentioned as giving as high as 62 and 70 bushels per acre. The average yield is 31.6 bushels per acre this year, which is about three bushels below the average.

ENGINEER SCHRIEBER IN TOWN

The Chief Government Engineer Talks About the T. V. Canal.

Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, Chief Government Engineer, at Ottawa, arrived in town yesterday morning and in company with Mr. R. B. Rogers and Mr. H. T. Strickland, drove to Lakefield and went over the proposed route of the Trent Valley canal at that point.

Mr. Schrieber was seen at the Huffman last night, and when approached by THE TIMES, talked freely of the work in progress. He is an erect, elderly gentleman, very affable in manner, and he courteously answered questions pertaining to the canal.

"Yes, work on the Lakefield section is under way and progressing well. The contractors have a dozen men at work, clearing the land, which of course, is the preliminary work.

"Then the new road diversions must be attended to. Wherever the highway crosses the canal, the roads must be diverted and new ones made, and this is the work that will be gone on with at once. The contractors, I think, will push the work as fast as practical, and it won't be long before the woods will be full of laborers.

"I like your town very much. It looks prosperous and is undoubtedly forging ahead. It is a very pretty town, and the surroundings are delightful. I greatly admired the scenery along the river as I drove from Lakefield this evening."

In answer to a question Mr. Schrieber said, "there is not the slightest doubt that the Lakefield section will be built at once. Do you think the government would buy up all that land at Lakefield, if it wasn't the intention to build the canal?"

Mr. Schrieber will leave this morning for the Balsam Lake section.

A DAY'S OUTING.

Geo. Matthew's Co. Employees Spend the Day at Jubilee Point.

The Geo. Matthews Co.s' employees' excursion to Jubilee Point yesterday was a huge success. In fact the boys say they had a hog killin' time.

Fully 250 boarded the City of Peterborough in the morning, and the trip down the river was immensely enjoyable.

At the Point a day of excellent sport rejuvenated the employees. A program of games was faithfully carried out. The prize winners were:

Fat men's race, 100 yards—1, Frank Matthews.

Employees' race, 100 yards—1, R. Castle; 2, P. Corsey.

Girls' race, 50 yards—1, Katie Green; 2, Bessie Jones.

Single mens' race, 100 yards—1, L. Guerin; 2, T. Bacon.

Three-legged race, 50 yards—1, S. Gaskin; 2, C. Dunnett.

Married women's race—1, Mrs. R. Goodenough; 2, Mrs. Conroy.

Married men's race—1, George Matthews; 2, A. Pellis.

The tug-of-war was competed in by the stalwarts of the establishment. One team was captained by Mr. W. Green and the other by Mr. Frank Baxter. After a hard tug, a mighty tug and an altogether tug, Mr. Green's team won the match amid the shouts of the on-lookers.

An interesting football match and a baseball match followed the above sports, and brought to a close an enjoyable afternoon's fun.

Did he Slay His Daughter.

TOWN TOPICS.

Possibly the next municipal law suit will be Town of Peterborough vs. Ashburnham, to recover $800 which the town claims is due from the village for fire protection. At present the case stands in this position: The town has notified the village clerk that unless the debt is paid at once, the town will immediately take other proceedings to collect, with emphasis on "other proceedings" which gives those words an ominous meaning. It is very probable that unless the village council orders the issuance of a check for this amount at its next regular meeting, the town will immediately go to law.

In 1872 an agreement was drawn up between the two corporations, in which the village of Ashburnham agreed to pay one tenth of the cost of all fire appliances and maintenance of the town fire department, in return for the protection these appliances and this department would give Ashburnham. The town claims that the sum of $800 has long been due, while Ashburnham calmly ignores the debt, until goaded by the indifference of the village solons, the town is determined to have its money.

The Ashburnham council is of the opinion that, when all accounts are totalled up, it will be found that they have paid more than one tenth of the cost of the fire department. They do not think it is a just debt, and they say they will never pay it—at least some of the councillors talk that way.

As to the legal merits of the case, the village council have not much faith in the validity of the agreement. It was never stamped by the corporation seals, and all its terms have not been carried out by the town. One clause provides that two members of the Village Council shall sit at every meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and this provision has been a dead letter.

But we are inclined to think that the town has the best of the situation, for it can cut off the village without fire protection, and then up will go the village insurance rate. It is "third class" now, but only upon the representation that the village has a fire engine.

Dr. Cansalmon, who lives on the edge of beautiful Rice Lake was at the Oriental last night. He is in town taking a course of lessons in hypnotism, and incidentally, was chatting with his numerous friends, telling stories and swapping news. When THE TIMES sauntered in to get the hotel arrivals, the doctor was surrounded by a crowd to whom he was relating the details of a discovery he had made several weeks before.

"Yes," he was saying, "Rice Lake has a hermit, a strange, uncanny looking old man, grizzled and gray, who has lived all alone for years in a little hut that stands hidden among the trees on the edge of the lake. He lives on fish and game and was never known to exist, until I accidentally came upon him. At the time I was trolling for lunge, when looking back I observed a skiff plowing through the the water at a tremendous speed. It had neither sail, oars, paddle wheels or propeller, and naturally I felt a chill run up and down my back when I saw the unusual sight. In the bow of the skiff sat my little hermit, holding in his hands a pair of lines made of buckskin, and he was pulling first one and then the other, and as he pulled, the skiff would turn in the direction indicated by this guidance. He seemed not to notice me at all and passed so near my boat that the spray from his bow flew all over me. Then I was enabled to learn the secret of his craft. Would you believe me gentlemen, he had five big lunge harnessed to his skiff, and was driving them at will like so many oxen. The leader must have weighed fully 100 pounds, and the other four were a little lean, perhaps weighing 75 or 80 pounds. The harness was conveniently arranged, the guiding apparatus consisting of a steel wire which fitted in the mouth, and was fastened back of the gills. When my hermit wanted the lunge to go faster, he had a long rod in the boat to which was fastened a small sunfish. He would plunge this about a foot under water ahead of the fish, the lunge which led would immediately make a spurt to catch it and of course the others followed, and away would go the skiff at the the rate of 50 miles an hour. Ahem,—just press the button, Buckey, and have a drop of skee and 'polly.

Bird Foods Explained...

Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of bird seed in the market? Because we have made birds and bird foods the study of a lifetime, therefore we know just what birds require, and each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected seed with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25c. Much of the seed fed to birds is positively injurious. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

SHAMROCKS VS. CAPITALS

THE GREAT GAME IN TORONTO WAS A DRAW EACH WINNING THREE GOALS.

Carson Ruled off for a Foul—Jake Gaudaur Beats Durnan by Half a Length—John S. Johnson Beats Fred Young and Wins the $1,000—Civic Holiday Sports in Toronto.

(Special to the Times.)

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—Ten thousand people witnessed the great lacrosse match between the Shamrocks and the Capitals this afternoon at the Island. The result was a draw, and darkness prevented the tie being played off. Each team scored three goals. It was a splendid exhibition game, and both teams played great lacrosse. In the fifth game, Carson, of the Capitals was ruled off for a foul, and the sixth game was played with 11 men on each team.

Jake Gaudaur Beats Durnan.

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—The race between Champion Jake Gaudaur and Eddie Durnan was witnessed by thousands. Gaudaur shot past the finish buoy ½ length ahead of Durnan, who gave him a great race.

Johnston Defeats Young.

TORONTO, Aug. 19—John S. Johnson and Fred Young raced a mile on the island track this afternoon for $1,000 a side. Young challenged Johnson several days ago and much interest was centered in the results. Johnson easily defeated Young. Time: Johnson, 2.07; Young, 2.17½.

VOLNEY ASHFORD'S SENTENCE.

The British Government Asks Hawaii to Cancel It For Cause.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Advices from Honolulu to the 14th instant by the steamer Australia, which arrived today, state that the British Government has made known its opinion that the late trials that the Military Commission held were lawful, and that the Commission was a valid tribunal and fully within the powers of the Hawaiian Government. The Government has also communicated its opinion that the evidence upon which Col. V. V. Ashford, the Canadian, was convicted by the Military Commission was insufficient, and has asked that the British Government declines to interfere in behalf of Johnstone, the ex-Secret Service man, banished summarily with Cranston.

THE AWFUL COLLAPSE

Of the Coliseum Building in Chicago—Big loss of Life Averted.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The Coliseum building which collapsed last night is totally wrecked, and the loss will reach between $160,000 and $180,000. Had the accident happened an hour before, or a few hours later, the loss of life would have been frightful. At 10 o'clock 300 workmen went off duty and at 3 o'clock a.m., 300 more were to have gone to work. It is believed to have resulted from the giving away of the foundation of one of the great arches. The building was 750 feet long, 350 feet wide, and 86 feet high, and there was not a pillar to obstruct the house from any part.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills however has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

BLOOMERS AT THE ALTAR.

Married By a Justice the Pair Rode Away on Bicycles.

Special to The Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Two young men, or two young women, it could not be determined which at first glance, entered County Clerk Kemp's office this morning, leading bicycles. They advanced to Marriage Clerk Salmonson's desk and asked for a license. They gave the names of Geo. W. Clark and Eva Mae Christen, aged 21 and 19 years respectively. They got a license and hurried to the office of a Justice of the peace, where they were joined by another young lady in bloomers, who acted as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed, and the party mounted their wheels and rode off.

Beat His Daughter to Death.

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—Coroner Graham, of Hull, has received from the magistrate at Maniwak village, on the borderland of the Great Northern forests of the Upper Gatineau, the sworn depositions of three witnesses to a murder in the Indian camp, 40 miles from that place. The charge is that an Indian named Francois beat to death his 16 year old daughter. There will probably be an inquest.

Death and Destruction at Uxbridge.

UXBRIDGE, Ont., Aug. 22.—Last night the boiler in William Gordon's planing mill at Udora exploded with terrific force, shattering the mill and killing an employee of the mill named Thompson, whose friends reside in Sutton. The money loss is estimated at $1,000.

Joseph Booth Did not Commit Suicide.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 22. — The despatch sent from here on Monday last, stating that Joseph Booth, barber at the Clifton House, had deliberately waded out into the Niagara river and had been carried over the cataract, was entirely without foundation. The story was communicated to the local telegraph agent and he wired it without making enquiry.

ANOTHER HOLMES BUILDING.

Said to Have Been Discovered in Chicago by an Amateur Detective.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Another of H. H. Holmes mysterious buildings has been discovered. The building is all boarded up and the residents of the vicinity say nothing has been done there for a long time. Two weeks ago they say a man whom they identify as Pat Quinlan carted away the last of the furniture and other stuff that was in the building. It was here that Holmes carried on his glass bending business and it is this place for which the police have been looking for more than a month and never found, it being discovered by an amateur detective. Inside there are now nothing but scraps of iron and sheeting with the ruins of the furnaces, which ran the entire length of the building. Pat Quinlan seems to have been the presiding genius of the place.

THE WILLIAMS' MESSAGE

Believed by the Providence Detectives to Have Been a Joke.

Special to the Times.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 22.—The detectives regard the telegram sent from Providence by "Minnie R. Williams" as a joke. They have no knowledge that any such person has ever been in Providence. The original message is in the possession of the W. U. Telegraph Company, and as the company refuse to allow it out of their hands the handwriting cannot be compared with that of the girl's.

PICKED UP WITH HER DEAD.

News of a Wrecked Sealing Schooner—Her Ghastly Cargo.

Special to The Times.

SEATTLE, Wash., August 22.—Capt. Higgins, of the steamer Excelsior, which arrived yesterday direct from St. Michael's and Unalaska, brings news of the wreck of the sealing schooner Walter Earle, of Victoria. Eleven dead Indians were found heaped in the forecastle. The wreck was sighted and picked up by the steamer Francis Cutting, from Seattle to Kodiak, about the middle of July. The Earle was capsized on or about April 14, during a terrific gale, off Kodiak Island, and though a number of craft and steamers were reported to have gone in search for her, none of them found her until the Cutting ran across her drifting with the swells and tides. She was bottom up, and there was nothing about her to indicate that any of the ill-fated crew had made any attempt to struggle to her upturned bottom in hope of prolonging life after she went over. Her rudder was gone, and this to the practised eye of the mariner told the story of the wreck as well as words could have done. The sealing schooner Brena, of Victoria, was also wrecked July 1st on the coast of Shumshu Island, Alaska. The crew were picked up by the British steamer Genevieve.

Double Drowning at Port Arthur.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22.—A fatal drowning accident occurred at Heron Bay, near Port Arthur today. Angus McPhee and James Whalen, both of the latter place, lost their lives.

Got a Shock from a Wire.

WINDSOR, Aug. 22.—Chas. McLeod, a lineman employed by the Windsor, Sandwich and Amherstburg street railway, was at the top of a pole this morning, when his body came into contact with a loose wire and he got the strength of the current, five hundred ohms. He will recover.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money making pointers ALL FREE Our Manual explains margin trading fully Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Successful Tent Social.

The tent social in connection with the Charlotte street Methodist church, postponed since Tuesday, was held last night on the church lawn, and was attended by a large number of citizens, who spent a very pleasant evening.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 651 Stewart street.

Police Court Notes.

A man giving the name of John H. Williams appeared in the police court yesterday before Mr. R. S. Davidson, J. P., on a charge of vagrancy. He has been offering for sale a compound for removing stains and had made himself obnoxious to some citizens. The presiding magistrate remanded Williams for one week.

Hollbrook Again In Jail.

Constable Archie Moore arrived from Havelock last night with James Holbrook, who will remain in jail here until the Fall Assizes. At Havelock yesterday Holbrock was up before Magistrate Mathieson on the charge of attempting to murder his daughter. After hearing the evidence the magistrate committed Holbrook for trial, and he was immediately brought to Peterborough.

Joint Excursion to Jubilee.

The A.O.U.W. and I.O.O.F. lodges of Havelock will run an excursion to Jubilee Point on Monday, August 26, by train via the C.P.R. to Peterborough, thence by City of Peterborough to the Point. It will be a great day's outing for the fraternal brethern. Football and baseball matches have been arranged. The occasion is Havelock's Civic holiday and no doubt a large number will take in the excursion.

L. O. L. Excursion.

The twelfth annual excursion of Fraserville Lodge No. 46, L O.L., will be held to Idyl Wyld on Tuesday, September 3, per City of Peterborough. The steamer will leave the C.P.R. wharf at 7.45 a.m., calling at all intermediate landings and return to Peterborough at 7.30 p.m. Good music has been provided and one of the features of the day will be a foot ball match, for which a football will be the prize.

Another False Alarm.

Shortly after midnight an alarm of fire was sent in from Box 2 and the brigade quickly responded. The firemen found that the box had been broken open with some heavy instrument, and a false alarm sent in. This is the second alarm box that has been destroyed within two months, but only one of many false alarms. There should be a big effort made to find out the guilty parties, and if found they should be prosecuted. The firemen do not relish being called out in the middle of the night for nothing.

A Disastrous Cloudburst.

On Monday of last week, a cloudburst occurred on the farm of Mr. R. Q. Dench, Douro, accompanied by a hail and wind storm. The storm did a large amount of damage while it lasted, completely clearing a field of peas, breaking down corn, and tearing up things generally. About six inches of rain fell, making the fields a complete mudhole. It is said that horses had to be hitched to a number of trees to keep them in their places. Mr. Dench's crop for this season is nearly ruined, as the mud nearly buried everything. The strange thing about it is that his was the only farm that was damaged to any great extent.

Test Your Thermometer.

To tell whether a thermometer accurately does its work invert the instrument. If the mercury does not fall to the end, or if it breaks into several small columns, the thermometer contains air, and is inaccurate. If perfectly made, the slender thread should fill the tube, or should break off at the bulb and fall to the end of the tube. There is another interesting fact about thermometers. Nine persons out of ten think the mercurial column round, but that is not the case. The thread of mercury in thermometers is flat. If it were round, the column could hardly be seen, for the opening of the tube is as fine as the finest thread. Some eight or ten years ago a Boston manufacturer introduced the scheme of coating the back of the tube with white sizing. That makes the column of mercury stand out plain and distinct.

A Narrow Escape.

Mary McPhee, who is about fourteen years of age, had a close call on Monday afternoon, says the Bobcaygeon Independent. She went to the canal in front of Capt. Lane's cottage, and dipped a pail of water. In stepping up the loose stones, piled on the bank recently by the dredge, she slipped, lost her balance, and tumbled into the river. Most fortunately, Mr. Henry Hume, of Port Hope, happened to be walking to the wharf, and saw the young girl tumble. He immediately went to the spot and wading in was at once out of his depth. Mrs. Lane seeing the man run down, came out just in time to throw some pine strips to Mr. Hume, who not being a swimmer had all he could do to save himself. At that moment Mr. Baptie, cook on the steam dredge, who was at the head of the canal in a boat, chanced to see the man struggling in the water, and hurried down. Just as he arrived on the spot, the girl came to the surface, some yards from where she fell in, and Mr. Baptie caught her. In the meantime Mr. Hume who had struggled out again waded in and assisted in lifting the girl into the boat. For a few moments she was unconscious, but regained herself with the relief of the water she had swallowed. She was quickly carried to the Esturion, and under Mrs. Lane's care, soon recovered from the shock and fright. It was a narrow escape.

HE WAS JILTED.

Then He Tried to Prevent the Marriage on Illegal Grounds.

Another case of woman's inconstancy came to light on Thursday.

A well known young man in town has been engaged to a charming young lady for some time, and it was generally believed by their friends that the wedding day was not far distant. As far as the young woman was concerned, it wasn't, for on Thursday she was married to another man.

The young man who thought he was all and all to this inconstant young woman, got wind of the approaching marriage before it took place, and he left nothing undone to prevent the union being solemnized on the ground of prior claim. He couldn't get out an injunction or a writ of replevin, but he imagined he could stop the issuance of the marriage license. In this he was too late, for he learned that the wife of a gentleman in town who issues licenses had furnished his rival with one.

The fact that the license had been issued by a woman, appeared to the young man to be an illegal act, and good grounds upon which to stop the ceremony. It is reported that he made strenous efforts to get a warrant issued for the arrest of both parties, but in this he also failed.

The marriage took place, the knot was tied, and the young man is considering whether he will commit suicide or join the circus.

THE SHOW IS HERE.

Train Loads of Animals, Performers and Canvas Arrive In the Night

Heavily laden trains containing the immense canvas, and menagerie of the Sells Bros'. great show arrived during the night, and hundreds of men have been hard at work all night putting up the tent, unloading the menagerie cages and otherwise getting in readiness for the performances this afternoon and tonight. The show has undoubtedly the largest menagerie on earth.

Their pair of monster hippopotamus are unquestionably the rarest and most valuable wild beasts on exhibition; their flock of ostriches unrivaled; their educated seals and sea lions, rooster orchestra and pig circus, riding peacock, are genuine wonders. An Arabian caravan, magnificent fifty cage menagerie, triple circuses, regal Roman hippodrome, performing arenas, mid air carnivals, tropical aquariums, Australian aviary, athletes and Arabian caravan.

The names of really great performers are legion, and the Hippodrome races given are of the most varied and spirited character. Everybody will want to see the glorious, free, morning street parade at 10 o'clock, and for that matter, the whole world of fun and wonders with Sells' Brothers' everywhere present. Now everybody can have an opportunity of witnessing The Greatest Show on Earth.

NEWS OF THE SPORTS.

The National Circuit Races on Friday—Bicycle Club Meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of the Peterborough Bicycle club will be held at the club rooms, (skating rink) on Tuesday evening, Aug. 27th, at 8 o'clock. Members are requested to be present as business of importance will be transacted.

The National Circuit meet in Peterborough on Friday next should be a great event as many of the fastest American riders have entered. The officials of the meet and the events to be raced and the entries are given below:—

Referee—Geo. H. Orr, chairman, C.W.A. Racing Board, Toronto.

Starter—W. E. Lech, Peterborough.

Judges—A. H. Stratton, Peterborough; Geo. Benor, Campbellford; Hope McGinnis, Belleville; and R. J. Wilson, Kingston.

Timers—E. W. Gaudrie, Campbellford; C. L. Owen, Campbellford; Fred Smith, Belleville; and Geo. J. Horkins, Peterborough.

Umpires—D. Milne, Stirling; T. Howard, Hastings, J. Braiser, Belleville; I. Frederick, Campbellford.

Clerk of Course.—S. B. Ewing, Peterborough.

The entries are large, especially in Class B. The list in full will be published next week. The American entries for the Class B races up to the present are:—

One mile open.—F. B. Rigby and O. P. Bernhart, Cleveland team, Toledo; Arthur Gardner, C. R. Coulter, Monte Scott, Willie DeCardy, E. E. Anderson, Morgan and Wright team, Chicago; F. G. Barnett, Lincoln, Nebraska; Tom Cooper and J. P. Bliss, Monarch team, Chicago; Dr. Brown Cleveland and A. W. Warren, Hartford, Conn,, Sterling team; A. D. Kennedy, Gus Steel, American team, Chicago; Ray McDonald, E. G. Bald and W. Sims, Columbia team, Hartford, Conn.

Half mile handicap—F. B. Rigby, O. P. Bernhart, Toledo; Arthur Gardiner, C. R. Coulter, Monte Scott; Willie DeCardy, E. E. Anderson, Chicago; F. G. Barnett, Lincoln, Nebraska; Tom Cooner and J. P. Bliss, Chicago; Dr. Brown, Cleveland; A. W. Warren, Hartford: A. D. Kennedy and Gus Steele, Chicago; Ray McDonald, E. C. Bald and W. Sims, Hartford.

One mile tandem, Class B—Rigby and Barnhart, Toledo; Van Herrik and Lund, Chicago; Bainbridge and Anderson, Chicago; Cooper and Bliss, Chicago: Brown and Warren, Cleveland; Kennedy and Steele, Chicago.

One mile handicap—T. B. Rigby and O. P. Bernhart, Toledo; Arthur Gardiner, C. R. Coulter, Monte Scott, Willie DeCardy, E. E. Anderson, Chicago; F. G. Barnett, Lincoln, Nebraska; Tom Cooper and J. P. Bliss, Chicago; Dr. Brown, Cleveland; A. W. Warren, Hartford, A. D. Kennedy and Gus Sims, Chicago; Ray McDonald, E. C. Bald and W. Sims, Hartford. Conn.

Two mile open—T. B. Rigby and O. P. Bernhart, Toledo; Arthur Gardner, C. R. Coulter, Monte Scott, Willie DeCardy, E. E. Anderson, Chicago; F. G. Barnett, Lincoln, Nebraska; Tom Cooper and J. P. Bliss, Chicago; Dr. Brown, Cleveland; A. W. Marren. Hartford; A. D. Kennedy and Gus Steele, Chicago; Ray McDonald, E. C. Bald and W. Sims, Hartford.

E. C. Bald, is the American champion and a record breaker. Tom Cooper and J. P. Bliss are renowned riders and have each beaten Bald and Gardner within the past week. Arthur Gardner has won more prizes than any other man on the circuit. C. R. Coulter is the flyer who captured Seagram's horse at Waterloo on Dominion Day. Every one of the Class B entries have shown ability to ride a mile in better than two minutes. All the Canadian riders will be here, and they intend hustling the Yankees. Good hot time limits will be put on every event.

The Post's Criticism.

The Peterborough TIMES of yesterday devoted two sticks of space describing the office dog. Surely in a town the size of Peterborough the able scribe of THE TIMES can find something more interesting for their readers than dog stories.—Lindsay Post.

We have before us "Dumb Animals," a 16 page journal devoted exclusively to dogs, cats, horses, hop-over-thomases and elephants. Surely we may then be excused for a brief reference to our office dog. Dogs have been immortalised in verse and song. Has the Post forgotten that touching poem, which its editor read when he wore bloomers, entitled, "old mother Hubbard went to the cupboard to get her poor dog a bone," and has he not many times felt his heart strings tingle as he listened to that beautiful song. "Daddy wouldn't buy me a bow wow!"

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

Market day.

The Peterborough baseball club will play a game with the Hiawatha's, down the river on Monday.

The fire brigade band will hold their excursion to Jubilee Point a week from today. They have engaged the City of Peterborough.

The funeral of Miss Eva Patterson, whose sad death occurred on Wednesday night, will take place to the Little Lake cemetery today.

Sells Bros'. circus trains arrived shortly after midnight and a large gang of canvas men have been at work all night spreading the immense tent.

The body of Master David Price, who was drowned at Belleville on Monday, was recovered yesterday morning. The funeral took place in the afternoon.

Captain Young and Engineer O'Dette went down the river yesterday afternoon in the steam launch Water Lily and brought up the members of the St. John's choir who were camping at Rice Lake.

Mr. George McWilliams, of Peterborough, has been in the village this week putting up a fine windmill for Mr. E. R. Tate, on the old Nicholls property, which Mr. Tate has purchased, and will erect a handsome dwelling on it.—Lakefield News.

Next Thursday, afternoon and evening, the annual show of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural society will be held in the market hall. The exhibits promise to be large, and there should be a large attendance of citizens to help this association along.

While shunting at Howry's mill yards, Fenelon Falls, Tuesday morning, a mishap occurred to the morning passenger train going north. Two flat cars and a box car were derailed and badly smashed, causing a delay of two hours and a loss to the G.T. R. of about $2,000.

TOWN TOPICS.

There is, undoubtedly, an effort being made by some of the town councillors to defeat Councillor Sproule's chimney sweeping by-law. Strong opposition was evidenced at the last council meeting, at a very oppotune time, too, for barely a quorum of the council was present, and had the 3rd reading of the by-law been voted upon, it might have been defeated. However, Councillor Sproule had it withdrawn for the time being, and when it comes up again, it will likely be carried.

Those old heads in the fire department—the men who have turned out, year after year, in answer to the clanging of the fire bell, will tell you that 7-10ths of the fires in Peterborough have originated from choked chimneys. There is no doubt that this is so. There have been very few incendairy fires in Peterborough, less from lightning, and other than from choked chimneys, the percentage has been small.

Councillor Sproule's by-law will provide against this and will cost the city nothing, and in the end, the citizens nothing. It will not force citizens to pay the inspector to clean the chimneys, but it gives them the opportunity of cleaning them themselves, or it furnishes them a man who will clean them at a small cost. It is a protectionary by law, for it will compel all residents to have clean chimneys, whereas, at present, it does not protect a resident to clean his chimney, if his neighbor's are choked and likely to spread a conflagration at any moment.

Councillor Sproule is determined to force his bylaw until carried. In the opinion of this journal it is a wise and precautionary measure, and we believe the good sense of the council will carry it through its 2nd and 3rd reading.

⁂

We heard a man—a citizen—telling a stranger the other day that this town was no good: that it had gone to pieces; that the people had no money nor the town, neither, and that the only time one would know there was any life in the town was when the fire bell rang, or an Irish comedy company or nigger minstrel show came to town. This man who was thus slandering the liveliest town in Canada, was dealing Peterborough upper cuts, pivot blows, knock outs and fouls, and doing all he could to run down the place in which he lived.

We let him go, but tackled the stranger after the traitor to home and country had left him. No, he didn't believe the slander; he thought Peterborough a progressive and go ahead town. We pointed out several things. While Lindsay had a tax rate of 26 mills, Peterborough showed up the lowest tax rate of any town in Canada at 16 mills. Peterborough never had to go outside of the corporation to sell her debentures, and when she did sell, she got the highest price paid in this country. We referred him to General Manager McGill's statement when he said that brokers in Toronto complained because they never could get a chance to buy this town's bonds. Our public institutions, our parks, our street railway, our stores and other things that make this town the most substantial in Canada were pointed out. Then we introduced him to a real estate agent and if the latter didn't make a sale, it wasn't our fault.

⁂

Just a word of warning to our readers. This is circus day. To those who have sold their winter's pork in order to take the "kids" to see this great educational show of wild animals, circassian ladies, wild men from Borneo, pink lemonade and trapeze artistes with blonde hair, it is well to observe this mottoe: "Keep your hand on your jacknife." The show has none of the fake element with it but it cannot prevent the hangers on who persist in following it. Look out for them. Don't buy any pieces of soap with $20 bills wrapped around them; don't buy your tickets from the man who will meet you half way from town with the story that his wife is sick and he has to go home, and is willing to sell his ticket at half price—the ticket is no good; don't expect to smuggle your children in for nothing, for it won't work, and you'll have to pay half price in the end. When you enter the tent don't poke the elephant with your umbrella, for he is liable to gently entwine you with his trunk and muss your clothes; don't ask the living skeleton what he eats, nor the Circassian lady why she doesn't get a hair cut. Go and take a seat, loosen your shoes, and settle back and read THE TIMES until the performance begins. When it does begin, don't try and watch the three rings at one time, for it will likely cause eyelidsetis, a painful and annoying affliction.

Furniture Sale.

The usual midsummer excitement in Furniture—bigger enthusiasm than last year and quicker sales. We've ten or twelve car loads yet to sell before the stock is in its normal condition.

The goods were bought specially cheap to sell specially cheap during August. We won't have the room to carry them to September, so here goes:

—Parlor Centre Tables, with antique finish, 23x23 inch top with shaped legs: regular price $1.25, special at...	.65
—Solid Oak and Birch Cobbler Rockers, polished; regular price $3; special at . .	$1.75
—Solid Oak Parlor Set (five pieces), upholstered in satin russe, silk plush trimmed: regular price $18; very special at	12.90
—Solid Oak Bedroom Suite, 20x40, bevelled plate mirror, 4 feet 4 inch bedstead; highly polished; regular price $36; special at . . .	25.00
Hall Racks, antique and dark finish, large size; double hat hooks, bevelled plate mirror, 15x26 inches; regular price, $10.00, special at	5.00

A bit of new furniture goes a long way towards brightening up the home, and prices are lower now than you or we ever remember. It'll soon be time to put the house in order for the long winter months and it's cheaper by half to anticipate needs and buy just when we say.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE NEW JERSEY SCANDAL.

The Trenton Millionaire the Defendant in an Action for $100,000 For Alienating Another Man's Wife's Affections.

Special to the Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 24.—The sensational climax to the financial and domestic complications of ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan, has caused the utmost excitement at this place. John A. Barnes having discovered that his wife was suing him in the Dakota courts for a divorce, and that she was living at the Windsor Hotel, New York, with Magowan, brought suit for $100,000 damages and had him arrested. Bondsmen were procured and Magowan was released. His first act was to swear out a warrant against Barnes for perjury. He in turn was arrested also and did not secure bondsmen till midnight.

THE BEGINNING OF THE TROUBLE.

In the documents filed by Barnes the recital of alleged misdoings begins with a birthday party at the Hotel Imperial, New York, on May 29. Magowan invited Mrs. Barnes to enjoy the opera. Barnes did not think it proper that she should go, and so expressed himself, but Magowan ordered Barnes to go to Pittsburg to secure an order. Barnes was suspicious, and came back. A strange woman had charge of the daughter, and it is alleged that Mrs. Barnes had acquitted herself of her charge the night before by sending her to a theatre, while she and Magowan presumably went to some other place of amusement.

The party were discovered enjoying a private breakfast. When Mr. Barnes entered there was a stormy scene. Mrs. Barnes told her husband that he was making a fool of himself, and Magowan talked seriously of discharging Barnes for insubordination. Mrs. Barnes took her own time about returning to Trenton.

THEIR COMPROMISING ACTIONS.

The next event in the domestic chronology was a trip to the West, which Magowan and Mr. and Mrs. Barnes made. Barnes says that on this trip Magowan persisted in occupying a berth in the stateroom with himself and wife, and in Pittsburg, when he went out to see customers, but returned earlier to the hotel than he expected, he discovered Magowan and Mrs. Barnes in a bedroom together.

The next point of observation, as alleged by Barnes, was on June 20. Barnes was sick in bed and Mrs. Barnes was entertaining Magowan on the veranda. They were laughing and having a good time. He says that he called her and when she came up she said Magowan had gone. She went down again and remained an half hour. When she again returned her hair and garments were disordered.

WENT TO NEW YORK TOGETHER.

The complainant then tells how Mrs. Barnes and Magowan went to New York on June 25, when Magowan told Barnes that his presence was not wanted. They remained away all night, and when they came back Mrs. Barnes informed her husband that a fortune-teller had informed her that a great change in her life would occur in July or August. After this trip she scarcely tolerated the sight of her husband, according to his statement.

Magowan followed Mrs. Barnes to Buffalo, the document avers. Barnes traced them and finally found Magowan in the Hoffman house, New York. He learned that the couple were staying in the Savoy hotel, and that Magowan, Mrs. Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Winnie, Mrs. Barnes' sister and brother-in-law, were registered under assumed names.

COULD NOT KISS HIS DAUGHTER.

Barnes found Magowan, Mrs. Barnes and the Winnies eating dinner together in a bedroom in Philadelphia on July 25, and because Barnes wanted to kiss his daughter Beryl goodby he was ejected. A policeman had to be sent for to put Magowan in another room. In concluding his document Barnes says that he is sure that Mrs. Barnes and her sister accompanied Magowan to Oklahoma; that he knows that on July 18 the party went to Howe & Hummel's law office and asked how to proceed to get a divorce, so that Magowan and Mrs. Barnes could marry. They were advised to go to Oklahoma.

MRS. BARNES DECLINES TO DISCUSS THE AFFAIR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Barnes has been staying at the Windsor Hotel since about three weeks ago, when she came from Buffalo with a party of friends. Her little daughter is with her now. Since her arrival she has received frequent visits from Magowan.

Mrs. Barnes is a very pretty woman, apparently about twenty five years old, and of an extreme blonde type. She had heard of Magowan's arrest, but declined to say anything about that or about her alleged relations with him.

A SMASH AT BARRIE.

Two Racing Bicyclists Collide with a Buggy—Broken Arms.

Special to the Times.

BARRIE, Aug. 24.—During a bicycle race last night between C. Ellis and H. Hughes, both riders collided with a horse and buggy, owned by Judge Ardagh. Hughes received a broken arm and several serious cuts. Ellis got a broken arm and his body badly bruised. Both wheels were demolished, the horse was also cut and the buggy smashed, while the lady occupants received a severe shaking up. Hughes and Ellis had entered for the Kingston road race.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH.

A Hotel Fire Near Toledo—Names of Two Victims Unknown.

Special to the Times.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Three men were burned to death last night in the Air Line hotel at the Air Line Junction, about four miles from this city. Most of the people escaped in their night clothes. T. McCarthy, of Hillsdale, Mich., and two men whose names are unknown, perished. Healy was taken from the building alive, but died within a few moments afterward. The loss on the hotel and several small buildings to which the flames communicated, is $6,000.

Geo. F. Stalter's Sudden Death.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—George F. Stalter, a well known architect, was stricken with apoplexy while passing the Rideau Club about 8.30 o'clock last evening, and died shortly after being taken to his residence.

MAKING THEM WORSE.

An Officer Who Has a Poor Opinion of Missionaries in China.

Special to the Times.

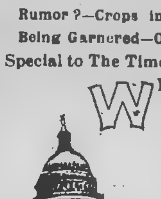
MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—Lieut. Veale of H. M. S. Edgar, who is on his way home from the China station, says of the massacre of Christian missionaries by the Chinese: "You see, these missionaries interfere altogether too much. A good many of them seem to be able, earnest men, but a good many more are utterly lacking in any kind of tact. They go into the heart of some district far away from any place in which they have treaty right, and commence to upset all the native ideas of religion. Then they wonder that they're massacred. You can't convert a Chinaman, anyway, and when one is in the heart of China it is extremely unhealthy to attempt to convert him by ridiculing his own peculiar forms of worship. I never saw a missionary on the job myself, but from what I have seen of their work they are a blanked nuisance. Leave a Chinaman alone and he's bad enough, but when a missionary has been at work on him for some time he is a great deal worse."

COMPROMISE TALKED OF.

THE MANITOBA CABINET HOLDS A SPECIAL MEETING.

Greenway was There—What is There in This Rumor?—Crops in the Northwest Rapidly Being Garnered—Ottawa Separate Schools.

Special to The Times.



WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—The announcement from Ottawa a couple of days ago stating that Fred White, a well-known confidental man of the Dominion Government had left for the Northwest bearing some intelligence or proposition to Premier Bowell on the school question of a compromise character was denied by Acting Premier Caron, at least so far as the message was concerned. Nevertheless Mr. White arrived here last night on the regular express, and after a chat with one or two confidential agents of the Government, proceeded west to meet Premier Bowell at Banff, where he is in consultation with Sir John Schultz on what is generally believed to be the school question.

GREENWAY LEAVES HIS WHEATFIELDS.

Some color is lent to the report that there is trouble on by the fact that Premier Greenway left his wheat fields yesterday and came in to attend a meeting of the Cabinet Council, all the other members of the Government having been summoned for the same purpose. They are holding a session today for the purpose of considering the school question. They are very reticent as to the report of a compromise and decline to say anything with regard to the rumors that there is any difference of opinion among the Ministers on the school question.

Something is expected to drop in a few days.

MANITOBA'S GREAT HARVEST.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 24.—This is another grand day for harvesting. If the farmers had the ordering of the weather they could not have it more ideal than it has been all week, and the estimate that a million bushels of wheat is being sold every day is well within the mark. All danger from frost seems now past, as the weather is sultry and the grain now so ripe no damage could result except to very late crops. Reports received by the railway companies and from all other sources indicate that the finest progress is being made, and there can be little doubt that fifty or sixty per cent. of the crops will be out by tonight.

OTTAWA'S SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—Chairman Seguin, of the Separate school board, left yesterday for Montreal to interview the superior of the Christian Brothers with respect to the report of the Ontario Commission. A number of prominent supporters of Separate schools are preparing a petition to the School Board, which will set forth that if the two Brothers who now teach in the Garneau school in that ward are not withdrawn the petitioners will refuse to send their children to the school, and will become prominent Public school supporters.

A MASSEY-HARRIS DEAL.

What will be Brantford's loss will be Woodstock's Gain.

Special to The Times.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 24.—An arrangement has almost been completed whereby Bain Bros., wagon manufacturers, will admit the Massey Harris Company as stockholders and increase their capital stock to $250,000 and their output to about 100%. The old company will retain the controlling interest, and there will be no change of management. If satisfactory arrangements can be made the factory will remove from Brantford to the Patterson factory at Woodstock.

HEAVY SLAUGHTER OF FRENCH.

The Madagascar Campaign a Costly One to France.

Special to the Times.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The correspondent of The Gaulois on board the French transport Provence, which arrived at Marseilles from Madagascar yesterday with a number of sick and wounded soldiers, sends to his paper reports of interviews had with several of the returned officers and men, all of whom regard the French situation in Madagascar in a most pessimistic light. One officer frankly said: "The number of dead among the French troops will never be known in France. About 500 are now lying ill who ought to have been sent home long ago. Many of the engineers are on the sick list."

Captain Williams and a Squad of Football Players Leave for Grimsby.

Special to the Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Captain Carl S. Williams and five of his candidates of the University of Pennsylvania football team left last evening for Grimsby, Ontario, Canada, for the preliminary practice season of the University eleven. The men will continue training from their arrival until Sept. 25, when they will return to this city to contest the opening games of the season. But one man of last year's team left with Captain Williams last night. He was Mines, the left tackle. The others were Boyle, Darrah and Stein, all of them new candidates, who were last year students in the first year class, but ineligible under the rules.

SUPPOSED POISON CASE.

WILLIAM HOLMES, OF BARRIE, DIED UNDER QUEER CIRCUMSTANCES.

His Stomach Taken to Toronto for Analysis—Bullets May Fly if Fitzsimmons and Corbett Attempt to Fight in Texas.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.

PROFESSOR ELLIS Provincial Analyist, has received for examination the stomach of Wm. Holmes, a Barrie marble cutter, who died suddenly on Sunday, July 14, under circumstances strange enough to warrant an inquest. The deceased had been sick for a few days previous with diarrhoea, but his case was not regarded as dangerous by his physician, Dr. Wells. On Sunday morning he was considerably better. In the afternoon his wife discovered him lying at the head of the stairs in his house on Collier street. She ran out for help, but when she came back he was dead. This was the story told by his wife, and the funeral was announced for the following Tuesday. The suddeness of the death however, induced Coroner Wells to hold an inquest. An autopsy was performed by Drs. Ross, Smith, Wells and Schofield, and when their evidence was presented at the inquest Crown Attorney Cotter decided to adjourn the investigation until the contents of the dead man's stomach has been analyzed.

SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

Several suspicious circumstances were elicited at the inquest which were not made public. A small phial, said to have been at one time filled with some poisonous compound, was found under a pillow on deceased's bed. Dr. Wells, who attended Holmes, gave as his opinion that his patient had died too suddenly for death to have been caused by diarrhoea. He stated that poisonous and corrosive acids given in small doses might produce dysentery and that an overdose of such a poison would cause a sudden death.

Holmes has resided ten years in Barrie. He was a member of the Public School Board and an officer in the A.O U.W, and A.O F. He had considerable property, which was all in his wife's name and also a $2,000 life insurance policy made payable to her.

Prof. Ellis will make his report early in September, when the inquest will be resumed.

BULLETS MAY FLY.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 24.—Governor Culberson today made public some correspondence between himself and Sheriff Cabell, of Dallas county, about the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight. The correspondence was opened by Governor Culberson inquiring of the sheriff whether he intended to abide by the decision of Attorney-General Crane, holding the prize fighting law valid and as to whether it was his intention to exercise all the powers vested in him to prevent the fight. Sheriff Cabell's reply is that he will unhesitatingly discharge his duties. He cites, however, that the criminal statute defining prize fighting makes it a misdemeanor, not a felony, and asks the Governor under such circumstances would he be justified in using such force as may be necessary, even if it requires the shooting down of the citizens, and would the Governor advise such proceedings.

In reply to Campbell's letter the Governor says: "While it is true that the prize fight at Dallas is not advertised to take place until October the propriety of the public officers of the State taking action is obvious. It is proper that they should give notice at once of the firm purpose to enforce the law, that none may be deceived. The constitution, which is the supreme law of the State, makes it the duty of the Governor to cause the law to be faithfully executed. At the proper time what force may be necessary and deemed expedient to guard against failure will be used to prevent this proposed infraction of the law of the State.

To Cabell's interrogatory as to whether the Governor would sanction shooting down of citizens he very promptly replied that he would not attempt to answer the question, but would refer it to the Attorney General for his opinion.

BIG BLAZE IN CLEVELAND.

A $75,000 Block Destroyed—Three Lives Reported Lost.

Special to the Times.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Flames broke out in the Williamson block, southeast corner of Euclid avenue and Monument square, at 2 o'clock this morning. In five minutes the entire building, which had a frontage of 100 feet on Euclid avenue, was a mass of flames. The ground floor was occupied by Benfield Brothers' drug store, Meiners' jewelry store and the Goodyear Rubber Company, the four upper stories being filled with business offices. In all there were about sixty tenants in the building. At 2.30 a.m. the building was gutted, only the walls remaining. The handsome new Cuyahoga building caught in several places, and the firemen directed their efforts to save that structure.

It is reported that three men were burned to death in the Williamson block.

The loss on the building and contents will reach $75,000.

GRACE NEWMAN'S SUICIDE.

A Tiverton Girl Jumps From a Boat in the Detroit River,

Special to the Times.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 24.—Last evening a well dressed young woman jumped from a ferry boat and was drowned. On the seat which she had occupied on the ferry boat was found a letter, written in lead pencil, in which the suicide gave her name as Grace Newman, of Tiverton, Ont. She said she was a poor girl, and that nobody cared for or wanted her, and that she had determined to die. She also stated that her parents lived in Tiverton, and asked that they be notified of her death. The body has not yet been recovered.

Grover Will Touch the Button.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—It has been arranged that President Cleveland will touch the button on at Gray Gables on September 18th, and set in motion the machinery of and unfold the flags on the Cotton States and Industrial Exposition buildings. A negro will deliver an address, the directors thus recognizing the negro race in the official program.

Nervous Diseases

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of Nervous Diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, etc., that the old modes of treatment fail to cure. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by any medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is pursuing a dangerous practice. Properly treated, these diseases can be

Positively Cured

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will most assuredly do so. It is the only known power that will supply what is lacking, namely nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system. It will most assuredly cure,

QUALIFIED TEACHERS ONLY.

The French committee of the Separate Shool Board at Ottawa have made a demand upon the Christian Brothers who control the French schools for immediate reforms. The Brothers, it is said, have an unexpired contract which may legally entitle them to refuse to make the changes demanded. If they do, their action should open even the unwilling eyes of the Minister of Education to the deficiencies of the Separate school regulations.

The B. N. A. Act guarantees Separate schools. It does not guarantee, however, that inefficient and unqualified teachers should be allowed to give instruction in them. How absurd it is to have one system regulating the efficiency of teachers for Public schools and another for Separate schools. If the passing of official examinations is good in one case it ought to be good in the other. It is unfair to the Roman Catholic youth of Ontario that this state of things should continue. The deplorable condition in which Ottawa's Separate schools were found should make the Roman Catholics of the Provicce unanimous indemanding a change in the law. They should see that their children were taught by no one who could not show a Government certificate of efficiency.

President Debs, the raiload agitator, is still in jail and says he will not accept a pardon. If he does not nobody will suffer more about it than Mr. Debs himself.

Hon. Mr. Laurier will not proceed at once to Ontario on his return from Chicoutimi, as was at first proposed, but will take a season of rest at Arthabaskaville during the month of September.

France objects to the Newfoundlanders building a railroad across their own island. France has altogether too much to say about the affairs of Newfoundland. She was originally only given treaty rights to fish near there, and now she is trying to run the whole colony.

The London & Northwestern's new fast train between London and Aberdeen averages over 60 miles an hour. Such speed would have been considered impossible a few years ago for a continuous journey of 540 miles. Now it is an every day fact. This once again naturally raises the question of the speed limit of travel and when it will be reached.

A good authority on the crops in the Province of Quebec, states that the recent rains have not been sufficient to damage the potato crop, while the oat crop, which promises to be a good one, will only suffer where the land is heavy. Roots of a kinds are in excellent condition. The hay harvest was a very satisfactory one and on the whole the outlook for the farmers this summer was never much better.

The newspaper statistics of the Dominion are interesting. They show that there are 919 newspapers and periodicals. Of these 92 were dailies, 35 being morning papers and 57 being evening papers. There 594 weeklies. This means that there is a paper to every 5,440 souls, men, women and children. Coming to Ontario we find that it has 534 papers, an average of one to every 3,745 souls. Quebec is far behind us, having only 150 newspaper publications. Either Quebec people do not read as much as we do in this province or they read Ontario publications.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S DONKEY.

How She Bought the Animal at a Great Bargain From a Peasant.

During Queen Victoria's recent sojourn at Cimiez she was accustomed, every afternoon, to ride about the environs of Nice in a little carriage drawn by a sober-looking donkey named Jocko. The history of this reliable and highly prized animal is interesting.

The Queen was at Acquisgrana two or three years ago, and one morning was passing along the border of the lake when a peasant went by leading at the end of a rope a well built donkey, which would have been handsome had it not been so thin as to excite a suspicion that its last meal had been scanty and many days before. The Queen addressed the peasant, and asked him if the beast was for sale.

"That depends upon the conditions, signorina," the man replied, "for if I sell him, how will I be able to gain my living?"

"How much did you pay for him?"

"A hundred francs."

"I will give you two hundred, and you can then buy another."

It was thus that Jocko passed from the peasant's possession into royal hands, and for the first time in his life had enough to eat.

The story of the adventure spread far and wide, and whenever the Queen went out thereafter she was sure to encounter at least a dozen emaciated and badly curried donkeys which she was importuned to buy. Naturally these attempts were unsuccessful, but the owners lost nothing except their time, which is the least valuable of commodities in that easy going land.

The next year, when Her Majesty returned to Acquisgrana, the master of Jocko chanced to see his old donkey again. When he viewed his fat body and tightly stretched, shining skin, covered with a gold mounted harness, he exclaimed.

"I regret bitterly that I did not sell myself with my donkey."

Popes Who Have Been Prisoners.

For about the first five hundred years of the papacy many of the popes were martyred, so undoubtedly they were taken prisoners. But besides these, several popes were taken prisoners in war of revolution. John X was taken prisoner by Guy, duke of Tuscany, and put to death; John XI was imprisoned in the castle of St. Angel where he died; John XII was deposed and murdered, so was Benedict VI. Boniface VII imprisoned John XIV. John XVII was expelled by the German emperor. Boniface VIII quarreled with Philip the Fair of France and was seized at Anagni by Nogaret, one of Philip's agents and Sciarra Colonna, the latter of whom even struck him in the face. He was a prisoner for three days until the people of Anagni rescued him, but he never recovered from the shock and died soon afterwards, October 11, 1303. He had imprisoned his successor, Celestine V, who resigned the papacy. In 1809 General Rodet, at Napoleon's orders, seized Pius VII in the Quinaril and took him to Grenoble, after a time he was taken to Savona and thence to Fontainebleau. He was not set free until 1814. Pius IX was a virtual prisoner in Rome for a few days in November, 1848, at the hands of the Roman populace, and on November 24, 1848, he managed to escape to Gaeta, where he resided for seventeen months. Since 1870 Pius IX and his successor, the present pope, have considered themselves prisoners in the Vatican.

Discovery of Some Frescos by Correggio.

Some frescos by Correggio hitherto unknown have been discovered in the old fortress of Mantua by M. Charles Yrlarte, of the Academie des Beaux-Arts. They are medallions painted in the cupola of the study of Gabriela d'Este, Duchess of Mantua. The study was inaccessible for nearly two hundred years, as the Austrians, who held Mantua from 1708 to 1866, would not allow any one to enter the fortress, and when it came into possession of Italy the town archives were piled up in the room. M. Yrlarte, knowing that Correggio had worked in Mantua, obtained permission of the Italian Government to make a thorough search, and succeeded in discovering the paintings. They are perfect, and in the artist's best style.

COLLEGIAT INSTITUTE.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

STORIES OF MONTE CARLO.

Some of Them True, Many False, But All Highly Interesting.

But who should this be, sipping some iced vermouth at the marble table but an old friend whom I will call Mr. Spectator? He lives at Monte Carlo; he has passed a score of seasons here; he has plenty of money; he goes to the Casino every day and every evening, and he never pays a cent. It is his occupation in life to be an observer of things and to mark the ways of man and womankind. In the summer he will mark them at Aix-les-Bains, at Lausanne, or at Trouville. He knows everything about what is going on just now at "Monty;" what Russian princess pawned her diamonds last week, and what Cuban sugar planter did not die of apoplexy at the Hotel Carmbole but poisoned himself with prussic acid. "He was a fool, sir," quoth Mr. Spectator, "Why didn't he go to the Administration? Why didn't he make his declaration? They knew well enough that he had lost 200,000 francs in the course of ten days. They would have paid his traveling and hotel expenses back to Paris, or back to Brazil for the matter of that. He was a fool, sir!"

Mr. Spectator went on to explain that when a cleaned-out player made a candid admission of his impecuniosity the administration gave him a sum of money sufficient to defray his journey by railway to the place whence he came and his incidental expenses en route. He mentioned one case in which a whole family of five persons were allowed fifteen louis apiece to take them from Monte Carlo to London, the sole condition attached to the largesse being that the recipient should not re-enter the Casino unless he or she recouped the Administration for their outlay. In the case which he cited, one of the party, a lady, who had not gone farther than Nice, received some weeks afterwards a handsome remittance from England. She went back blithely to "Monty," repaid the fifteen louis, re-entered the Casino, and backing the douze dernier, not forgetting zero, won £300. "You are not to believe," added Mr. Spectator, "a tithe of the sensational stories printed about ruined gamesters hanging themselves to trees in the gardens, or blowing out their brains in the reading-room." The majority of these canards are set on foot by obscure French newspapers which have not been subventioned or bribed by the Administration to puff Monte Carlo.

One of the pleasantest characteristics of my friend Mr. Spectator is that every time you meet him he has a fresh story to tell you about an infallible system for winning at roulette, and this time he regaled me with a succinct narrative of what I may call the "Wellington boot system." Capt. Backum had played for many years a large number of systems, and by the time he was five-and-forty had played away a handsome fortune. A happy thought occurred to him. He always wore Wellington boots. His capital was just five louis. This he changed into five-franc pieces, and he never staked more than one piece at a time, and if he won he withdrew his stakes after the third coup. His winnings he carefully placed in a side pocket, and whenever he had won four pieces he changed them into a louis and slipped the coin into one of his boots. He played for seven consecutive hours before his stock capital was exhausted. Then he returned to Nice, somewhat heavy of step, and, drawing [illegible] his boots, found that he had won a [illegible]dred louis. "This was two years [illegible]," continued Mr. Spectator, "and, [illegible]y last week I found Backum at a third class hotel at Nice. He was in a dressing gown and slippers, and looking by no means cheerful. "How about the Wellington boot system?" I asked. "Utter collapse," he replied. "Confounded run of bad luck." "And the boots?" I went on. "The boots?" he replied. "I pawned them yesterday afternoon."

So this is "Monty" in full swing; "Monty," with its ups and downs, its ceaseless whirl of gayety and dissipation. There is no rest at Monte Carlo. When you are tired of play there are dramatic performances; there are concerts; there is a pigeon shooting; and in the spring and summer there is plenty of yachting. But all these are only side issues. The Grand Trunk line of Monte Carlo leads to the Temple of Mammon. It is crowded night and day by people lusting for money which they have not earned, and it is the Road to Ruin.

Bishop Taylor's Work in Africa.

In an interview with Bishop Taylor recently about his work in Africa he said that the results were fairly satisfactory. It is believed to be an absolute essential that the people accept the Christian religion.

"King Hedge's case is an example," said the Bishop. "He had been fairly well educated years ago; had lived among the whites on the west coast. He was, in a sense, civilized; but he was not a Christian. Well, he went back to his little tribe, threw away his clothes and wore the single garment of his tribe. He took seven wives, and in all ways became a savage.

"Recently he became converted, put away all his wives but one, dressed like a white man, and used all his influence to help the missionaries."

"Which wife did he keep, Bishop," I asked. "The first one, or the last one?"

"He kept the one that was—the one that was most—suitable. Each of them had her home, and was comfortably situated. Most of them had children. He selected the one that had no children, that seemed to care most for him, that was most attentive. He called all his people together and told them he had accepted Christ's laws. One of those laws was that a man could have but one wife. He said—'I have seven wives. Chief Do there has seven. We can have but one.'"

"And it is a country of unmeasured, perhaps immeasurable, wealth," said the Bishop. "The soil will produce marvellously. The temperature is from sixty to ninety degrees the year round. There is no winter. It is a land of iron. There is much coal."

But in all this his interest is only incidental. The man's heart and soul are in the missionary work, and his whole church watches and applauds him and reposes abundant faith in his wisdom.

No Doctors' Bills in Sweden.

Swedish doctors send no bills to their patients. What you shall pay your physician is left entirely to your own choice. The rich pay him liberally, whether they have need of his services or not, if he has been once retained by them. The poor pay him a small sum and the very poor pay him nothing. Yet he visits the poor as faithfully as the rich. On the last day of the year you put into an envelope addressed to your physician a sum of money you think not only sufficient to compensate him, but in accordance with your own position in life, and enclosing your card with the money send the envelope by a servant to your doctor.

FROM THE QUEEN CITY.

A YOUNG MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE WHILE HANDLING A GUN.

The Bullet Lodged Over the Right Eye—A Burglar Gets Five Years—A Toronto Woman in China Writes of the Massacre.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Police Constable McIlroy, of the Parkdale division, made a clever capture at two o'clock this morning. While passing up Dowling avenue he noticed a gleam in No. 149, a house whose occupants, James S. Speers and family, are away. The officer quietly slipped to the rear, found the window forced open and saw a man inside walking about and enjoying a pipe. McIlroy kept guard until the burglar came out when he covered him with his revolver and arrested him. "Hurry upstairs, there's another fellow there!" said the burglar. But the policeman remembering that a jailbird in the hand is worth two upstairs, handcuffed his prisoner, blew his whistle for aid and then searched the house only to find it empty. At the police station, the prisoner, who gave the name of Thomas Redmond, was searched and three gold rings, four earrings, twelve silver tea spoons, six napkin rings, two sets of silver nut crackers, three gold pencils, one silver match holder, three old silver coins and other articles were found in his pockets. He was subsequently recognized as Thomas Thornton, a well known burglar but recently released from penitentiary. In the police court this morning he was arraigned and pleaded guilty. "I think you have made up your mind to live by crime," remarked the magistrate. "I will send you to Kingston penitentiary for five years." Thornton is a determined crook. He began his prison career on June 12, 1878, with 30 days for stealing. On December 16, 1881, he got six months in the Central for housebreaking, on July 13, 1888, for burglary, he was sent to Kingston for five years, and on August 23, 1892, for felonious entry of premises, he returned to the penitentiary for three years.

A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

At Jackson's Point yesterday, George Hally, the 14-year-old son of John Hally, of Hally Bros., Toronto, who was camping there with two others, was taking a loaded revolver from a trunk in their tent when the weapon went off accidentally, the bullet lodging in the lad's head over the right eye. Dr. Noble, of Sutton, who was speedily summoned, advised the removal of the injured youth to Toronto, which was done last night by special train.

Young Hally was taken to the Sick Children's Hospital where Dr. Allan Baines and Dr. Peters extracted the ball, which had lodged in the skull. The patient bore up remarkably well, considering his narrow escape from death, and did not lose consciousness. He is out of danger and is residing quietly.

Three Thousand More Farm Hands

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 23.—Three thousand more farm hands arriving from Ontario last night to help reap Manitoba's big crop. One of the laborers got drunk and was killed en route.

Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome that tired feeling and give you renewed vigor and vitality?

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.
Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A DETECTIVE MURDERED.

Geo. W. Powers, of Grand Rapids, Slain by a Train Robber.

Special to the Times.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug 23.—Detective George W. Powers, of the city Police Department, was shot in the head at midnight by a man whom he attempted to arrest as a suspected member of the gang who held up the C. & W. M. train Tuesday night. Powers died at two this morning. Two men were seen in the city during the day who answered the description of members of the gang. All outgoing trains were watched for them, and they were found by Powers in the smoking car of the Grand Rapids and Indiana north bound train. When Powers attempted to make the arrest, one of them fired at him with a revolver, which he apparently had concealed under his coat ready for immediate business. The two men jumped for the door, and before they could be stopped, escaped in the darkness. A large force of detectives are looking for the two men and the balance of the gang.

PERIL IN THE RAPIDS.

Passengers of the Terrebonne Have an Exciting Trip.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23. — Thousands of Knights' Templars from Detroit, Chicago and other western points arrived here tonight on their way to Boston.

A sensation was caused tonight by the receipt of a message stating that the steamer Terrebonne had met with a serious accident, but the receipt of further particulars showed that the report was exaggerated. It seems that the Terrebonne while coming through the cascade rapids, sprang a leak and was run down in a leaking condition to the foot of the Lachine canal, where the passengers were landed. There was a large number of Knights' Templars on board on their way to Boston, and they had quite an exciting experience, but fortunately escaped without any serious misfortune. The passengers will be brought into the city by special trains.

BURNED TO DEATH.

An Aged Widow's Shocking Death In Her Kitchen.

Special to the Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Aug. 23.—Mrs. Alex. Chisholm, an aged widow lady, who lived alone with an unmarried sister, a Miss Fraser, was accidently burned to death about 7.30 this evening. Miss Fraser was ill in bed and Mrs. Chisholm was in the kitchen lighting the lamp, when her clothing caught fire, and before assistance arrived she was so terribly burned that she only breathed a few minutes. She had an only son, who is an honored citizen of Grand Marais, Mich. Mrs. Chisholm was a sister of the late Col. Fraser, of Fraser's Point, Glengarry.

A BUS DRIVER'S END.

Charles Buck Killed at Ridgeway—The Vehicle Ran Over Him.

Special to the Times.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 23.—A special despatch from Ridgeway, Ont., reports the killing of Charles Buck, a 'bus driver, who runs between Ridgeway and Crystal Beach. While standing in front of the Queen's Royal his team was frightened by a trunk toppling off the driver's seat on their heels and they started to run away. Buck, in attempting to catch their heads, was thrown and run over by the 'bus. The wheels of the vehicle passed over his head. He never regained consciousness and died this morning. The team was not stopped till they reached Crystal Beach. The passengers were not seriously injured.

THE SPARTAN AGROUND.

Ran Full Length Upon a Rock Near Alexandria, N.Y.

Special to the Times.

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N.Y., Aug. 23.—The steamer Spartan, of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, ran aground just opposite here last night. The Spartan, being a little out of her bearings, her nose struck a shelf and ran full length upon the smooth rock. The officers say the pilot was blinded by a searchlight on an excursion boat. There were no passengers aboard, and so far as known no damage was done to the steamer. Telegrams have been sent to Kingston for tugs to come and pull her off.

LOW WATER IN THE NIAGARA.

Causes the Steamer Idlehour of Buffalo to Go Aground.

Special to The Times.

BUFFALO, Aug. 23.—The steamer Idlehour went aground on the Canadian side of the river near Victoria after midnight last night, and it was nearly 5 a.m. before she could be got off. She had stopped to let off a party of Canadian railway men who were having an excursion yesterday. The trouble was caused by low water in the Niagara River.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Niblo's Garden, one of the historic theatres, has seen its last performance. It will be torn down right away.

Yvette Guilbert, the French music hall singer, about whom foreign correspondents have raved for a year or two, is coming over next fall.

The all conquering Brady will raise from prize fights to comic opera next year. He has hired Julian Edwards to write the score of an Irish opera to a libretto by Stanislaus Strange.

Theodore Thomas, the orchestra director, will celebrate his golden jubilee in July. He was born in Hanover sixty years ago, and came to America a lad of ten. He played in New York while a youngster as a kind of juvenile prodigy.

A St. Louis man has organized a pedestrian dramatic company, which proposes to walk all the way from New York, giving a show every night at some small town by the way, and carrying their scenery, costumes and baggage with them.

There is a good deal in a name sometimes. Mr. Dabney, who has been singing tenor songs in Daly's company a little while under the name of Daubigney, has now joined the Abbey & Grau opera company to sing tenor parts and will be known as Daubigne, which sounds very French indeed.

Louis Cyr's little daughter recently made her debut as a strong girl in Montreal. She is only seven years old and weighs 65 pounds, yet she lifted two dumbbells of 306 pounds, a 33-pound dumbbell above her head, a 150-pound one with one hand and two weighing 89 with one finger.

ABOUT WOMEN WOMEN.

Lady Randolph Churchill wears the very exceptionally granted and much coveted Imperial Order of the Crown of India, conferred upon her by the Queen

The Queen of the Belgians is usually attended when on horseback by one of her favorite dogs, of which she has a dozen, with a preference—just as Queen Victoria has—for Spitz terriers.

Lady Florence Dixie has accepted the presidency of the British Ladies' Football Club. The members of the club do not play in fashion's dress, but in knickerbockers, blouses, caps and football boots.

Mrs. H. H. Kitson of Boston has been selected to execute for the City of Providence a statue of Esek Hopkins, first admiral of the Revolutionary Navy. Her husband is a sculptor of prominence and she has exhibited some highly-creditable work at the Paris Salon.

"The late Lady C. Schreiber was a great patroness of London cabmen," says the London (Eng.) Queen. "They were indebted to her many years since as the kind donor [illegible] the cabmen's shelter outside the Langham Hotel, of which shelters there are forty. Once a year she invited about 200 to a magnificent tea and entertainment. She was a warm supporter of the Cabdrivers' Benevolent Association."

RAM'S HORN BLASTS.

It is seldom that a man with a big income is ever prosecuted for righteousness' sake.

Whenever the world comes face to face with unselfish love it has to stop and think.

Some very good people can never see any harm in sin when it can wear good clothes and ride in a coach.

There is no sin so little but that if it had the right of way and time enough it would wreck the universe.

The sermons that do the most to save the world are not preached in pulpits.

The devil probably loves a stingy man.

The man who is not a friend will never have one.

Big words often make a poor cloak for a small idea.

Every good woman is a constant reminder that God lives.

An optimist is a man who believes that all eggs will hatch.

If the brother of the prodigal could have sat at the head of the table and carved the calf, it may be that he would not have refused to go into the house.

There are educated pigs, but there are none who do not like mud

GATHERED HERE AND THERE.

It is calculated that in large ocean steamers more than 3,000 articles of glass and china are broken on every voyage.

A flour mill in Minneapolis contains a belt 250 feet long and weighing over a ton. It required twenty cowhides to make it.

Were it not for the multitude of storks that throng Egypt every winter there would be no living in some parts of the country, for after every inundation frogs appear in devastating swarms.

The ashes of coal from the mines of the Transvaal Coal company and other countries in South Africa have been analyzed recently and found to contain nine pennyweights of gold to the ton.

More than 100,000 muskrat skins are bought in New York every winter to supply the demand for imitation sealskin trimmings, caps, etc., as no other fur so closely resembles seal.

The Navajo Indians, as soon as the weather gets warm in the spring, gather their best ponies and leave the reservation for the ostensible purpose of hunting deer and antelope. When they return they bring with them bunches of sheep numbering anywhere from fifty to 500.

ANIMAL LIFE.

Blue-eyed cats are said by Darwin to be always deaf.

The tail of a beaver is a regular trowel and is used as such.

The greatest velocity attained by a whale when struck by a harpoon is nine miles an hour.

The natural life of an elephant is said to be 120 years. It is, however, greatly shortened by captivity.

The lowest order of animal life is found in the microscopic jellyfish. It is simply a minute drop of gelatinous matter.

A CURIOUS FAD.

The Count of Montesquieu, a wealthy and eccentric French nobleman, inhabits a splendid villa in the neighborhood of Paris, chiefly remarkable for its magnificent conservatory, which is used as a banqueting hall. Creeping among the plants in this winter garden are to be seen a number of little tortoises, which their eccentric owner has had enamelled and studded with precious stones.—Buntes Allerlei.

Haverly—Upson Downes lighted his cigar with the pawn ticket of his dress suit the other day by mistake. So he took the ashes of the ticket to the pawnbroker. Austen—What did they say? Haverly—They said that they had a fire the day before and handed him the ashes of his dress suit.

Bird Foods
Explained...

Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of bird seed in the market? Because we have made birds and bird foods the study of a lifetime, therefore we know just what birds require, and each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected seed with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25c. Much of the seed fed to birds is positively injurious. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

THE TRUTH.

Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst, D. D., the great reformer, writes October 24, 1894: "Mrs. Parkhurst and myself have used Pond's Extract so long and so constantly that we can speak appreciatively of it and in terms of warm commendation."

Rev. Chas. S. Robinson, D. D., editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prize it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfills every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, writes November 13, 1894: "I have been using a great deal of Pond's Extract for the past year in gargling, as I find it affords great relief in colds."

During the past month the Pond's Extract Company have received over 2,000 orders from physicians. We have on our books testimonials and orders from most of the Governors and many of the Senators of the United States; from the royalty of Europe, such as Her Majesty the Queen of Roumania, the Duchess of Cumberland, Princess of Wied, and others too numerous to mention.

When the clergy, the medical profession, statesmen and royalty all unite in praise of an article it seems unnecessary to say anything additional, but we do find it necessary to warn the public against imitations. These words of praise are all in favor of Pond's Extract—the genuine and only.

It is because of its intrinsic merit and high reputation that Pond's Extract has been imitated. If it were not of such great value and so world renowned there would be no imitations.

HIS NEPHEW'S FIST

Dealt a Blow Which Killed John Watson Jr. Near Severn Bridge.

Special to The Times.

GRAVEHURST, Ont., Aug. 24.—A barn near Severn Bridge was the scene of an affray on Tuesday which resulted in the killing of a Swede named John Wilson, jr., by his nephew Peter Paulsen. The two men were in the barn which belonged to Wilson's father, when a quarrel arose over a girl, and Wilson advanced apparently to strike Paulsen. The latter dealt him a blow which stunned him and the next forenoon, in spite of the efforts of Drs. Ardagh and Harvie, Wilson died. Coroner Campbell and Chief Constable Sloan made inquiries but held no inquest nor made any arrest. Proceedings may, however, be taken from another quarter.

Billousness And Headaches.

"We are pleased with the Paper Dolls which were sent for one trade mark from Hood's Pills and ten cents in stamps. We find Hood's Pills all that could be desired. They are prompt and painless in action and are an excellent remedy for biliousness." Henrietta Parker, No. 17 Boswell Ave., Toronto? Ont.

HOOD'S PILLS cure indigestion, biliousness.

A Port Arthur Gold Brick.

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 24.—Franklin S. Riley has arrived from the Lake Harold gold mine, with the first gold brick ever produced in the Port Arthur gold district. It weighs forty seven and one half ounces and is valued at $950, the product of seven tons of ore run through a five stamp mill in 117 hours, or less than five mill days.

New Goods

Good common chairs at 33c, a good bedstead, all hard wood and well finished, for $2. Mattresses, springs, pillows, etc. Cheap extension tables and sideboards. Four flats one hundred feet long filled full of furniture and all at bottom prices, A. Clegg, 427 George street.

HAS RELATIVES HERE.

The Wife of Ashton H Coldham, of Toledo Wants a Divorce.

Special to The Times.

TOLEDO, Ohio. Aug. 24.—Local society circles were greatly surprised yesterday when it became known that Mrs. Ashton H. Coldham had petitioned for a divorce, alleging cruelty and failure to provide. Her maiden name was Daisy Brainard. She is one of the most popular women in this city, and a recognized society leader. The defendant is a prominent lawyer, and one of Ohio's crack tennis players. They were married three years ago, and have two children. Mr. Coldham is related to prominent families in Toronto, Ont., and Pittsburg.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People have become used to the Great Specific Remedy.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Mr. Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills however has become so universal here, and there has been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did then when the medicine was less known.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music whether professionally or for its individual delights.

The Queen Going to Scotland.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Queen is going to Balmoral on Tuesday next: but it is not expected that she will stay in Scotland for any great length of time.

A Mountain Climber's Death.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 24.—Rev. I. T. Miller, pastor of Fowler church, has died from the effects of exposure experienced while climbing Mount Tacoma. He was caught in a storm at an altitude of 10,000 feet and lay all night exposed to a wind blowing 80 miles an hour.

In Advanced Years

The strength and pure blood necessary to resist the effects of cold seasons are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have for the last 25 years of my life been complaining of a weakness of the lungs and colds in the head, especially in the winter. Last fall I was again attacked. Reading of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was led to try it. I am now taking the fifth bottle with good results. I can positively say that I have not spent a winter as free from coughs or pains and difficult breathing spells for the last 25 years as was last winter. I can lie down and sleep all night without any annoyance from cough or pain in the lungs or asthmatic difficulty." E. M. CHAMBERS, J. P., Cornhill, N. B.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Weather.

PROBS.—Moderate to fresh westerly to northwesterly winds; showery today; fair tomorrow.

An Immersion.

The pastor of Bethany tabernacle, Christian Alliance, baptized 9 candidates yesterday afternoon in the river at Inverlea Park. The baptismal ceremony was witnessed by a large number of citizens.

Patronize Home Institutions.

For the last couple of days a pedlar has been making a door to door canvass, selling paper and envelopes. Our citizens can do much better by buying from their town stationers than these street men.

Detectives in Town.

Some Toronto detectives been at work in the vicinity of Peterborough for the past 10 days, and arrests in several cases will take place this week. THE TIMES will publish particulars after the arrests are made.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 651 Stewart street.

Nearly a Drowning.

Charley [illegible] had a narrow escape from drowning last week. While fishing at the Red Mill at Nassau last week with five companions, he slipped from the dam slide, and was drawn into the torrent. He had to struggle with almost superhuman strength for fully ten minutes, when he was rescued in an exhausted condition by his companions.

He Was a Bad Indian.

A husky looking brave from one of the Indian settlements came to town on Saturday to see the circus, and instead of confining his libations to pink lemonode indulged in whisky straights to such an extent that he couldn't maintain his equilibrium at the show and created a disturbance. County Constable Moore placed him under arrest and he will make his debut in the police court this morning.

The Ontarios Defeated.

A close and exciting game of lacrosse was played between the Ontarios of Port Hope and the Cobourgs. The game although at times a little rough, abounded in good plays. The work of York, Duncan, Breadin, Sullivan, and Snell for the Cobourgs was particularly good, while for Port Hope, Burt and White played good lacrosse. The Cobourgs won by 3 straight goals.

A Fortune in Twelve Years.

Twelve years ago Mr. O'Grady went to British Columbia, and engaged in gold mining in the Kootenay district. He returned to Peterborough last week, but before doing so, sold an interest in the mine for $120,000. In addition he still retains a large interest in this mine which yields ore that assays a large percentage of the yellow metal. Since returning Mr. O'Grady has purchased his father's homestead in Otonabee.

Football at Keene.

Our Keene correspondent writes that on Friday an excursion from Bewedly arrived in that village with a strong football team. A game was played between the teams of the respective villages and so close was it that only one goal was made it being the good luck of the Keene club to secure it. Gingerale Kennaley acted as goal keeper for Keene, proving to be a veritable stone wall, and Referee McCullogh gave such excellent satisfaction that he has been signed for the position for the season.

The Fakir at the Show.

There was one, and only one fakir, at the show grounds on Saturday. He operated a ball and peg game. You paid a quarter to swing the ball, and if you knocked over the peg you would get a dollar. The ball was suspended by a chain, and the peg was centered in a circle. By moving the peg a 16th of an inch it was impossible to knock it down, and when the fakir caught a "green" he moved it every time and invariably captured the quarter. He did a flourishing business all day and raked in lots of quarters from the uninitiated.

Inspector Pope's Condition.

The many friends of Mr. Robert Pope, street inspector, will be sorry to learn of his serious illness. Some few weeks ago he went to his Stony Lake cottage with his family, in the hope that the change would prove beneficial. While there an abscess which had formed on his side, broke, and it was some considerable time before he could be brought home. He returned last Tuesday and an operation was immediately performed by Drs. King and Yelland, which brought about a slight improvement. His many friends will be glad to know that he has been better since and will hope for his complete recovery.

Bicycles vs. Pianos.

"The piano business," said a dealer Saturday, "has had the bottom knocked out of it by this bicycle craze. You don't see the connection between bicycles and pianos? Well, if you were a dealer in pianos you would quickly discover it. For instance, I have sold many pianos to young married couples. Sometimes they have bought them on the installment plan. Sometimes they have saved enough to buy them outright. This has been a good source of business to the piano dealer. Now, what has happened since the bicycle came into popular favor? Why the young couple that otherwise would save up for a piano save up for two bicycles. That is a fact. Other piano dealers will tell you the same. Two bicycles can be purchased at the cost of one piano, and perhaps they furnish more amusement, and perhaps they don't. I am in favor of a reasonable use of a bicycle.

WESTWOOD.

The Union picnic took place at the Grove, this place on the 22nd, and was largely attended. One of the features of the day was an exciting football match between the Westwood and Keene clubs, resulting in a victory for Westwood by one goal. The admirers of the Keene kickers were astounded to see their favorites beaten, and attribute the weak backs of their half backs to the weakness of Bro. Doberty's lemonade.

ROBBED AT CHURCH.

Whips Stolen from the Vehicles of Church Goers From a Distance.

For some time members of St. Paul's church, who drive to church and leave their rigs in the driving shed, have been annoyed by having their whips stolen from the vehicles, and a number of whips and other things have been taken while the owners were at service.

The police have been on the lookout for the miscreants and had a suspicion that some small boys were the perpetrators, committing the petty thefts more for mischief than for what could be realized on the stolen articles.

Young Bert Hill, a lad 13 years of age has been arrested, charged with stealing the whips, and will have a hearing in the police court this morning.

SATURDAY'S ARRESTS.

A St. Catharines Man Steals a Hat—Another Throws a Stone.

A man hailing from St. Catharines, who is well known to the police, attempted to steal a hat from Fairweather's store on Saturday, but was detected by officer McGinty. He was placed in the cells and will come up in the police court this morning.

Another character, hailing from Toronto, got into an altercation with a young man in town, and picking up a stone threw it and struck him. This occurred on Hunter street. Afterwards this man and the hat thief were both arrested while making tracks for Ashburnham.

Chief Roszel also arrested a man for being intoxicated. They will appear before the magistrate this morning.

THOUSANDS SAW THE SHOW.

Sells Bros.' Big Circus Visited by Large Crowds—Features of the Show.

Thousands of people came to Peterborough on Saturday to see the big circus. The day opened with a drizzling rain, which doubtless kept many away, and this continued until noon, making the streets muddy and sloppy and anything but desirable for the parade. Four long trains of heavily laden cars brought the circus to town, arriving shortly after 4 o'clock. The process of unloading the heavy wagons and carriages and transferring them to the Driving Park, at once began, and by 11 o'clock the big canvas was up and everything in readiness for the reception of the thousands who attended the two performances.

The parade took place at 11 o'clock and was witnessed by the thousands of visitors who lined either sides of George street from the C.P.R. tracks to Brock street. The parade was a long one, but its appearance was marred by the drizzling rain.

Between 8,000 and 10,000 people filled the big canvas at the afternoon performance and looked at the hundreds of performers on the flying trapeze, slack wire and in the rings. It was a continuous performance, one act quickly following the other and all difficult feats of strength and agility. The bareback riding, the thrilling hippodrome races and the dozens of specialties were up to the highest standard of excellence. The performing seals and sea lions were, perhaps, the greatest wonder, and a very valuable acquisition to the show.

Sells Bros, have an interesting menagerie. Ramesis, one of five big elephants, possesses the largest ears of any elephant in captivity. This big fellow is chained, not on account of viciousness, but because he likes to roam around. One of the two big Bengal tigers is interesting on account of an incident in his career. Nearly two years ago while the show was in Kentucky this animal attacked its keeper and eleven bullets were fired into it before it released the torn and bleeding man, who died a few hours later. The two hippopotami, came into the possession of the show when only weighing 120 pounds each. Now they weigh over a ton each, and for 20 years they have lain together in the huge tank. They are genuine curiosities. The flock of ostriches are curiosities. When they stretch their long necks they measure 8 feet in height, and yet these birds are confined in an inclosure barely 36 inches in height, and none of them have ever escaped.

The after concert in connection with the show is the best ever given by any circus visiting Peterborough, and was a genuine surprise to the thousands who paid an extra dime to take it in.

All the feed for the animals, and the immense amount of meat and groceries necessary to prepare the meals for the 500 employees were purchased in Peterborough. The performers all take their meals in the tent. Two of the Sells Bros.' accompany the circus, and they have a private table, at which are seated the heads of the departments, treasurer, press agent and managers, making quite a little family.

Both performances were attended by crowds that tested the capacity of the huge tent. The crowds were well satisfied with the show, for they found everything as represented, or as nearly so as they expected.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

Schools re-open today after the midsummer vacations.

Today is Havelock's civic holiday. A large excursion will arrive from there this morning and go down the river via the City of Peterborough.

Although there were thousands of people in town on Saturday there was no disorderliness, and the offices of the police were not required in many instances.

The streets are in a fearfully muddy condition.

There are several cases to be tried at the police court this morning.

A DASTARDLY DEED.

A Villain's Work Almost Causes Several People Their Lives.

About 10.30 last Saturday night, as Mr. J. H. Howry's family carriage, which had been to Lindsay, was descending Jordan's hill, less than a mile from the Falls, one of the pole straps broke and the pole of course fell to the ground. The coachman, Mr. George Hardy, hung on to the lines, and would probably have been able to stop his team if both of them had been of the same quiet disposition; but while one of them, Gypsey, did her best to hold back, the other, Frank, kept springing forward, though he considerately refrained from kicking. The result was that the carriage, after continuing to descend the hill for a few seconds in a wildly erratic fashion, was thrown over on its side and the horses were at the same instant liberated by the breaking of the bolt that holds the double tree to the pole, but for which latter circumstances we should probably have had a much more serious accident to narrate. The occupants of the carriage were (besides the coachman) Mrs. J. W. Howry, her sister, Mrs. Clarke, and her son, Mr. J. H. Howry, and we are glad to be able to say that none of the party received any worse injuries than one or two slight bruises. The carriage was badly damaged, but the horses were unhurt, and, after running a few rods, stopped of their own accord and waited at the roadside until they were led away. As the harness was practically new and made of first class leather, the breaking of a pole strap could not be accounted for until an examination revealed the startling fact that it had been cut through on both edges until the cuts nearly met in the middle. In any mill or factory in which a great many men are employed there are almost sure to be two or three with a grievance, and such men not infrequently seek to punish the party, whether boss or foreman, who has incurred their ill will; but to endeavor to do so by a trick that may result in injury to or even the death of innocent persons, is as dastardly an offense as can well be imagined, and it is to be hoped that in this, as in every other similar case, the perpetrator may be discovered and get his deserts.

CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. W. S. Sanderson occupied the pulpit of the George street church at both services yesterday and gave two splendid discourses. Mr. Sanderson possesses good ability and his sermons are delivered with much power.

Rev. B. C. H. Andrews, preached in St. Luke's Church last evening.

Desperate Safe Blowers.

A couple of Englishmen, who, it is said, are working in the track of Sells circus are supposed to be the men who have been operating on safes in Gravenhurst, Newbury, Blair and other villages in the province. Detective Rogers, of Toronto, has been endeavoring to locate them but returned to Toronto on Saturday without having been able to find them. The authorities say the men are desperate and experienced safe blowers.

Prof Segno, the Palmist.

Prof Segno, the well known palmist is in town for a limited time, and will be glad to hold consultations with those who care to test his remarkable scientific reading of the hand. Palmisty has rapidly forged ahead during the past few years and is now classed among the sciences as one of the most remarkable and interesting. Prof. Segno ranks among the most learned in this art, and his consultations have invariably proven of great benefit and value. His advertisemen appears in these columns and our readers' attention is directed to it.

A Midnight Disturbance,

Residents on Aylmer street near the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. tracks were troubled on Friday night with the carousals of some young men in a box car. They were singing and dancing and having a glorious time until about 1 o'clock Saturday morning. A gentleman residing on Aylmer street could not sleep and went up to the police station and the officers went down. They quietly entered one car but all they could see was two little boys sleeping soundly at one end. But they soon found they had gone into the wrong car, for in a few minutes there was a movement of feet outside and on looking out the officers noticed a lot of fellows running at a fast rate up the track. The men who were raising the disturbance had heard the police in the other car and becoming alarmed made themselves scarce.

A Metal Breadboard
THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous coveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

DEATH-DEALING MESSAGE

AN INFERNAL MACHINE INTENDED FOR ROTHSCHILDS

Badly Injures a Clerk—Anarchism at the Bottom of the Intrigue—Fatal Boiler Bursts—warehouse Destroyed in London.

Special to the Times.

PARIS, August 26.—A heavy letter addressed to Baron Alphonse Rothschild was delivered at the Baron's office yesterday afternoon during his absence at Trouville. The Baron' confidential clerk, M. Jacobsky, opened the bulky parcel with a knife, whereupon it exploded. The clerk's eye was almost torn out of his head and one of his hands was so badly shattered that three of his fingers had to be amputated. It is thought the package was sent by an anarchist.

LATER.—The package was delivered at Baron Rothschild's residence in the Rue St. Florentine yesterday and was taken to his office in the Rue Laffitte today. H. Jacobsky, the wounded clerk, is 50 years old. He was formerly a notary at Metz. He entered the services of the Rothschild's in 1871. He conducts the firm's legal business, and manages it's estates. He has nothing to do with the ordinary business of the firm, and in the absence of Baron Alphonse Rothschilds opens the latter's personal letters only. Several other clerks were present in the office when the explosion occurred, but none were hurt. Experts are suprised that the machine was not exploded when the package was stamped in the post office. M. Jacobsky is doing well, and it is not expected that his condition will become serious.

WAREHOUSE DESTROYED.

LONDON, Aug. 26. — Bennett & Co's. warehouse, called Hanbury's wharf, was burned last evening. The building was six stories high, and was filled with sugar, grain and other combustibles. Loss $100,000.

FATAL BOILER BURST.

PALERMO, Aug. 26.—The boiler in a mill here exploded last evening, killing three persons and wounding many others. Five persons are missing and are thought to be killed. The mill was overthrown and pieces of wreckage were hurled for a great distance.

JUDGE AND BLOOMERS.

Decision in Little Rock Regarding a Woman's Apparel.

Special to the Times.

LITTLE ROCK, August 26.—Judge Willson dismissed the prosecution against Mrs. Noo who was arrested last Thursday for appearing on the street in bloomers. In delivering his opinion the judge said: "Women have a constitutional and God-given right to ride a bike, and they are bound to have some comfortable appropriate dress therefor. Were Mrs. Noo a woman with one foot in the grave and the other on a pedal, were she of a size to freighten herself and impede traffic or were her habiliments of the sort originally designed by the women whose name they bear, I should be disposed to give the limit of the law. As it is I dismiss the case at the city's costs."

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

Special to the Times.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such an enormously increased sale of the medicine.

Work of an Anarchist.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Thirty anarchists, who were arrested on suspicion in connection with the infernal machine, by the explosion of which M. Jacobsky, the confidential clerk of Baron Alphonz de Rothschild, was badly injured on Saturday, were released this morning for want of evidence. There is as yet no clue to the origin of the machine, but it is believed to be the work of an individual anarchist, rather than that of an organized band.

To Exclude the Japanese Also.

LOS ANGELOS, Cal., Aug. 26.—In an interview U.S. Senator White said that Labor Commissioner Fitzgerald, of San Francisco, has asked him to introduce in Conaress a bill similar to the Chinese Exclusion Act, which shall include Japanese. Senator White has promised to do so if Fitzgerald will furnish the data to prove that Japanese are seriously injuring American labor. He does not believe, however, that it will be as easy as it was to get the Chinese bill through.

$12,000 Blaze at Florence.

FLORENCE, Aug. 26.—Early yesterday morning fire was discovered in William Milton's tailor shop, and the flames quickly spread to S. Crouche's barber shop, William Thompson's tailoring establishment, Webster & Gordon's general store, Dr. Northwood's office and the I.O.O.F. lodge rooms. The loss cannot be estimated correctly yet, but is about $10,000 or $12,000. Some of the parties were insured and some were not.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 26.—At Gainsboro', N. W.T., a young man named Fred Reynolds, about eighteen years of age, while out duck shooting, accidentally shot himself, the whole charge entering his right side. He lingered until next morning, and died.

Bald Not on the Canadian Loop.

BUFFALO, Aug. 26.—Eddie Bald is enjoying a well earned rest from racing and will not appear on the Canadian loop of the national circuit. He is at Springfield to prepare for the September meeting at Hampden Park, which is the greatest tourney of the year.

A Papal Nuncio to the U. S.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—A special despatch to the Figaro, from Rome, contradicts the report that the Pope intends to establish a nunciature in the U.S.

FLEMING WILL RUN

In the Next Mayoralty Race—Has His Eye on East Toronto.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—Ex-Mayor Fleming of Toronto, president of the Dominion Alliance, in an interview Saturday said he would be a candidate for the Mayoralty next year, and also contemplated running in East Toronto in the Liberal interest at the next election. Regarding prohibition he said the temperance people of Ontario would not make any move for another temperance legislation until such time as the appeal before the Privy Council is settled. He had not the slightest doubt but that the contentions of the Ontario Government would be sustained.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH.

A Hotel Fire Near Toledo—Names of Two Victims Unknown.

Special to the Times.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Three men were burned to death last night in the Air Line hotel at Air Line Junction, about four miles from this city. Most of the people in the house escaped in their night clothes. Timothy McCarthy, of Hillsdale, Mich., and two men, whose names are unknown, perished. Healy was taken from the building alive, but died within a few moments afterwards. The loss on the hotel and several small buildings, to which the flames communicated, is $6,000.

UNITED AGAINTS CHINA

CHINA UNWILLINGLY ADMITS THE FOREIGN CONSULS INTO THE INVESTIGATION.

Six Assassins are Convicted—The Great Powers Stood Firmly for their Rights—The Massacre Investigated.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A despatch to the Times from Shanghai says that the Ku-Cheng enquiry has been proceeding since Wednesday, with all the members of the Consular Commission present, but progress is slow. The despatch adds that a Mohammedan rebellion has broken out in the province of Kalsu, and is spreading seriously.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard telegraphs to that paper that the news that France will join England and America in whatever steps may be necessary to stop the massacre of foreigners in China has induced some German newspapers to express the hope that Germany will do likewise. Germany has a large squadron in Chinese waters.

A despatch to the Central News from Shanghai says that the latest victims of the anti-foreign feeling are two Spanish priests, who have been murdered by a Chinese mob at Hoyun.

BROUGHT TO TERMS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—A special cable dispatch to the World from Foo Chow, China, says firmness has brought the Chinese to terms. Foreigners are now present at the trials of natives implicated in the attacks upon missionaries, and Chinese officials afford every facility to the foreign commissioners of enquiry. Six of the Chinese who had a hand in the recent massacre have been convicted for murder. New arrests are made daily.

POSITIVE INSTRUCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. — Further and more positive instructions have been sent to Minister Denby concerning his course in the matter of the missionary outrages in China.

Acting Secretary of State Adee declined to state what the subject of the instructions was except that they related to the Ku Cheng investigation, and to the protection of American citizens in the Celestial Empire. It is understood that they directed him to continue to vigorously press the demands of the United States for a full investigation of the recent outrages perpetrated upon American missionaries, and for the protection of our citizens in the future.

State Department officials have no official confirmation of the report of the appointment of the formerly degraded Liu Ping Chang as Imperial High Commissioner on the Ku-Cheng commission, and there is a disposition to doubt it. Should it turn out be true, however, there is good reason for believing that an immediate protest will be lodged with the Chinese authorities, demanding the substitution of another official in his place. Minister Denby has been instructed to keep the department advised of the personnel of the commission, and his failure to send any information to the department of the appointment of Liu Ping Chang is considered a sufficient refutation of the report. The State Department up to a late hour had not been advised that the members of the commission were practically prisoners, as has been reported.

A REWARD OF $500.

Offered by the Fire Underwriters' Association For Information.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—The Fire Underwriters have written to Acting Mayor Shaw asking for an official investigation into an alleged incendiary fire at the premises of G. L. Diehl & Co., 785 King street west on the 16th instant. In making this request they point out the many fires of the kind and the great desirability of discovering the perpetrators. They add that they have offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension and conviction of the firebug mixed up in the Diehl & Co. fire and ask the Council to supplement that with a like sum.

Replying to this communication the Acting Mayor has said that he will speak to the members of the Council about the matter, but owing to the fact that many are out of town he does not think that a meeting of the Council could be called until some day next week, when the desired investigation would probably be granted.

NEARLY TWO YEARS.

Was the Body of Alex. T. Douglas in the Waters of Lake Nipissing.

Special to the Times.

NORTH BAY, Aug. 26.—The body of Alex. T. Douglas, storekeeper for Davidson & Hay, Toronto, who was one of the 21 who lost their lives by the burning of that firm's steamer, The Fraser, on Lake Nipissing, September 7, 1893, was found by John Couchin, an Indian, on Saturday on the north shore of the lake, 5 1 2 miles west of here. That the body had been lying in sixty feet of water, and possibly a muddy bottom, seems the only way of accounting for its preservation for so long a time, and the recent thunderstorms are thought to be the cause of its coming to the surface. The bodies of 15 of the 21 victims had previously been found, nearly all within a year after the occurrence.

The interment took place here today and was attended by the widow and children of the deceased, who was living at Cache Bay.

WAS MONEY USED?

The Liberals Accused of Crooked Work in Westmoreland.

Special to The Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—The Citizen this morning charges that the Grits resorted to corruption in Westmoreland, which was won on Saturday by the Conservatives. It says that a good supply of the needful added persuasiveness to their arguments. Altogether the Conservative majority in the previous election was reduced, it is pointed out that it was obtained over a weak and obscure opponent. The result is declared to be gratifying.

Again on Her Route.

KINGSTON, Aug. 26.—The R and O Navigation Company's steamer Spartan, injured by running on a shoal near Alexander Bay on Thursday evening last, had her forefoot, which was split, repaired and bulkhead patched up at the Government dry dock, and left on her regular route between Toronto and Montreal today.

QUEBEC'S SCHOOLS.

We agree with our valued contemparay, the Hamilton Spectator that the agitation about the Manitoba schools is entirely due to the people of Quebec, who insist that the unfortunate half-breeds of Manitoba shall have the "right" to be educated in a foreign language which is not recognized in the legislature or the courts of Manitoba. The Quebeckers insist that the poor half-breeds shall be taught as the habitants are taught, in schools entirely controlled by the priest-hood, and by teachers who have no knowledge. These are "rights" which the Quebeckers affirm must be given to the Manitoba half-beeds. But there are some men in Québec who have sense enough to see the wrong done to the people by forcing them to ignore English in the schools, and the wrong done them by giving them teachers who cannot teach. These wise men recognize the fact that the habitants' education, under the rules of the church, is such as to prevent his progress—his success in life, and to leave him in condition of a hewer of wood and a drawer of water for those whose education has been more liberal, and a movement is on foot in the province to reform the entire school system.

A congress of school inspectors has recently been held at St. Hyacinthe, under the presidency of the superintendent of education, and startling revelations have been made of the shocking condition of the common Roman Cathalic schools of the province. The inspectors are French-Canadian Roman Catholics, and it cannot be charged that they are hostile to the church which governs the schools. But they are able, intelligent and educated, and cannot fail to observe and deplore the bad condition into which the common schools of the province have been forced by reason of mismanagement by the church. In the convention the admission was made by one inspector after another that 30 per cent of the Roman Catholic common schools of Quebec were in the hands of unskilled, incompetent and uneducated teachers. It had been ordered by the education department that none but those holding diplomas would be allowed to teach; but there is a power in Quebec greater than education departments, and this rule has been sat aside in nine cases out of ten, and incompentent teachers have been thrust upon the unfortunate people. But that is not the worst of it. The province is devided into school districts, each of which has a local board of examiners, whose duty it is among other things to examine applicants for teacherships and grant diplomas to successful candidates. Some of these examiners can scarcely read or write! So that even some of the certified teachers must be incompetent. The whole system is described as being a screaming farce.

And this is the "inestimable boon" guaranteed to Quebec by the constitution! This is the great blessing conferred upon the people of New France by a foolish British conqueror! This is what the political French-Canadian is ready to fight and die for, not only in Quebec, but in Manitoba!

The St. Hyacinthe congress is only the beginning. May the investigation and the agitation go on until the schools are entirely rescued from clerical management or interference. May the poor habitant soon see that the great "right" he bears so much about from politician and priest, is a serious drawback to him, and may he have the courage to demand that his children shall have an education that will not make them slaves, but which will make them the peers of the children of the Ontario public schools, able to take their own part in the battle of life—to qualify to rise to the highest positions and to accumulate the greatest wealth.

In the meantime let us hope that the Quebec people instructed by the exposures at St. Hyancinthe, will be so ashamed or their French Catholic schools that they will drop the agitation to force a similar farce upon Manitoba.

THE OCEAN'S WONDERS.

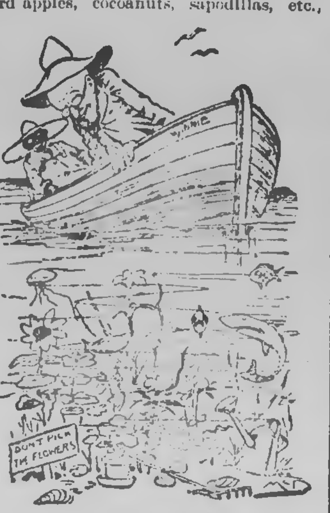
Bill Nye Describes His Trip Through a Sea Garden.

One of the most charming trips about Nassau or the Bahamas is a sail over the sea gardens, where all below you there is a wilderness of coral and submarine growth three to ten fathoms, but with a water glass perfectly visible. It is a perfect marvel of rainbow coloring of animal, vegetable and mineral growth.

You sail out a few miles from Nassau and then anchor your catboat, get into a glass-bottom rowboat and slowly drift in delightful indolence over the vast marine conservatory, while in and out among the coral caves the beautiful angel fish, the humming bird fish or the rainbow fish softly floats like a healthy dream.

Sixteen shillings will pay for the trip, and you may take the day for it if you want to do so.

We sailed over to Hog Island, went ashore and gathered all the oranges, custard apples, cocoanuts, sapodillas, etc., that we could eat during the day; then we sailed on for the sea gardens, where we anchored and took to the glass-bottom boat.



THE SEA GARDENS.

We had a colored diver, and whenever we saw a bouquet growing on the bottom of the sea that pleased us he would go down and pluck it for us so that we would not get our feet wet. You cannot, gentle reader, imagine how funny he looked under the glass bottom of our boat, strolling about in the vasty deep gathering sea fans and all sorts of things for us.

Once he got hold of a sea fan nearly a yard in diameter and a soft heliotrope in color, but it was grown to the bottom of the ocean so firmly that, though he braced himself and lifted till he was black in the face, he could not get it. He moved the huge coral boulder on which it grew, but looking up at us shook his head, and I motioned for him to leave it, for I feared that he might mar the bottom of the sea and let the water out mayhap.

After a half hour I thought I would note the bouquet and fragrance of our ocean plants. I shall always regret it. The sea fan after a half hour in the air smells like—everything! It smells like Lazarus when his sister objected to the opening of his tomb.

If you pluck the fuana of the sea, do not carry it in your trunk, for you will be stopped at quarantine and subjected to annoying delays.

One of the queer sights here in the tropics is the jewfish. I do not know why he is called the jewfish. No one seems to know unless it be that wherever you find him you will note that he seems to own that block and the adjoining one also.

He attains a weight of 600 pounds sometimes and is good for food. He does not rise to the fly, however, and is not a game fish. In fact, when the fisherman wants him, he goes down and gently puts the hook in his mouth while the partner in the boat hauls away. It is very exciting. It is about as sportsmanlike as it is to move a county seat by putting a bent pin under the county when it sits down.

Sharks are very plentiful all the way from here up to Long Branch and even to Nantucket. The leopard shark is a mean, low coyote of the sea, and will eat a little child that never did a wrong to any one quicker than he will a lovely lady old with black hose. The leopard shark has a low, retreating forehead, like that of the codfish ball, and will often sit up till a late hour of the night in order to eat a Welsh rarebit from Swansea. The shark swims with great indolence until he hears the gong for dinner, and then the eye cannot follow his motions. He darts like a streak of delayed lightning that is trying to make up time.

Sometimes a leopard shark will spring full length into the air and land on the deck of a low sailboat. Our pilot had a visit of that kind once off Ocean Grove. He says he would rather go boating with a total stranger than be joined that way by a leopard shark.

The first thing to do with a shark is to cut off his tail; then he will die. But he does not rely on his head so much. He places no more dependence on his brains than a national financier. But if you cut off his tail he soon dies.

N. B.—While cutting off the shark's tail it is always a good plan to see that he does not bite you.

When a shark gets a man in his mouth he cannot reconsider even if he would like to do so, for the teeth point inward, and, like a boat constrictor, he may choke to death, but he cannot even by joint resolution move to reconsider.

I have an uncle who was last seen entering a shark off New Zealand twenty-seven years ago, and we all fear the worst regarding him. He was a man who always tried to get home for the holidays, and it has been so long now we felt almost certain that he has been delayed by something he had not calculated on. Twenty-seven times we have waited by the yuletide for him, and twenty-seven times he has not come.

BILL NYE.

Easy to Guess the Correct Size.

"I want to git a collar for my husband," said the hardfaced woman, "and I declare I have plumb forgot the size. I giner'ly buy all his collars and ties fer him, too."

"Ah!" said the astute clerk. "Then you probably want about a thirteen and a half or fourteen."

"Yes, that's right but I don't see how you guessed it so easy."

"Oh, I have noticed that a man who lets his wife buy all his haberdashery for him usually has a neck of about that size."—Cincinnati Tribune.

A Clever One.

Daisy—Did the Count say he loved you?

Madge—Oh, fiddlesticks! no. That's why I accepted him. He was so honest about it.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receivd ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

TREES THAT DO NOT DIE

THEY SURVIVE HACKING, HEWING, BURNING AND UPROOTING.

The Baobab Tree of South Africa Cannot Be Exterminated—The Nullah Tree Another Example—When Uprooted It Grows More Roots Elsewhere.

There are some trees and plants which it is exceedingly difficult to kill. An example is a tree found in South Africa, called the baobab tree, that is most useful to the natives. No matter what sort of treatment it receives it never seems to be the worse for it.

The natives make a strong cord that lasts for years out of the fibres contained in the pounded bark, and for this purpose the whole of the trunk, as far as they can possibly reach it, is barked, a course of treatment which if applied to any other tree would undoubtedly ruin if not kill it. The only effect, however, upon the extraordinary baobab tree is to make it throw out a new bark, apparently as capable of answering the natives' purposes as the old one.

No external injury, not even fire, appears to be able to injure this tough tree to any extent. If an axe be driven in with a hard blow, it can only with great difficulty be extracted, on account of the soft, spongy wood closing upon it. Neither can any injury be done to the tree from within, and even cutting it down does not exterminate it; it continues to grow after it is lying on the ground.

The nullah tree of the East Indies is also almost impossible to kill. It can be cut and hacked in any shape, and although uprooted and allowed to lie on the sandy plains for months an upright branch or new trunk will grow.

At Umballa, Bengal, India, there is a large tree that has had an experience. It is situated on the camping-ground used for regiments passing through Umballa, or for the infantry regiments which come down from the hill stations in winter for drill on the plains. The canteen tent is pitched near it, and the soldiers derive a great benefit from this curious tree, as the prostrate portion answers the purpose of two long seats and the upright part serves as a shade from the hot sun.

Another strange plant, belonging somewhat to this species, is the devil plant, found near the Lake of Nicaragua. It is of such a deadly nature that it destroys all insects and vegetable life in its vicinity. Nothing seems to be able to kill it, and though it has been burned down several times, it springs up again in vigorous life, without any loss of vitality.

In Jamaica there is to be found the life-plant, also almost impossible to kill. The writer knows it to be a fact that when a leaf is cut off and hung up by a string to dry or wither, it sends out white threadlike roots, gathers moisture from the air, and begins to grow new leaves. And still further, when it is pressed and packed away, in a botanist's herbarium it has really been known to outgrow the leaves of the book in which it was placed. The only way known to kill it is by applying a red-hot iron to it, or by steeping it in boiling water.

These few examples give some idea of the extraordinary creations of the vegetable world, many of which must appear incredible to the unscientific. They do not realize that there is an infinitely greater variety of species in the vegetable world than in that part of the animal world visible to their eyes.

The trees and plants mentioned are among those whose extraordinary qualities are well authenticated. There have been many reports of still more remarkable vegetables, which, while they are not clearly verified by scientific works, cannot be proved to be untrue.

For instance, there is the plant which feeds on meat, and which, while it ordinarily nourishes itself on small birds and mice, shows a fondness for raw beef when it is placed in its way. Another has the power of coating itself with copper extracted from the soil in which it grows. Various persons have reported the discovery of plants similar to the devil plant of Nicaragua already mentioned, but possessing still more deadly powers, even to the endangering of human life.

Blunt Criticism.

President Kruger evidently has no music in his soul—if a story going the rounds in South Africa be true. At a social gathering given in his honor some time ago, one of Bloemfontein's sweetest lady singers gave an artistic rendering of a popular song. The lady of the house, turning to "Oom Paul," who was probably pining for a pipe, asked, "How did your Honor like that?" The president bluntly replied, "I go into the veld when I want to hear the she-wolf scream!"—Washington Gazette.

Aluminum in Billiard Balls.

A new substitute for ivory as the composition of billiard balls has been discovered in a combination of steel and aluminum, and according to the proprietor of a Chestnut street billiard room, this innovation will soon be introduced into several of the billiard establishments of the city. The new composition will, of course, be much cheaper than ivory, and will be absolutely proof against chipping. The ease with which a draw or "english" could be imparted to the new composition is not known, but the general belief is that the balls will respond much quicker than the ivory ones. Old billiard enthusiasts place no confidence in the invention, but curiosity has attained such proportions that the popularity of the new balls would be assured, at least for a short time.—Philadelphia Record.

A Canny Scot's Animal Power.

An ingenious Scotchman has devised a thread spinning apparatus that is operated by two trained mice. In driving the little mill with their paws the animals daily perform work equivalent to traveling a distance of 10½ miles.

It Breathes With Its Tail.

The Periophthalmus, a native of the Malayan mangrove swamps, is the only fish which breathes with its tail. If the tail be painted over with oil or varnish the fish dies of suffocation.

Switzerland's Advancement.

In Switzerland there is a law by which railway and steamboat companies, factory establishments, etc., are liable to indemnify their employes in case of accidents, or their widows and children in case of their death.

A Gigantic Cedar.

A cedar tree, 407 feet in height, and 70 feet in circumference at the base, was recently felled near Oceola, Wash. The first limb sprang 60 feet from the base, and this limb was 7 feet in diameter.

BIG BLAZE IN CLEVELAND.

A $75,000 Block Destroyed—Three Lives Reported Lost.

Special to the Times.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Flames broke out in the Williamson block, southeast corner of Euclid avenue and Monument square, at 2 o'clock this morning. In five minutes the entire building, which had a frontage of 100 feet on Euclid avenue, was a mass of flames. The ground floor was occupied by Benfield Brothers' drug store, Meiners' jewelry store and the Goodyear Rubber Company, the four upper stories being filled with business offices. In all there were about sixty tenants in the building. At 2 30 a.m. the building was gutted, only the walls remaining. The handsome new Cuyahoga building caught in several places, and the firemen directed their efforts to save that structure.

It is reported that three men were burned to death in the Willamson block.

The loss on the building and contents will reach $75,000.

OFF TO CANADA TO TRAIN.

Captain Williams and a Squad of Football Players Leave for Grimsby.

Special to the Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Captain Carl S. Williams and five of his candidates of the University of Pennsylvania football team left last evening for Grimsby, Ontario, Canada for the preliminary practice season of the University eleven. The men will continue training from their arrival until Sept. 25, when they will return to this city to contest the opening games of the season. But one man of last year's team left with Captain Williams last night. He was Mines, the left tackle. The others were Boyle, Darrah and Stein, all of them new candidates, who were last year students in the first year class, but ineligible under the rules.

HEAVY SLAUGHTER OF FRENCH.

The Madagascar Campaign a Costly One to France.

Special to the Times.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The correspondent of The Gaulois on board the French transport Provence, which arrived at Marseilles from Madagascar yesterday with a number of sick and wounded soldiers, sends to his paper reports of interviews had with several of the returned officers and men, all of whom regard the French situation in Madagascar in a most pessimistic light. One officer frankly said: "The number of dead among the French troops will never be known in France. About 500 are now lying ill who ought to have been sent home long ago. Many of the engineers are on the sick list."

A SMASH AT BARRIE.

Two Racing Bicyclists Collide with a Buggy—Broken Arms.

Special to the Times.

BARRIE, Aug. 24.—During a bicycle race last night between C. Ellis and H. Hughes, both riders collided with a horse and buggy, owned by Judge Ardagh. Hughes received a broken arm and several serious cuts. Ellis got a broken arm and his body badly bruised. Both wheels were demolished, the horse was also cut and the buggy smashed, while the lady occupants received a severe shaking up. Hughes and Ellis had entered for the Kingston road race.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

SUPPOSED POISON CASE.

WILLIAM HOLMES, OF BARRIE, DIED UNDER QUEER CIRCUMSTANCES.

His Stomach Taken to Toronto for Analysis—Bullets May Fly if Fitzsimmons and Corbett Attempt to Fight in Texas.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.

PROFESSOR ELLIS Provincial Analyist, has received for examination the stomach of Wm. Holmes, a Barrie marble cutter, who died suddenly on Sunday, July 14, under circumstances strange enough to warrant an inquest. The deceased had been sick for a few days previous with diarrhoea, but his case was not regarded as dangerous his physician, Dr. Wells. On Sunday morning he was considerably better. In the afternoon his wife discovered him lying at the head of the stairs in his house on Collier street. She ran out for help, but when she came back he was dead. This was the story told by his wife, and the funeral was announced for the following Tuesday. The suddeness of the death however, induced Coroner Wells to hold an inquest. An autopsy was performed by Drs. Ross, Smith, Wells and Schofield, and when their evidence was presented at the inquest Crown Attorney Cotter decided to adjourn the investigation until the contents of the dead man's stomach has been analyzed.

SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

Several suspicious circumstances were elicited at the inquest which were not made public. A small phial, said to have been at one time filled with some poisonous compound, was found under a pillow on deceased's bed. Dr. Wells, who attended Holmes, gave as his opinion that his patient had died too suddenly for death to have been caused by diarrhoea. He stated that poisonous and corrosive acids given in small doses might produce dysentery and that an overdose of such a poison would cause a sudden death.

Holmes has resided ten years in Barrie. He was a member of the Public School Board and an officer in the A.O.U.W. and A.O.F. He had considerable property, which was all in his wife's name and also a $2,000 life insurance policy made payable to her.

Prof. Ellis will make his report early in September, when the inquest will be resumed.

BULLETS MAY FLY.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 24.—Governor Culberson today made public some correspondence between himself and Sheriff Cabell, of Dallas county, about the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight. The correspondence was opened by Governor Culberson inquiring of the sheriff whether he intended to abide by the decision of Attorney General Crane, holding the prize fighting law valid and as to whether it was his intention to exercise all the powers vested in him to prevent the fight. Sheriff Cabell's reply is that he will unhesitatingly discharge his duties. He cites, however, that the criminal statute defining prize fighting makes it a misdemeanor, not a felony, and asks the Governor under such circumstances would he be justified in using such force as may be necessary, even if it requires the shooting down of the citizens, and would the Governor advise such proceedings.

In reply to Campbell's letter the Governor says: "While it is true that the prize fight at Dallas is not advertised to take place until October the propriety of the public officers of the State taking action is obvious. It is proper that they should give notice at once of the firm purpose to enforce the law, that none may be deceived. The constitution, which is the supreme law of the State, makes it the duty of the Governor to cause the law to be faithfully executed. At the proper time what force may be necessary and deemed expedient to guard against failure will be used to prevent this proposed infraction of the law of the State.

To Cabell's interrogatory as to whether the Governor would sanction shooting down of citizens he very promptly replied that he would not attempt to answer the question, but would refer it to the Attorney General for his opinion.

GRACE NEWMAN'S SUICIDE.

A Tiverton Girl Jumps From a Boat in the Detroit River.

Special to the Times.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 24.—Last evening a well dressed young woman jumped from a ferry boat and was drowned. On the seat which she had occupied on the ferry boat was found a letter, written in lead pencil, in which the suicide gave her name as Grace Newman, of Tiverton, Ont. She said she was a poor girl, and that nobody cared for or wanted her, and that she had determined to die. She also stated that her parents lived in Tiverton, and asked that they be notified of her death. The body has not yet been recovered.

A Vienna specialist was recently summoned to Temesvar to decide whether the bishop's leg should be amputated or not. The train was stalled in the snow but he consulted with the Temesvar doctors by telephone, and the leg came off.

FOR MEN AND WOMEN.

New York has twenty-seven female barbers.

Women are naturally more prone to insanity than are men.

All the very good Roman Emperors had very bad wives.

No woman has ever written an epic poem that became known to the world.

Napoleon's campaigns made one million French women widows, and three million children homeless.

The average European woman's life is shorter than the man's, but over two-thirds of the centenarians are women.

A committee, headed by the Marchioness of Queensberry, has been formed in London to revive the agitation for the release of Mrs. Maybrick from prison.

American women spend $20,000,000 a year for chewing gum, and yet the ready flow of female conversation is not checked. Grumpy old bachelors will hold that it only tends to strengthen the jaws.

Japanese politeness translates into queer English. "How is your honorable wife?" one gentleman will ask. "I thank you, honorable sir, my dirty fool of a wife is well," is the answer.

TIPS FOR THE GIRLS.

Flowers are to be much used to trim evening gowns.

Large soft rosettes of velvet will be on the early spring hats.

Leghorn hats trimmed with ostrich feathers and lace are to be worn again.

English walking gloves for spring are of finely-dressed dog skin or Swedish kid.

There are now one hundred and seventy-seven women doctors in the United Kingdom.

There is a new button made apparently of twisted wire, with a large stone ball in the centre.

Violet bouquets for the crush collars and to wear on the wrap are as fashionable as for the hats.

Fancy fans are very popular, and are to be had in feathers tufted with blossoms of tiny curls of contrasting ostrich tips.

The best veils to wear have light sprays and spots on a clear ground, and greatly improve the appearance of a poor complexion.

Almost every bodice of recent date for evening dresses and walking gowns alike, has a pouched front, which conceals the waist line and overhangs the skirt.

PERSONALS.

Thomas A. Edison plays poker. But it is only for fun and relaxation and no gamblers need apply.

Prince Massimo, of Italy, thinks that his is the oldest family in Europe. He traces his ancestry to Quintus Fabius Maximus.

Gladstone's trip to the Riviera appears to have restored him to vigorous health. Some of his friends say that he has not looked better in several years.

Mgr. Capel, well known as a Roman Catholic ecclesiastic some years ago, has become a ranchman since he took up his residence in California, and is now said to be very wealthy.

Signor Cavallotti, the opposition leader in the Italian chamber of deputies, has received nearly a dozen challenges from aggrieved ministerial journalists. He has referred all the would be duellists to the law courts.

The Empress of Austria has not had a portrait taken for thirty years. She wants to be remembered as the brilliant beauty who was almost six feet tall, whose hair came below her knees, and whose waist measured seventeen inches.

FARM FAGOTS.

An exchange says that a gallon of pure pine tar is very useful about a sheepyard. Stir the drinking water now and then with a tarry stick. It is an excellent tonic.

Russia is interesting herself in a grand scheme of irrigation for a vast tract of country now desert-like in character. Fifty million dollars have been appropriated to begin the work.

In blanketing a horse, see that the blanket is sufficiently large to cover the animal from the neck to the tail; see also that the breast flaps protect this sensative prat, and the blanket is large enough to cover sides and flank fully.

AMERICAN CITIES.

Knoxville, Tenn., is named after Gen. Henry Knox, of Massachusetts. It was first called Fort Knox.

A representative in the Illinois legislature has introduced a bill to make Chicago a state in herself. It is probably done as a matter of self-defence to prevent Chicago from absorbing the remainder of Illinois.

Greater New York, a topographical statistician points out, will cover an area of 817 square miles; three times the size of London and twelve times that of Paris. Rome, Babylon and Memphis are not to be mentioned in the comparison.

Advice—Not Gratis.

I. (at the doctor's)—Victim of hay fever—Can you suggest any mode of relieving my persistent inclination to sneeze?

Doctor—Oh! yes—sneeze.

Bird Foods
Explained...
Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of bird seed in the market? Because we have made birds and bird foods the study of a lifetime, therefore we know just what birds require, and each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected seed with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25c. Much of the seed fed to birds is positively injurious. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Biliousness And Headaches.

"We are pleased with the Paper Dolls which were sent for one trade mark from Hood's Pills and ten cents in stamps. We find Hood's Pills all that could be desired. They are prompt and painless in action and are an excellent remedy for biliousness." Henrietta Parker, No. 17 Boswell Ave., Toronto? Ont.

HOOD'S PILLS cure indigestion, biliousness.

STORIES OF MONTE CARLO.

Some of Them True, Many False, But All Highly Interesting.

But who should this be, sipping some iced vermouth at the marble table but an old friend whom I will call Mr. Spectator? He lives at Monte Carlo; he has passed a score of seasons here; he has plenty of money; he goes to the Casino every day and every evening, and he never pays a cent. It is his occupation in life to be an observer of things and to mark the ways of man and womankind. In the summer he will mark them at Aix-les-Bains, at Lausanne, or at Trouville. He knows everything about what is going on just now at "Monty;" what Russian princess pawned her diamonds last week, and what Cuban sugar planter did not die of apoplexy at the Hotel Carmbole but poisoned himself with prussic acid. "He was a fool, sir," quoth Mr. Spectator, "Why didn't he go to the Administration? Why didn't he make his declaration? They knew well enough that he had lost 200,000 francs in the course of ten days. They would have paid his traveling and hotel expenses back to Paris, or back to Brazil for the matter of that. He was a fool, sir!"

Mr. Spectator went on to explain that when a cleaned-out player made a candid admission of his impecuniosity the administration gave him a sum of money sufficient to defray his journey by railway to the place whence he came and his incidental expenses en route. He mentioned one case in which a whole family of five persons were allowed fifteen louis apiece to take them from Monte Carlo to London, the sole condition attached to the largesse being that the recipient should not re-enter the Casino unless he or she recouped the Administration for their outlay. In the case which he cited, one of the party, a lady, who had not gone farther than Nice, received some weeks afterwards a handsome remittance from England. She went back blithely to "Monty," repaid the fifteen louis, re-entered the Casino, and backing the douze dernier, not forgetting zero, won £300. "You are not to believe," added Mr. Spectator, "a tithe of the sensational stories printed about ruined gamesters hanging themselves to trees in the gardens, or blowing out their brains in the reading-room." The majority of these canards are set on foot by obscure French newspapers which have not been subventioned or bribed by the Administration to puff Monte Carlo.

One of the pleasantest characteristics of my friend Mr. Spectator is that every time you meet him he has a fresh story to tell you about an infallible system for winning at roulette, and this time he regaled me with a succinct narrative of what I may call the "Wellington boot system." Capt. Backum had played for many years a large number of systems, and by the time he was five-and-forty had played away a handsome fortune. A happy thought occurred to him. He always wore Wellington boots. His capital was just five louis. This he changed into five-franc pieces, and he never staked more than one piece at a time, and if he won he withdrew his stakes after the third coup. His winnings he carefully placed in a side pocket, and whenever he had won four pieces he changed them into a louis and slipped the coin into one of his boots. He played for seven consecutive hours before his stock capital was exhausted. Then he returned to Nice, somewhat heavy of step, and, drawing off his boots, found that he had won a hundred louis. "This was two years ago," continued Mr. Spectator, "and only last week I found Backum at a third class hotel at Nice. He was in a dressing gown and slippers, and looking by no means cheerful. "How about the Wellington boot system?" I asked. "Utter collapse," he replied. "Confounded run of bad luck." "And the boots?" I went on. "The boots!" he replied. "I pawned them yesterday afternoon."

So this is "Monty" in full swing; "Monty," with its ups and downs, its ceaseless whirl of gayety and dissipation. There is no rest at Monte Carlo. When you are tired of play there are dramatic performances; there are concerts; there is a pigeon shooting; and in the spring and summer there is plenty of yachting. But all these are only side issues. The Grand Trunk line of Monte Carlo leads to the Temple of Mammon. It is crowded night and day by people lusting for money which they have not earned, and it is the Road to Ruin.

Bishop Taylor's Work in Africa.

In an interview with Bishop Taylor recently about his work in Africa he said that the results were fairly satisfactory. It is believed to be an absolute essential that the people accept the Christian religion.

"King Hedge's case is an example," said the Bishop. "He had been fairly well educated years ago; had lived among the whites on the west coast. He was, in a sense, civilized; but he was not a Christian. Well, he went back to his little tribe, threw away his clothes and wore the single garment of his tribe. He took seven wives, and in all ways became a savage.

"Recently he became converted, put away all his wives but one, dressed like a white man, and used all his influence to help the missionaries."

"Which wife did he keep, Bishop," I asked. "The first one, or the last one?"

"He kept the one that was—the one that was most—suitable. Each of them had her home, and was comfortably situated. Most of them had children. He selected the one that had no children, that seemed to care most for him, that was most attentive. He called all his people together and told them he had accepted Christ's laws. One of those laws was that a man could have but one wife. He said—'I have seven wives. Chief Do there has seven. We can have but one.'"

"And it is a country of unmeasured, perhaps immeasurable, wealth," said the Bishop. "The soil will produce marvellously. The temperature is from sixty to ninety degrees the year round. There is no winter. It is a land of iron. There is much coal."

But in all this his interest is only incidental. The man's heart and soul are in the missionary work, and his whole church watches and applauds him and reposes abundant faith in his wisdom.

No Doctors' Bills in Sweden.

Swedish doctors send no bills to their patients. What you shall pay your physician is left entirely to your own choice. The rich pay him liberally, whether they have need of his services or not, if he has been once retained by them. The poor pay him a small sum and the very poor pay him nothing. Yet he visits the poor as faithfully as the rich. On the last day of the year you put into an envelope addressed to your physician a sum of money you think not only sufficient to compensate him, but in accordance with your own position in life, and enclosing your card with the money send the envelope by a servant to your doctor.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Pullman Car Employee Crushed to Death.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—A horrible accident occurred on Saturday on the Grand Trunk at Turcotte a small roadside station west of Cote St. Paul. Patrick Breen, an employee of the Pullman Company, had occasion to go to Turcotte on business, riding in the baggage car on the Lachine train. In the same car was a man named Trudel. When nearing the station Trudel jumped from the car just as the fast express from the West came thundering along at the rate of 40 miles an hour. He barely cleared the cowcatcher of the engine. Breen jumped right upon him, but was not so fortunate, the engine striking him. The poor man

NEVER KNEW WHAT STRUCK HIM.

His head was completely shattered and his body cut up terribly. The train was immediately stopped and the remains were picked up and conveyed to this city. Patrick Breen was 26 years old and unmarried, his father being a resident of Newfoundland.

FIRE AT FLORENCE, ONT.

Several Places of Business Wiped out—A Loss of $12,000.

Special to the Times.

FLORENCE, Ont., Middlesex Co., Aug. 26.—Fire started yesterday morning in William Milton's tailor shop. Joining that was S. Crouche's barber shop, and soon both buildings were a mass of flames, which spread to William Thompson's tailor shop, Webster & Gordon's general store, Dr. Northwood's office and the I.O.O.F. lodge rooms, which were consumed. The loss is about $12,000.

Bad News for Workmen.

FINDLAY, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Owing to the two reductions made in the price of oil last week, the leading producers of this field have ordered the suspension of all drilling operations as soon as wells now in progress are completed. It is claimed the present price of oil does not afford profit for continued operations. A large number of hands will be thrown out of employment.

Swift's Comet.

BOSTON, Massachusetts, Aug. 26.—Swift's comet was observed Friday night by Dr. H. C. Wilson, of Goodsell observatory, Northfield, Min., the director of which, Prof. W. W. Payne, has communicated to Messrs. Chandler & Ritchie its position: Aug. 23, 81.54 degrees, Greenwich, mean time; right ascension, 35 minutes, 3 6 sec. declination north, 5 mins.. 48 degrees, 49 secs.

Bird Foods Explained . . .

Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of bird seed in the market? Because we have made birds and bird foods the study of a lifetime, therefore we know just what birds require, and each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected seed with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25c. Much of the seed fed to birds is positively injurious. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage feed Cottam's Bird Seed. Police Court Notes.

In the police court yesterday morning, William Curry, charged with stealing a hat from the store of J. W. Fairweather, was remanded until Thursday. Michael Houran was fined $5 for throwing a stone at a friend. Three lads, Bert Hill, Chas. King and James Long, were charged with purloining whips from vehicles standing in the St. Paul's church driving shed, and were remanded until Thursday. Two men were charged with being drunk. One was fined $2 and the other $5.

Paid Five Dollars.

This week Dr. Fowler, of Baltimore, Md., a guest at the Arlington, went out to Rice Lake for a few days fishing, but when he arrived there he was confronted by Fishery Inspector White, who requested the doctor to pay a fee of $5 before he would be allowed to "spit on his hook." The request was complied with. The inspector was carrying out the Dominion law, which calls on every person not a British subject to pay the above fee to fish in all waters not bordering on Canada and the United States.—Cobourg Post.

Burglars at Lindsay.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Fox, who lives on Victoria ave., west of the circus grounds, locked the house and came down town to the store of Mr. G. H. Fox. Some time during the afternoon burglars effected an entrance through the back door and searched the house for money, disturbing everything they come in contact with. Every drawer in the house had been investigated. They found no money, however, but took away a belt, with a silver buckle belonging to Miss Fox, and so far that is all that has been missed, but had there been any money secreted in the house at all they would surely have had it as the condition the place was in on the return of Mrs. Fox would show that they were bound to have it.

Not satisfied here they entered the house of Mr. Courtemanche, just a few doors from Mrs. Fox's house, and there they found a black coat and vest, which just filled the bill and so the party or parties took it away with them.—Lindsay Post.

THEY WANT MORE MONEY

THE CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC WORKS WANT $5,000 FROM THE TOWN.

As Provided for in the Agreement — From Present Outlook They Won't Get it — A Special Meeting of the Municipal Daddies Last Night.

At a special meeting of the town council held last night, General Manager Nicholls, of the Canadian General Electric Company appeared before the council with his solicitor, Mr. E. H. D. Hall, and asked that the agreement of 1894 be carried out. In other words the Electric Company want $5,000 in cash from the town.

There were present at the meeting, Mayor Kendry, in the chair, and Councillors Cahill, Best, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Dawson, Clinkscale, Sawers and Mason. Mr. Nicholls was given a hearing and said :—

"We ask the council to carry out an agreement that was made with the Canadian General Electric Company last year. We came here on a proposition, and that was that we would remove the lamp works from Hamilton and the Ball works from Toronto to Peterborough for certain considerations. We carried out our part of the agreement, but there was a delay on the part of the town in paying over to us the monetary consideration, but we were told that this delay was but temporary, on account of funds which would shortly accrue from the G.T.R. This part of the agreement has never been carried out. We ask the council to now carry out that agreement, and at this particular time, as we have in contemplation the establishment of car works here, and have advertised for tenders for the erection of a building 320 feet long.

"Our directors, however, have decided to defer the operation of these works unless the town carries out this agreement. Mind, we are not asking for a bonus, although at one time Peterborough offered $20,000 for the establishment of these works, we are simply asking you to carry out your part of an agreement already signed."

Councillor Sawers — What is it you want?

Mr. Nicholls—We want the $5,000 provided for in the agreement.

The mayor stated that Mr. Nicholls was present at his invitation, as he thought the councillors would like to know the exact position of affairs.

Councillor Dawson took a strong stand against the company. He didn't think they had carried out their part of the original agreement which provided that all the branch works of the company in Canada should be centralized in Peterborough. Every time the company added an addition to their works here they came to the council for a bonus. They had already got $10,000—that was more than they should have received.

Councillor Sawers thought the agreement was the business of the council of 1893, and that if the company had been entitled to the $5,000 they would not have waited two years for it. He moved that the present council ignore the matter entirely.

The mayor counselled a consideration of the matter. The establishment of the car works meant a great deal to Peterborough and it would be advisable to discuss the matter.

Councillor Denne asked that the agreement be read.

Mr. Nicholls stated that he was not before the council as a suppliant. It was entirely within the power of the council to decide whether or not they would pay over the $5,000. The company wanted that decided—they wanted to know where they stood. In reply to Mr. Dawson he said the latter was belittling the importance of the company's works in Peterborough. They had paid over $500,000 out in the town.

Councillor Sawers again pressed his question as to how it was the company had not received the money from the previous council.

Mr. Nicholls replied that the town commissioners had not the money on hand at the time, but would call in a loan, which the company was told would defer the payment for several months. The company had accepted this in good faith.

The clerk then read the agreement of 1894.

Councillor Best thought this agreement was simply a repetition of the former agreement in which the company agreed to centralize all their works in Peterborough. He thought the lamp works at Hamilton and the Ball works, were included under the old agreement, and that the company had no right to expect $5,000 for bringing those branches to Peterborough.

Solicitor Hall explained that the Hamilton Lamp Works did not belong to the old Edison company, but that the Canadian General Eletric Company purchased them afterwards, and doubtless if they hadn't, these works would have been closed down long ago.

Councillor Dawson said the agreement of 1894 was illegal from first to last. The Council had no right to give any sum of money away without the vote of the ratepayers.

Councillor Cahill explained that the town commissioners had agreed to give the town $5,000 to do with as the Council saw fit, but presumably to be given to the Electric works. The agreement with the company was really contingent upon the town receiving this money. Of course the transaction was looked upon as doubtful. At present he didn't know whether the commissioners would be willing to give the town this money. He moved that the matter be referred to a committee of the whole council, in order that the new members could post themselves in the matter. Personally, he believed the Canadian General Electric Company had carried out their part of the agreement.

Councillor Phelan thought the matter should be left over in order to give all a chance to get posted.

Councillor Sawers told Mr. Nicholls that the company didn't treat their workmen fair and square. If he had been on the Council in 1894, he would have worked, not for the protection of the company, but for the protection of the workmen.

Councillor Cahill's motion referring the matter to the Committee of the Whole, was then carried.

A HALF HOLIDAY.

A petition from numerous citizens asking that Friday afternoon, August 30th be declared a half holiday, in order that all may attend the bicycle races, met with a favorable reception, and the mayor will declare it the same.

A communication from the secretary of the Town Commissioners notifying the Council that the sum of $550 must be raised to meet interest and sinking fund on the $17,000 issue of debentures was referred to the Finance Committee.

THE COUNCIL WILL ACCEPT.

An invitation from Secretary R. S. Davidson, of the Peterborough Navigation Company, asking the Mayor and Council to take a sail down the river on the City of Peterborough on Thursday afternoon, was unanimously accepted with thanks.

A COUNCILLOR KICKS.

Councillor Dawson protested against Contractor Grant employing Toronto bricklayers in preference to Peterborough labor. He said the former were invariably given the preference.

Councillor Best said the difficulty was that the contractor had no means of knowing when he employed town labor whether the men were ratepayers or not. He promised to furnish the inspector with a list.

SOME MOTIONS.

Councillors Best and Dawson moved that tenders be advertised for the contract of extending the sewer from Lake to Rink street. Carried.

Councillors Best and Cahill moved that Thomas Rehill be paid for 700 loads of gravel at 15 cents per load. Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

Bargain day in raspberries, water melons peaches, bananas, cucumbers and tomatoes at J. B. Oke's. Telephone 304.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

Friday afternoon will be a public holiday.

The schools opened yesterday with a very large attendance.

An excursion from Havelock passed through Peterborough yesterday, and went down the river via City of Peterborough.

The item referring to the narrow escape of the Howry's from serious injury, was taken from the Fenelon Falls Gazette. THE TIMES unintentionally omitted the credit.

There will be a meeting of the Peterborough Bicycle Club at the rink tonight. A large attendance is requested.

The lowest temperature in Manitoba during the past 24 hours at the various points was: Emerson, 56 degrees; Winnipeg, 58 degrees; Brandon, 46 degrees; Minnedosa, 54 degrees; Portage la Prairie, 55 degrees; Elk Horn, 49 degrees.

A meeting of the representatives of the Catholic Association and other Catholic societies of the town was held last night in the Catholic Association rooms for the purpose of making arrangements for their union excursion to Hastings on Labor Day.

Two thousand visitors are expected at the American Circuit races at the Driving Park on Friday afternoon.

The S. A. brass and string bands held a concert at Bridgenorth last night. After the concert the citizens provided them with a splendid spread.

BURGLARS AT WORK.

An Attempt to Blow up the Safe of the Otonabee Flour Mills.

Burglars are again operating in Peterborough for they entered the office of the Otonabee Flour Mills, Ashburnham, some time during Sunday night and bored the safe from the top and emptied enough powder through the hole to blow open the safe had it been ignited. That an attempt was made to do this was clearly shown by a quantity of burnt matches which bestrewed the floor.

The burglars visited Mr. J. T. Craig's blacksmith shop in the village, and, gaining an entrance through a back window, secured a chisel, a brace and, it is supposed, several pieces of drill. Yesterday morning the chisel and brace, identified by Mr. Craig as his, were found in the office of Mr. Roger Davidson when he came to open up. Two pieces of drill, which Mr. Craig says may have come from his shop were also found. The burglars after securing the tools at the blacksmith shop, went to the mills, forced up the office window with a chisel and entered. They went to work on the safe at one corner, about a foot from the front and a foot from the side. They bored with a three-eighths drill, and succeeded in making three holes. Two of these holes had pieces of the drill in them yesterday morning, while the third hole had been bored through to top and down through the wooden roof inside. The powder was then poured in and went to the bottom of the safe. Had they bored a few inches nearer the centre the powder would have lodged on the shelving and been easily ignited. A large handful of blasting powder was found inside the safe, an amount quite sufficient to have opened the safe had it been ignited. Whether they tried to start it or not is perpaps a question, for the matches found lying around may have been used in the process of boring to see what progress was being made. It is probable that something frightened the man or men, who went out the window where entrance had been gained. There was only $2 in the safe.

THAT $5,000 BONUS.

If the Canadian General Electric Company had a legal right to the $5,000 bonus which Manager Nichols asked for last night, they would not likely have waited two years for it. Nor would they have come before the council and made the building of those car works contingent upon the payment of that sum. We are inclined to think that the car works is cast as a bait, and why should it be necessary to thus hold out an inducement for the payment of the money, if the company felt secure in their right and title to it?

The old Edison Company managed to "work" this town for nearly $40,000 in land and money, conditionally that they would centralize all their works in the Dominion in Peterborough. We take it that when the new company assumed the business of the old company that it also assumed the liabilities and obligations of the latter. This is the point: under the old agreement could the new company legally demand or extort an additional bonus from the town for bringing the Hamilton Lamp Works here?

There was irregularity in the giving of that $5,000 bonus. It was the giving away of the town's money without the consent of the ratepayers evidenced by their vote, and we do not think the council of 1895 is legally or morally bound to stand by the irregular action of the council of 1894. We believe the sentiment of the council is on this line, and we trust they will not be lead to change their minds by the alluring bait held out in the shape of the new car works. The town is under no obligations to the Electric Works, and it is a question if the benefit to the town derived from their location here, has been commensurate with the amount the town expended in bringing them here.

Twenty Thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking of his beauties. He ships them by mail and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 45 King street west.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

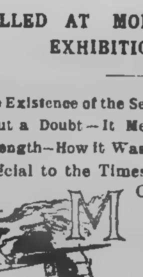
The Existence of the Sea-Serpent Proved Without a Doubt—It Measures 32 1-2 Feet in Length—How It Was Shot.

Special to the Times.



MONTREAL, Aug. 27.—The Back River sea serpent, shot on Friday last by J. Meadows, has caused a big sensation in this city. It is undoubtedly a genuine sea serpent, or more definitely it is a specimen, and a large-sized one, of that species of reptile seen is so many inland waters during the summer and previous years. When the serpent was shot it had raised its head about six feet above the surface of the water in the style that has so often been graphically described and just as often doubted.

From Friday, when it was shot, until Sunday evening Charles Greenwood, of 2,815 St. Martin street, could not make the newspaper editors believe that he had a sea serpent on his hands. It was worse than the proverbial elephant. At last, however, a credulous reporter visited the kitchen of Mr. Meadows' house and saw the 32 1-2 foot reptile in a box there, and on the publication of the description next morning people commenced to swarm towards St. Martin street to see the wonder. It is estimated that ten thousand people flocked to St. Martin street yesterday to see the snake.

THE REPORTER WANTS DAMAGES.

This, however, is Mrs. Greenwood's estimate, and owing to the great excitement it may be somewhat exaggerated. As it was some persons offered as much as $10 to be allowed to go in and see the serpent. Mr. Greenwood was obliged to post up a sign, "Sea Serpent Removed From Here," in order to keep the mob out of the house. As for the unfortunate reporter, who wrote the article descriptive of the serpent in the Herald, he was so roasted by the Montreal Witness that he has instructed his lawyer to take a suit for damages against that journal. Mr. Greenwood today has sworn affidavits of all the witnesses of the wonder taken before a magistrate, and he also threatens actions for damages. The sea serpent is now on exhibition in the Palace Theatre on St. Lawrence street, whither hundreds are flocking.

HOW THE SERPENT WAS SHOT.

THE EXCITING SPORT ENJOYED BY A PARTY OF FOUR MONTREALERS.

This is the story as told by the Montreal Herald: Friday afternoon Mr. Samuel Meadows, artist, living at 260 Richmond street; Charles Greenwood, of 285 St. Martin street; E. Douglas, of Notre Dame street, and Fred Morris started for a fishing and shooting expedition to Back River. They secured a boat and went out looking for fish, but they little dreamed of the extraordinary game that was in store for them. In fact, just about 4 o'clock someone made the remark that it was time to go and get something to eat. At that moment the attention of the party was attracted by some extraordinary fish which had lifted his head over a foot above the surface of the water. There have been such stories told this summer of the sea serpent that the suspicions of the party were immediately aroused. Mr. Meadows, who is a member of the Prince of Wales Rifles, grasped his gun and awaited a second appearance of the monster. It was not slow in again showing its head.

LIKE THE TRUNK OF A BIG TREE.

It did not look aggressive, but rather inquisitive and perfectly calm. But Mr. Meadows did not stop to be attacked. He was within 200 feet, and he seized the opportunity to fire. In an instant the immense body like the trunk of some big tree rose above the water with a hiss, then falling back, began to writhe violently, beating the water into a foam for a hundred feet around. Were our friends afraid? It would be impertinent to ask them. They admit that they began to row away. But the fury and struggles of the monster quickly subsided, and he appeared floating quietly on the water like a log. Our fishermen paused, then cautiously approached. In his agony the serpent had drawn near, the shore and was lying in about four feet of water. Mr. E. Douglas boldly jumped into the water to grapple the body of the giant reptile and draw it to shore, where the victors could examine their capture.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SEA SERPENT.

The scene was near the iron bridge at Sault au Recollet. A crowd quickly gathered, but no one had ever seen the like of it. The body by actual mersurement was 32½ feet long and measured 3 feet 9 inches around the thickest part of the body. The skin is almost black over the back, and grows paler to white under the belly. It is perfectly smooth. There are two flippers on each side of the neck, but no signs of feet. The jaws are reddish, and have sharp teeth about one-half inch in length The eyes are about one inch in diameter, a bright yellow with just a small black spot in the centre. The shot from Meadows' rifle took effect in the neck about eighteen inches from the mouth. It took six men to carry the body to Mr. Peloquin's hotel. It has been put in a solution of saltpetre and salts of ammonia, which, it is said, will preserve it.

A YACHT STRUCK

By An Iron Steamer—Several Lives Believed to Have Been Lost.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The sloop yacht Adelaide, owned by Robert W. Inman, jr., the cotton broker, while cruising off Norton's Point, was run into by the iron steamer Perseus. There were aboard Mr. Inman, Mr. and Mrs. G. Evans, of West Fortyninth street, and a Miss Norton, whom Mrs. Evans was chaperoning, besides the captain, mate and two others in the crew. The Adelaide was heeled over and at least three persons are known to have gone overboard. Mrs. Evans and the mate were hauled aboard the Perseus. The Adelaide righted, the eye witness state that as she moved off in the dark, the forms of three men could be distinguished on her. Lifeboats were lowered from the Perseus to rescue those who had gone overboard. They returned and reported that an inbound schooner had picked up a woman and two men from the water. Nothing had been heard from Mr. Inman at his bachelor apartments this morning. As soon as the news of the collision and the rumor that Mr. Inman was drowned spread, his apartments were besieged with friends of the young man who inquired as to his safety. The servants could give no news of him. At police headquarters an offer of a reward of $500 for the recovery of Mr. Inman's body has been posted.

BOSTON DECORATES HERSELF.

Grand Parade of Knights Templars—Stately Columns in Review.

Special to the Times.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—Today witnessed a very prominent event in the great Knights Templars' conclave in this city—the monster parade. All conditions were auspicious for the demonstration. Boston has seldom, if ever, been so elaborately decorated. At the signal of three guns, at ten o'clock, the first division took up the line of march, and the other divisions successively as the heads of the representative columns were uncovered by the division immediately preceeding them.

REVIEWING THE COLUMNS.

Each column was reviewed at Columbus Square by Mr. W. E. B. Holmes, Grand Master of Masons in Massachusetts. The column was reviewed at Blackstone Square, on Washington street, by the M.E. Grand Master, Hugh McCurdy, and the officers and members of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templars of the United States and his Excellency Governor Greenhalge. The column was reviewed at Adams Square, in Washington street, by R.E. Sir S. E. Lawrence, Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and chief marshal of the parade, and his Honour Sir E. U. Curtis, Mayor of the city of Boston.

BOWELL-GREENWAY.

Strong Indications of a Conference Between the two Leaders.

Special to the Times.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 27.—A flurry was caused in political circles this morning by a dispatch from Calgary, where Bowell, Schultz and Fred White now are. An interview with Bowell was published in the Alberta Tribune in which a hint was given that Bowell would have an interview with Greenway in Winnipeg, suggested, it is believed, by Shultz. It appears that Bowell hinted at a private interview that an arrangement might be made.

The Calgary Tribune has an inspired article intimating that as no political party seeks to take advantage of the question, a "Round Table Conference," such as Gladstone suggested on Home Rule, be held. The article concludes with the significant suggestion that Schultz would be justified in taking steps to bring about a conference, and adds that an attempt would be condoned by Canada, even if barren of results. By many in Winnipeg this is taken to mean that Schultz might be induced to go a considerable distance in trying to force Greenway to terms.

THE D. R. A. MATCHES.

Scores Made in the Dominion of Canada Match—Two Tie at 97 out of 105.

Special to the Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27. — Shooting for the Dominion of Canada match was continued this morning. The high scores of yesterday at the 200 yard range were heavily discounted by many failures on the 500 and 600 yards range. Among the first completed scores to come in was that of W. C. King, of the 45th of Lindsay, who makes 97 of a possible 105. A good score was made by Staff Sergt. Harp, of the Toronto Highlanders, who came within ten points of all that was possible. Hayhurst made 90.

The following scores were made by Highlanders, of Toronto: Harp, 95; Capt. Orchard, 90; S. McVittie, 87; Major Macdonald, 85; Sergt. Milligan, 85; Pte. W. Davidson, 82.

For the Patterson Cup and the first place in the Dominion of Canada match, there was a tie between Staff Sergt. King, of Bowanville, and Staff Sergt. Armstrong, of Guelph, each of whom made 97.

RAIN IN MANITOBA.

But It Retarded Harvesting Only For a Day—Mr. Wood's Trip.

Special to The Times.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Rain was general yesterday morning all over Manitoba south of the main line of the C. P. R., but will retard wheat cutting for only a day as it was clear and hot last night. There was rain for fifteen minutes at Portage la Prairie and Russell, also at Binscarth, but at other northwestern points wheat cutting is reported in full swing.

Hon. S. C. Wood, Managing Director of the Freehold Loan & Savings Company, Toronto, has returned after a 700 mile drive through the western and northwestern part of the Province. The driving portion was commenced at Souris, then north. The tour was through Brandon, Rapid City, Minnedosa, Virden, and up to Birtle, through what he believed are the finest fields of wheat in the Province. Mr. Wood was greatly pleased with his trip.

HERE'S A LEGAL POINT.

The Superior not Authorized to Sign on Behalf of the Teachers.

Special to The Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—The Separate school difficulty here is becoming more involved. Against the contention that the Brothers have been engaged for a year and therefore, cannot be dismissed, the chairman of the Board has obtained a legal opinion that the contract is void, because it is signed by the Brother Superior on behalf of the Ottawa Brothers, whereas the statute requires that all agreements between teachers and trustees must be signed by each teacher individually. If the Brothers are dismissed it may be impossible to fill their places for months, and in the meantime the schools will be closed. At present four trustees are for continuing the Brothers, and two are for dismissal; one of the latter, Mr. Moffat, threatens to take legal proceedings if the schools are reopened by the Brothers. Now that the French Committee is unable to solve the difficulty, the matter awaits the action of the Separate School Board as a whole.

Bold, Bad Burglars.

WATERLOO, Que., Aug. 27.—Burglars made a bold raid on the merchants of this town last night by entering and ransacking four stores and trying to affect an entrance on the fifth. They apparently began their work at Pierre Hubert's general store, working north along main street to E. & P. Gate's hardware store, G. W. Gilmour's general store and A. E. Driberger's drug store.

A Useless Arrest.

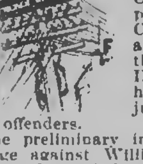
PARIS, Aug. 27.—The name of the man arrested at Vis-Sur-Cere today on information furnished by the postmaster that he had posted at their office a package the address on which was in handwriting similar to that on the infernal machine sent to Baron De Rothschild, is Bert. His arrest has furnished no clue to the would be assassin. The police have no evidence to connect him with the outrage.

FROM THE QUEEN CITY.

McMILLAN AND ROSENTHAL, THE ALLEGED FIRE-BUGS, IN COURT.

A Trolley Collides with a Wagon and the Horse Has to be Killed—Central Prison Investigation—G.T.R. President to be Entertained.

Special to the Times.



TORONTO, Aug. 27.—Police Magistrate Duff, of Kingston, brother-in-law of Sir Oliver Mowat, dropped in at the Police Court this morning and occupied a seat on the bench with Colonel Denison. Colonel Duff has long dispensed justice to Limestone City offenders.

The preliminary investigation of the charge against William McMillan and Adolph Rosenthal that they set fire to the Osgoodby building on Jan. 10 was begun. J. W. St. John, who appeared for McMillan, asked if the bare fact that a witness had been served with a subpoena by the Crown debarred the defence from all conversation with that person. The Magistrate thought it did. All witnesses were excluded from the court and Edward Caven was called. He swore that at the time of the fire he was caretaker of the Osgoodby building. He identified plans produced as those of the building destroyed, and showed where the office lay which McMillan occupied. Witness detailed his discovery of the fire and his extraordinary escape from the top storey. After he reached the net, McMillan appeared and offered his coat. Witness could not remember when he had last seen McMillan in the building, and had little more to say on the case.

H. L. Hawkey, another occupant of the building, saw McMillan on the stairs between 5.40 and 6 p.m. The latter told him he was not coming home yet, as he had some samples to arrange. W. S. Johnson told how he was in his premises in the basement with his foreman when the flames were noticed. He looked up hastily and thought the fire was on the third flat.

Deputy Chief Thompson testified that the alarm sounded at 7 a.m., and Robert Pritchard, the elevator boy, gave unimportant evidence.

The case will be taken up again on Friday. Bail was renewed.

HAD TO SHOOT THE HORSE.

George Richardson, a milk dealer who lives at 134 Lansdowne avenue, was driving up Dufferin street with his delivery wagon about six o'clock this morning when, as he turned into the Queen street subway, an east bound trolley car crashed into his outfit with disastrous results. His wagon was demolished and the horse was so badly injured that a bullet was sent through his head to end his agony. Richardson fortunately came out of the accident comparatively unharmed, having simply been severely shaken up.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE CENTRAL.

Hon. J. M. Gibson arrived in the city this morning and lost no time in interviewing Warden Massie who subsequently met him at the Parliament buildings where a conference was held touching the trouble at the Central Prison. While nothing definite was decided upon it is understood that a thorough investigation into the charges against certain parties at the Central will be insisted upon and the whole facts in the case will then come out.

TO ENTERTAIN SIR CHARLES RIVERS WILSON

At a meeting of the Board of Trade Council yesterday afternoon the president and vice-president were empowered to make all necessary arrangements for the reception of Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk. Harrison Watson, curator of the Imperial Institute, is coming to Toronto to visit the Industrial Exhibition as a representative of the Institute. Messrs. F. McLaughlin, Toronto; Philip Davey, Berlin; Geo. Rumpse, Berlin; and Geo. T. Ferguson, Toronto, were elected new members of the council subject to the approval of the Gratuity Trustees.

BRIEF WIRELETS.

Fire in the appartments on the second floor at 54 Clay street, Greenpoint, L. I., last night, suffocated Mary Lautner, wife of John Lautner, and Bertha, his daughter.

John Brandon, aged 65, and his son Alonzo, aged 30, of Dunklon County, Mo., have been arrested on a charge of counterfeiting. The elder Brandon has been a preacher for 20 years.

A morning paper says: "There has been an epidemic of incendiarism in and around New York within the last few weeks. There has been deep mystery in these fires. Some have seemed not to have been the result of an attempted insurance swindle. What the motives really were will furnish work for the shrewdest detectives. Brooklyn, too, has been afflicted."

The Defender reached her moorings off Premium Point this morning at New Rochelle, N.Y. All efforts to see either Captain Haff or Mr. Iselen have proved unavailing.

The White Star line freight steamer Georgic arrived in New York this morning from Liverpool. On August 23 she fell in with the barque Tons from Miramichi for Ipswick, which had sprung a leake, and rescued the crew of 12 men. The Georgic is the largest freight steamer afloat.

The coroner's jury last night brought in a verdict of "Died by strangulation at the hands of parties unknown," in the case of the four men lynched at Yreka, Cal., yesterday.

A man named Kempthorn, 35 years old, went to the house of Mrs. Hattie Keller, in the town of Scriba, N.Y., and committed an assault on her. She seized a shotgun and ordered him to leave. He refused, and she shot him as he lay on the bed, blowing a hole through his body, and killing him instantly.

The President has re-appointed Matthew W. Ranson, of North Carolina, Minister of Mexico.

Robert W. Inman, the cotton broker, whose sloop yacht Adelaide was run down by the iron steamboat Perseus last night, in the bay off Norton's Point, N. Y., had not returned to his apartments this morning nor had any news concerning him been received at his office in the Cotton Exchange building and it is feared he was lost.

The Heir to Austria's Throne Dying.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A despatch to The Central News says that the condition of Archduke Frank, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph and heir presumptive to the throne of Austria and Hungary, who is at a hotel at Meudel, in the Tyrol, is worse. Pulmonary catarrh in a serious form has developed and affects both lungs.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 28 1895.

The demand of the Electric Company for an additional $5,000 is not like'y to be favorably entertained by the Council. In any case it is a matter that must be voted on by the people.

The TIMES received yesterday an addition of 132 new subscribers to its lists, nearly one half of whom belong to Smith Township. People appreciate the advantage of a bright and newsy morning paper.

Mr. Fred Nicholls—Sir: The ratepayers of Peterborough are not only willing but anxious to assist all manufacturies that come amongst us, but they decidedly object to any further bonuses unless it is first submitted to them for approval. While the Council and the Commissioners of the Town Trust, between them, might be able to hand over the money, it would be decidedly unhealthy for them to do so. If the money is granted, let it be in the regular way.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly For September.

FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY for September is out in a new dress of type, which, with the artistic cover and the broad, handsome pages, gives the finest possible sitting to its numerous pictorial and literary features. These latter are always of a timely and seasonable nature, and in the current number include; a fascinating paper upon "Mishaps and Mysteries of the Sea," by Mary Titcomb, reviewing the world's great marine disasters, and superbly illustrated with drawings by Overend, Davidson, Schell, Burns and Montbard; the idyllic diary of," A Quiet Summer on Lake Maggiore," by Lena L. Pepper; "A Holiday Trip in Search of Old China," by Mrs. M. E. Leicester Addis; a charming sketch of outdoor festivity in the South, entitled "Al Fresco," by Martha McCulloch-Williams; an intimate study of "The Factory Towns of England," by Edward Porritt; "A Chat from Havana," with some timely pictures, by Anna Cronhjelm Wallberg; "The Romance of Early California," by J. M. Scanland; "The Story of the Samovar," by W. S. Harwood; and a sketch of the career of the late Professor Huxley, accompanied with an admirable portrait. The September number of FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY contains the opening installment of a new serial story, "The Magnet Stone, by Frances Swann Williams, which bids fair to prove the best work yet offered by this rising youg Virginian novelist.

Brantford Ladies' College and Conservatory of Music.

This widely known institution has just attained its majority as the new calendar indicates, and looks forward from the coveted standpoint with characteristic courage and hopeful anticipation to a glorious future. It has a distinguished work before it, which is steadily kept in view by its promoters, viz., the fitting of young women of special training and lofty ideas for adorning home life with real accomplishments, social refinement and Christian graces.

In English and mathematics its curriculum is in line with Toronto University; in pianoforte, organ, violin, harmony, voice culture, etc., the course under most competent teachers is identical with the larger conservatories, while in art, the name of the director Mr. Henry Martin, A. R. C. A., is a sufficient guarantee of excellence.

Rev. Dr. Cochrane, ubiquitous and energetic as ever, is still governor and deep interested in the prosperity of the college, while Mrs. Rolls, the lady principal, enjoying alike the confidence of the board and loving respect of every student, continues her successful efforts to mould character after her own lofty ideal. Further, Brantford is no mean city. Its artificial water supply is of the purest, its sewage system is one of the best on the continent. These, with its beautiful and healthful location, make Brantford a most desirable place of residence, a matter of great importance to parents in selecting a college for their daughters. For particulars as to applications see advertisement.

AT EVENING TIME.

At evening time let there be light;
  Life's little day draws near its close;
Around me fall the shades of night,
  The night of death, the grave's repose.
  To crown my joys, to end my woes;
At evening time let there be light.

At evening time let there be light;
  Stormy and dark has been my day,
Yet rose the morn divinely bright;
  Dews, birds and blossoms cheered the way.
  Oh, for one sweet, one parting ray!
At evening time let there be light.

At evening time there shall be light!
  For God hath spoken, it must be;
Fear, doubt and anguish take their flight,
  His glory now is risen on me;
  Mine eyes shall His salvation see.
'Tis evening time, and there is light!

A GIRL REPORTER.

I am a lady journalist, and engaged on the staff of the Weekly Ray.

I never was a pudding-and-pie sort of girl; and I think when I started going to town, and left the household duties to my sister, my people actually felt a sense of relief.

For some time I wrote at random, sending in contributions to all sorts of papers, some of which reached their mark. The majority, however, like carrier pigeons or the Australian boomerang, faithfully returned to me.

At last I attracted the attention of the editor of the Weekly Ray, or at least my work did; and after a few more successes he offered me a post on his paper.

"A lady interviewer, you know, Miss Neville," said he to me, "can frequently attain her object where a man would fail, and I shall be glad to see what success you may have at the business."

Time went on, and I had "fixed" hundreds of notables, when one day, entering the editor's room to submit some copy to him, I perceived by the way he greeted me that he had some special commission in store.

"Good morning, Miss Neville. The very person I wanted to see. Take a seat."

I sat down, while the editor pushed his papers aside, laid down his glasses and commenced.

"You have no doubt heard that the famous Frenchman, M. Jean Coussot, has arrived in London for a stay of a few days, and has taken up his quarters at the Hotel Bristol?"

"What, the 'unapproachable' in London!" said I. "No, I am ashamed to say that I had not heard of it."

"Well, it is nevertheless a fact," continued my chief, adding with a smile: "And very aptly you have christened him, for not only has he never been interviewed, but has declared his decision that he never will be. Now, although Coussot has never done anything so very remarkable, beyond writing some epigrammatic plays and jingling verses, and posing with great success as an art critic, a wit, cynic, and leader of fashion, yet he has 'a vogue,' and whatever opinions and impressions fall from his lips people will greedily devour."

"Therefore," said I, anticipating his coming remark, "what you suggest is that I should endeavor to obtain the same?"

"That's it," said the editor. "Thereby, if you succeed, rendering your paper a great service and covering yourself with glory."

Next morning—I had spent all the previous day and night thinking about my task—I presented myself at the Hotel Bristol.

"Is M. Jean Coussot within?"

"Yes, miss," said the hall porter, much to my delight. "What name?"

I handed him one of my cards, which he in turn passed to a boy in buttons, who disappeared upstairs with it.

A minute later he returned. "Kindly step this way, miss!" Was the great man really going to see me? It would be something even to receive a refusal direct from his own lips.

Up and up we went, till, on the third or fourth landing, a man servant, holding my card in his fingers, confronted me.

"Monsieur has so many callers," he explained, with a bow, eying me curiously all the time. "What might be madame's business?"

Perfectly well aware that I might as well beat a retreat at once as hope for success if I answered his question, "My business is with monsieur," I said calmly. "Kindly hand him my card, and he will see me."

Still hesitating, but evidently impressed by the assurance with which I spoke the man turned and tapped at an adjacent door.

"Enter!" responded a voice from within. The man left the door ajar behind him. Silently I stepped up to it and peeped through the crack, being rewarded for my temerity by the sight of a rather stout figure of medium height, clad in a long frock coat, with a bullet-shaped head, hair cropped tight, a well-formed nose, and a straight mustache of enormous proportions.

"Mees Margareet Neveel!" I heard him say. "No! I do not think I know the lady." Then he added, turning to the servant: "Is mademoiselle young or old?"

"Young, sir," said the man; and in my anxiety I had almost called through the opening of the door "and pretty."

"Did you ask her beesnees?"

"Yessir. She said it was direct with you."

"Vell, I vill see her in one moment," came the welcome words; but, as I stepped back from the door, they were followed by: "But shust make sure her beeznees has noaing te do with ze noospapers."

A groan almost escaped me. It was no use prevaricating when, in a moment's time, I should be in the great man's presence. I told the servant candidly that I did indeed come from the editor of the Weekly Ray, a paper that had always expressed its greatest admiration of M. Coussot and all his works, to bid him welcome to our shores.

The man's face relaxed as I said this. He returned to the room, and a second after I heard M. Coussot's voice from within:

"Ha! ha! Ha! ha! Ver' goot! ver goot indeed! Tell Mees Neveel I feel ze honor greatly, but"—and he he raised his tones—"M. Coussot is nevair interviewed."

"So much for the glory I was to be covered with," said I, as, hurrying from the scene of my defeat, I turned into Regent street.

Next morning, still feeling a bit ashamed of myself, I went into the city to keep an appointment that the editor had made for me.

That over, I was coming down Threadneedle street, intending to walk back to the office, when, passing the entrance to the Bank of England, I saw a sight that made my heart go thump!

Three genial-looking gentlemen, locked arm in arm, were emerging from

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receiv ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds pe cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own clas but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

HENRI ROCHEFORT.

A Famous Writer Whose Caustic Pen Got Him Into Trouble.

A cable correspondent estimates that 200,000 people were at the railroad station in Paris the other day to welcome Henri Rochefort on his return to the French capital after years of exile in England. Rochefort has been called the D'Artagnan of French journalism. Daring to the point of rashness when he handled a pen, Rochefort is timid if called to plead his own cause by word of mouth. If he had been in that Paris court a few months ago when the magistrate sentenced him to three months' imprisonment for "insulting the bench" in one of his blazing leaders in the Intransigeant he would probably have made a poor appearance. But when he took up his pen and began to dissect the limb of the law who had shown his resentment by making "complete amnesty" difficult for him, the advantage was all on his side. With the lightning of his irony he so "scarified" that judge that he made him ridiculous, and in France ridicule kills.

The exile which has just come to an end is not the first to which he has been subjected. For his share in the wild doings of the commune he was condemned to death, but the sentence was commuted to transportation to New Caledonia. The story of his escape from that penal settlement and of his passing through the United States is well known. On his return to Europe, as he, of course, would not go to France, he settled down in Switzerland and lost no time in annoying the French government by his political articles and pamphlets. In 1880 an amnesty bill was passed, which restored all those implicated in the commune to France, and Henri Rochefort at once returned to Paris. He started the Intransigent—the word means one who will never compromise — and the paper rapidly obtained a large circulation. Its attacks on the government and on all public men prominent in its counsels were daily and of the most unrelenting and violent kind. These attacks were in the form of a short signed leader printed in large type.

When the Boulangist movement began, Rochefort, although he had not spared General Boulanger when the latter was minister of war, became one of his warmest supporters and made the Intransigeant one of the chief organs of the party. When the government decided to crush the Boulangist, Minister Constans issued an order for the arrest of the general, Count Dillon and Rochefort. All three received timely warning and escaped to Belgium. From Brussels Rochefort continued his attacks, sending his daily article to the Intransigeant, and when the Belgian government, a few weeks later, requested him to leave the country, he went to London. In his absence he was, along with General Boulanger and Count Dillon, tried by the senate, organized as a special tribunal, found guilty of having attempted to overthrow the government, and sentenced to imprisonment. It is from the effects of this sentence that Rochefort is relieved by the amnesty bill passed the other day by the French chamber and senate.

Rochefort has been trying hard to return to France since the advent of Casimir-Perier to power, says the New York Advertiser. But it was latterly intimated to him that the door is not likely to be opened, as he is the guardian of too many dangerous and compromising secrets. It was the anger awakened by this news which prompted the article that caused the government's anger. The government has not forgotten the Boulanger business and the important role which the great journalist played in it. Rochefort may almost be said to have created Boulanger. He acted as keeper to the elephant during the early months of the campaign. But he is too adroit to be left with an elephant on his hands, and he was getting well out of the affair when the crash came. It was not exactly the thing to desert the poor, misguided general when the cardhouse was falling about his ears. But Rochefort claims that he could not do otherwise. He had counted on seeing the general triumphantly parading through Europe on his famous black charger, and it made him furious to find his scheme a failure and to have that failure complicated with enforced absence from Paris.

Besides he found General Boulanger altogether too feeble in presence of adversity. To a man with the iron nerves of Rochefort, who had looked down the muzzle of the pistol of General de Galliffet's aid-de-camp when he was arrested without flinching; who had not murmured during the months in prison; who had refused chances to escape before the trial came on, and who had been able to build up a great newspaper enterprise after touching bottom, socially and financially—the plastic, yielding nature of Boulanger was incomprehensible. [illegible] gentleman allied to the cause of the people he pleased the masses better than if he had sprung directly from their ranks.

He was poor as poverty, and when he began to write his caustic political chroniques in the Figaro he had not a hundred francs to his name. In eighteen months he had risen to the command of a salary of $400 monthly for contributing three columns per week, and he got a bonus when he had his contract. From that time forward Rochefort has made journalism pay in the sense that painters and actors who are successful make their professions pay.

Rochefort's Lanterne lighted the empire to its tomb, and illuminated the bold writer's way to parliamentary life. But in the arena of debate he [illegible] to have been an imposing figure. When it was dangerous [illegible] to utter the word republican in France it was natural that his appearance in the corps legislatif should have given him prominence. People expected too much of him, and they were disappointed. His true role was then, as it is now, in aggressive journalism; in the article which draws blood every time.

For years Rochefort has been rich. When he started the Intransigeant, a journal devoted to the proletariat, he was living in a sumptuously furnished little mansion, and spent more on his [illegible] than a workman's whole expense for a week. Luck comes to him when it is needed. It was luck which prompted the banker, [illegible] Adam, to send the 25,000 francs which opened the way to Rochefort's escape from the penal colony of Noumea. It was luck which prevented his recapture and ignominious return to Australia. And now luck has brought him amnesty again. He has been [illegible] so often that he ought to look upon the operation as a periodical necessity. Yet this time he feels the [illegible] keenly. And he feels that there is still room for him in the [illegible] politics of the third republic.

JUDGE AND BLOOMERS.

Decision in Little Rock Regarding a Woman's Apparel.

Special to the Times.

LITTLE ROCK, August 26.—Judge Willson dismissed the prosecution against Mrs. Noo who was arrested last Thursday for appearing on the street in bloomers. In delivering his opinion the judge said: "Women have a constitutional and God-given right to ride a bike, and they are bound to have some comfortable appropriate dress therefor. Were Mrs. Noo a woman with one foot in the grave and the other on a pedal, were she of a size to frighten herself and impede traffic or were her habiliments of the sort originally designed by the women whose name they bear, I should be disposed to give the limit of the law. As it is I dismiss the case at the city's costs."

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

Special to the Times.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such an enormously increased sale of the medicine.

Hot weather proves depressing to those whose blood is poor. Such people should enrich their blood with Hood's Sarsaprilla.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Pullman Car Employee Crushed to Death.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—A horrible accident occurred on Saturday on the Grand Trunk at Turcotte a small roadside station west of Cote St. Paul. Patrick Breen, an employee of the Pullman Company, had occasion to go to Turcotte on business, riding in the baggage car on the Lachine train. In the same car was a man named Trudel. When nearing the station Trudel jumped from the car just as the fast express from the West came thundering along at the rate of 40 miles an hour. He barely cleared the cowcatcher of the engine. Breen jumped right upon him, but was not so fortunate, the engine striking him. The poor man

NEVER KNEW WHAT STRUCK HIM.

His head was completely shattered and his body cut up terribly. The train was immediately stopped and the remains were picked up and conveyed to this city. Patrick Breen was 26 years old and unmarried, his father being a resident of Newfoundland.

To Exclude the Japanese Also.

LOS ANGELOS, Cal., Aug. 26.—In an interview U.S. Senator White said that Labor Commissioner Fitzgerald, of San Francisco, has asked him to introduce in Conaress a bill similar to the Chinese Exclusion Act, which shall include Japanese. Senator White has promised to do so if Fitzgerald will furnish the data to prove that Japanese are seriously injuring American labor. He does not believe, however, that it will be as easy as it was to get the Chinese bill through.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is a so a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

UNITED AGAINTS CHINA

CHINA UNWILLINGLY ADMITS THE FOREIGN CONSULS INTO THE INVESTIGATION.

Six Assassins are Convicted — The Great Powers Stood Firmly for their Rights — The Massacre Investigated.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A despatch to the Times from Shanghai says that the Ku Cheng enquiry has been proceeding since Wednesday, with all the members of the Consular Commission present, but progress is slow. The despatch adds that a Mohammedan rebellion has broken out in the province of Kalsu, and is spreading seriously.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard telegraphs to that paper that the news that France will join England and America in whatever steps may be necessary to stop the massacre of foreigners in China has induced some German newspapers to express the hope that Germany will do likewise. Germany has a large squadron in Chinese waters.

A despatch to the Central News from Shanghai says that the latest victims of the anti-foreign feeling are two Spanish priests, who have been murdered by a Chinese mob at Hoyun.

BROUGHT TO TERMS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—A special cable dispatch to the World from Foo Chow, China, says firmness has brought the Chinese to terms. Foreigners are now present at the trials of natives implicated in the attacks upon missionaries, and Chinese officials afford every facility to the foreign commissioners of enquiry. Six of the Chinese who had a hand in the recent massacre have been convicted for murder. New arrests are made daily.

POSITIVE INSTRUCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. — Further and more positive instructions have been sent to Minister Denby concerning his course in the matter of the missionary outrages in China.

Acting Secretary of State Adee declined to state what the subject of the instructions was except that they related to the Ku Cheng investigation, and to the protection of American citizens in the Celestial Empire. It is understood that they directed him to continue to vigorously press the demands of the United States for a full investigation of the recent outrages perpetrated upon American missionaries, and for the protection of our citizens in the future.

State Department officials have no official confirmation of the report of the appointment of the formerly degraded Liu Ping Chang as Imperial High Commissioner on the Ku Cheng commission, and there is a disposition to doubt it. Should it turn out be true, however, there is good reason for believing that an immediate protest will be lodged with the Chinese authorities, demanding the substitution of another official in his place. Minister Denby has been instructed to keep the department advised of the personnel of the commission, and his failure to send any information to the department of the appointment of Liu Ping Chang is considered a sufficient refutation of the report. The State Department up to a late hour had not been advised that the members of the commission were practically prisoners, as has been reported.

A REWARD OF $500.

Offered by the Fire Underwriters' Association For Information.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—The Fire Underwriters have written to Acting Mayor Shaw asking for an official investigation into an alleged incendiary fire at the premises of G. L. Diehl & Co., 785 King street west on the 10th instant. In making this request they point out the many fires of the kind and the great desirability of discovering the perpetrators. They add that they have offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension and conviction of the firebug mixed up in the Diehl & Co. fire and ask the Council to supplement that with a like sum.

Replying to this communication the Acting Mayor has said that he will speak to the members of the Council about the matter, but owing to the fact that many are out of town he does not think that a meeting of the Council could be called until some day next week, when the desired investigation would probably be granted.

Work of an Anarchist.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Thirty anarchists, who were arrested on suspicion in connection with the infernal machine, by the explosion of which M. Jacobsky, the confidential clerk of Baron Alphonz de Rothschild, was badly injured on Saturday, were released this morning for want of evidence. There is as yet no clue to the origin of the machine, but it is believed to be the work of an individual anarchist, rather than that of an organized band.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Niblo's Garden, one of the historic theatres, has seen its last performance. It will be torn down right away.

Yvette Guilbert, the French music hall singer, about whom foreign correspondents have raved for a year or two, is coming over next fall.

The all conquering Brady will raise from prize fights to comic opera next year. He has hired Julian Edwards to write the score of an Irish opera to a libretto by Stanislaus Strange.

Theodore Thomas, the orchestra director, will celebrate his golden jubilee in July. He was born in Hanover sixty years ago, and came to America a lad of ten. He played in New York while a youngster as a kind of juvenile prodigy.

A St. Louis man has organized a pedestrian dramatic company, which proposes to walk all the way from New York, giving a show every night at some small town by the way, and carrying their scenery, costumes and baggage with them.

There is a good deal in a name sometimes. Mr. Dabney, who has been singing tenor songs in Daly's company a little while under the name of Daubigney, has now joined the Abbey & Grau opera company to sing tenor parts and will be known as Daubigne, which sounds very French indeed.

Louis Cyr's little daughter recently made her debut as a strong girl in Montreal. She is only seven years old and weighs 65 pounds, yet she lifted two dumbbells of 306 pounds, a 33-pound dumbbell above her head, a 150-pound one with one hand and two weighing 89 with one finger.

ABOUT WOMEN WOMEN.

Lady Randolph Churchill wears the very exceptionally granted and much coveted Imperial Order of the Crown of India, conferred upon her by the Queen

The Queen of the Belgians is usually attended when on horseback by one of her favorite dogs, of which she has a dozen, with a preference—just as Queen Victoria has—for Spitz terriers.

Lady Florence Dixie has accepted the presidency of the British Ladies' Football Club. The members of the club do not play in fashion's dress, but in knickerbockers, blouses, caps and football boots.

Mrs. H. H. Kitson of Boston has been selected to execute for the City of Providence a statue of Esek Hopkins, first admiral of the Revolutionary Navy. Her husband is a sculptor of prominence and she has exhibited some highly-creditable work at the Paris Salon.

"The late Lady C. Schreiber was a great patroness of London cabmen," says the London (Eng.) Queen. "They were indebted to her many years since as the kind donor of the cabmen's shelter outside the Langham Hotel, of which shelters there are forty. Once a year she invited about 200 to a magnificent tea and entertainment. She was a warm supporter of the Cabdrivers' Benevolent Association."

RAM'S HORN BLASTS.

It is seldom that a man with a big income is ever prosecuted for righteousness' sake.

Whenever the world comes face to face with unselfish love it has to stop and think.

Some very good people can never see any harm in sin when it can wear good clothes and ride in a coach.

There is no sin so little but that if it had the right of way and time enough it would wreck the universe.

The sermons that do the most to save the world are not preached in pulpits.

The devil probably loves a stingy man.

The man who is not a friend will never have one.

Big words often make a poor cloak for a small idea.

Every good woman is a constant reminder that God lives.

An optimist is a man who believes that all eggs will hatch.

If the brother of the prodigal could have sat at the head of the table and carved the calf, it may be that he would not have refused to go into the house.

There are educated pigs, but there are none who do not like mud

GATHERED HERE AND THERE.

It is calculated that in large ocean steamers more than 8,000 articles of glass and china are broken on every voyage.

A flour mill in Minneapolis contains a belt 250 feet long and weighing over a ton. It required twenty cowhides to make it.

Were it not for the multitude of storks that throng Egypt every winter there would be no living in some parts of the country, for after every inundation frogs appear in devastating swarms.

The ashes of coal from the mines of the Transvaal Coal company and other countries in South Africa have been analyzed recently and found to contain nine pennyweights of gold to the ton.

More than 100,000 muskrat skins are bought in New York every winter to supply the demand for imitation sealskin trimmings, caps, etc., as no other fur so closely resembles seal.

The Navajo Indians, as soon as the weather gets warm in the spring, gather their best ponies and leave the reservation for the ostensible purpose of hunting deer and antelope. When they return they bring with them bunches of sheep numbering anywhere from fifty to 500.

ANIMAL LIFE.

Blue-eyed cats are said by Darwin to be always deaf.

The tail of a beaver is a regular trowel and is used as such.

The greatest velocity attained by a whale when struck by a harpoon is nine miles an hour.

The natural life of an elephant is said to be 120 years. It is, however, greatly shortened by captivity.

The lowest order of animal life is found in the microscopic jellyfish. It is simply a minute drop of gelatinous matter.

A CURIOUS FAD.

The Count of Montesquieu, a wealthy and eccentric French nobleman, inhabits a splendid villa in the neighborhood of Paris, chiefly remarkable for its magnificent conservatory, which is used as a banqueting hall. Creeping among the plants in this winter garden are to be seen a number of little tortoises, which their eccentric owner has had enamelled and studded with precious stones.—Buntes Allerlei.

Haverly—Upson Downes lighted his cigar with the pawn ticket of his dress suit the other day by mistake. So he took the ashes of the ticket to the pawnbroker. Austen—What did they say? Haverly—They said that they had a fire the day before and handed him the ashes of his dress suit.

Bird Foods
Explained . . .

Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of bird seed in the market? Because we have made birds and bird foods the study of a lifetime, therefore we know just what birds require, and each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected seed with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25c. Much of the seed fed to birds is positively injurious. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

THE TRUTH.

Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst, D. D., the great reformer, writes October 24, 1894: "Mrs. Parkhurst and myself have used Pond's Extract so long and so constantly that we can speak appreciatively of it and in terms of warm commendation."

Rev. Chas. S. Robinson, D. D., editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prize it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfills every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, writes November 13, 1894: "I have been using a great deal of Pond's Extract for the past year in gargling, as I find it affords great relief in colds."

During the past month the Pond's Extract Company have received over 2,000 orders from physicians. We have on our books testimonials and orders from most of the Governors and many of the Senators of the United States; from the royalty of Europe, such as Her Majesty the Queen of Roumania, the Duchess of Cumberland, Princess of Wied, and others too numerous to mention.

When the clergy, the medical profession, statesmen and royalty all unite in praise of an article it seems unnecessary to say anything additional, but we do find it necessary to warn the public against imitations. These words of praise are all in favor of Pond's Extract—the genuine and only.

It is because of its intrinsic merit and high reputation that Pond's Extract has been imitated. If it were not of such great value and so world renowned there would be no imitations.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music whether professionally or for its individual delights.

HE SEEMS TO BE HOLLOW.

Wherein Fitzsimmons Differs from His Brother Pugilists.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Mr Robert Fitzsimmons has begun his regular training for the Coming championship fight with Mr. Corbett. The training which Fitzsimmons has now begun differs from the traning of the average fighter in many important respects. First of all he trains himself. He takes his own advice and regulates his own work and diet. He has no alcohol to get out of his stomach, and no stomach to work off, where most fighters in repose have a stomach. Fitzsimmons has a sort of hollow. He looks about three times as big around the shoulders as around the waist. He anounces that in his present training he will despise certain worn-out rules of old trainers and act for himself.

A BICYCLIST'S DEATH.

David B. Moss Ran into a Culvert and was Found Dead.

Special to the Times.

CORNWALL, Aug. 27.—David B. Moss, of Moulinette village, about six miles west of Cornwall, went to church in Wales Sunday night, and after service started to ride home between the double track of the Grand Trunk railway, where there is a bicycle path. Yesterday morning a farmer named Geo. Fickes found his body in a culvert, about a mile west of Moulinette. The body was still astride of the wheel, and lay in the fifteen inches of water which was in the culvert. The unfortunate young man probably rode into the culvert and, striking his head against the wall, was either killed outright or stunned so that he drowned in the water. A couple of bruises were found upon his forehead. The deceased was a fine young fellow, 22 years of age, and had just matriculated with honors from the school at Richmond, Que. He intended to begin a medical course in McGill this fall,

CALLS IT BLACKMAIL.

What the ex-Mayor Says about Mr. Barnes and His Affidavit.

Special to the Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 27.—Former Mayor Frank A. Magowan, who has been sued by A. J. Barnes for $1000,000 for alienating the affections of his wife, says: Why, only a day or to ago Barnes offered to settle his first alleged case against me for $8,000. He first asked $20,000, and finaly dropped to $8,000. The first lawyer he had called upon me and asked that I settle for the sum, and when I refused he went to the Senator Skirm and asked my friend to say that it was the best thing I could do. After looking into the case this reputable lawyer dropped it.

"It's blackmail pure and simple. Why in the presence of four witnesses, this man Barnes admitted that he didn't have anything against me, but would tell enough to make me come down with money.

"The alleged affidavit made by Barnes in his $1000,000 suit is a tissue of lies. My lawyers and scores of others can prove that on many of the dates that I am alleged to have been journeying about the country with Mrs. Barnes, I was here in town. I can prove that I have never put my foot in one or two of the hotels this man Barnes talks about. I always stop at the Hoffman House when in New York, and I've never seen the Pittsburg hotel he talks of.

"Barnes' only scheme is to make money out of me, and neither he nor Mas. Barnes can say a word against me. He would be all right in his scheme, perhaps if his wife was of his calibre, but that lady being conscious of no wrong doing on my part, very emphatically refuses to enter into his scheme"

Mr. Magowan says that all the talk about his attempting to get a divorse from his wife emanted from a source which he has tracked to what he declares to be the fountain head of a conspiracy against him. E. R. Walker, counsel for Mr. Magowan, states that he willl move for the dismissal in the writ for the Barnes suit for $1000,000, on the legal ground that Mr. Barnes is debarred from testifying against his wife.

Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

A Lindsay Man in Trouble.

Harry Cameron, a young man who claims to have arrived from Lindsay, about six weeks ago, was locked up in police headquarters yesterday at Saginaw, Mich., charged with criminal assault on Anna Steve, the 12 year old daughter of a washwoman. The girl says Cameron enticed her to his room in the boarding house by an offer of work, and then locked the doors.

T.V.C. Notes.

A party of Scandinavians arrived by the Maple Leaf at Bobcaygeon, on Wednesday evening, and drove on Thursday to the Balsam lake section of the canal. Messrs. Brown and Aimer, contractors for the Lakefield section of the canal, have commenced work, and have a gang of men employed under Mr. Geo. Hilliard. Mr. Schrieber, Ottawa, was on the ground Friday and a number of Italians will immediately attend operations.

Thursday's Exhibition.

All the arrangements have now been completed for the holding of the Hortcultural Exhibition on Thursday afternoon and evening next and this year the society is confident of making a better showing than ever before. Entries can be made with the secretary, Mr. A. H. Cobb, London street, or left for him at Geo. A. Schofield's drug store. During the evening of the show, which will be held in the market building, the Fire Brigade Band will be present.

Rev. Mr. Hedley's Successor.

Rev. Barnes Reeves is shortly to become curate of Ashburnham, having been appointed to succeed Rev. C. W. Hedley, B.A. The curate will reside in Otonabee, and not, as heretofore, in Ashburnham. The members of the Sunday school, Young People's Guild and choir of Holy Trinity church, Toronto, presented Rev. Mr. Reeves last evening with an address and a handsome communion service. The rev. gentlemen has filled the pulpit of the church during the absence of Rev. Frank DuMoulin. Rev. J. Chappil, who has been supplying at St. Luke's, preached his final sermon on Sunday last.

Arrested for Theft.

Yesterday Chief Roszel received a communication from Chief Constable Bell, of Lindsay, stating that he held a warrant for the arrest of one Oscar L. Patrick, a pedlar of small wares, for obtaining a gentleman's coat under false pretences. The offence was committed at Fenelon Falls, and the man left there for Peterborough Saturday. Chief Bell sent a description of the man, which he received from the magistrate, and Chief Roszel was not long in locating the man at his residence on Charlotte street. The coat was found in his possession and he was brought to police headquarters. Mr. Patrick stated that he borrowed the coat Saturday morning to go to the station in order to see if some wares had arrived for him. As the goods had not arrived and as a train was about to pull out for Lindsay he boarded it for that town, sending a postal card when he arrived in Lindsay to the owner of the coat in Fenelon Falls, stating that he had not run away, but would be back in a day or two.

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

A Horse Dashes Through the Opera House Arcade With a Vehicle.

Miraculous is it that many people were not knocked down and injured by a runaway which occurred yesterday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock.

The delivery rig of Morris & Howden, the Hunter street butchers, was standing in front of Mr. Roger's law office on Water street, when the horse became frightened and dashed down the street increasing its speed at every jump

It passed the police station like a meteor and cut across the market, scattering the pedestrians right and left. And then a remarkable thing occurred. The horse suddenly turned and made a bee line for the opera house arcade. It cleared the first heavy piers at the entrance, but the rig ran afoul the stairway, and the result was that both suffered, the shafts being wrenched from the rig, and with these beating on its heels the animal continued through the arcade and on to George street, and up George to Hunter, where it was brought to a halt.

The streets were almost vacated at the time, and this prevented several serious accidents, for had the runaway taken place a little later in the evening, when the streets are generally crowded, some one would undoubtedly have been injured.

A RELAY RACE

Between Peterborough and Port Hope to be Arranged.

The Peterborough Bicycle Club held a largely attended meeting last night at the rink. The reports of the standing committees was the principal business of the evening.

The road race committee recommended that the road race be postponed until after the meet on the 30th, and probably next week will see this event run off.

A committee was appointed to make arrangement with Port Hope for a relay race between Peterborough and that place. Port Hope has six fast riders and if they will enter an exciting race with five mile relays will be arranged.

There was some talk of giving a concert at the rink in connection with the distribution of prizes after the races, on the evening of the 30th. It is likely this concert well be carried out, and no doubt the bicycle boys would be enabled to realize something, as a small admission would be charged, and the affair would be well patronized. Definite action was deferred until today.

WITH THE SPORTS.

The Ontarios of Port Hope Challenge the Athletics.

The Port Hope Guide contains the following challenge: The Ontarios would challenge the Athletics, of Peterborough, to play a game of lacrosse in the Athletic grounds, Port Hope, on Monday, Sept. 2nd (Labor Day). It is not likely the Athletics will accept this challenge.

The Markham lacrosse club will play the Athletics in Peterborough on Monday, September 2nd, Labor Day.

The "meet" on Friday is the all absorbing topic with wheelmen. The entries, so far, include some of the swiftest of American flyers, and there will be here on that day a large contingent of the wheeling fraternity of Uncle Sam's domain. Fully two thousand visitors are expected.

Yesterday's National League Baseball games were as follows: At Boston 3, Pittsburg 2; At Brooklyn 7, Louisville 2; At New York 9, St. Louis 5; At Philadelphia 6, Cleveland 1; At Cincinnati 12, Baltimore 6; At Washington 9, Chicago 9 (darkness).

Toronto and Tecumsehs will cross sticks on the Island oval at 5 o'clock this evening. The Torontos have been practising hard for the last two weeks and are in pretty good condition. The Tecumsehs are in fine shape and will put a strong team on the field to do battle with the Toronto twelve. The Torontos will play the Shamrock's next Saturday.

Serious Results of "Hazing."

An unfortunate accident occured at the High School today, which for the first time presents the practice of "hazing" in a serious light before our citizens, says the Port Hope Times. It is an old custom to initiate all the boys on their entering the High School by a formality called "bumping"—a ceremony which must be seen to be appreciated. The editor remembers his introduction to the High School life, as the experience cost him a rip in his trousers from his hip pocket to the heel of his boot and at the time he formed an opinion that "bumping" was a custom more honored in the breach than the observance. The trouble is that wherever "hazing" or roughness is permitted trouble or accident must result. This accident which it is our duty to record is a painful one and fortunately the smallest boy in the school, Harry White, son of Mr. Henry White, whose record at the entrance examinations was one of the best in the province, is the victim. While being bumped he was thrown against a stone wall sustaining such a severe cut that the service of a physician was necessary. Now that this feature of "hazing" has been brought prominently before the public and the school board there is no doubt severe measures will be taken to prevent the recurrance of any such accident.

Twenty Thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking on his beauties. He ships them by mail and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 45 King street west.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

Council R. T. of T. met last night.

George street is still sadly in need of the roller. In many places it is very rough.

The regular meetings of the Town and Ashburnham councils will be held next Monday night.

A phrenolgist is holding forth at Chemong Park and is nightly delivering lectures for the edification of the guests.

There were five engines and crews left here last week to assist the main line in handling the Knights of Templars excursion.

The Councillors will enjoy a trip down the river tomorrow afternoon, the guests of the Peterborough Navigation Company.

Prizes won in hygiene and temperance will be distributed by the W.C.T.U. at the residence of Mrs. Wand, Ashburnham, next Tuesday evening.

Jas. Wallace was the only person who appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble at the police court yesterday. He was charged with vagrancy and was ordered to leave town.

Pte. Pentland won $10 yesterday in the Macdougall Cup match, scoring 47 points out of a possible 50, and coming within two points of tieing the winner of the cup. He stood fifth on the list.

The lowest temperature in Manitoba during the past 24 hours at the various points was: Emerson, 40 degrees; Winnipeg, 44 degrees; Brandon, 30 degrees; Minnedosa, 34 degrees; Portage la Prairie, 41 degrees; Elk Horn, 35 degrees.

This morning it was found that the store house of J. B. Oke & Co. had been visited by night prowlers, though no entrance was gained. A small key was found in the door and it showed that an effort had been made to open the door but of no avail. —Port Hope Times.

INS AND OUTS.

If some of that 700 loads of sand which the Council ordered to be paid for the other night was in the craws of some of the councillors, what a splendid council we would have.

⁂

"That," bitterly exclaimed the Microbe, as the beautiful girl, at the sound of the familiar footfall below, hastened to spray her mobile mouth with carbolized rosewater, "that, I repeat, knocks me out of a good thing."

Drawing his mackintosh more closely about him, he shivered.

⁂

Very little will the Board of Health care about the sanitary condition of Whyte's pond, until the attractions of Chemong Park are lessened by the cold breezes of winter. Then they will probably resume their investigation, commenced several months ago.

⁂

We have heard several people ask whether the merchants and citizens were going to get up anything in the way of a demonstration for Labor Day. If anything is going to be done it should be commenced at once. A trades procession could be gotten up without much trouble or expense, and if properly advertised would doubtless bring people to town. This will be the last opportunity this season to bring a crowd to town or have a demonstration.

⁂

It is said that Bob Hay is going to umpire the big baseball game which will take place between the Vatican nine and the Chicago Giants some time this fall. In order to become posted he has been reading accounts of baseball games and carefully noting the work of the umpire. He devoted about 10 minutes to a newspaper description of the Peterborough Classic game. It evidently puzzled him, because his face assumed a perplexed expression and he frequently read a paragraph twice or three times over.

"Rather singular expression, that," soliloquized Bob aloud, as he adjusted his glasses and looked at the paper in his hand.

"What's that?" inquired Carese LeBrun, who overheard the comment given in that rising voice which is suggestive of inquiry.

"McCabe then pasted the pill in the opposite garden," quoted Bob.

"Oh," replied Carese, with the modest air of conscious knowledge, "that's all right. That is the true vernacular. It means that he lammed the leather."

"Lammed the leather?" echoed Bob. "I suppose that means——"

"That he swatted the sphere," broke in Carese. "In other words he banged the bulb over to the right."

"Oh," said Bob. "Now, according to this account," he continued, after a moment's pause. "Lyttle wabbled to third. Why did Lyttle wabble to third? Why should Lyttle wabble anyway? And in the same paragraph it says that McGill swiped second and Dolan hammered a liner for a base."

Mr. LeBrun smiled indulgently, "I could tell better if I had seen the game," he said. "The meaning that the writer intended to convey was that Lyttle humped himself to the last hill, and that McGill made a quiet sneak to the middle while Dolan straightened the leather because he was on to the pitcher's curves."

Bob dropped his glasses and looked at the manager of the Athletics in undisguised admiration.

"Carese," said he, "you are a remarkable man, a very remarkable man."

"Thank you," replied Mr. LeBrun. "Are there any other phrases there that you would like explained?"

"I would be glad to know," responded Bob, "why McGill soaked a safe one. If it was safe, why did he soak it? Then again, this newspaper states that Tighe fanned out. I do not clearly understand whether that refers to a palm-leaf fan or—

"It refers neither to a palm-leaf nor to a folding fan," explained Carese. "When Tighe fanned out, you understand, he cut a gash in the circumambient atmosphere, or perhaps it would be more explicit to say that he ripped the atmosphere up the back."

"That's better," said Bob, "not quite so slangy as the other. Now what about soaking a safe one, what's that?"

"Purely a conventional term," was the answer. "Our leading philologists do not indorse it, but it is expressive and forcible. Still, if I had any choice in the choice of an expression which would be elegant and at the same time forcible, I would say that McGill swung the stick so skillfully that the sphere sailed safely and tore up the turf behind the Stoughton bottle in the middle pasture."

"You will notice," continued Carese, pointing to another paragraph, "that the reporter says King tapped a slow one and died at the initial bag. I don't like that."

"I don't think I like it either, Carese," said Bob. "but I suppose we'll have to take it for granted. Perhaps the writer would have been less ambiguous if he had said, 'King made a weak poke and fainted at the first hill.'"

THE DIRECT ROUTE BETWEEN THE West and all points on the Lower St. Lawrence and Baie des Chaleur, Province of Quebec, also for New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward and Cape Breton Islands, Newfoundland and St. Pierre.

Express trains leave Montreal and Halifax daily (Sunday excepted) and run through without change between these points.

The through express train cars of the Intercolonial Railway are brilliantly lighted by electricity and heated by steam from the locomotive, thus greatly increasing the comfort and safety of travellers.

Comfortable and elegant buffet sleeping and day cars are run on all through express trains.

The popular summer sea bathing and fishing resorts of Canada are all along the Intercolonial, or are reached by that route.

Canadian European Mail and Passenger Route.

Passengers for Great Britain or the Continent leaving Montreal Friday morning will join outward mail steamer at Halifax on Saturday.

The attention of shippers is directed to the superior facilities offered by this route for the transport of flour and general merchandise intended for the Eastern Provinces, Newfoundland and the West Indies, also for shipments of grain and produce intended for the European market.

Tickets may be obtained and all information about the route, also freight and passenger rates, on application to

A WINNER

The George Street Photograph Gallery, under the very able management of H J. Byers, has now taken a place second to none in the business.

The reason is apparent. I spare no pains to make my work the very best that can be had.

You run no risk whatever if you leave your order with me. You will lose nothing if I fail to please you.

Come in and see my work anyway.

Don't forget the place, opposite Gough's on George Street.

If we were continuing in business it would be foolishness to sell stocks at less than wholesale prices.

We're going out of business, and rapididity in closing our stock is more value to us than present profits.

Because we think the plan a good one we're selling direct to the consumer, though a large wholesale concern.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

THE ATTACKS CONTINUE.

MISSIONARIES STILL SUBMITTED TO OUTRAGE IN CHINA.

The Imperial Decree Suppressing the Massacres Not of Much Avail—The Investigations Continue.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Chronicle prints a Shanghai despatch saying that the attacks on missionaries in China continue, notwithstanding imperial decrees for their suppression. A member of the Alliance Mission the despatch says, was beaten and several native evangelists were flogged nearly to death at the yamen of a magistrate at Tsaich Sien, near Wu Hu, in the province of Ngan Hoai.

GOING ALL RIGHT NOW.

HONG KONG, Aug. 28.—Advices from Ku Cheng state that the enquiry of the investigating commission into the recent outrages is proceeding satisfactorily. The Chinese officials are giving the commission ample assistance. Ten members of the Vegetarian Society have been convicted of participation in the outrages, and the trial of others is in progress. There is no danger of fresh disturbances during the sittings of the commission.

SHOULD STAY AWAY.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—After a lecture by Lewis Appleton in this city last evening on the subject of missionary enterprise in China, a resolution was moved, expressing sympathy with the relatives of the victims of the outrages in China and horror at the atrocious character of the offences. Hiram Maxim, the inventor, moved an amendment regretting the fact that English and American missionaries should persist in going to China and attacking the ancient and highly developed religion of the Chinese. The amendment was adopted.

WANT THEM RETAINED.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 28.—The muddle over the Christian Brothers teaching in the Separate schools still continue. A strong effort is now being made by some members of the French committee to retain the brothers as teachers for a limited time.

The Citizen this morning says that the Separate School Board is in danger of losing the Government grant should it refuse to act and carry out the desired changes in the teaching staff.

FIRES AT AURORA.

AURORA, Aug. 28.—Coroner Johnson, of Toronto, yesterday began a fire inquest here. The blazes of August 15th, July 19th, July 24th and August 10th were the subjects of the investigation. H. H. Dewart acted for the Crown.

Thomas Flynn, of Coffee & Co., Toronto, said that Graham Bros. had 500 bushels of wheat stored in the Aurora freight shed, insured for $500. Graham received an advance of $400 on the wheat early in July, and returned $200 of it. Graham thought he should get the amount paid for the grain out of the insurance.

Telegraph Agent Burton described the fire. Bartender Bell and George Lennox told of seeing Glenn drunk. Grain Merchant Huff, Fire Chief Bond, James Nealus, John Obee and Alfred Graham gave evidence. The inquest is being continued today.

SUSPICIONS OF CRIME.

DETECTIVE MURRAY INVESTIGATING A CASE AT CHATHAM.

A Quantity of Bones and Other Remains Found in a Bush Near Berlin in a Heap of Ashes—An Inquest Revealed Nothing.

Special to the Times.

CHATHAM, Aug. 28.—Provincial Detective Murray, of Toronto, is here at the instance of the Attorney General's Department investigating a mystery in the country district of Merlin and Port Alma. On July 9 Chas. Howard found portions of a human body lying in a heap of ashes in his bush, about four miles from town. Dr. Oliver, the resident physician of the village, to whom the ghastly find was reported, advised Coroner Bray of this city, of the matter, and an inquest was held. A number of witnesses were examined, but nothing definite was ascertained. Still the impression was strengthened that a foul crime had been committed, and that the perpetrator had taken this way to obliterate the evidence of his deed.

Detective John Murray arrived in the city and had an audience with Crown Attorney Douglas and Coroner Bray. He drove this afternoon to Merlin, a village sixteen miles southwest of Chatham, and proceeded to make a diligent enquiry into the curious case. Dr. Oliver was seen. He brought out a box full of clothes and remnants of clothing. There was a complete skull, to which particles of brain matter still adhered. It was that of a man about 50. A large piece of thigh bone, small pieces of other bones scraps of hair, fragments of clothing, a short clay pipe and some buttons were embraced in the collection.

The disappearance of a laborer named Joe Walker last spring and of John Rollet an aged and well known resident, were canvassed. It was found, however, that the pipe found near the remains did not belong to either of these men, and that the clothes, though much worn, were of fine fabric, and too much expensive for a farm laborer.

There is no clue to the dead men's identity. After visiting Windsor, regarding the mysterious death of Fred Walker, the bookmaker, Detective Murray will return to Chatham and try to unravel this mystery.

HEAVY LOSS OF LUMBER.

Over a Million Feet Destroyed at Casselman Yesterday.

Special to the Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—A large fire took place at the village of Casselman, on the line of the Canadian Atlantic railway, yesterday, which destroyed a saw mill, about 2,000 cords of woods, a million feet of lumber and 10,000 pieces of timber. The loss is about $25,000, about half of which is covered by insurance.

ONLY INITIALS N. M.

To Identify a Young Man Killed On St. Catherine Street.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—An unknown man was killed at half past three yesterday afternoon, on the corner of Peel and St. Catherine streets under very peculiar circumstances. He had just stepped off a trolley car going east but failed to see that he was directly in front of a wagon loaded with stone. Before he could get out of the way he was knocked down and the wheels passed over him, crushing in his breast and fracturing the base of the skull. Mr. Joseph Wray answered the call for the Montreal General hospital ambulance and in less than fifteen minutes after the summons the man was at the hospital. He was unconscious and died just as he was being placed in bed. Strange to say, there is nothing on the body by which it could be identified. It is that of a man apparently about 30 years of age, dark brown curly hair and mustache, the latter small. On the shirt are the initials "N. M." and that is all. The man was attired in a linen coat and vest and light colored pants, and the body had every indication of having having been well nourished. An inquest will be held today.

SEIZED AT THE FALLS.

"Hon." John Trowbridge Gets in His Fine Work—Smuggled Goods.

Special to The Times.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 28.—Special Officer Trowbridge, of Toronto, and Collector Bartley, of this place, made an important seizure yesterday. Suspicion had been entertained for some time that George Hawley, who keeps a general store here, was guilty of smuggling goods from New York, Buffalo and other points in the United States. The officers placed the store under seizure, and captured about $200 worth of jewelry, together with invoices showing that about $1,200 worth of goods additional had been brought into the country without passing through the customs.

HOWARD PIETZEL'S BONES

THE UNFORTUNATE LAD'S REMAINS TRACED TO INDIANAPOLIS.

Detective Geyer's Success—Evidence that the Body was Cremated—A Registrar's Crookedness.

Special to the Times.

INDIANAPOLIS Aug 28.—In the chimney of a little frame cottage standing at a distance from the other residences of Irvington, a small suburb of this city, detectives this morning found the charred bones of little Howard Pietzel, one of Holmes' victims. The find was the reward of a long and persistent search by Detective Geyer, of Philadelphia, who came here six weeks ago and has been working ever since on the theory that young Pietzel had been killed here. Today he and Inspector Carey found the empty cottage at Irvington, which had been occupied by a man answering Holmes' discription and a little boy early last October. They began a search and soon found a large stove and the black trunk in which it had been supposed that the body had been shipped. Further search was rewarded by the finding of a number of charred bones in the chimney, together with the buttons from the boy's overcoat. Evidently the child had been murdered in the house and his body cremated there. The supposed murderer and his victim came to the house together and were seen about the place for a week, when both disappeared and nothing had since been heard of them.

FERRETTING.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 28. — Detectives Geyer and Carey, who are working on the Holmes case, have found evidence of Holmes' presence and crimes in this city. This morning they discovered a cottage in Irvington, a suburb, which Holmes rented for three months one day last fall. In the porch of the cottage the detectives found the remains of a big black trunk belonging to the Pietzel children, which they have long sought. In the barn was also found a big stove which belonged to Holmes. The detectives have a theory that Howard Pietzel was killed in this city and his body taken to Irvington and burned.

A REGISTRAR'S CROOKEDNESS.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 28.—J. C. Prevost. Registrar of the Supreme Court, has disappeared. His books are being audited, and his arrest and detention has been ordered. He is an official administrator, and it is not known how his affairs stand.

ATTACKS ON MISSIONARIES.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Chronicle will print tomorrow a Shanghai despatch to a news agency saying that the attacks on missionaries in China continue, notwithstanding the Imperial decrees for their suppression. A member of the Alliance Mission today sends a despatch saying that they were beaten and that several native evangelists were flogged nearly to death at the Yamen of a magistrate at Tsaich Sien, near Wu Hu, in the Province of Nagan Hoan.

BURNED IN A BARN.

Fatal Explosion of a Lantern Near Huntsville—A Boy's Death.

Special to the Times.

HUNTSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 28.—On Monday night the barn of George Hutchins, near this village, took fire from the bursting of a coal oil lantern. Mr. Hutchins' son and two other boys went to the barn to sleep, and when blowing out the lantern it burst. One of the boys named Algin Joyce, about 14 years old, perished in the flames, and Mr. Hutchins' son is so badly burned that he cannot recover.

Death on the Railway.

LEADVILLE, Col., Aug. 28.—As the California express was coming west on the Colorado Midland Railway, near Granite, last night, a huge rock rolled down the mountain, completely telescoping the baggage car and one end of the smoker. F. J. O'Connor, supposed to be a banker, of New York, has died of his injuries, and two persons whose names were not learned, were dangerously, if not fatally, injured.

The Engineer Charged With Murder.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 28.—H. P. Loescher, the engineer of the Gumrey hotel, was lodged in jail today. The warrant on which he is held charges him with murder.

STOLE WOMAN AND MONEY

CHRISTOPHER WATERSTONE PURLOINS MONEY AND A GIRL.

Sensational Deed of a Former Toronto Man, Who Filled a Responsible Position for a New York Banking Firm.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Clapp & Company, bankers and brokers, in the Mills building, in Broad street, have lost their cashier and a young woman typewriter and stenographer, and with them went a sum of money which may amount to several thousands of dollars. Incidental to the loss, a wife has been deserted by a husband. The missing cashier is Christopher T. Waterstone, who was some years ago employed in Toronto, Ont. He is about 40 or 45 years of age. Dwight O. Clapp, the head of the firm, says that Waterstone had come to him well recommended about five or six years ago, and had been engaged as a bookeeper. As time advanced he was made cashier, and was still their most trusted man.

HE WAS MARRIED.

Mr. Clapp discovered that Waterstone had been married for about four or five years. It seems that when he was living in Fourteenth street he met a tall and handsome young woman, who had already been married and had been left with one child, a daughter of about two years of age. He had fallen in love with her, and they were married. Mrs. Waterstone came from Montreal, and her mother still lives there. At that time the mother had been living with her two grand-daughters, daughters of a dead sister of Mrs. Waterstone.

MABEL APPEARS.

When the Waterstones went to Montreal about a year ago they found that Mabel, one of these girls, who was then about 16, had been studying typewriting and stenography. Mr. Waterstone took an interest in her at once, and when they were coming away, he proposed that Mabel should come with them.

She came, and pretty soon Mr. Waterstone found her a position in a downtown office, where she got experience but little pay. About a year ago he proposed to get a place at the Clapps' office, but he explained to his wife that it would be best that her relationship to him should not be known.

THE SCHEMER'S SCHEME.

Consequently, a Mr. Wightman was asked to recommend the girl to Mr. Clapp, and she got the place at a salary of $7 a week. She lived with the Waterstones. About three weeks ago Waterstone told his wife he was going to a Missouri doctor to be operated on, and suggested that she visit her home in Montreal, which she did. A couple of weeks later she received word that her husband and Mabel were missing, and she returned here to find that the couple had been gone nine days.

A NICE TIME COMING.

Mr. Clapp says that he will take no pains to have Waterstone apprehended. Mrs. Waterstone is quoted as saying that she never expects to see her husband again, but that she does expect to come across her niece, and when she does——

CORK LEG AS CO-RESPONDENT.

Proud of it Once as Proof of Bravery, She Now Wants a Divorce.

Special to the Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 28.—Dashing Mrs. Saddie Coley Clemens has sued Dr. Konrad Clemens for a divorce because he has a cork leg. She has gone to Sioux Falls South Dak., to do so.

The doctor lost his flesh leg in a duel in Heidelberg when he was a student there. When they were married three years ago Mrs. Clemns, who in 1888 had obtained a divorce from Louis Brock on the ground of cruelty, said she loved the doctor because he was brave and wore evidence of his bravery in his cork leg.

She left the doctor recently saying she would visit her sister, Mrs. William Sherwood, in New York.

"I'm glad of it," said the doctor today. "It's not my cork leg; it's a case of too much mother-in-law. No woman can leave me twice. I'll not contest."

ANOTHER INDIAN SCARE.

Story of an Uprising from Washington Territory.

Special to the Times.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 28.—Trouble has again broken out between Kalispells Indians and settlers along the East side of the Pend D'Oriell River, in Idaho, over the disputed possession of what the Indians claim is their reservation, but which is in reality Government land. A large delegation of white settlers came to this city today, and state that they were driven off from their farms by Indians who threatened them with death if they returned. The redskins forcibly took possession of the homes and property of the whites, and told the latter that such were their instructions from Indian Agent Dubb. The settlers are preparing to go back armed and in force and drive the Indians out of the neighborhood. The Indians are very ugly and the settlers determinedly serious.

The Owen Electric Belt

Trade Mark--Dr. Owen

The only scientific and practical Electric Belt made, for general use, having batteries that generate a strong current of Electricity that is under perfect control and can be applied to any part of the body, for the cure of

Nervous Diseases

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of Nervous Diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, etc., that the old modes of treatment fail to cure. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by any medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is pursuing a dangerous practice. Properly treated, these diseases can be

Positively Cured

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will most assuredly do so. It is the only known power that will supply what is lacking, namely nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system. It will most assuredly cure,

PETERBOROUGH. AUGUST 28 1895.

Whiteway retrenches by cutting off grants to schools and the poor and increasing the salaries and numbers of useless officials.

The Liberals are taking comfort in the fact that they have cut down the Conservative majority in Westmoreland to 720. They will not ask for a recount, however.

The members of the Town Council betray a timid desire to refuse the demand of the Electric Company for more money, without first obtaing the consent of the taxpayers.

The news from Manitoba continues to be good. Grain cutting is being rushed, and there is no frost. The yield is better than was expected. Manitoba will have a solid boom now.

As the Christian Brothers refuse to accept the proposed reforms in the Ottawa separate schools, the Ottawa separate school authorities will probably refuse to accept the Christian Brothers.

Rev. Bro. Flamien, Superior of the Order of Christian Brothers, charges the commission with unfairness in its investigation of the Ottawa Separate Schools. He also justifies his refusal to consent to the reforms demanded.

Let that libel suit, brought by the editor of the Winnipeg Tribune against the publisher of the Winnipeg Nor'-Wester, go on. It may bring out the identity of the great Winnipeg liar who has been filling the American press with rumors of war in Manitoba.

In view of the coming visit of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, would it not be a good thing for the Board of Trade to interview him in, and urge upon Sir Charles and those who accompany him the claims of Peterborough, for cheaper fares for market days, gates for street crossings and other matters.

For $300,000 a year and the commercial proceeds a company is willing to operate a cable between Honolulu and the United States. If the cost will be $300,000 a year greater than the benefits the project cannot be regarded as tempting. It might be cheaper to move the island within bridging distance.

When you consider that only three years ago the British government appropriated a hundred million dollars for the building of ten first-class battle-ships and a lot of cruisers and torpedo boats, and that now thirty millions more are set apart for the construction of six men-of-war, you can realize that ruling the wave is an expensive operation.

Hamilton Spectator: The police magistrate of Peterboro has heavily fined eight young men for obtaining liquor during prohibited hours. If this were done oftener there would be a less number of barrooms open during prohibited hours, for the saloon keeper is not going to run risks when his illicit business becomes too small to pay for the risks.

Toronto's annual fall show is a Toronto institution only, and as such it is creditable to that city. Yet we notice that the show is advertised throughout this country and in the United States as "Canada's Great Fair." This is probably the only instance on record of Toronto showing a willingness to allow the country to share in her glory. But the explanation of this apparent magnanimity may be the strange and long-established fallacy of Toronto people, that Canada is Toronto and Toronto is Canada.

A GIRL REPORTER.

Concluded.

under the famous portals, and in the central figure I recognized M. Jean Coussot himself.

Falling back a pace, I "shadowed" them. They got to the corner and stopped at the edge of the pavement, talking, laughing, gesticulating wildly.

Suddenly they shook hands violently, and, with much raising of hats and vociferous interchange of good wishes, left him. He crossed over to the Mansion house. I followed. Why I did so, I can hardly say, except that I still felt a lingering hope that fate would yet befriend me.

Arrived on the opposite pavement, M. Coussot stopped and took up his station on the curb, critically eyeing the various road cars and omnibuses as they came up.

A Hammersmith car drew up, and, with unsuspected agility, he jumped on to the steps and nimbly climbed upstairs.

I followed, and took a seat behind him.

As we neared the top of Cheadside, I thought it time to commence operations.

"Excuse me," said I, in my softest possible tones, "I am not sure if I am on the right car. Does this one go to Hyde Park corner, can you tell me?"

As he heard my voice M. Coussot jerked round on his seat, and, as he looked at me, politely raised his hat.

"Ah, mees! I am a strangair in London," he said. "I vill inquire of the drivair."

And bending over the rail, "Do you pass ze Hyde Park cornair?" he asked; and then turned to me again with: "Yes, zis car pass ze cornair."

"Thank you, so much," said I, sweetly, trembling inwardly lest this should prove to be the conclusion of our conversation.

But the gallant Frenchman showed no intention of turning his back towards me. On the contrary, he wheeled still further round, and, keeping his eyes fixed upon my face, said:

"Zere are so many 'buses and things in your London that it ese ver' con—conplexing, confusing."

"Very confusing," I agreed. "Have you never been in London before?"

"Ne-vair," said he. "I vant mouch to come, but somehow never do till this."

"And are you disappointed or pleased with London now you have seen it?" I ventured, feeling that this question marked an epoch in my life.

"Vell," said he slowly, and I hung on his very words, "I am both disappiont and pleased. It is a grand city, but it makes one's head ache, there is so much beezneez. (How I remembered that word!) And I do not find it pretty. It is mouch dull, too gray, too 'neutral tint,' as you say."

He seemed to enjoy chatting like this, and, just as the shops and sideturnings flitted by us, so we went lightly from one subject to the other, until I knew the cause was won, and that, if I could only remember all he had said, I had enough material to fill a whole page of the Ray.

At Hyde Park corner I prepared to alight, having, just in order to prevent wounding his feelings, assured him that I believed Apsley house, which had attracted his attention, to be the habitation of the Guard's club.

"Ah! You get down here! I regret it! Will mademoiselle exchange cards in memory of our deelightful conversationg?"

"Oh! Pray excuse me!" said I. "I have been too indiscreet already."

"No! No!" he protested. "I have enjoy ver' mouch. But mademoiselle may have curiosity as to who she has been talking." And then in much the same tones as the intelligence might be announced, "I am the German emperor!" the versatile Gaul, again raising his hat, said: "I am Jean Coussot!"

"Really!" I gasped, in affected surprise, and without another word descended the steps.

A second after I jumped on to another 'bus, which soon landed me at Piccadilly circus.

Into an aerated bread shop I rushed, pulled out my note book, and began to scribble for dear life.

"What can I get you?" murmured an attendant.

"Coffee," said I laconically.

"Anything to eat?"

"Yes please," I answered, writing on, oblivious of the girl's proximity.

"What?" she persisted. "What what?" said I, looking up angry at the continued interruption. When I had jotted down all that I could remember I took a hansom to the offices of the Ray shut myself up in an empty room and never stopped till my interview was written revised and reread. "Knock out those two columns of Parliamentary Gossip" directed my editor when he had cast an eye over my copy, "and the contents bill must be altered to 'Jean Coussot's Views of London.' Well done, Miss Neville! I'll have a chat with you later."

As may be remembered, the publication of that interview caused a great sensation in the journalistic world.

But the most pleasing memento of this little episode that I possess is an exquisitely fashioned small gold brooch, embellished with the letters "M. N." in diamonds, that M. Coussot himself sent to the Ray offices for me, bearing on the back the words in English: "To the Victor from the Vanquished."—Pall Mall Budget.

New Treatment for Insanity.

A physician, in treating an insane patient, found it advisable to make use of subcutaneous injections of salt. The patient had obstinately refused all nourishment, and the salt was given as an experiment in nutrition, this treatment having been made use of some time previously. To the doctor's surprise some of the worst symptoms of insanity disappeared. Further trials convinced the faculty of the value of this discovery and, according to all indications, there is in this course the germ of a discovery that will entirely revolutionize the treatment of the insane. We are told that the human body consist of about a dozen elements. When these are present in too great quantity or are lacking, we are ill. The great art is to decide just what element needs regulating; when this is done, we are restored to health.

Easy to Guess the Correct Size.

"I want to git a collar for my husband," said the hardfaced woman, "and I declare I have plumb forgot the size. I giner'ly buy all his collars and ties for him, too."

"Ah!" said the astute clerk. "Then you probably want about a thirteen and a half or fourteen."

"Yes, that's right but I don't see how you guessed it so easy."

"Oh, I have noticed that a man who lets his wife buy all his haberdashery for him usually has a neck of about that size."—Cincinnati Tribune.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receivd ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds pe cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own clas but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

BOWELL-GREENWAY.

Strong Indications of a Conference Between the two Leaders.

Special to the Times.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 27.—A flurry was caused in political circles this morning by a dispatch from Calgary, where Bowell, Schultz and Fred White now are. An interview with Bowell was published in the Alberta Tribune in which a hint was given that Bowell would have an interview with Greenway in Winnipeg, suggested, it is believed, by Shultz. It appears that Bowell hinted at a private interview that an arrangement might be made.

The Calgary Tribune has an inspired article intimating that as no political party seeks to take advantage of the question, a "Round Table Conference," such as Gladstone suggested on Home Rule, be held. The article concludes with the significant suggestion that Schultz would be justified in taking steps to bring about a conference, and adds that an attempt would be condoned by Canada, even if barren of results. By many in Winnipeg this is taken to mean that Schultz might be induced to go a considerable distance in trying to force Greenway to terms.

THE D. R. A. MATCHES.

Scores Made in the Dominion of Canada Match—Two Tie at 97 out of 105.

Special to the Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27. — Shooting for the Dominion of Canada match was continued this morning. The high scores of yesterday at the 200 yard range were heavily discounted by many failures on the 500 and 600 yards range. Among the first completed scores to come in was that of W. C. King, of the 45th of Lindsay, who makes 97 of a possible 105. A good score was made by Staff Sergt. Harp, of the Toronto Highlanders, who came within ten points of all that was possible. Hayhurst made 90.

The following scores were made by Highlanders, of Toronto: Harp, 95; Capt. Orchard, 90; S. McVittie, 87; Major Macdonald, 85; Sergt. Milligan, 83; Pte. W. Davidson, 82.

For the Patterson Cup and the first place in the Dominion of Canada match, there was a tie between Staff Sergt. King, of Bowanville, and Staff Sergt. Armstrong, of Guelph, each of whom made 97.

RAIN IN MANITOBA.

But It Retarded Harvesting Only For a Day—Mr. Wood's Trip.

Special to The Times.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27.—Rain was general yesterday morning all over Manitoba south of the main line of the C. P. R., but will retard wheat cutting for only a day as it was clear and hot last night. There was rain for fifteen minutes at Portage la Prairie and Hassell, [illegible] at Binscarth, but at other northwestern points [illegible] wheat cutting is reported in full swing.

Hon. S. C. Wood, Managing Director of the Freehold Loan & Savings Company, Toronto, has returned after [illegible] a 700 mile drive through the [illegible] western and northwestern part of the Province. The driving portion [illegible] commenced at Souris, then north [illegible]. The tour was through Brandon, Rapid City, Minnedosa, Virden, and up to Birtle, through what he believed are the finest fields of wheat in the Province. Mr. Wood was greatly pleased with his trip.

DIED ON THE SAME DAY.

Dr. Burdett, of Belleville and His Brother Pass Away Together.

Special to the Times.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 27.—Dr. David E. Burdett died Sunday after a long illness. Dr. Burdett, who was born in Prince Edward county, Ont., sixty-seven years ago, practised here for upwards of thirty years, and was a highly popular physician. He was a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, and was for years a member of the Municipal Council. His wife, one daughter (Miss Maud Burdett, the well-known contralto vocalist of Montreal), and one son (Dr. H. E. Burdett, professor in the University at St. Paul, Minnesota), survive him.

A melancholy coincidence in connection with the death of Dr. Burdett is that his brother Daniel died Sunday at the old family homestead, in Newburgh, at about the same hour as the doctor expired here. The telegrams from the relatives announcing the deaths were despatched and received within a few minutes of each other.

Reforms in Armenia.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Chronicle will tomorrow print a despatch from Constantinople saying that Shakir Pasha, first aide-de-camp to the Sultan, who in June last was appointed imperial commissioner in connection with the reforms in Armenia, started in great haste on Sunday by a special steamer for the scene of his duties. Three British warships have been reported off Mitylene. Their approach explains Shakir Pasha's hasty departure. It is urged in influential quarters in Constantinople that the Dardanelles ought to be forced without hesitation, or otherwise British prestige in the east will be seriously endangered. The presence of a fleet alone will convince the Sultan that Lord Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, is serious in his insistance for reform in Armenia.

SUMMER DRAPERIES.

DAINTY AND ARTISTIC MATERIALS FOR WINDOW CURTAINS.

Cheesecloth in Its Finer Qualities Makes a Beautiful Summer Drapery—Madagascar Grasscloth is Very Suitable for Outside.

Dotted Swiss never loses its popularity for window draperies, and there is nothing in the whole range of curtain materials which one can so safely select if in doubt, being suited alike to the cottage and the more pretentious dwelling, and if neatly made and properly hung, is always dainty and artistic. The valance is a form of window drapery especially suited to such soft material, and many handsome houses have all the sash curtains made in this way. Its depth depends upon the height of the window, certain proportions needing to be observed in order to get a good effect.

A new method of draping white curtains is odd and well suited to the windows of a summer parlor, as, being well apart, they admit plenty of light and air. Each curtain is hung so that it covers fully two-thirds of the window—that is, the two cross each other at the top instead of meeting in the centre after the customary fashion. They are then drawn back at the very top of the upper sash, and are secured with bands and bows of satin ribbon or with ruffled bands of the goods as preferred. From the point of draping they hang perfectly straight, and for this reason would look well in a high, double window.

Cheesecloth in its finer qualities is a thoroughly artistic material for summer draperies, especially if edged with ruffles of the same, and these are greatly improved in appearance by being twisted in the hands before being sewed on, to give a soft effect. A pair in pale yellow may be hung in the following novel way: The top of each curtain is turned over to a depth of one yard, and the valance thus formed is gathered up in folds at the outside corner to give a pointed effect. Both the valance and the curtains edge with three inch ruffles of the same material. By inserting a strip of pink or yellow or green cambric between the hems of white cheesecloth curtains a very pleasing effect may be secured. The color is very much toned down, of course, and it should correspond in every case with the other furnishings of the room.

Years ago, when curtain materials were not so beautiful and inexpensive as now, a friend of the writer wished to get something in blue and white for a blue room, and not succeeding, she bought some ordinary white cheesecloth, marked it at wide [illegible] intervals with a pattern [illegible], and worked these with pale blue crewel, using a simple darning stitch which went very rapidly. A deep valance had a border of double circles done in the same way, and the curtains, when hung, were the feature of the room. They bore several washings and are still in existence as sash curtains in an upper bedroom.

The windows of a blue and white room may be charmingly draped with the Japanese crepe known as Chijimi cloth. It is very desirable for the purpose as it launders well and will bear considerable sun without fading appreciably. A simple hem or white ball-and-tassel fringe may trim these at the edges.

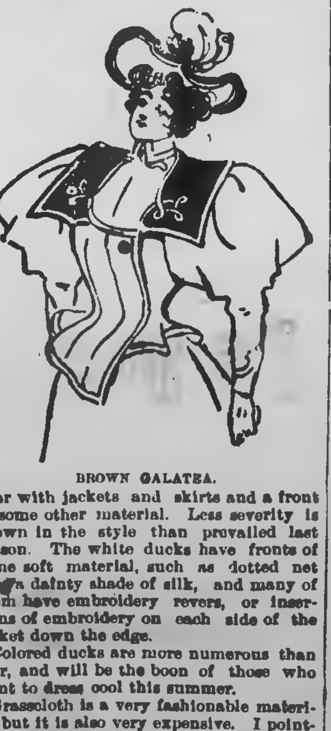
Madagascar grasscloth is a very suitable material for outside window draperies or summer portieres as the dust does not cling to it, and it is also much used for sofa-pillows and chair cushions, imparting a sense of coolness which is most agreeable in summer. Indeed, wherever it is possible, the heavy rugs and draperies in use in winter should be replaced by stuffs and furnishings as distinctively summer-like as possible, not only comfort but health itself being often dependent upon such a radical change.

OUTDOOR MATERIALS.

Duck, Linen and Grasscloth the Favorites for Warm Days.

Outdoor gowns are the most important garments in a woman's wardrobe at this season of the year. These are being made up and sold in great numbers at the large stores, to women whose figures are sufficiently near the standard to wear a ready-made dress.

These dresses are of duck, cotton bedford and grasscloth, besides numerous Galateas, linens and percales. The ducks and cotton bedfords are the most common. These are made as they were last year with jackets and skirts and a front of some other material. Less severity is shown in the style than prevailed last season. The white ducks have fronts of some soft material, such as dotted net over a dainty shade of silk, and many of them have embroidery revers, or insertions of embroidery on each side of the jacket down the edge.



BROWN GALATEA.

Colored ducks are more numerous than ever, and will be the boon of those who want to dress cool this summer.

Grasscloth is a very fashionable material, but it is also very expensive. I pointed to an innocent-looking, linen-colored gown exhibited at a large store the other day, and asked the price. It was $98.50, and the material was grasscloth.

The gown shown here is in two shades of Galatea, the darker forming the panel on the skirt and the facing on the collar and the large bretelle-like revers on the waist. The revers and skirt are trimmed with white braid set on in "frog" patterns. The jacket fastens with one large button.

One of the best things Frances Willard ever said was: "If I were asked the mission of the ideal woman I would reply, it is to make the whole world homelike."

Bird Foods Explained . . .

Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of bird seed in the market? Because we have made birds and bird foods the study of a lifetime, therefore we know just what birds require, and each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected seed with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25c. Much of the seed fed to birds is positively injurious. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

"MOTHER REMEMBERS."

When we wuz young we wuz cunnin', I s'pose;
Least that's what mother declares, an' she knows!
You'd laugh at the treasures she's hoarded away—
Little scuffed shoes thet wuz wore out in play;
Little white ringlets from somebody's hair,
When we wuz little an' helpless an' fair—
An' mother remembers.

Naow we air growed-up an' headstrong an' sad;
Then we wuz little an' lovin' an' glad.
The tricks thet we played an' the prizes we won,
The smart things we said an' the cute things we done,
Air things we forgit in the worry of life:
But when she kin tell 'em ter husban' er wife,
W'y mother remembers!

Up on the hill, wher' the soft breezes pass,
Little mounds rise through the long, waving grass
The babies that sleep there are dust long ago,
Wher' the sweet-scented shrub an' the rose-bushes grow,
An' no one has thought on or mourned 'em for years;
But she saw 'em last through her heart-breakin' tears—
An' mother remembers!

—Florence E. Pratt.

A SON OF THE WILDERNESS.

By GILBERT PARKER.

Rachotte told the story to Medallion and the little chemist's wife on Sunday after mass, and because he was vain of his English he forsook his own tongue and paid tribute to the Anglo-Saxon.

"Ah, she was so purty, that Norinne, when she drive through the parishes all twelve days after the wedding, a dance every night, and her eyes and cheeks on fire all the time. And Bargon, by gosh! that Bargon, he have a pair of shoulders like a wall, and five hunder' dollars and a horse and wagon. By gosh! I say that time, 'Bargon he have put a belt round the world and buckle it tight to him—all right, ver' good,' I say to him: 'Bargon, what you do when you get ver' rich out on the Souris River?' He laugh and throw up his hands; for he have not many words any kind. And the damn little dwarf Parpan, he say: 'He will have flowers on the table and ice on the butter, and a wheel in his head.'

"And Bargon laugh and say: 'I will have plenty for my friends to eat and drink, and a ver' fine time.'

"'Good!' we all say, 'By gosh!'

"So they make the trip through twelve parish, and the fiddles go all the time, and I am what you say best man, by gosh! with Bargon, and I go all the time, and Lucette Dargois, she go with me and her brother—holy! what an eye had she in her head. As we go we sing a song joll and there is no one sing so better as Norinne:

"'C'est la belle Francoise,
Allons gai.
C'est la belle Francoise,
Qui veut se marier,
Ma luron lurette,
Qui veut se marier,
Ma luron lure.'

"Ver' good, by gosh! Norinne and Bargon [illegible] go to the Souris, and Bargon [illegible] up [illegible] he carry [illegible] like a wall yes, [illegible] good time, and Norinne's cheeks—ah, like an apple, and bimeby a baby laugh up at Bargon from Norinne's lap. I am on the Souris then at a sawmill, and on Sunday sometime I go up to see Bargon and Norinne. I think that baby is so damn funny; I laugh an pinch his nose; his name is Marie, and I say I marry him pretty quick some day. We have plenty hot cake, and beans and pork, and a little how-you-are from a jug behind the door.

"Next year it is not so good. There is a bad crop and hard times, and Bargon he owe two hunder' dollar, and he pay interest. Norinne she do all the work, and that little Marie, there is dam funny in him, and Norinne, she keep go, go, all the time, early and late, and she get ver' thin and quiet. So I go up from the mill more times, and I bring fol-lols for that Marie, for you know I said I go to marry him some day. And when I see [illegible] Bargon shoulders stoop and his eye get dull, and there is nothing in the jug behind the door, I fetch a horn with me, and my fiddle, and, by gosh! there is happy sit-you-down. I make Bargon sing 'La Belle Francoise,' and then just before I go, I make them laugh, for I stand by the cradle and sing to that Marie:

"'Adieu, belle Francoise;
Allons gai!
Adieu, belle Francoise;
Moi, je te marierai,
Ma luron lurette,
Moi, je te marierai,
Ma luron lure.'

"So; and another year it go along, and Bargon he know that if there come bad crop it is good-by-lover with himselves. He owe two hunder' and fifty dollar. It is the spring at Easter, and I go up to him and Norinne, for there is no mass, and Pontiac is too far away. We stand at the door and look out, and all the prairie is green, and the sun stand up high like a light on a pole, and the birds fly by ver' busy looking for the summer and the prairie flower.

"'Bargon,' I say—and I give him a horn of old [illegible]—'here's to le bon Dieu!'

"'Le bon [illegible] say.

"I hear so[illegible] hind, and [illegible] Norinne w[illegible] grumbles—[illegible] he have in[illegible] Marie in he[illegible] it is like the [illegible] at Montreal [illegible] bon Dieu—it is the good God,' he say.

"Before I go I take a piece of paper—it come from the Notre Dame; it is all bless by the Pope—and I nail it to the door of the house. 'For luck,' I say. Then I laugh and speak out to the prairie; 'Come along, good summer; come along, good crop; come two hunder' and fifty dollars for Gal Bargon,' ver' quiet. I give Norinne twenty dollar, but she will not take him. 'For Marie,' then I say, 'Keep it and give to Marie yourself, some day.'

"She smile at me, then she have a little tear [illegible] and she nod to where Bargon [illegible] outside, and she say: 'If this summer go wrong, it will kill him. He work and work and fret and worry for me and Marie, and sometimes he just sit and look at me and say not a word.'

"I say to her that there will be good crop, and next year we will be ver' happy. So, the time go on, and I send up a little snack of [illegible] and tabac, and sugar and tea, and I get a letter from Bargon bimeby, and he say that

Remain Closed Because of the Deadlock with the Christian Brothers.

Special to the Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—None of the Separate schools of the city, of which the Christian brothers remain in charge, were opened yesterday, the date for the re-opening after the summer holidays. This is explained by a notice sent to the brothers by the secretary of the Board under the instruction of Trustee Seguin, chairman of the French Committee, telling them not to open the schools until they had received further advice from the Board. The length of time that the schools will remain closed depends altogether on the result of a meeting of the Board to be held this evening. At this meeting Trustee Seguin will inform the Board of the answer of Brother Superior Flamien, of Montreal, to the demands of the Board in regard to the new text books and the appointment of three English teachers. On Saturday F. R. Latchford was requested to give his opinion as to the validity of the agreement between the brothers and the Board, and this opinion will likely be presented this evening. The future action of the Board will be based upon that opinion.

Now see that your blood is pure. Good health follows the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla which is the one great blood purifier.

OUTRAGE AND DEATH.

How a Woman Killed the Man Who Criminally Assaulted Her.

Special to The Times.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Aug. 27.—About two o'clock this morning a meat peddler named Kempthorne forced an entrance into the bedroom of Mrs. Hattie Kellar in North Scriba, a suburb six miles east of here, and outraged her, despite vigorous resistance. Kempthorne was intoxicated, and while he lay in a drunken stupor Mrs. Kellar seized a gun and put a bullet in his heart, killing him instantly. A bottle partly filled with whisky was found on the window. Mrs. Kellar alarmed the neighbors, who sent for the Oswego police and the coroner. She was brought to this city and lodged in the county jail. Mrs. Kellar is a widow nearly 60 years old; Kempthorne is about 40.

The Waller Case.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Daily News will say tomorrow that it regards difficulty arising from the ridiculously severe sentence imposed on Mr. Waller as somewhat grave if it is a symptom of the condition of the French feeling, but the paper adds that it is the opinion that it will certainly admit of an amicable settlement. Continuing it says: "The French have constantly shown that they are willing to admit an error of temper when it can be proved against them. There is a certain irony in the mischance which has now embroiled them with a power so absolutely indifferent to the Madagascar question as the United States."

The Spy Law.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The Daily News tomorrow will publish a despatch from Paris saying: The Waller affair ought to show the French the danger of their revised espionage law. The United States will protect the convicted envoy as firmly as if he were an honest man. The spy law, as it stands, is barbarous. It was instituted by General Boulanger when he was fishing for popularity. France ought to be obliged to the United States for giving this demonstration of its evils.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

The Times

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 28 1895.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Ran the Army In.

PONTIAC, Mich., August 28.—The entire Salvation army, eleven men and women, were arrested Saturday night and kept in jail over Sunday for disobeying a new ordinance requiring them to keep a certain distance from the sidewalks on business streets. The arrests were made the subject of comment by several pastors yesterday. The Salvationists threaten suits against the city.

Looking For Safe Robbers.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—The Ottawa police were advised this morning to look out for five men who were coming towards the city from Rockland 25 miles east of here on the Ottawa river. Last night they entered the office of W. C. Edwards, M. P., and robbed the safe. The exact amount of money stolen cannot be ascertained but a low estimate places it at $1,5000.

Wilful Murder.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The coronor's jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Reynolds and her three children at Mansfield on August 11, today returned a verdict of wilful murder against Henry Wright a lodger in the Reynolds house.

Wright stabbed the woman and the three children, set fire to the house and made an unsuccessful attempet to commit suicide.

Will Call Him a Liar.

NEW YORK, August. 28—A Berlin special to the Herald says: a committee of German generals will demand disclosures of the name and place from the French General Munier in respect to the accusations contained in his letter to the Pams Figaro. If these particulars are not forthcoming the committee will denounce him as a liar.

Saloons Close Voluntarily.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—At a meeting of the wine, Liquor and Beer Dealers' Association, a resolution was adopted ratifying the resolution of the Excise Commitee of the Association, closing all their places of business on Saturday.

CLIMAX TO A RACE.

Both Bicycle Riders Hurt, One Seriously—A Sensational Accident at Barrie.

Special to the Times.

BARRIE, Ont., Aug. 28.—A sensation was caused through an accident which occurred to two bicycle riders, H. N. Huges, of Barrie, and C. Ellis, of Bradford who were riding for the championship of this district. The race was six miles up Shanty Bay and return. About 200 yards from the finish on their return journey the accident happened. Hughes, who was about 10 feet ahead of his rival, saw a horse and buggy in which were two of Judge Ardagh's daughters, in front of him. Before he could help himself he had struck the horse, the force throwing him on top of the animal. He finally landed directly behind the horse and in front of the dashboard. In his fall he broke his left arm. The horse immediately bolted, with Hughes sitting behind him on the whippletree. One of the Misses Ardagh was thrown out, but not seriously hurt. Had it not been for the bravery of one of Contractor Grant's men from Toronto, who at the risk of his own life, stopped the runaway, a very serious accident would have happened.

GRABBED THE HORSE.

He jumped out and caught the horse by the head, running at full speed down the street.

Ellis got off easier. His machine struck the wheel of the buggy and he was thrown on the road, but was able to go home to Bradford next day. He was badly shaken up. It was thought Hughes was injured internally, but with the exception of a broken arm and two nasty cuts on both knees he is all right. The race will not be decided this season.

Mr. Hughes is very highly respected in Barrie and was recently appointed agent for the Reliance Loan and Savings Company of Toronto.

PATTERSON FOR MANITOBA.

Will be Formally Appointed Lieut. Governor on the Premier's Return.

Special to the Times.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Intimate friends of J. C. Patterson state that he has made all arrangements for going to Winnipeg as the Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba within the next three weeks. The understanding is that so soon as Sir Mackenzie Bowell returns from the west the appointment, which was agreed upon some months ago, will be formally made. The Ottawa residence of Mr. Patterson will pass to Sir Charles Tupper.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such an enormously increased sale of the medicine.

Frost at Edmonton.

EDMONTON, N.W.T., Aug. 28.—Frost did damage in this neighborhood to the extent of from 20 to 25 per cent. The injury seemed to have been done mainly on the lower lands and on lands newly cultivated. The higher lands and fields that have been long in cultivation escaped with little damage.

Mr. Wilson Wants to Know.

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 28.—The Board of Health has received a communication from H. H. Wilson, English Vice-Consul General at New York, asking as to the extent of the prevalence of anthorax among the cattle of this State. It was referred to the Agricultural Department.

Seeking Canadian Exhibits.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—Mr. Harrison Watson, curator of the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute, London, has arrived by the Parisian. His object in visiting Canada is to secure better exhibits of Canadian products at the institute. Mr. Watson says that during the twenty six months the institute has been open 1,100,000 persons have visited it.

Dragged in a Train.

KINGSTON, Aug. 28.—This morning, J. Martin and his nephew John Grey, Were driving into the city in a covered milk waggon. They were watching the Grand Trunk suburban train and did not notice the approach of the Kingston and Pembrok train. The waggon reached the crossing when a collision occurred. The horse was killed, wagon smashed and Grey dragged by the train and injured about the head and had an arm broken. He may recover. Morton escaped with a few severe bruises.

NOTES ABOUT THE YACHTS.

Movements of the Single Stickers Today—Welcome to Lord Dunraven.

Special to the Times.

SANDY HOOK, N.J., Aug. 28.—The Valkyrie left her moorings in the Horse Shoe at 9.32, and went out for a sail. She hoisted her mainsail, and at 9.50 she sent up a club topsail.

The Vigilant had her mainsail up at 9.30, but unbent it and bent it a different one.

The Valkyrie and her tender, the City of Bridgeport, display flags signalling a welcome to Lord Dunraven, who is expected to arrive on the White Star Liner Tuetonic this morning.

The Valkyrie broke out her jib and forestay sail as she slipped her moorings, and in a breeze of eight knots from the west stood outside.

Sandy Hook, Aug. 28.—At 11 a.m. the Valkyrie, after running in, turned at the junction of Ship and Swash Channels, and came down the latter channel on the starboard tack, going out to the eastward. Twenty-five minutes later she was becalmed off Romer Beacon, and went about, going into the Swash channel. She could not stem the flood tide. Wind light.

New Rochelle, N.Y., Aug. 28.—The Defender left for Sandy Hook in tow this morning.

CHINESE ARE ASSISTING

In the Investigation Into the Massacres of Missionaries.

Special to the Times.

HONG KONG.—Aug. 28.—It is reported here that the Chinese officials are assisting actively and thoroughly in the investigation into the massacre of missionaries. Ten Vegetarians have already been convicted and the trial of others is proceeding. There is said to be no danger of any fresh disturbances in that district during the sitting of the commission.

His Last Sail.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Norville A. Tully, a young man of 20 years, who, with his mother, lives with Mr. A. S. Abbott, ex city clerk, 227 Queen's avenue, has been camping on the north side of the river, opposite Wonderland. About 1.30 this afternoon he started out for a ride in his small canoe but had not gone far before his little craft upset, and the occupant was thrown into the water. His cries soon brought several people to his assistance, but before they could reach him he sunk for the last time. The body was discovered shortly after and every effort made to restore animation but without avail.

Over a License.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 28.—Alexander Hutchinson, proprietor of the First avenue hotel, had a row with James Gelly, of the Hotel Willey, over a license. Hutchinson shot the other man dead and then gave himself up.

No one Badly Hurt.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A special from Guayaquil says the war in Ecuador is over. Quito has pronounced in favor of General Clay Alfaro. Political prisoners have been liberated.

That Tired Feeling
Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25c.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 56 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today. It is not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Weather.

Probs.—Generally fair, showers or thunderstorms in a few places, stationary or a little lower temperature.

Police After Tramps.

The police chased several tramps last night, but in the darkness the later escaped. They were seen in the town yesterday in the vicinity of the Court House park.

Accident to a Car.

Street car No. 8 had its gear wheels and casings torn off yesterday. It came down George street in a dismantled condition, and many thought a collision had taken place.

Painting the Opera House.

The interior of the opera house is being painted and frescoed and otherwise fixed up for the opening of the show season. The improvements will be much appreciated by the citizens.

A False Alarm.

While the fire boxes were being tested yesterday a false alarm was accidentally sent into the fire hall. Some of the firemen ran to the station and were followed by a crowd which grew in size until several hundred stood around the big doors waiting for the trucks to come out.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 651 Stewart street.

C. P. R. Salaries.

A despatch from Montreal says: Following upon the news that the Canadian Pacific railway is building new cars to meet the great wheat rush comes a rumor that within the next few days the officials whose salaries were reduced 10 and 20 per cent., will be placed on the rolls at the old rate of wages.

No Passes for Them.

The customs officials throughout the Dominion have not yet recovered their equanimity since the issuing of an order by Hon. Clarke Wallace forbidding them to accept passes on railways. It was hoped that, after the expiration of the year, the prohibition would be withdrawn, but it is still in force. The gentlemen who formerly traveled free now have to cash up.—Telegram.

New Goods

At Clegg's, now arriving every day for the fall trade. Not only fine and expensive furniture, but the cheaper lines as well. Good common chairs at 33c, a good bedstead, all hard wood and well finished, for $2, Mattresses, springs, pillows, etc. Cheap extension tables and sideboards. Four flats one hundred feet long filled full of furniture and all at bottom prices, A. Clegg's 427 George street.

Yesterday's Fire.

About 8.30 yesterday morning smoke was seen issuing from the cellar window of the vacant store adjoining the Peterborough Music Company on George street. The alarm was given and the fire Brigade soon had a stream playing in the cellar. The fire, the origin of which is a mystery, had started in the rear portion of the cellar, the floor of which is covered with paper and sawdust. Mr. E. Hartley is the owner of the building and the damage done was slight.

The A. O. U. W's Position.

The stability of one of the oldest, and what has been considered one of the strongest fraternal organizations in the country, the A.O.U.W., is seriously threatened, according to dispatches received in Buffalo, from Chicago, which reveal that, owing to squandering of funds, necessitating special assessments, fully 15 per cent. of members have withdrawn, several lodges have filed protests against the action of the Supreme Lodge, and extremists declare that from 25 to 50 per cent. of the members will withdraw in the next few weeks.

Y.P.S.C.E. Item.

There will be a public meeting in the George street lecture room next Monday evening, when Mr. DeBarritt will give an address on missionary work in South America. This is an unknown continent to many christians, who could speak intelligently on any other mission field. Owing to this meeting the George street society will not have the regular meeting. St. Andrew's will hold their's on Sunday evening, and St. Paul's will hold their's some night through the week, to be announced from the pulpit next Sunday. The members of these societies will thus be able to hear Mr. DeBarritt.

Foresters Return.

The majority of the Canadian delegates to the Supreme Court of Independent Foresters, which met in London, Eng., arrived in Toronto yesterday afternoon on the Chicora, all looking well and none the worse of a somewhat rough passage out. The Supreme Chief Ranger, Dr. Oronhyatekha, will not arrive until early next week. The Supreme Secretary, John A. MacGillivray, Q.C., went on to Quebec to attend a meeting of the High Court of that province. Those who visited the head office were received with great enthusiasm. A stray bird which was picked up 500 miles out at sea, came in for a share of attention.

Bobcaygeon Notes.

A police court was held at Bobcaygeon by S. W. Crabtree, Esq., J.P. Master Herbert Stevens and John Cain, having driven ther delivery wagons, at what was considered a furious pace. They admitted the mild impeachment and toted up a dollar each. Mr. Herbert also answered to a second charge of having ruffled the peaceful quietude of the village by fast riding, for which he disbursed two dollars. On the same morning, the reeve, J. L. Read, held a court, Thomas Perault being charged with being drunk and disorderly. His worship gave Perault a lecture on the impropriety of his conduct, and dismissed him on suspended judgment.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co, [illegible], wholesale agent.

A RIVER SERPENT.

A 6 foot Reptile Killed in the River at Rosa's Bridge.

Citizens who took in the City of Peterborough's excursion to Rosa's bridge on Tuesday afternoon, were treated to something not on the program, in the shape of a terrific battle with a monster river serpent. There are sea serpents and river serpents, the latter not attaining the proportions of the former, but in ferociousness and fighting propensities, quite as formidable.

The boat was at the bridge, when a big commotion was noticed in the water right off the bow. There was a squirming and lashing and an upheaving of the waters, and the boat was swayed to and fro, just about in the same manner as when the water is let into the locks. This continued for a minute, when the head of the snake, resembling a twisted length of iron girder, was raised above the water.

The passengers crowded to the bow of the boat to witness the novel sight, very few of them at first realizing that they were gazing upon a veritable river serpent, but such it was.

Mr. Walter English had his rifle on board, and having caught a glimpse of the serpent, at once secured the weapon, determined to kill it, if a bullet could be forced through its skin. The serpent made an excellent target of itself, and taking careful aim, Mr. English pulled the trigger.

The bullet struck the serpent in the neck, and it immediately began the death struggle, which lasted for several minutes. Then it turned over and floated on the surface. It was pulled in with a hawser and brought to Peterborough.

The serpent measured 6 feet 9 inches in length, and in color was black. It was perfectly scaleless and not unlike a common black snake, except in size.

Mr. Herb Hall has had the serpent skinned, and it will be stuffed and placed on exhibition.

A SEASON FOR GIVING.

A Novel Plan of the Salvation Army to Raise Money.

In 1892 Commandant H. H. Booth hit upon a new idea for raising funds, by inaugurating a plan for clearing poor corps and officers of debt.

The plan was an annual "Harvest Festival Scheme," to be held all over the Dominion and Newfoundland on certain dates. This year the dates are Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 31st, September 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

In this scheme it is posible for all who appreciate the Army's work to assist in some way or other.

The officer of the different corps are instructed to visit friends and collect from them anything they are able to contribute whether it be in cash or otherwise.

Gifts of produce, groceries, fruit, grain, cattle, poultry, or anything of any description which is saleable will be acceptable.

After the collection of these various articles a sale of the same is arranged for Monday and Tuesday night, and the proceeds placed into one column fund to help out the debts mentioned.

Commandant Booth hopes by this scheme also to replenish the storehouses of his various institutions, such as Rescue Homes for fallen women, Men's Shelters, Children's Institutions, Home for Sick Officers, also his Industrial Farm, so it will be unnecessary to spend money on these articles during the fall and winter.

He contends that, though money is scarce, the land is laden with good things and he calls upon those who have enough and to spare to remember those who are not so favorably circumstanced.

THE BICYCLE RACES.

Entries Coming in Fast—Lacrosse Match—News of the Sports.

There are already about 50 entries for the different events to be run off at the bicycle races tomorrow. The importance of the events not so much as the prizes, has attracted the best of the American flyers to compete, as well as Canada's swiftest wheelmen. The prizes, too, consisting of unset diamonds, are valuable. The events are:

Class A.—1, one mile novice; 3, quarter mile open; 5, one mile handicap; 7, one mile open.

Class B.—2, one mile open; 4, half mile handicap; 6, one mile tandem; 8, one mile handicap; 9, two mile open.

Tomorrow afternoon has been declared a half holiday, and a large number of citizens will witness the races, as well as the many visitors who will be in town.

At the Driving Park Monday afternoon the Athletics will play with the Markham lacrosse team, a strong aggregation.

The last two League games at Guelph netted the Galt nine no less than $700.

"Bob" Fitzsimmons, who is matched to fight "Jim" Corbett at Dallas, Texas, will give a ball punching exhibition and a four-round set-to at Hanlan's Point, Toronto, either Saturday afternoon or evening or Monday afternoon or evening.

Bargain day in raspberries, water melons peaches, bananas, cucumbers and tomatoes at J. B. Oke's. Telephone 304.

SHARP SHOOTERS' SHOTS.

The Walker Challenge up Goes to Montreal—Scores.

In the Walker match which was shot off yesterday morning at the Dominion Rifle Association's matches, Montreal carried off the first prize. The score of the 3rd Victorias was as follows: Capt. Pope, 95; Lieut. Brown, 90; Pte. Binmore, 92; Pte. Matthews, 86; Major Bustead, 85. Total, 524.

The first prize, won by Montrealers, is $48 and Walker Challenge Cup.

This is how the Toronto corps scored in the Walker match:

Grenadiers 519.
Queen's Own Rifles 499.
48th Highlanders 498.
The other prize winning teams were:
$42, 59th Cornwall, 520 points.
$36, Guelph F. A., 519 points.
$30, 6th Fus., Montreal, 517 points.
$24, 43rd Ottawa, 515 points.
$18, G. G. F. G., Ottawa, 514 points.

The individual prize was won by Gunner H. C. Chamberlain, B. C. B. G. A., who scored 96.

Death of Richard Andrews.

Mr. Richard Andrews, aged 18, son of Mr. Edwin Andrews, Patterson street, died at the Nicholls Hospital yesterday afternoon. The deceased has been an inmate of the hospital for some time, he suffering from an attack of typhoid fever with lung complications. He was an employee at the Electric Works for four years. The funeral will take place to the Little Lake cemetery this afternoon. His fellow employees will attend the funeral in a body.

Twenty Thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking of his beauties. He ships them by mail and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 45 King street west.

E. C. Peck, general merchant, Jeannette Creek, has called a meeting of his creditors for the 31st.

INS AND OUTS.

The balloon will go up at half past one.

⁂

The Springville Banner states that Mr. Madison's hired girl has a new pair of shoes. The Banner is a newsy paper.

⁂

A man in Coboconk was struck by lightning while carrying an umbrella. There is considerable "steal" about some umbrellas.

⁂

The small boy at the horticultural show today will go home filled with the idea that to be a judge at an exhibition and sample fruits, is a better snap than to be premier.

⁂

The prisoner at the bar was young and tearful. Evidently it was her first experience with the guardians of public order. She was a refined-looking girl, just out of school, and the loungers all pitied her and drew closer to the desk to learn of what crime she had been guilty.

"Officer," said the magistrate, "what is the charge against this young woman.

"Gambling, Your Honor. She has violated the law of the Town by making a wager in public. I heard the bet placed with my own ears."

"This is serious," said the magistrate, gravely. "What was the nature of her wager?"

"She bet a cookie, Your Honor, that it would not rain tomorrow."

A Bicycle Conundrum.

"Why's a bike like a woman ?"
The Merry Idiot cried.
"Because it's so hard to learn,"
The jilted man replied.

"Because sometimes it's very fast,"
The cynic murmured low;
"Because," the critic rash declared,
"It's always on the go"

"Because it runs right through the dust,
A husband sadly vowed,
"Oh, because its fascinating!"
The bloomer girl allowed.

Then loud laughed the Merry Idiot,
"My reason crowns the cup!
Because it very often needs
A right good blowing up!"

On the Trent Canal.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber has returned from an inspection of the works on the Trent Valley canal says the Ottawa Citizen. On the Onderdonk contract, Simcoe and Balsam Lake division, the chief engineer found that half a mile of channel had been cut through the swamp down to grade. Six large derricks have been erected on the heavy rock cut, where an entrance has just been made. As soon as the canal level is reached it is expected these derricks will turn out 200 cubic yards each per day; and they will be kept at it all winter. A number of dump wagons will also be put to work at the western end. On the Peterborough and Lakefield division Mr. Schreiber found that Contractors McDonald, Brown & Love had already commenced clearing the right of way and were getting their plant, such as scrapers, plows, etc., on the ground.

H. J. Ivison, livery, Leamington, has sold out.

J. J. Jackson, butcher, Tilbury Center, has sold out.

Thomas Werry, sen., Usborne township, has assigned to S. Martin.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 161 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

IS GLENN A FIRE-BUG?

ARRESTED ON THE CHARGE OF FIRING BUILDINGS IN AURORA.

Result of the Recent Investigation Into the Origin of the Numerous Fires There—The Prisoner Taken to Toronto.

Special to The Times.

AURORA, Aug. 29.—The fire inquest was concluded last night, and a peculiar story was told about a man named Norman MacLeod. George W. Graham, senior partner of the Graham Bros. firm was the chief witness, and was on the stand for more than two hours. He gave an account of how his books were kept, and stated that he knew from memory how much they purchased and sold on their own account, and how much on commission for others. He had made up for the insurance people from memory his statement of grain lost. The statement of wood lost was made up from the wool memorandum book.

TESTING HIS MEMORY.

Crown Attorney Dewart then proceeded to test Mr. Graham's memory. He produced an itemized report of wool purchased after July 1, containing the names dates and amount of purchases. The Crown Attorney read out the dates and amounts and asked the witness to give the names. Graham was unable to do so except in one or two instances. Questioned as to his movements on the night of the fire, Graham said he was in bed when aroused by the fire bells. He got up and went to the G.T.R. freight sheds, where he saw John Glenn, who was drunk. He accused the latter of setting fire to the shed, and Glenn said he was in bed at the time. He saw Glenn at the fire which burned the freight shed on Aug. 10. Glenn was sober. The next day witness told Glenn that he had made a "clean job of it this time," and the latter replied that he was in bed and could prove it.

BLAMED IT ON MCLEOD.

Mr. Graham further said that Wells, the proprietor of the Queen's Hotel had accused him of the fire because he had quarrelled with him. Glenn had told him, the witness, that the fire was the act of a man named Norman McLeod, who did it to carry through a horse trade.

John Glenn was called and said he was in bed at the time of the fire at Neale's house and was roused by the alarm. About a week before that fire he had a conversation with Norman McLeod. McLeod told him that he had a chance for a good deal. He said he had an opportunity of getting Neale's horse in exchange for his pony if he would fire the house.

IN A BURST OF CONFIDENCE.

The witness admitted to Mr. Dewart that he had never heard or known of McLeod's firing buildings before or being engaged in any such transaction. McLeod did not propose that witness should help him or do it for him, McLeod had just told him in a burst of confidence. Witness had afterwards told Neale of what McLeod had told him, and McLeod, when he saw him next, blamed him for spoiling the deal. The house was subsequently burned, and McLeod told him next morning that he had skinned his nose the night before by running up against the stump of a tree when coming from the house when the fire started.

Coroner Johnston then charged the jury. C. C. Robinson assisted the Crown Attorney and H. Lennox appeared for Graham.

The jurors found that the fire had been set by design, that Glenn was present, when it was set and was therefore an accessory after the fact, and that the amount of wool in the building was not as much as alleged by Graham. Glenn was taken into custody.

GLENN BROUGHT HERE.

THE MAN WHO IS MIXED UP WITH THE G. T. R FIRE AT AURORA.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—John Glenn, the Aurora man, who has figured so conspicuously in the fire inquest at that place, was brought to the city this morning and arraigned in the Court House before Justicy of the Peace Ellis on a charge of arson. He pleaded not guilty and the investigation was set for Thursday next.

LOST THEIR CROP.

Destruction By Lightning on Western Farms.

Special to the Times.

MANDUMIN, Aug. 29.—About 6.15 this evening during a heavy thunder storm the large barn of Wm. Dunn, 4th concession, township of Sarnia, was struck by lightning and was totally destroyed with this year's crop, also a binder and a pair of trucks. A new top buggy and a bull which were in the barn when struck were saved. A smaller barn adjoining, containing hay, was saved by neighbors after a hard fight. The loss is heavy but is partly covered by insurance.

CORUNNA, Aug. 29.—A heavy lightning and wind storm passed over here about 6 o'clock this evening. A large barn and contents were destroyed by fire.

A row boat is reported to have capsized in which Mrs. Micheal Derush and her three children of Mraysville. All are reported to have been drowned.

BENEDICTINE BEER.

Some Pennsylvania Monks who run a Little Brewery of their Own.

Special to The Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—The protest against the manufacture and sale of beer by the Benedictines of St. Vincent's Abbey, of Beatty, Pa., is still under consideration by Archbishop Satolli. The Benedictines say there was no scandal connected with the sale of the beer, which, they stated, was done merely to cover the cost of the manufacture for their own consumption and the expense of the internal revenue tax. The total manufactured was four barrels a week. The Benedictines announce, however, their readiness to see what can be done in the matter to quiet the criticisms.

Inman Undoubtedly Lost.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—All hope of Robert W. Inman, who jumped overboard from his yacht Adelaide, after the collision with the iron steamboat Perseus last Monday, being found alive, has been abandoned by the friends of the young man.

Thirteen Drowned.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Torpedo boat No. 14 capsized yesterday in the North Sea. Thirteen persons are reported to have been drowned.

A GRAVE MENACE,

To Navigation on Nearly all the Lakes is the Chicago Drainage Canal.

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug 29.—The report of the Board of Engineers, detailed to report upon the probable effect and operation of the Chicago Drainage Canal upon the lakes and harbor levels and upon the navigation of the great lakes and their connecting waterways, says the promoters of the canal did not obtain the consent of Congress, and that it has not been treated as an international or even an inter-State affair. The new outlet, which will take 600,000 cubic feet of water per minute from Lake Michigan, would reduce the lake and others below it about six inches in two years, Lake Superior alone not being affected; the navigable capacities of all the harbors and shallows will be reduced.

The Board says, therefore, that the Chicago Drainage Canal is not a local affair, but a national one, and that under the laws of the United States these changes in capacity cannot be made without Federal authority, and to enable the executive officers of the United States to act advisedly in the matter it is necessary, in the opinion of the Board, not only that measurements be taken, but that the money cost of restoring the navigable depths in channels and harbors be carefully estimated.

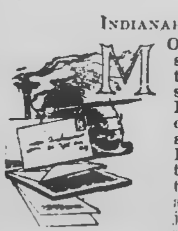
IT WAS HOWARD'S COAT.

MRS. PIETZEL IDENTIFIES THE COAT FOUND IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Murderer Holmes Is Told of the Finding of the Charred Bones Supposed to be Those of Howard Pietzel.

Special to the Times,

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 29.



MORE evidence has been secured in the Holmes tragedy, every item showing that the Pietzel boy was murdered in the cottage at at Irvington by H. H. Holmes and that the body was burned in the stove at night and the charred bones jammed into the chimney hole. It was learned yesterday that the trunk which mysteriously left the hotel was taken to Irvington by train and from the platform removed by Holmes to the house. It contained the clothing of the girls, which he wanted to dispose of before taking them to Toronto, where they were murdered. Mrs. Pietzel, mother of the murdered boy was telegraphed at Galva, Ill., and identified the trunk and the boy's coat. Other articles which belonged to him have also been found in the chimney hole. Coroner Carter took charge of the house and held an inquest at which the officers and others testified. The grand jury is in session and Judge McCray ordered it to proceed at once to taking testimony, and to-day the witnesses will be examined. The court said every effort will be made to bring Holmes here for trial.

HOLMES HEARS THE NEWS.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—H. H. Holmes' lawyer yesterday informed the prisoner of the finding in Indianapolis of the remains said to be those of young Howard Pietzel. Holmes did not waver in his claim that Howard Pietzel had been left in the care of Hatch and Minnie Williams on October 10 last. The lawyer said his client is now so accustomed to hearing of startling developments in the famous case that the finding of a few human bones has not the slightest effect upon him. The lawyer will take no steps in the near future in the case until the prosecution makes a move. He did not think, however, so far as the Indianapolis end of the case is concerned, that Holmes will be taken to that city for trial, but that if the authorities demand his acquisition Holmes would cheerfully go to Indianapolis and stand trial. It is claimed that he could establish an alibi.

PERHAPS IN MEXICO.

Will the Forthcoming Corbett-Fitzsimmons Fight Take Place.

Special to the Times.

EL PASSO, Texas Aug. 29.—It is understood that matters have been fixed at Mexico City with the federal officials so that the Corbett Fitzsimmons fight can be pulled off in Juarez. Governor Asumeda of Chihuahua favors having the fight at Juarezbu, t has been held back by President Diaz heretofore. Twenty thousand dollars, Mexican money, must be put up as a guarantee for local expenses and evidence of good faith.

A Machinist's Tragic Death.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., August 29.—David P. Williams, fireman, and two press riggers of the Cottrell Printing Manufacturing Company were at work last night removing an old press from the Knickerbocker Press Company's building. A large iron frame that they were taking from the elevator tipped over on Williams. The other man and Williams used their united strength in holding the frame up, but they soon became exhausted, and the frame gradually pinned Williams to the floor. The men shouted for help. There was no response, as everybody had left the establishment. Williams and the men were worn out by their exertions. Seeing that there was no help for him, Williams called to his companions: "God help me. Let it drop and put me out of my agony." The two men were in a fainting condition from supporting the frame. They withdrew their hands and the mass of iron fell upon Williams, crushing him to death.

Village in Ruins.

ALGIERS, Aug. 29.—A water spout has caused devastation in the Sidi Aich district. An Arab village was totally wrecked. Fourteen of its inhabitants were killed and many were injured. The great volume of water which fell when the spout broke destroyed the railroad for a distance of six kilometres and swept two iron bridges from their foundations, leaving them masses of bent and twisted iron.

The Princess Dead.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Princess Elizabeth of Prussia, wife of Frederick August, hereditary Grand Duke of Oldemberg, died near Fulda today. She was born February 8th, 1857 and was married February 18th, 1878.

He Died This Morning.

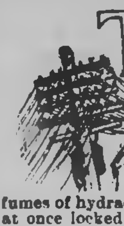
OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—Captain R. W. Shepherd, president of the Ontario and Richelieu Navigation Co., died at Come, P. Q., at 6 o'clock this morning.

SUICIDED WITH POISON.

A MAN KILLS HIMSELF IN A TORONTO HOTEL.

Awful Find of a Bell Boy at the Kensington—Frank Webb Found Dead With a Phial of Hydracyanic Acid Near Him.

Special to the Times.



TORONTO, Aug. 29.—At ten o'clock this morning a Kensington Hotel bell boy took a gentleman upstairs to room No. 19, but when the door was opened both were horrified to find on the bed the dead body of a man, while the room reeked with the fumes of hydracyanic acid. The door was at once locked and not re-opened until Coroner Young had arrived. The dead man had registered on Tuesday night as Frank M. Webb, of Montreal, and had paid in advance as he had no baggage; he said he would probably go away early the next morning.

DEAD AND A POISON BOTTLE NEAR HIM.

At 10 a.m. Wednesday he rang his bell and ordered a drink, which was brought up to him. During the day the chambermaid looked into the room twice. Webb was lying on the bed apparently asleep Clerk Weighart, seeing that the man had paid for one night only, concluded that the room was vacant and thus assigned a guest to the room this morning. The dead man lay with his eyes wide open. A thin stream of blood, caused by the caustic action of acid, had dripped from the mouth and dried upon the chin. One arm was drawn up even with the eyes, while the other lay over his heart. The fingers of both hands were knotted and twisted. It was apparent that the suicide's death struggle had not been an easy one. On the bureau was a large blue phial of hydracyanic acid. It was empty and unlabelled except for the technical formula of that powerful poison. The suicide had removed his coat and shoes and had taken the poison in bed. He had been dead for some hours, rigor mortis having set in.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BODY.

Coroner Young took charge of the dead man's effects. In the pockets were found sixty-five cents in silver, a clay pipe, a half-used plug of smoking tobacco and a business card of Davies & Co., carpenters and builders, 78 Summerhill avenue, Toronto. The body is that of a short man about five feet five; dark, and of a nervobilious type of countenance. He had sparse black hair, slightly bald in front, and was apparently about thirty-five years of age. He wore a small dark moustache well clipped about the ends. He wore a pair of low black shoes, gray cashmere socks, dark blue serge trousers and vest, and a sack coat of black worsted. On the collar of the coat was the label, "McEwen M. Tailor, Bracebridge." A white tie, collar and shirt with a small gray neglige cap completed the costume of the man as first seen by Night Clerk C. R. Palmer.

Although the man registered as coming from Montreal several who saw the body think that is that of a Toronto man whose face they say is familiar.

An inquest will be held at the morgue at three o'clock tomorrow.

TORNADO AND CLOUD BURST.

A Tent Containing 5,000 People Swept Away—Two Girls Drowned.

Special to the Times.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Aug. 29.—A cloudburst accompanied by a tornado swept the vicinity of Bloomington yesterday afternoon raging torrents filling the dry water courses in a few minutes, sweeping away trees and tents at the Wild West Show at the Fair grounds, where 5,000 people were panic-stricken and drenched, but escaped injury and death. Mesdames Riddle and Roberts, of Heyworth, were driving home with their daughters, aged 2 and 7 respectively, when their buggy was swept from a bridge by the flood. The children were drowned.

VALKYRIE'S FEAT.

Gained 2 1-2 Miles on Defender and Vigilant in Half an Hour,

Special to the Times.

HIGHLANDS OF NAVESINK, Aug. 29.—Valkyrie III. surprised the crews of the Defender and Vigilant this morning. The two Yankee boats were sailing the second of the trial races, and the new boat had a slight advantage of the Vigilant in a very light breeze when the big British boat went after the racers. She was three miles astern, but in half an hour she came within half a mile of the others.

After coming within half a mile of the racers Valkyrie jibed around and started back to the lightship.

A sect calling itself "The Peculiar People" is attracting attention in England from the number of deaths among its children, due to its trusting entirely to the Lord and refusing to call in doctors. One mother testified before the coroner's jury that she had allowed five children out of six to die of bronchitis in this way. They call in the doctor when an animal is sick, for the Bible says nothing against that.

If it is unlawful for a band of musicians to play sacred music in the open air on the Lord's day, is it lawful for an organist and singers to perform a "musical service" in church on the day of rest? This question is being asked in Toronto, where the members of a band which gives "sacreo concerts" at the island are being proscuted for violating the Sabbath in so doing. When you come to think of it, there is no material difference between the two cases. If the Sabbath-observance extremists persist in attempts to compel society to be ruled by their opinions and prejudices, they may end in having the musical portion of the services in the churches curtailed by force of law.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

HENRI ROCHEFORT.

A Famous Writer Whose Caustic Pen Got Him Into Trouble.

A cable correspondent estimates that 200,000 people were at the railroad station in Paris the other day to welcome Henri Rochefort on his return to the French capital after years of exile in England. Rochefort has been called the D'Artagnan of French journalism. Daring to the point of rashness when he handled a pen, Rochefort is timid if called to plead his own cause by word of mouth. If he had been in that Paris court a few months ago when the magistrate sentenced him to three months' imprisonment for "insulting the bench" in one of his blazing leaders in the Intransigeant he would probably have made a poor appearance. But when he took up his pen and began to dissect [illegible] the law who had shown his [illegible] by making "complete amnesty [illegible] it for him, the advantage [illegible] his side. With the lightning of [illegible] he so "scarified" that judge that he made him ridiculous, and in France ridicule kills.

The exile which has just come to an end is not the first to which he has been subjected. For his share in the wild doings of the commune he was condemned to death, but the sentence was commuted to transportation to New Caledonia. The story of his escape from that penal settlement and of his passing through the United States is well known. On his return to Europe, as he, of course, would not go to France, he settled down in Switzerland and lost no time in annoying the French government by his political articles and pamphlets. In 1880 an amnesty bill was passed, which restored all those implicated in the commune to France, and Henri Rochefort at once returned to Paris. He started the Intransigeant—the word means one who will never compromise — and the paper rapidly obtained a large circulation. Its attacks on the government and on all public men prominent in its counsels were daily and of the most unrelenting and violent kind These attacks were in the form of a short signed leader printed in large type.

When the Boulangist movement began, Rochefort, although he had not spared General Boulanger when the latter was minister of war, became one of his warmest supporters and made the Intransigeant one of the chief organs of the party. When the government decided to crush the Boulangist, Minister Constans issued an order for the arrest of the general, Count Dillon and Rochefort. All three received timely warning and escaped to Belgium. From Brussels Rochefort continued his attacks, sending his daily article to the Intransigeant, and when the Belgian government, a few weeks later, requested him to leave the country, he went to London. In his absence he was, along with General Boulanger and Count Dillon, tried by the senate, organized as a special tribunal, found guilty of having attempted to overthrow the government, and sentenced to imprisonment. It is from the effects of this sentence that Rochefort is relieved by the amnesty bill passed the other day by the French chamber and senate.

Rochefort has been trying hard to return to France since the advent of Casimir-Perier to power, says the New York Advertiser. But it was latterly intimated to him that the door is not likely to be opened, as he is the guardian of too many dangerous and compromising secrets. It was the anger awakened by this news which prompted the article that caused the government's anger. The government has not forgotten the Boulanger business and the important role which the great journalist played in it. Rochefort may almost be said to have created Boulanger. He acted as keeper to the elephant during the early months of the campaign. But he is too adroit to be left with an elephant on his hands, and he was getting well out of the affair when the crash came. It was not exactly the thing to desert the poor, misguided general when the cardhouse was falling about his ears. But Rochefort claims that he could not do otherwise. He had counted on seeing the general triumphantly parading through Europe on his famous black charger, and it made him furious to find his scheme a failure and to have that failure complicated with enforced absence from Paris.

[illegible] General Boulanger altogether too feeble in presence of adversity. To a man with the iron nerves of Rochefort, who had looked down the muzzle of the pistol of General de Galliffet's aid-de-camp when he was arrested without flinching; who had not murmured during the months in prison; who had refused chances to escape before the trial came on, and who had been able to build up a great newspaper enterprise after touching bottom, socially and financially—the plastic, yielding nature of Boulanger was incomprehensible.

In his quality of gentleman allied to the cause of the people he pleased the masses better than if he had sprung directly from their ranks.

He was poor as poverty, and when he began to write his caustic political chroniques in the Figaro he had not a hundred francs to his name. In eighteen months he had risen to the command of a salary of $400 monthly for contributing three columns per week, and he got a bonus when he had his contract. From that time forward Rochefort has made journalism pay in the sense that painters and actors who are successful make their professions pay.

Rochefort's [illegible] the empire to its [illegible] the bold writer's [illegible] in the [illegible] have been [illegible] was [illegible] republic [illegible] his appearance in the corps legislatif should have given him prominence. People expected too much of him and they were disappointed. His true role was then, as it is now, in aggressive journalism; in the article which draws blood every time.

For years Rochefort has been rich. When he started the Intransigeant, a journal devoted to the proletariat, he was living in a sumptuously furnished [illegible] mansion, and spent more on his breakfast than a workman's whole expense for a week. Luck comes to him when it is needed. It was luck which prompted the [illegible] Adam, to send the 25,000 francs which opened the way to Rochefort's escape from the penal colony of Noumea. It was luck which prevented his recapture and ignominious return to Australia. And now luck has brought him amnesty [illegible] often that he begins to look upon the operation as a periodical necessity. Yet this time he feels the triumph keenly. And he feels that there is still room for him in the militant politics of the third republic.

SUSPICIONS OF CRIME.

DETECTIVE MURRAY INVESTIGATING A CASE AT CHATHAM.

A Quantity of Bones and Other Remains Found in a Bush Near Berlin in a Heap of Ashes—An Inquest Revealed Nothing.

Special to the Times.

CHATHAM, Aug. 28.—Provincial Detective Murray, of Toronto, is here at the instance of the Attorney General's Department investigating a mystery in the country district of Merlin and Port Alma. On July 9 Chas. Howard found portions of a human body lying in a heap of ashes in his bush, about four miles from town. Dr. Oliver, the resident physician of the village, [illegible] the ghastly find was reported, advised Coroner Bray of this city, of the matter, and an inquest was held. A number of witnesses were examined, but nothing definite was ascertained. Still the impression was strengthened that a foul crime had been committed, and that the perpetrator had taken this way to obliterate the evidence of his deed.

Detective John Murray arrived in the city and had an audience with Crown Attorney Douglas and Coroner Bray. He drove this afternoon to Merlin, a village sixteen miles southwest of Chatham, and proceeded to make a diligent enquiry into the curious case. Dr. Oliver was seen. He brought out a box full of clothes and remnants of clothing. There was a complete skull, to which particles of brain matter still adhered. It was that of a man about 50. A large piece of thigh bone, small pieces of other bones scraps of hair, fragments of clothing, a short clay pipe and some buttons were embraced in the collection.

The disappearance of a laborer named Joe Walker last spring and of John Rollet an aged and well known resident, were canvassed. It was found, however, that the pipe found near the remains did not belong to either of these men, and that the clothes, though much worn, were of fine fabric, and too much expensive for a farm laborer.

There is no clue to the dead men's identity. After visiting Windsor, regarding the mysterious death of Fred Walker, the bookmaker, Detective Murray will return to Chatham and try to unravel this mystery.

The best is what you want when you are in need of a medicine. That is why you should insist upon Hood's Sarsaparilla.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.
Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

HOWARD PIETZEL'S BONES

THE UNFORTUNATE LAD'S REMAINS TRACED TO INDIANAPOLIS.

Detective Geyer's Success—Evidence that the Body was Cremated—A Registrar's Crookedness.

Special to the Times.

INDIANAPOLIS Aug 28.—In the chimney of a little frame cottage standing at a distance from the other residences of Irvington, a small suburb of this city, detectives this morning found the charred bones of little Howard Pietzel, one of Holmes' victims. The find was the reward of a long and persistent search by Detective Geyer, of Philadelphia, who came here six weeks ago and has been working ever since on the theory that young Pietzel had been killed here. Today he and Inspector Carey found the empty cottage at Irvington, which had been occupied by a man answering Holmes' discription and a little boy early last October. They began a search and soon found a large stove and the black trunk in which it had been supposed that the body had been shipped. Further search was rewarded by the finding of a number of charred bones in the chimney, together with the buttons from the boy's overcoat. Evidently the child had been murdered in the house and his body cremated there. The supposed murderer and his victim came to the house together and were seen about the place for a week, when both disappeared and nothing had since been heard of them.

FERRETTING.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—Detectives Geyer and Carey, who are working on the Holmes case, have found evidence of Holmes' presence and crimes in this city. This morning they discovered a cottage in Irvington, a suburb, which Holmes rented for three months one day last fall. In the porch of the cottage the detectives found the remains of a big black trunk belonging to the Pietzel children, which they have long sought. In the barn was also found a big stove which belonged to Holmes. The detectives have a theory that Howard Pietzel was killed in this city and his body taken to Irvington and burned.

A REGISTRAR'S CROOKEDNESS.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 28.—J. C. Prevost. Registrar of the Supreme Court, has disappeared. His books are being audited, and his arrest and detention has been ordered. He is an official administrator, and it is not known how his affairs stand.

ATTACKS ON MISSIONARIES.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Chronicle will print tomorrow a Shanghai despatch to a news agency saying that the attacks on missionaries in China continue, notwithstanding the Imperial decrees for their suppression. A member of the Alliance Mission today sends a despatch saying that they were beaten and that several native evangelists were flogged nearly to death at the Yamen of a magistrate at Tsaich Sien, near Wu Hu, in the Province of Nagan Hoan.

BURNED IN A BARN.

Fatal Explosion of a Lantern Near Huntsville—A Boy's Death.

Special to the Times.

HUNTSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 28.—On Monday night the barn of George Hutchins, near this village, took fire from the bursting of a coal oil lantern. Mr. Hutchins' son and two other boys went to the barn to sleep, and when blowing out the lantern it burst. One of the boys named Algin Joyce, about 14 years old, perished in the flames, and Mr. Hutchins' son is so bably burned that he cannot recover.

SEIZED AT THE FALLS.

"Hon." John Trowbridge Gets in His Fine Work—Smuggled Goods.

Special to The Times.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 28.—Special Officer Trowbridge, of Toronto, and Collector Bartley, of this place, made an important seizure yesterday. Suspicion had been entertained for some time that George Hawley, who keeps a general store here, was guilty of smuggling goods from New York, Buffalo and other points in the United States. The officers placed the store under seizure, and captured about $200 worth of jewelry, together with invoices showing that about $1,200 worth of goods additional had been brought into the country without passing through the customs.

Death on the Railway.

LEADVILLE, Col., Aug. 28.—As the California express was coming west on the Colorado Midland Railway, near Granite, last night, a huge rock rolled down the mountain, completely telescoping the baggage car and one end of the smoker. F. J. O'Connor, supposed to be a banker, of New York, has died of his injuries. and two persons whose names were not learned, were dangerously, if not fatally, injured.

STRAWBERRIES ON THE TABLE.

Attractive Ways of Serving This Delicious Fruit.

The strawberry season is hailed with delight by every good housewife—not so much, perhaps, because of the edible properties of the luscious berries themselves as for the artistic results that may be produced in beautifying a table with them, and thus gratifying the sense of sight as well as of appetite.

A cluster of ripe, red strawberries and their leaves, tied together with a tiny bow of green or scarlet ribbon, is an offering that will appeal to the esthetic sense. When served in this way they should be presented to each person on a glass plate or wooden tray, accompanied by a tiny bowl of pulverized sugar.

Another attractive way of serving them is in small bowls of cracked ice, from which they may be taken by the stems and eaten with powdered sugar.

Equally pleasing are they when strung upon straws—the old-time method of offering them for sale, and from which have originated their name, "strawberries."

When served with cream they should be capped and picked over very carefully, then set on ice for at least an hour before serving. Do not sweeten them until after they are sent to the table, as the sugar "cooks" the berries, besides impairing their flavor if allowed to stand on the fruit for any length of time. To be particularly delicious the cream should be thoroughly chilled and whipped until light and frothy.

Red strawberries heaped upon grape leaves laid on white china plates make a very effective color harmony, as do also raspberries when served in the same manner.

A pretty dish of cracked ice filled with luscious crimson strawberries makes a lovely ornament for the table, and also renders the berries deliciously cold and refreshing.

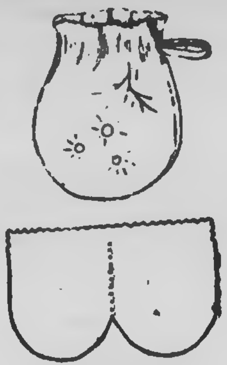
If especially large and fine, the strawberries are often left uncapped and served simply in small glass dishes, one for each guest. Each dish is placed on a table together with two tiny bowls containing sugar and cream and then into the sugar before being eaten.

A low white basket filled with a tempting display of leaves and clusters of ripe red strawberries makes a charming ornament for the centre of a table—one, too, that can be very quickly arranged.

A more elaborate centrepiece for a dinner or luncheon may be made by bordering a table mirror with a conventional band of berries and leaves; the leaves and fruit dooping gracefully over the edges and being reflected in the mirror's surface.

Watch Protector.

Here we have a skecth of a chamois watch protector with a diagram of the pattern by which it is shaped. It is used to protect a patch from scratches and dust when it is not worn, but, if for a woman, it might be utilized as a pocket inside the dress waist, the loop—slipped over a button—holding it in place. It should be just large enough to fit the watch and be gathered up at the top like a bag.



WATCH PROTECTOR.

The chamois is folded at the dotted line, and the curved edges are overhanded together with silk; then the bag is turned. A little loop of silk ribbon elastic is sewed over the edge of the seam, close to the notched opening; it is designed to slip over the gathered up mouth of the bag when the watch is in the pocket.

The decorative design, just a few lines suggestive of daisies with long stems, is in liquid gold applied with a fine-pointed brush, but it might be sketched with pen and ink or with water colors, or the word "Watch" or a name or initials, might be marked upon it.

Thought for the Little Ones.

Tiny toddling children, who need continual care, should have chairs and hassocks provided for them low enough for their feet to rest on the ground while sitting. It is injurious to their health, and very uncomfortable, for children to sit with dangling feet on high school benches. There should also be a low table provided for the little ones on which they can rest their playthings and picture books when they are old enough to take an interest in such matters. Neither a high table or floor is a suitable place for such things. A table, the legs of which may be folded up when not in use, may be purchased as low as $1. In case it should be too high for small children any carpenter of ordinary skill can shorten the legs to the proper height.

Tomato Fritters.

The ripe tomatoes are too expensive for most housekeepers in June, but the canned tomatoes will answer as well for these fritters, which are delicious. Cook together half a can of tomatoes, half a teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of pepper and half a teaspoonful of sugar. After cooking ten minutes, stir into it a tablespoonful of flour and one of butter that have been previously blended. Cook three minutes longer and rub through a strainer. Spread on a platter four slices of stale bread, and pour the strained tomato over them. Let this stand for half an hour, then turn the slices. Beat one egg, and dip the toast first in the egg then in bread crumbs. After that put them into the frying-basket and cook in boiling fat two minutes. Drain well and serve hot.

Corn Remedies.

Most soft corns have in the middle a core which resembles a stiff, coarse hair. Soak the foot half an hour in water as hot as you can bear it, adding hot water from time to time as it cools. Then with a penknife having a long slim point, but not too sharp, work around that centre, hair-like core, loosening it down as deep as you can, after which, with a pair of fine tweezers, pull the hair out. Do not cut the corn off, but apply some soft ointment or salve, such as simple cerate, vaseline or mutton tallow, renewing the same every day for four or five days, being careful to relieve all pressure from the corn.

Wear a piece of cotton batting between the toes and wear the boots a half size larger.

Bird Foods
Explained . . .

Much of the seed sold and fed to birds is positively injurious to health and song. Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of Bird Seed in the market and the best for Birds? Because just as a good physician knows what is best for his patients, we having made Birds and Bird Foods a study for many years, know just what is necessary to keep Birds in health, song and brilliant plumage. Each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected Seed, with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods. Price 25c. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage, feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

THE TRUTH.

Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst, D. D., the great reformer, writes October 24, 1894: "Mrs. Parkhurst and myself have used Pond's Extract so long and so constantly that we can speak appreciatively of it and in terms of warm commendation."

Rev. Chas. S. Robinson, D. D., editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prize it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfills every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, writes November 13, 1894: "I have been using a great deal of Pond's Extract for the past year in gargling, as I find it affords great relief in colds."

During the past month the Pond's Extract Company have received over 2,000 orders from physicians. We have on our books testimonials and orders from most of the Governors and many of the Senators of the United States; from the royalty of Europe, such as Her Majesty the Queen of Roumania, the Duchess of Cumberland, Princess of Wied, and others too numerous to mention.

When the clergy, the medical profession, statesmen and royalty all unite in praise of an article it seems unnecessary to say anything additional, but we do find it necessary to warn the public against imitations. These words of praise are all in favor of Pond's Extract—the genuine and only.

It is because of its intrinsic merit and high reputation that Pond's Extract has been imitated. If it were not of such great value and so world renowned there would be no imitations.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such an enormously increased sale of the medicine.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Half Holiday Excursion.

The City of Peterborough will run an excursion to the New Bridge on Friday afternoon, Aug. 30, leaving the wharf at 2 p.m. Return tickets 25 cents.

Rugby Football.

A meeting of those interested in football will be held in the parlors over the palace restaurant on Saturday night, for the purpose of organizing for the season. All interested are urged to be present.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 651 Stewart street.

Who Is Cabbage Mike?

There will be an ice cream social in the barracks on Saturday evening, says the Campbellford Herald, in connection with the Salvation Army harvest festival. Cabbage Mike, from Peterborough, is expected to be present. The sale of the gifts of friends to the harvest festival will take place on Monday evening in the barracks.

The Councillors' Outing.

At the invitation of the Peterborough Navigation Company, the members of the town council had an outing down the river yesterday afternoon on the City of Peterborough, accompanied by numerous citizens and business men. The trip was very much enjoyed, and the entertainment provided very much appreciated. A most delightful afternoon was spent.

An Enormous Catch of Frogs.

Two frog catchers who are experts at the business, made a good record on the night of the 14th inst. Mr. Wm. Forrest, who resides on the Eighth Line, Seymour, and Mr. J. W. Potts, whose residence is at Percy Boom, caught 2,876 frogs in six hours on the Jordan creek in North Hastings. They skinned the lot and shipped them at Bannockburn to dealers in Buffalo, N. Y. The whole number after being skinned weighed 351 pounds, for which the catchers expect to receive 20 cents per pound.

Too Many Already.

A man named McCarger, of Peterboro, last week applied for the store on Front street which Mr. J. T. Benor vacated last spring. He wrote to the agent of the property in Campbellford, asking for the removal of the counter and shelves on one side, but the owner would not comply. The new applicant wanted the premises for a bakery and restaurant. We would not like to speak in the highest terms of the business judgement of any man who would undertake another bakery or restaurant in Campbellford. We are all ready pretty well supplied in this line.—Campbellford Herald.

Fainted in Court.

In its report of the Lindsay Police Court, the evening Post has the following:—After the last case had been disposed of County Magistrate Deacon held court, and the first case was that against O. L. Patrick, a canvasser of Peterborough, charged with having taken a coat from Mrs. Austin of Fenelon Falls, under false pretences. The man was arrested in Peterborough and brought to town this morning by Chief Bell. He is a very delicate man and fainted in court, and it took some time to bring him around again. The case was adjourned until Tuesday next at Fenelon Falls, and the accused took the 11.20 train for Peterborough, being conveyed to the station in a hack. Reeve Dickson, of Fenelon Falls, also sat on the bench during this case.

Everywhere We Go.
We find some one who has been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and people on all hands are praising this great medicine for what it has done for them and their friends. Taken in time Hood's Sarsaparilla prevents serious illness by keeping the blood pure and all the organs in a healthy condition. It is the great blood purifier.
HOOD'S PILLS become the favorite cathartic with everyone who tries them. 25c. per box.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Sir Charles Rivers Wilson and Party Coming to Peterborough Today.

FREIGHTED with distinguished personages will be the private Pullman car that will arrive in Peterborough this morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. It will contain the new president of the Grand Trunk Railway, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, and the general management of this railway.

The new president of the G.T.R. is on his tour of inspection of the line, and the Midland branch of the great trunk line will be inspected by him today. Peterborough will be the only stopping place between Belleville and Toronto, where they will be banqueted and feted by the Toronto Board of Trade.

In honor of the visit of the new president of the G.T.R., and the other gentlemen connected with the management, the town council will probably tender them an informal reception upon their arrival. Mayor Kendry will call the members of the council together at nine o'clock this morning, when it will be decided what form this reception will take. Probably the party will be driven around the town in carriages, and dined at one of the hotels.

The party consists of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, president, and Messrs. Joseph Price, vice-president; G. Allen, A. W. Smithers, and H. Oppenheim, directors; L. J. Seargeant, general manager; James Stephenson, superintendent; E. P. Hannaford, chief engineer; H. Wallis, mechanical superintendent, Messrs. E. Wragge, local manager, and Arthur White, central district freight agent.

NEARLY A DROWNING.

Crew of the North Star Rescue Two Young Men From Death.

On Wednesday the North Star was steaming up the river from Jubilee Point with a scow in tow. A couple of Peterborough young men, who had been out camping were returning home in a canoe, and hooked on to the scow for a tow up the river.

In making a turn in the river, the canoe was in some way capsized, and the occupants were thrown into the water. As soon as the accident was noticed the North Star put out a boat manned by Captain Calcutt and John Arnott, one of the crew, and they went to the aid of the young men, who were struggling in the water and on the verge of exhaustion.

Just in the nick of time were they rescued and taken on board the North Star, which brought them to town. They lost their guns, which sank when the canoe upset.

Captain Calcutt didn't think to ask the young men their names, but he knows them as Peterborough boys.

THE GAME LAWS.

Chief Points in the Regulations for the Preservation of Game.

VERY many unsophisticated people who think that shooting in Canada is shooting made easy are barking up the wrong tree. There are individuals who imagine that all they have to do is to get up a party with the usual necessaries of guns, canoes, blankets, tents, dogs, guides and hie them off to the wild, weird, woody wilderness and there press the trigger. The gun does the rest.

For the benefit of such people the Provincial Secretary has written a book entitled "Ontario Game Laws" or "How to Shoot Straight," by "One who Knows." This volume says first of all that deer can only be hunted from November 1 to November 15. Elk, moose, reindeer, and cariboo are not to be hunted before October 25, 1900.

Any dog found running deer during the close season may be killed on sight.

Two deer only may be killed by one person during the hunting season, and nobody may be found with deer meat or skin in his possession during the close season, unless he has an affidavit that the game was taken during the open season.

As for the birds, grouse, pheasant, partridge, woodcock, snipe, plover, or any other water foul or game, these are not to be shot at except from September 15 until December 15. The season for quail or wild turkey is from October 15 till December 15; for swans and geese, all the year except from May 1 to September 15; ducks from September to December 15. The possession of guns, decoys or other implements of hunting at a time and in place where game exists is prima facia evidence of hunting.

Nobody may have game in his possession during the close season or more than five days after the season has closed.

Until September, 1897, nobody may sell or barter snipe, woodcock or partridge before September 15, 1897, or quail or wild turkey before October 15, 1897.

No person may at any time export any kind of game out of Ontario, but a hunter may take out the two deer allowed him by the Act provided he is not a resident and has a license.

Unless a person lives in Ontario or Quebec he may not don buckskin and hunt unless he pay a license fee of $25.

In such a case he may take fifty ducks home if a game warden give him leave.

The fine for violation of the Act ranges from $5 to $50, and half the money goes to the informer.

Rondeau Park is a preserve, and no one may at any time shoot, kill or take partridge, prairie fowl, quail, woodcock, snipe or wild turkey in its limits. Also a person may not touch foxes, skunks, weasels, owls, and so forth without the leave of the ranger.

As to the A.O.U.W.

Mr. F. G. Inwood, immediate Past Grand Master of the A.O.U.W. for Ontario and senior representative for Ontario in the Supreme Lodge, says with reference to the Associated Press despatch from Buffalo stating that the order is in danger because of the squandering of funds, that at the recent meeting of the Supreme Lodge in Chicago the financial statements were entirely satisfactory and that reports since then show that the same state of affairs is maintained. As to the members leaving the order, he says, the report is entirely without foundation, the monthly reports to the supreme recorder showing no material change as to lapses.

Twenty Thousand Roses.
There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking of his beauties. He ships them by sea and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 45 King street west.

THE BIG MEET.

Hundreds of Cyclists will Arrive this Morning—Many Entries.

WHEELMEN from different parts of Canada and the United States will compete in the events in the driving park this afternoon at the big meet of the American circuit. The riders in the American circuit will arrive at noon today on a special train. Some of the Canadian riders arrived last night.

Today will mark an epoch in the cleycling circles in Peterborough. Some of the swiftest flyers of the States will be here, and those who attend the driving park this afternoon will witness the best racing ever done in this town. Loughead and McLeod, the champions are entered in several events.

It is expected that the races today will bring 2,000 strangers to town. This afternoon being a half-holiday, there should be a big crowd at the driving park. The list of events, entries and order of heats are given below:

INS AND OUTS.

The phrenologist at Chemong Park has located an unknown bump of imagination on the cranium of Col. Ben Ostrom, which probably accounts for the fish stories that have floated up from that resort from time to time.

⁂

In answer to "Miss Pradish," who writes and asks if it is modest for a young woman to attend races where young men show their calfs, we will reply that at the races this afternoon the riders will probably go so fast that no one will know whether their legs are bare or encased in hose. We hope this won't keep "Miss Pradish" away.

A THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

A Runaway Team Dashes Into a Carriage and its Occupants.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bailey, Miss Harris and Mr. P. H. Harris, of Colborne, drove from that village to Peterborough yesterday, and put up at the Snowden House last night.

They had a thrilling experience on the way, which, happily did not result seriously, but nevertheless, one that they will not soon forget.

When coming along the Keene road, a few miles from town, they were alarmed to see a runaway team bearing down upon them at terrific speed. The driver tried to avoid the approaching horses, and although their rig was turned on to the side of the road as far as possible, the runaway team dashed into them and horses and vehicles, together with the occupants became a general mix-up.

It was a miraculous escape for them, for beyond a few scratches they were not hurt, but their rig fared worse, as parts of it were badly broken and twisted. Assistance was near at hand, and repairs were made to enable them to reach town.

The runaway team belonged to Mr. Joseph Redmond, who lives on the Keene road. It is said that the animals did themselves considerable injury besides breaking harness and rig.

BROKEN FAMILY TIES.

The Tighes in Police Court—The "General" Fined—Other Cases.

AT the police court yesterday morning there were a number of cases on the docket for hearing, and the court session was of an unusual length.

The three lads Bert Hill, Harry King and James Long, charged with stealing whips from vehicles standing in church sheds while the owners were at service, were all found guilty. Hill has a bad reputation, being an incorrigible youth, and his parents found it impossible to do anything with him, so the magistrate sent him to the penitentiary for a period not exceeding five years.

Wm. Curry, who was remanded on Monday until yesterday on the charge of stealing a hat from Fairweather & Co., faced the Police Magistrate again on the charge and was proven guilty of theft and sentenced to one month in gaol at hard labor. A witness swore he saw Curry take a straw hat from Fairweather's door on Saturday and carry it off. Three clerks in the store testified they had not sold the man a hat, and this was sufficient evidence for the Magistrate to find the man guilty.

The man Williams, arrested on the charge of vagrancy was also on hand. He is a pedler, selling soap, hair oil, bunion salve and fountain pens. He denied having insulted Mrs. T. Guerin, and shed tears when he referred to the widowed mother who depended solely upon him for support. But this didn't go with the magistrate and Williams dried his eyes and saved his tears for dry weather. As the prisoner had money in his possession, and was clearly trying to make a living peddling, the magistrate could do nothing but discharge him.

THE "GENERAL" ON DECK.

"General" Tighe, the great slugger of the Peterborough baseball club, was in court yesterday morning. On Wednesday morning the General was summoned to appear on the charge of assaulting his uncle, and when the case was called the "General" stated that his uncle had made peace with him, and wanted the case withdrawn and he would pay the costs. This was done, but yesterday morning the uncle denied that the white winged dove of peace had alighted on their home, and restored the full strength of peace and harmony of their family "ties," and he wanted the case proceeded with. Mrs. Tighe was also in court and mother, son and uncle engaged in a war of words that created much amusement for the chair warmers. The General came out at the little end of the bat. He was fined $2 and costs for assault, and the same sum for using abusive language.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

Half-holiday this afternoon.

Several committees of the Council will meet tonight.

Rev. A. DeBaritt lectured in Bethany Tabernacle last night.

A special meeting of the Council is called for 9 o'clock this morning.

A large audience listened to a splendid lecture in St. Luke's church last night, by Rev. J. Chappell.

Tonight a promenade concert will be held at the rink in connection with the presentation of prizes to the successful winners at the bicycle races.

A camping party consisting of Mr. Fred W. Wood and his wife, his brother, Mr. Archie Wood, of Peterborough, Rev. R. B. Denike and wife and daughter, and Mr. Howard Denike and wife, have gone to McCulloch's Landing on the Trent river, and will remain for two weeks.—Campbellford Herald.

On Saturday evening the body of Mrs. Ragan arrived in Campbellford by the train from Peterborough, and was placed in a hearse owned by Messrs. Morrison & Kenney, undertakers of Trenton, and conveyed to Murray township for interment. The deceased was stricken with scarlet fever about three weeks ago, and was sent to the hospital in Peterborough, where she died. Her relatives reside in Murray. Mr. Kenney took charge of the casket containing the body at the station here.—Campbellford Herald.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

It was a Huge Success—List of Prize Winners.

AT the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural show yesterday, the finest display of flowers, plants and art work, that has ever been made by this society, was shown. The market building was converted into a veritable bower of flowers, and a very pretty sight it was indeed. The entries this year exceeded those of previous years, and the attendance of citizens was good, especially last evening when crowds visited the market building and inspected the beautiful exhibits. The Fire Brigade Band was in attendance and furnished delightful music. That this year's exhibit of the Horticultural Society was a success, was apparent to all who attended yesterday. Below is a complete list of the prize winners, the first name taking first prize and the second name second prize:

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly clense them, and they may easily become dangerous coveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

TORONTO ARSON CASE.

ROSENTHAL SAYS McMILLAN STARTED THE FIRE.

His Evidence is to the Effect that McMillan Set the Osgoodby Building on Fire—A Private Conversation Repeated.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, August 30.—The preliminary investigation of the charge against William McMillan and Adolphe Rosenthal, that they set fire to the Osgoodby building on January 10 last, was resumed before Police Magistrate Denison in the Police Court this morning, and the case bristled with startling evidence against McMillan.

J. T. McClung was the first witness. He deposed that on the night of the fire he was in the Headquarters saloon on King street just before the alarm sounded, when McMillan and Rosenthal entered and a brief conversation ensued. Soon after the bells sounded.

Robert Whitcombe, who was in the Osgoodby building when the fire was first noticed, swore that he gazed up the central space in the building and noticed that the fire was in the third story.

STARTLING EVIDENCE.

THE CONVERSATION BETWEEN M'MILLAN AND ROSENTHAL IN THE CELLS.

Joseph McCarthy, private secretary to Chief of Police Grasett, deposed that he occupied a cell at No. 7 Police station between two others, in which Rosenthal and McMillan were imprisoned after their arrest. He took down in shorthand a report of what passed between them, and this was filed as an exhibit. McMillan was the first to speak. 'They got you," said he.

Rosenthal—"That's all right."

M.—"I made the whole statement."

R.—That won't do any harm to me."

M.—"I told them the whole thing."

R.—"I told them you lit the cardboard in the shop."

M.—"Time enough to talk about that when we have got to."

R.—"I suppose you will try and push me into it."

TOLD THEM THE WHOLE STORY.

M.—"No. I made a statement. I told them the whole thing."

R.—Your mother came to me and said I was blackmailing you. Your people tried to drag me in as far as they possibly could."

R.—"Did you come in on the train?"

M.—"Yes."

R.—"From Detroit?"

M.—"Yes."

R.—"When did you go away?"

M.—"About a month ago."

R.—"After I seen you that night?"

M.—"Yes!"

R.—"How long after?"

M.—"That night."

R.—"That same night you went away? Did you strike a job there?"

M.—"Yes, I got one on the first day I was there."

R.—"Stationary business?"

M.—"Yes."

R.—"At the same business you were in here?"

M.—"Yes." (A pause.)

R.—"Well, if my statement is worth a cent they have it."

M.—"I don't care about the results. I am tired tonight. I want to go to sleep."

TOGETHER IN THE SCRAPE.

Later on the conversation proceeded:

M.—"We are together in this scrape."

R.—Not much together in the scrape."

M.—"We are together here tonight."

R.—"What do you say, Mac?"

M.—"We are together her tonight. We had better make the best of it."

R.—"I suppose you are trying to push me into it?"

M.—"No. Nothing of the kind."

R.—"Your people said so."

M.—"I don't know what they said. I don't know anything about it."

R.—"Did you make a statement in Detroit that I was blackmailing you?"

M.—"No."

R.—"The papers have. You know d—m well that I never blackmailed you for a cent."

M.—"No."

R.—"I never asked you for any at all."

M.—"The papers have always something to say in a case like this."

NOT A BLACKMAILER.

R.—"Well, by God, it struck me down to hear anything like that. Blackmailing was the last thing in the world that ever struck me. If I ever knew anything of the kind I would not blackmail you. I never said anything about you."

M.—"Did you see in the paper about that fellow who killed himself?"

R.—"Yes,"

M.—"I guess a good many thought it was me."

R.—"You are not brave enough to kill yourself."

M.—"I don't know. I am pretty brave."

M.—"I suppose I am charged with the same charge as you are."

R.—"Yes."

M.—"Arson?"

R.—"Arson."

M.—"I guess we are in a bad box. I hope to be able to shake hands outside with you."

R.—"I tell you it is a heavy penalty for arson."

M.—"You are liable to get life for it. It is time enough to talk about that when the verdict comes in."

ROSENTHAL SAYS

THAT MCMILLAN SET FIRE TO SOME CARDBOARD ON THE WALL.

Rosenthal who was discharged on the suggestion of Crown Attorney Curry, was called as a Crown witness.

"I remember," said he, on being sworn, "the night of the Osgoodby fire and was in Toronto then. In the morning I had telephoned to McMillan about some cardboard, and he told me that he would be out during the day until 5 p.m. I went down about 5.30 and entered the building. I asked the elevator boy if McMillan was in. He said he did not know, so I went up and tried the door and found it locked. I went down and out, and near the corner of Bay and Melinda streets I met McMillan. He asked me to come into Charlie Walker's and have a drink. I agreed, and we went into a room where some men were playing checkers. I asked him if he could get the cardboard that night, but he asked me to wait till the morning. I agreed. He asked me to wait in Walker's till he would go to his office. He left and remained until the checker game was finished, and I followed him. I found him in his office. He lit a cigar, and, reaching to some cardboard which hung on the wall, he applied a match and started a fire. We walked out, he closed the door and we came down stairs, the elevator having shut down for the night. We left the building and went by Melinda, Jordan and King streets to Headquarters saloon where we met McClung. We went on by Toronto and Adelaide to Church street where we met the reels.

"Where's the fire?" said I.

"It's the Globe building," said someone.

"No!" said McMillan, "it's the Osgoodby building this time."

"Three or four days after the fire I met McMillan.

"'That was a quick job, wasn't it?' said he. 'I have the honor of starting the biggest fire Toronto ever had.'"

Rosenthal was cross-examined at length by Mr. St. John.

The Magistrate committed McMillan for trial and bail was refused.

"PRAY FOR ME."

A Preacher Ridiculed the Church, His Tongue Paralyzed.

Special to the Times.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 30.—William Hague Wood, once a noted Methodist lay preacher, turned infidel. He attended a revival meeting several nights last week at High Shoals, and ran an opposition meeting outside the church. He made nightly addresses declaring that the preachers were talking nonsense and were trying to fool the people. Suddenly his tongue was paralyzed while he was making a speech, ridiculing the Church. This frightened his hearers.

To-night Wood attended the meeting and handed up the following note to the preacher in charge: "I now believe there is a hell and that I am doomed for it. Pray for me." The sensation in the church was such that in less than five minutes the altar would not accommodate half the mourners. The meeting will probably last all night.

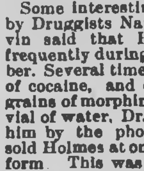
HOWARD WAS POISONED.

THIS IS THE VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.

Holmes Bought the Drugs at a Chemists and Young Pietzel went With Him—Latest Developements in the Holmes Horror.

Special to the Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug, 30.



THE coroner's jury has brought in a verdict that the remnants of the body found in the chimney hole of the house at Irvington are the remains of young Howard Pietzel, and that he came to his death through the instrumentality of cyanide of potassium administered by H. H. Holmes.

Some interesting testimony was given by Druggists Navin and Perry. John Navin said that Holmes visited his store frequently during the first week in October. Several times he purchased a solution of cocaine, and one time called for four grains of morphine, dissolved a two drachm vial of water. Dr. Navin readily recognized him by the photograph, Druggist Perry sold Holmes at one time a pound of chloroform. This was on the 2nd of October. Holmes several times lounged about his drug store, accompanied by a little boy, whom he said was his son, and for whom he bought candies. As recognized by the photograph, the boy was little Howard. Dentists and doctors also contributed to the evidence that the remains were those of young Pietzel.

THE BONES AND THE TEETH.

Drs. Thompson and Barnhill cleaned up some of the bones found. The lower part of the intestines and stomach, with parts of the liver and spleen, were found, also the first vertebrae at the base of the skull, the Adam's apple and the cheek bones. The physicians say there is no doubt that these are the remains of a boy the age of Howard Pietzel. In the charred mass that was pulled out of the chimney hole 15 teeth were found. Dr. J. Q. Byram, a dentist, sorted the teeth and found seven upper and eight lower teeth. He set these in imitation jaws of plaster paris, and they were put away in the box that went to the corner, where was also found a piece of the lower left jawbone containing the sockets of a six-year-old molar.

HOW IT IS SUPPOSED HE DID IT.

The physicians are of the opinion that Holmes gave the boy cyandine of potassium, and while he was under the influence doubled the body up and put it into the stove, after which he covered it with cobs, pieces of the trunk and chunks of wood. Then he saturated the pile with coal oil and reduced everything, as he supposed, to ashes. After the body was destroyed and the stove cooled down he shovelled the ashes into the stove hole. The stove was in the kitchen, and Holmes was not aware that there was an opening in the flue in the cellar beneath where the stove stood. It was the failure to find this opening that brought about the discovery of the charred remains.

NORTH-WEST TERRITORIES.

Their Prosperous Condition and Bright Prospects—School Debts Only.

Special to the Times.

REGINA, N.W.T., Aug. 30.—The first session of the third Legislature of the Northwest territories opened here yesterday. Mr. J. F. Betts was elected Speaker of the new House, and Premier Haultain announced the appointment of Mr. James Ross to succeed Mr. Tweed on the Executive Committee.

Lieut.-Gov. Chas. H. Mackintosh's address prophesies great improvement in values, and recommends national flags for the school houses. The number of schools which may be considered a fair index to the country's welfare, has noticably increased. On the 2nd of August, 1894, there were 330 Public schools, two Protestant Separate schools and 36 Roman Catholic Separate schools. At the present time there were 364 Public schools, two Protestant Separate schools, and 44 Roman Catholic Separate schools. The number of pupils in August, 1894, was 8,926, and in August, 1895, it is estimated at 9,750. Since August, 1894, further school debentures have been issued and registered to the amount of $34,000. In addition to this, permission has been granted to several districts to issue debentures to the amount of $21,000. The total school debenture responsibility at the present time does not exceed $170,000, representing virtually the debt of the territories.

THE SERPENT A FAKE.

MONTREALERS FOOLED BY A PLASTER PARIS SNAKE.

The Chief of Police Exposes the Fraud and With a Screwdriver Opens the Sawdust Stuffed Reptile.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.

AT the Palace Theater on St. Lawrence street there lies in a 2x12 foot pine box, partially covered with water, a strange looking and mutilated form of black wax, leather, rubber, plaster of Paris, etc. It is the mortal remains of the back river sea serpent which Montreal has talked of for the past three days. The fake was exploded by High Constable Bissonnette on the order of His Honor Judge Desnoyers, who instructed him to investigate the sea serpent sensation and report whether it was a genuine reptile that was said to have been killed and was being exhibited at the low price of ten cents admission.

FOUND SUBMERGED IN WATER.

On arrival at the show place the High Constable and those with him were surprised to find the door locked and the gaily tattoed man, who so glibly describes the remarkable qualities of the great reptile, absent from his customary place at the door. The gorgeous signs and paintings of the wonder had all been pulled in, and the place was apparently deserted. The High Constable entered the side hall of the theater, and rapped loudly on a glass door, which, after a space of about two minutes, was opened by three gentlemen who seemed somewhat concerned at the unexpected visit of the officers. Slowly the party entered the darkened chamber in which the Back River saurin has been seen by hundreds during the past few days. The High Constable made straight for the sea serpent box in the middle of the room. The cover was padlocked down, but a screw driver was found near and Mr. Bissonnette proceeded with his own hands to open the box.

SAWDUST, WAX AND LEATHER.

After the removal of the top cover, the glass was unscrewed, and there lay the coiled serpent in plain sight, partly submerged in water. Bissonnette chuckled gleefully as he gazed for a moment at it, and then Assistant Lambert stretched down one hand and tapped the reptile sharply on its bullet shaped head. A roar of laughter went up as a large crack appeared over the exhibit's left eye. As for the man in charge of the place, he remarked that they would have to pay for all damage. To this Mr. Lambert did not respond, but quietly pulled off one of the serpent's ears, and Deputy Bissonnette stuck the screw driver into the fleshy part of the body, from which a few grains of sawdust dropped. Both fins were easily detached, as they only consisted of pieces of leather covered with black wax. On further investigation it appeared that the whole thing was formed of plaster of Paris, covered with wax. It had yellow glass eyes and a pretty pink mouth. Really quite a work of art. After picking a few flakes of plaster off the tail, Mr. Bissonnette returned to Court.

A few minutes later a reporter, who was present, met Grimwood and Meadows, the proprietors of the wonder, who did not know that Bissonnette had been at work. Grimwood offered to bet $1,000 to $100 that the "serpent" was genuine, but when the reporter produced a chunk of the fake from his pocket, and, asking him if he recognized it, told him that Bissonnette had been investigating with a screw driver, Grimwood collapsed.

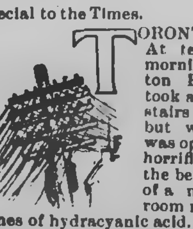
SUICIDED WITH POISON.

A MAN KILLS HIMSELF IN A TORONTO HOTEL.

Awful Find of a Bell Boy at the Kensington—Frank Webb Found Dead With a Phial of Hydracyanic Acid Near Him.

Special to the Times.



TORONTO, Aug. 29.—At ten o'clock this morning a Kensington Hotel bell boy took a gentleman upstairs to room No. 19, but when the door was opened both were horrified to find on the bed the dead body of a man, while the room reeked with the fumes of hydracyanic acid. The door was at once locked and not re-opened until Coroner Young had arrived. The dead man had registered on Tuesday night as Frank M. Webb, of Montreal, and had paid in advance as he had no baggage; he said he would probably go away early the next morning.

DEAD AND A POISON BOTTLE NEAR HIM.

At 10 a.m. Wednesday he rang his bell and ordered a drink, which was brought up to him. During the day the chambermaid looked into the room twice. Webb was lying on the bed apparently asleep Clerk Weighart, seeing that the man had paid for one night only, concluded that the room was vacant and thus assigned a guest to the room this morning. The dead man lay wi h his eyes wide open. A thin stream of blood, caused by the caustic action of acid, had dripped from the mouth and dried upon the chin. One arm was drawn up even with the eyes, while the other lay over his heart. The fingers of both hands were knotted and twisted. It was apparent that the suicide's death struggle had not been an easy one. On the bureau was a large blue phial of hydracyanic acid. It was empty and unlabelled except for the technical formula of that powerful poison. The suicide had removed his coat and shoes and had taken the poison in bed. He had been dead for some hours, rigor mortis having set in.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BODY.

Coroner Young took charge of the dead man's effects. In the pockets were found sixty-five cents in silver, a clay pipe, a half-used plug of smoking tobacco and a business card of Davies & Co., carpenters and builders, 78 Summerhill avenue, Toronto. The body is that of a short man about five feet five; dark, and of a nervobilious type of countenance. He had sparse black hair, slightly bald in front, and was apparently about thirty-five years of age. He wore a small dark moustache well clipped about the ends. He wore a pair of low black shoes, gray cashmere socks, dark blue serge trousers and vest, and a sack coat of black worsted. On the collar of the coat was the label, "McEwen M. Tailor, Bracebridge." A white tie, collar and shirt with a small gray neglige cap completed the costume of the man as first seen by Night Clerk C. R. Palmer.

Although the man registered as coming from Montreal several who saw the body think that is that of a Toronto man whose face they say is familiar.

An inquest will be held at the morgue at three o'clock tomorrow.

Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such an enormously increased sale of the medicine.

A GRAVE MENACE,

To Navigation on Nearly all the Lakes is the Chicago Drainage Canal.

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug 29.—The report of the Board of Engineers, detailed to report upon the probable effect and operation of the Chicago Drainage Canal upon the lakes and harbor levels and upon the navigation of the great lakes and their connecting waterways, says the promoters of the canal did not obtain the consent of Congress, and that it has not been treated as an international or even an inter-State affair. The new outlet, which will take 600,000 cubic feet of water per minute from Lake Michigan, would reduce the lake and others below it about six inches in two years, Lake Superior alone not being affected; the navigable capacities of all the harbors and shallows will be reduced.

The Board says, therefore, that the Chicago Drainage Canal is not a local affair, but a national one, and that under the laws of the United States these changes in capacity cannot be made without Federal authority, and to enable the executive officers of the United States to act advisedly in the matter it is necessary, in the opinion of the Board, not only that measurements be taken, but that the money cost of restoring the navigable depths in channels and harbors be carefully estimated.

MRS. PIETZEL IDENTIFIES THE COAT FOUND IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Murderer Holmes Is Told of the Finding of the Charred Bones Supposed to be Those of Howard Pietzel.

Special to the Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 29.

MORE evidence has been secured in the Holmes tragedy, every item showing that the Pietzel boy was murdered in the cottage at at Irvington by H. H. Holmes and that the body was burned in the stove at night and the charred bones jammed into the chimney hole. It was learned yesterday that the trunk which mysteriously left the hotel was taken to Irvington by train and from the platform removed by Holmes to the house. It contained the clothing of the girls, which he wanted to dispose of before taking them to Toronto, where they were murdered. Mrs. Pietzel, mother of the murdered boy was telegraphed at Galva, Ill., and identified the trunk and the boy's coat. Other articles which belonged to him have also been found in the chimney hole. Coroner Carter took charge of the house and held an inquest at which the officers and others testified. The grand jury is in session and Judge McCray ordered it to proceed at once to taking testimony, and today the witnesses will be examined. The court said every effort will be made to bring Holmes here for trial.

HOLMES HEARS THE NEWS.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—H. H. Holmes' lawyer yesterday informed the prisoner of the finding in Indianapolis of the remains said to be those of young Howard Pietzel. Holmes did not waver in his claim that Howard Pietzel had been left in the care of Hatch and Minnie Williams on October 10 last. The lawyer said his client is now so accustomed to hearing of startling developments in the famous case that the finding of a few human bones has not the slightest effect upon him. The lawyer will take no steps in the near future in the case until the prosecution makes a move. He did not think, however, so far as the Indianapolis end of the case is concerned, that Holmes will be taken to that city for trial, but that if the authorities demand his acquisition Holmes would cheerfully go to Indianapolis and stand trial. It is claimed that he could establish an alibi.

A Machinist's Tragic Death.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., August 29.—David P. Williams, fireman, and two press riggers of the Cottrell Printing Manufacturing Company were at work last night removing an old press from the Knickerbocker Press Company's building. A large iron frame that they were taking from the elevator tipped over on Williams. The other man and Williams used their united strength in holding the frame up, but they soon became exhausted, and the frame gradually pinned Williams to the floor. The men shouted for help. There was no response, as everybody had left the establishment. Williams and the men were worn out by their exertions. Seeing that there was no help for him, Williams called to his companions: "God help me. Let it drop and put me out of my agony." The two men were in a fainting condition from supporting the frame. They withdrew their hands and the mass of iron fell upon Williams, crushing him to death.

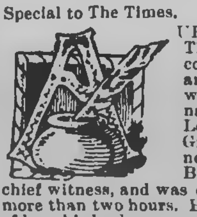
IS GLENN A FIRE-BUG?

ARRESTED ON THE CHARGE OF FIRING BUILDINGS IN AURORA.

Result of the Recent Investigation into the Origin of the Numeroue Fires There—The Prisoner Taken to Toronto.

Special to The Times.



AURORA, Aug. 29.—The fire inquest was concluded last night, and a peculiar story was told about a man named Norman MacLeod. George W. Graham, senior partner of the Graham Bros. firm was the chief witness, and was on the stand for more than two hours. He gave an account of how his books were kept, and stated that he knew from memory how much they purchased and sold on their own account, and how much on commission for others. He had made up for the insurance people from memory his statement of grain lost. The statement of wood lost was made up from the wool memorandum book.

TESTING HIS MEMORY.

Crown Attorney Dewart then proceeded to test Mr. Graham's memory. He produced an itemized report of wool purchased after July 1, containing the names dates and amount of purchases. The Crown Attorney read out the dates and amounts and asked the witness to give the names. Graham was unable to do so except in one or two instances. Questioned as to his movements on the night of the fire, Graham said he was in bed when aroused by the fire bells. He got up and went to the G.T.R. freight sheds, where he saw John Glenn, who was drunk. He accused the latter of setting fire to the shed, and Glenn said he was in bed at the time. He saw Glenn at the fire which burned the freight shed on Aug. 19. Glenn was sober. The next day witness told Glenn that he had made a "clean job of it this time," and the latter replied that he was in bed and could prove it.

BLAMED IT ON MCLEOD.

Mr. Graham further said that Wells, the proprietor of the Queen's Hotel had accused him of the fire because he had quarrelled with him. Glenn had told him, the witness, that the fire was the act of a man named Norman McLeod, who did it to carry through a horse trade.

John Glenn was called and said he was in bed at the time of the fire at Neale's house and was roused by the alarm. About a week before that fire he had a conversation with Norman McLeod. McLeod told him that he had a chance for a good deal. He said he had an opportunity of getting Neale's horse in exchange for his pony if he would fire the house.

IN A BURST OF CONFIDENCE.

The witness admitted to Mr. Dewart that he had never heard or known of McLeod's firing buildings before or being engaged in any such transaction. McLeod did not propose that witness should help him or do it for him, McLeod had just told him in a burst of confidence. Witness had afterwards told Neale of what McLeod had told him, and McLeod, when he saw him next, blamed him for spoiling the deal. The house was subsequently burned, and McLeod told him next morning that he had skinned his nose the night before by running up against the stump of a tree when coming from the house when the fire started.

Coroner Johnston then charged the jury. C. C. Robinson assisted the Crown Attorney and H. Lennox appeared for Graham.

The jurors found that the fire had been set by design, that Glenn was present, when it was set and was therefore an accessory after the fact, and that the amount of wool in the building was not as much as alleged by Graham. Glenn was taken into custody.

GLENN BROUGHT HERE.

THE MAN WHO IS MIXED UP WITH THE G. T. R FIRE AT AURORA.

TORONTO ,Aug. 29.—John Glenn, the Aurora man, who has figured so conspicuously in the fire inquest at that place, was brought to the city this morning and arraigned in the Court House before Justicy of the Peace Ellis on a charge of arson. He pleaded not guilty and the investigation was set for Thursday next.

BENEDICTINE BEER.

Some Pennsylvania Monks who run a Little Brewery of their Own.

Special to The Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—The protest against the manufacture and sale of beer by the Benedictines of St. Vincent's Abbey, of Beatty, Pa., is still under consideration by Archbishop Satolli. The Benedictines say there was no scandal connected with the sale of the beer, which, they stated, was done merely to cover the cost of the manufacture for their own consumption and the expense of the internal revenue tax. The total manufactured was four barrels a week. The Benedictines announce, however, their readiness to see what can be done in the matter to quiet the criticisms.

LOST THEIR CROP.

Destruction By Lightning on Western Farms.

Special to the Times.

MANDUMIN, Aug. 29.—About 6.15 this evening during a heavy thunder storm the large barn of Wm. Dunn, 4th concession, township of Sarnia, was struck by lightning and was totally destroyed with this year's crop, also a binder and a pair of trucks. A new top buggy and a bull which were in the barn when struck were saved. A smaller barn adjoining, containing hay, was saved by neighbors after a hard fight. The loss is heavy but is partly covered by insurance.

CORUNNA, Aug. 29.—A heavy lightning and wind storm passed over here about 6 o'clock this evening. A large barn and contents were destroyed by fire.

A row boat is reported to have capsized in which Mrs. Micheal Derush and her three children of Mraysville. All are reported to have been drowned.

Inman Undoubtedly Lost.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—All hope of Robert W. Inman, who jumped overboard from his yacht Adelaide, after the collision with the iron steamboat Perseus last Monday, being found alive, has been abandoned by the friends of the young man.

Thirteen Drowned.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Torpedo boat No. 14 capsized yesterday in the North Sea. Thirteen persons are reported to have been drowned.

He Died This Morning.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—Captain R. W. Shepherd, president of the Ontario and Richelieu Navigation Co., died at Como, P. Q., at 6 o'clock this morning.

The Princess Dead.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Princess Elizabeth of Prussia, wife of Frederick August, hereditary Grand Duke of Oldemberg, died near Fulda today. She was born February 8th, 1857 and was married February 18th, 1878.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

Half Holiday Excursion.

The City of Peterborough will run an excursion to the New Bridge on Friday afternoon, Aug. 30, leaving the wharf at 2 p.m. Return tickets 25 cents.

Rugby Football.

A meeting of those interested in football will be held in the parlors over the palace restaurant on Saturday night, for the purpose of organizing for the season. All interested are urged to be present,

A False Alarm.

While the fire boxes were being tested Wednesday a false alarm was accidentally sent into the fire hall. Some of the firemen ran to the station and were followed by a crowd which grew in size until several hundred stood around the big doors waiting for the trucks to come out.

Who Is Cabbage Mike?

There will be an ice cream social in the barracks on Saturday evening, says the Campbellford Herald, in connection with the Salvation Army harvest festival. Cabbage Mike, from Peterborough, is expected to be present. The sale of the gifts of friends to the harvest festival will take place on Monday evening in the barracks.

The Councillors' Outing.

At the invitation of the Peterborough Navigation Company, the members of the town council had an outing down the river yesterday afternoon on the City of Peterborough, accompanied by numerous citizens and business men. The trip was very much enjoyed, and the entertainment provided very much appreciated. A most delightful afternoon was spent.

Wednesday's Fire.

About 8.30 yesterday morning smoke was seen issuing from the cellar window of the vacant store adjoining the Peterborough Music Company on George street. The alarm was given and the fire Brigade soon had a stream playing in the cellar. The fire, the origin of which is a mystery, had started in the rear portion of the cellar, the floor of which is covered with paper and sawdust. Mr. E. Hartley is the owner of the building and the damage done was slight.

An Enormous Catch of Frogs.

Two frog catchers who are experts at the business, made a good record on the night of the 14th inst. Mr. Wm. Forrest, who resides on the Eighth Line, Seymour, and Mr. J. W. Potts, whose residence is at Percy Boom, caught 2,876 frogs in six hours in the Jordan creek in North Hastings. They skinned the lot and shipped them at Bannockburn to dealers in Buffalo, N. Y. The whole number after being skinned weighed 351 pounds, for which the catchers expect to receive 20 cents per pound.

Too Many Already.

A man named McCarger, of Peterboro, last week applied for the store on Front street which Mr. J. T. Benor vacated last spring. He wrote to the agent of the property in Campbellford, asking for the removal of the counter and shelves on one side, but the owner would not comply. The new applicant wanted the premises for a bakery and restaurant. We would not like to speak in the highest terms of the business judgement of any man who would undertake another bakery or restaurant in Campbellford. We are all ready pretty well supplied in this line.—Campbellford Herald.

Inspector Pope's Condition.

The many friends of Mr. Robert Pope, street inspector, will be sorry to learn of his serious illness. Some few weeks ago he went to his Stony Lake cottage with his family, in the hope that the change would prove beneficial. While there an abscess which had formed on his side, broke, and it was some considerable time before he could be brought home. He returned last Tuesday and an operation was immediately performed by Drs. King and Yelland, which brought about a slight improvement. His many friends will be glad to know that he has been better since and will hope for his complete recovery.

Bobcaygeon Notes.

A police court was held at Bobcaygeon by S. W. Crabtree, Esq., J. P. Master Herbert Stevens and John Cain, having driven ther delivery wagons, at what was considered a furious pace. They admitted the mild impeachment and toted up a dollar each. Mr. Herbert also answered to a second charge of having ruffled the peaceful quietude of the village by fast riding, for which he disbursed two dollars. On the same morning, the reeve, J. L. Read, held a court, Thomas Persault being charged with being drunk and disorderly. His worship gave Persault a lecture on the impropriety of his conduct, and dismissed him on suspended judgment.

Fainted in Court.

In its report of the Lindsay Police Court, the evening Post has the following:—After the last case had been disposed of County Magistrate Deacon held court, and the first case was that against O. L. Patrick, a canvasser of Peterborough, charged with having taken a coat from Mrs. Austin of Fenelon Falls, under false pretences. The man was arrested in Peterborough and brought to town this morning by Chief Bell. He is a very delicate man and fainted in court, and it took some time to bring him around again. The case was adjourned until Tuesday next at Fenelon Falls, and the accused took the 11.20 train for Peterborough, being conveyed to the station in a hack. Reeve Dickson, of Fenelon Falls, also sat on the bench during this case.

Serious Results of "Hazing."

An unfortunate accident occured at the High School today, which for the first time presents the practice of "hazing" in a serious light before our citizens, says the Port Hope Times. It is an old custom to initiate all the boys on their entering the High School by a formality called "bumping"—a ceremony which must be seen to be appreciated. The editor remembers his introduction to the High School life, as the experience cost him a rip in his trousers from his hip pocket to the heel of his boot and at the time he formed an opinion that "bumping" was a custom more honored in the breach than the observance. The trouble is that wherever "hazing" or roughness is permitted trouble or accident must result. This accident which it is our duty to record is a painful one and fortunately the smallest boy in the school, Harry White, son of Mr. Henry White, whose record at the entrance examinations was one of the best in the province, is the victim. While being bumped he was thrown against a stone wall sustaining such a severe cut that the service of a physician was necessary. Now that this feature of "hazing" has been brought prominently before the public and the school board there is no doubt severe measures will be taken to prevent the recurrance of any such accident.

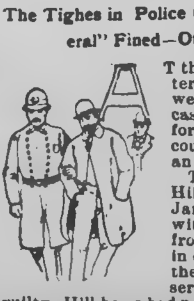
BROKEN FAMILY TIES.

The Tighes in Police Court—The "General" Fined—Other Cases.



AT the police court yesterday morning there were a number of cases on the docket for hearing, and the court session was of an unusual length.

The three lads Bert Hill, Harry King and James Long, charged with stealing whips from vehicles standing in church sheds while the owners were at service, were all found guilty. Hill has a bad reputation, being an incorrigible youth, and his parents found it impossible to do anything with him, so the magistrate sent him to the penitentiary for a period not exceeding five years.

Wm. Curry, who was remanded on Monday until yesterday on the charge of stealing a hat from Fairweather & Co., faced the Police Magistrate again on the charge and was proven guilty of theft and sentenced to one month in gaol at hard labor. A witness swore he saw Curry take a straw hat from Fairweather's door on Saturday and carry it off. Three clerks in the store testified they had not sold the man a hat, and this was sufficient evidence for the Magistrate to find the man guilty.

The man Williams, arrested on the charge of vagrancy was also on hand. He is a pedler, selling soap, hair oil, bunion salve and fountain pens. He denied having insulted Mrs. T. Guerin, and shed tears when he referred to the widowed mother who depended solely upon him for support. But this didn't go with the magistrate and Williams dried his eyes and saved his tears for dry weather. As the prisoner had money in his possession, and was clearly trying to make a living peddling, the magistrate could do nothing but discharge him.

THE "GENERAL" ON DECK.

"General" Tighe, the great slugger of the Peterborough baseball club, was in court yesterday morning. On Wednesday morning the General was summoned to appear on the charge of assaulting his uncle, and when the case was called the "General" stated that his uncle had made peace with him, and wanted the case withdrawn and he would pay the costs. This was done, but yesterday morning the uncle denied that the white winged dove of peace had alighted on their home, and restored the full strength of peace and harmony of their family "ties," and he wanted the case proceeded with. Mrs. Tighe was also in court and mother, son and uncle engaged in a war of words that created much amusement for the chair warmers. The General came out at the little end of the bat. He was fined $2 and costs for assault, and the same sum for using abusive language.

NEARLY A DROWNING.

Crew of the North Star Rescue Two Young Men From Death.

On Wednesday the North Star was steaming up the river from Jubilee Point with a scow in tow. A couple of Peterborough young men, who had been out camping were returning home in a canoe, and hooked on to the scow for a tow up the river.

In making a turn in the river, the canoe was in some way capsized, and the occupants were thrown into the water. As soon as the accident was noticed the North Star put out a boat manned by Captain Calcutt and John Arnott, one of the crew, and they went to the aid of the young men, who were struggling in the water and on the verge of exhaustion.

Just in the nick of time were they rescued and taken on board the North Star, which brought them to town. They lost their guns, which sank when the canoe upset.

Captain Calcutt didn't think to ask the young men their names, but he knows them as Peterborough boys.

THE GAME LAWS.

Chief Points in the Regulations for the Preservation of Game.

VERY many unsophisticated people who think that shooting in Canada is shooting made easy are barking up the wrong tree. There are individuals who imagine that all they have to do is to get up a party with the usual necessaries of guns, canoes, blankets, tents, dogs, guides and hie them off to the wild, weird, woody wilderness and there press the trigger. The gun does the rest.

For the benefit of such people the Provincial Secretary has written a book entitled "Ontario Game Laws" or "How to Shoot Straight," by "One who Knows." This volume says first of all that deer can only be hunted from November 1 to November 15. Elk, moose, reindeer, and cariboo are not to be hunted before October 25, 1900.

Any dog found running deer during the close season may be killed on sight.

Two deer only may be killed by one person during the hunting season, and nobody may be found with deer meat or skin in his possession during the close season, unless he has an affidavit that the game was taken during the open season.

As for the birds, grouse, pheasant, partridge, woodcock, snipe, plover, or any other water foul or game, these are not to be shot at except from September 15 until December 15. The season for quail or wild turkey is from October 15 till December 15; for swans and geese, all the year except from May 1 to September 15; ducks from September to December 15. The possession of guns, decoys or other implements of hunting at a time and in place where game exists is prima facia evidence of hunting.

Nobody may have game in his possession during the close season or more than five days after the season has closed.

Until September, 1897, nobody may sell or barter snipe, woodcock or partridge before September 15, 1897, or quail or wild turkey before October 15, 1897.

No person may at any time export any kind of game out of Ontario, but a hunter may take out the two deer allowed him by the Act provided he is not a resident and has a license.

Unless a person lives in Ontario or Quebec he may not don buckskin and hunt unless he pay a license fee of $25.

In such a case he may take fifty ducks home if a game warden give him leave.

The fine for violation of the Act ranges from $5 to $50, and half the money goes to the informer.

Rondeau Park is a preserve, and no one may at any time shoot, kill or take partridge, prairie fowl, quail, woodcock, snipe or wild turkey in its limits. Also a person may not touch foxes, skunks, weasels, owls, and so forth without the leave of the ranger.

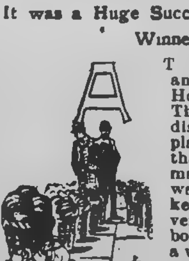
Why Not You?

When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to overcome the weakness and langour which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? When you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to cure rheumatism, dyspepsia and all diseases caused by impure blood, why do you continue to suffer? Hood's cures others, why not you?

HOOD'S PILLS are prompt and efficient. 25c.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

It was a Huge Success—List of Prize Winners.



AT the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural show Thursday, the finest display of flowers, plants and art work, that has ever been made by this society, was shown. The market building was converted into a veritable bower of flowers, and a very pretty sight it was indeed. The entries this year exceeded those of previous years, and the attendance of citizens was good, especially last evening when crowds visited the market building and inspected the beautiful exhibits. The Fire Brigade Band was in attendance and furnished delightful music. That this year's exhibit of the Horticultural Society was a success, was apparent to all who attended yesterday. Below is a complete list of the prize winners, the first name taking first prize and the second name second prize:

As to the A.O.U.W.

Mr. F. G. Innwood, immediate Past Grand Master of the A.O.U.W. for Ontario and senior representative for Ontario in the Supreme Lodge, says with reference to the Associated Press despatch from Buffalo stating that the order is in danger because of the squandering of funds, that at the recent meeting of the Supreme Lodge in Chicago the financial statements were entirely satisfactory and that reports since then show that the same state of affairs is maintained. As to the members leaving the order, he says, the report is entirely without foundation, the monthly reports to the supreme recorder showing no material change as to lapses.

The Owen Electric Belt

Trade Mark—Dr. Owen

The only scientific and practical Electric Belt made, for general use, having batteries that generate a strong current of Electricity that is under perfect control and can be applied to any part of the body, for the cure of

Nervous Diseases

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of Nervous Diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, etc., that the old modes of treatment fail to cure. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by any medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is pursuing a dangerous practice. Properly treated, these diseases can be

Positively Cured

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will most assuredly do so. It is the only known power that will supply what is lacking, namely nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system. It will most assuredly cure,

Without Medicine,

Varicocele, Nervous Prostration, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Kidney Disease, Lumbago, Lame Back and Dyspepsia.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 31 1895.

One hundred and nineteen people have been killed in Brooklyn by the trolley cars.

Detective Geyer, after a long search, has unearthed the remains of little Howard Pietzel in a cottage occupied by Holmes at Indianapolis.

A glass factory at Liverpool has glass boxes for all its machinery, a glass floor glass tiles on the roof, and a chimney stack 105 feet high built wholly of glass bricks each a foot square,

Another sign of the approach of good times is the fact that the C. P. R. company has voluntarily increased the wages of its employes. Pretty soon we won't need any signs to convince us of the arrival of good times.

Whiteway retrenches by cutting off grants to schools and the poor and increasing the salaries and numbers of useless officials.

The Liberals are taking comfort in the fact that they have cut down the Conservative majority in Westmoreland to 720 They will not ask for a recount, however.

The members of the Town Council betray a timid desire to refuse the demand of the Electric Company for more money, without first obtaing the consent of the taxpayers.

The news from Manitoba continues to be good. Grain cutting is being rushed, and there is no frost. The yield is better than was expected. Manitoba will have a solid boom now.

As the Christian Brothers refuse to accept the proposed reforms in the Ottawa separate schools, the Ottawa separate school authorities will probably refuse to accept the Christian Brothers.

Rev. Bro. Flamien, Superior of the Order of Christian Brothers, charges the commission with unfairness in its investigation of the Ottawa Separate Schools. He also justifies his refusal to consent to the reforms demanded.

Let that libel suit, brought by the editor of the Winnipeg Tribune against the publisher of the Winnipeg Nor'-Wester, go on. It may bring out the identity of the great Winnipeg liar who has been filling the American press with rumors of war in Manitoba.

In view of the coming visit of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, would it not be a good thing for the Board of Trade to interview him in, and urge upon Sir Charles and those who accompany him the claims of Peterborough, for cheaper fares for market days, gates for street crossings and other matters.

For $300,000 a year and the commercial proceeds a company is willing to operate a cable between Honolulu and the United States. If the cost will be $300,000 a year greater than the benefits the project cannot be regarded as tempting. It might be cheaper to move the island within bridging distance.

When you consider that only three years ago the British government appropriated a hundred million dollars for the building of ten first-class battle-ships and a lot of cruisers and torpedo boats, and that now thirty millions more are set apart for the construction of six men-of-war, you can realize that ruling the wave is an expensive operation.

Toronto's annual fall show is a Toronto institution only, and as such it is creditable to that city. Yet we notice that the show is advertised throughout this country and in the United States as "Canada's Great Fair." This is probably the only instance on record of Toronto showing a willingness to allow the country to share in her glory. But the explanation of this apparent magnanimity may be the strange and long-established fallacy of Toronto people, that Canada is Toronto and Toronto is Canada.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHASTE SOCIETY.

A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night—The Hall of wisdom Again Filled to Overflowing—Elequent and Impressive Speeches by the President and Several Members.

As usual the Hall of Wisdom was crowded to the doors last night. When President McBride ascended the dias, every voice was hushed and every murmur silenced. A large number of strangers were present, including strong delegations from the surrounding country. The Keene branch was represented by Gingerale Kennaley, Cautious Miller, Pony Moore, Corncure Shaw, Lemanade Gall; Lakefield by Spiritual Munro, Flowery Bell, and Stoplog Dinwoodie; Port Hope by Big Bass Wilmot and Razor Reynolds; Young's Point by W. McFarlane, (President of the Young's Point Liver Complaint Society), Paddlebox Young, and Darkness Scollard; Slopeville by Anvil McCann, and Two-forty O'Brien. In addition to these distinguished personages, there were present seven members of Parliament, twenty-two ex-members, four Judges, nine Bailiffs, fourteen Colonels and three Knights.

EMBLEMS.

A communication was read from Slopville, by a party who signed himself "Dutch Pete," on behalf of the branch at that thriving hamlet, stating that the members of the Club there had concluded to adopt the sunflower as their emblem, and the assistance of the parent club in making it national was solicited.

"I don't take any stock in emblems," replied the President, as the letter was filed for answer. "The laziest crowd I ever knew had a beaver for its emblem. I have seen a dozen saloons with beehives over the door. A man may take a white dove for his emblem, and yet keep his wife carrying black eye ten months in the year. If the people of Slopeville feel the need of an emblem, the sun flower is as good as any other. Its a flower which stays out all night without going to sleep next day. You can always tell when to find it. It grows faster than the turnip; and produces a bigger head than the cucumber. This Club won't pledge itself to any particular emblem at present, but will continue to do white-washing at the same reasonable figures, and put a better shine on the stove for twenty-five cents than any other club does for forty."

A HARD TASK.

The Committee on Pains and Anxieties, who were several weeks ago ordered to investigate the subject of warts, corns and bunions, and report there on, now announce that their investigation had been pushed as far as possible, with but few satisfactory results. They would report:

1. The wart don't amount to much unless it come on the end of the nose. We traced it back to the year 740, then we got tired and went home. Warts are sometimes a sign of a cultured mind, and sometimes they ain't. The way to get rid of them is to rise up at midnight for three successive nights and make faces at yourself in the looking-glass.

2. The corn would'nt be noticed by any respectable person if it did'nt grow on the foot. We can trace it back to drift period, and we can give a list of over 10,000 distinguished persons who have had from one to four at a time. There are over fifty cures for corns, not one of which is worth shucks. One of the best remedies we know of is to have both feet cut off at the ankles. In that way you are certain to get the bulge on them.

3. The bunion is an invention to take the place of knocking a man down with a rail and dragging him all over a whole county by the hair of his head. After a bunion freezes to you it can't be coaxed to go on a vacation or bribed to let go and tackle some other mortal. It goes to bed with you and rises up with you, and it never lets you forget that it is on hand and fully prepared for business. Persons have got rid of them by going over Niagara Falls or by walking on the railroad track. (Wild cheer by Conductor Morris, who was promptly fined $400 and costs.)

OUR HEROES.

The President announced that it was time to bestow the semi-annual prize offered by the Club for the greatest display of heroism by any member of the Lime Juice Club, and be called for the report of the committee. Bro. Mervin, chairman of said committee, reported that he had several cases to report, as follows:

1. The case of Daylight Carter, of Lindsay, who plunged into a burning building and brought out a baby in one hand and a gallon jug of whiskey in the other. It could not be definitely ascertained whether the jug or the baby incited Bro Carter to his heroic act.

2. The case of Bro. Frank Farien, who put a string around a mad dog's neck and led him into his back yard. It has been charged that Bro. Fairen did not know that the dog was mad, and picked him up with the intention of having a dog ahead.

3. The case of Pony Moore, who plunged into a raging flood to rescue a boy ten years old. It had been asserted that he did not plunge until the boy's father had offered a reward of hundred dollars, and the committee could not come to any conclusion.

4. The case of Bro. Fred Jones, who descended into a well thirty-eight feet deep to rescue a man who had just cheat him blind on a horse trade, and who refused a reward of fifteen cents for his noble efforts. This case, in the opinion of the committee, was the most deserving, and on the question being put, the Club was unaminous in voting the prize to Bro. Jones. The prize consists of a Silver-plated tobacco box, with a compass in the lid, and the Secretary was instructed to mail it to the the hero forthwith.

GEN. METHERALL'S GRIEVANCE.

At this stage of the proceedings Gen. Metherall stood up in the north-west corner of the Hall, flourished a red silk handkerkhief, adjusted his lavender tie, and announced that he arose to a question of privelege. He had just returned from a visit to a neighboring village, and during his stay he had been refused permission, or rather the right, to eat at the tables with the other guests. The waiter had seated him at a small side table, with no other company, and had even thrown out hints that he should have sought a cheaper hotel. Brother Metherall felt that the Club had been insulted through him, and he wanted to know what action would be taken.

"It will take no further action than the reprimand you for your impertinence," replied the President. "In the first place you have no money to speak of, and had no business in a first-class hotel. In the next place you forgot your position. You had no more business alongside of ladies and gentlemen than they would have of running a junck shop and repairing old bicycles. I know all about Civil Rights but it don't count. The people who form our social rules have no sympathy for the laborer. The law of protection applies to a cow as well as a horse—to a goose as well as a calf. Both are equal in law but do you see cows mixing with horses, and trying to equal them in pulling and walking and trotting? Is a goose veal because it has the same rights as a calf? Do calves try to fly because the air is as free to calves as to geese? Brother Metherall, you are a little too airy for a member of this Club, and unless you make a change your fate will be sealed."

BOUNCED.

Bro. Dickson Davidson here offered the following preamble and resolution:

"Whereas, this Club has been officially notified that Sweetbriar Williams, of Norwood, an honorary member of the organization, has been detected in an attempt to enter a grocery store by way of the back window; and,

"Whereas, this Club believes in buying its groceries in the day time and paying cash down; now, therefore,

"Resolved, that the name of the said Sweetbriar Williams be and is hereby dropped from the rolls forever, and all good members of the Club are expected to turn up the nose of scorn at him whenever and wherever met."

The resolution was adopted without debate, and Sweetbriar can now wipe his weeping eyes on his elbow.

THE CRANK.

Bro. Carese LeBrun then offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, that this Club has no sympathy with cranks, and that it is the sense of this Club that more hanging would result in less crankism."

The resolution was put to a unanimous vote, and the President added:

"I feel strongly that way myself. The man who can pay out and receive money, trade around the country, do business and keep out of the way of the butcher carts and street cars, mus'nt shoot my wife and then plead hereditary or any other sort of insanity. The crank who can't resist the temptation to steal must keep out of my potato patch or take the chances of my putting a handful of shot in his corpus. The crank who is not morally responsible for his utterances will feel the weight of my fist the first time he calls me a liar. The crank who is not financially responsible wants to keep right away from me the whole week through. The crank who is impelled by the Diety to do me bodily injury, had better be certain of his aim, for if he misses me I'll light down on him like a ton of the reddest brick he ever saw. I don't go a cent on any insanity outside a lunatic asylum. If a man is hung, put him among the lunatics. The fact that he is not there is reason for holding him legally responsible for every act."

LIFE INSURANCE.

A letter from Bro. Hill, of the Sun Life Insurance Company, made inquiry of the Club as to what per cents. of the members carried life insurance. The letter also stated that favorable terms would be given such members of the Club as desired to insure.

"This life insurance is one of the problems that mixes me up," replied the President, "but I'll take down the names of anybody who wants a policy in the excellent company."

Bro. Wm. Snowden thereupon came forward and said he thought he would take about three millions dollars on his life, and Bro Ed. Brown guessed he'd take five. This settled it with the others, who realized that no company could lose over $8,000,000 and come to time on other losses.

After Gen. Metherall had been given permission to take the ice left in the water pail, the members took short cuts for home.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Aug. 30.—At Point St. Charles market today there was a large offering of butchers' cattle, which sold at unchanged values as compared with last week. The choicest lots sold at an average of about 4c, bnt the bulk of the good stock brought 3¼c to 3¾c Some clean stock sold at 3c, and a few inferior cattle at 2c to 2½c. Calves sold freely at last week's prices. Very good export sheep changed hands at 3¼c, some going a shade lower. Lambs on the scale sold at 2¾c to 3c. There was more business in the hog market than there was last market day, and prices show a slight advance. Hogs are quoted today at 5¼c to 5¾c for good quality. There was a good attendance of buyers present and the tone of the market at the round was very good. The receipts today on the eastern abattoir market consisted of about 500 head of cattle 900 lambs, 300 sheep and 150 calves. The market was moderately active. Export cattle brought 3¾c to 4c per lb, and best butchers' beeves 3½c do. Secondary stock sold at from 2½c to 3c, with lower grades at 2c per lb, smal meats were in fairly active demand.

YOUNG'S POINT.

The weather continues very wet making it very difficult for farmers to save their crops.

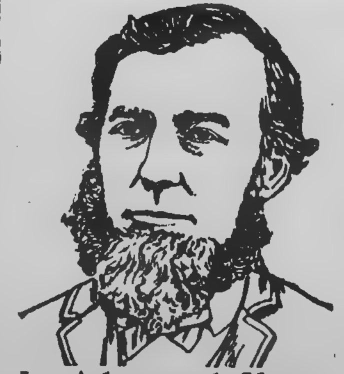
Mr. R. Heard is having his hall painted, which will add much to the appearance of the interior.

Buyers have been here buying cattle and sheep for shipment to the Eastern markets.

Quite a number from here intend visiting the Toronto Exhibition.

PERSONALS—Mr. John Hoolihan, of Rochester, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Hoolihan, of Selwyn.

Mrs. B. Hoolihan, of Peterboro, is the guest of Mrs. R. Anglesey.



In Advanced Years

The strength and pure blood necessary to resist the effects of cold seasons are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have for the last 25 years of my life been complaining of a weakness of the lungs and colds in the head, especially in the winter. Last fall I was again attacked. Reading of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was led to try it. I am now taking the fifth bottle with good results. I can positively say that I have not spent a winter as free from coughs or pains and difficult breathing spells for the last 25 years as was last winter. I can lie down and sleep all night without any annoyance from cough or pain in the lungs or asthmatic difficulty." E. M. CHAMBERS, J. P., Cornhill, N. B.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today.

Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25c. per box.

A BROKER'S RASH ACT.

A MONTREAL BROKER LOSES MONEY AND SUICIDES.

Dropped $200 000 On Wheat and It Was More Than He Could Stand—Killed Himself in His Own Vault.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—The greatest sensation that has been created on the local Wall street for years was caused this morning by the suicide of Alton F. Clark, a well known young broker of 91 St. Francois Xavier street. At eleven o'clock the street was crowded from Hospital to NotreDamestreet with brokers and business men, standing in little groups discussing the tragic death of the brilliant young man. It was not until half past ten that his death was discovered, although it had taken place fully two hours previously.

CAUSED BY BUSINESS TROUBLES.

W. J. Turpin, a prominent broker, who was Clark's most intimate friend, on arriving at his office this morning, received a long letter from him stating that on account of his business troubles and financial difficulties, which had been known by the public for some time, he had decided to end his life. He described in what state his affairs were and said that if Mr. Turpin would visit his office on receiving the letter he would find that he had carried out his intention of suicide.

DEAD IN HIS VAULT.

Mr. Turpin hurried to the office and there found Clark sitting in his vault quite dead. A revolver was lying beside his chair and his face was horribly blackened with powder. He had shot himself in the mouth. The police were called and the body removed to the morgue.

Clark, whose financial troubles began when he was sued by Hon. J. E. Robidoux for stock that he alleged he had embezzled was well known all over Canada. Some weeks ago he became so embarrassed that the Council of the Stock Exchange decided to sell his seat on 'Change if something was not done. The seat was sold today at noon. Clark was caught to the extent of a couple of hundred thousand dollars in the drop of wheat.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such an enormously increased sale of the medicine.

SAW A REAL MAN; KISSED HIM.

Miss Dunbar Thought She Might Never Get Another Chance.

Special to the Times.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 30.—While William Houston, a young farmer, was walking in the street he met a number of fashionably dressed young ladies. One of them turned suddenly, shook hands with him and kissed him. The young lady was Miss Eva Dunbar, daughter of wealthy parents and well known in society.

As soon as she had kissed Houston she became much confused and ran into a millinery store where she laughed and cried hysterically. Her friends supposed that she had mistaken the young for some intimate friend or relative and that her confusion was due to the discovery of her mistake. They were more than astonished when Miss Dunbar became composed enough to make an explanation.

"I never saw the man before," she said, "and I knew he was a stranger before I kissed him; but I couldn't help it. When I turned around my eyes met his, and he looked so good, so noble and so true, that I wanted to kiss him. I didn't think; there wasn't time to think. I only knew that I had met a real man, and I wasn't sure that I would ever see another one.

Houston is the owner of a fine farm and sometimes practises law. He is almost perfect physically, and is considered very handsome.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music whether professionally or for its individua' delights.

ONE LEG CUT OFF.

Serious Accident to Hotelkeeper James Owen of Oakville.

Special to The Times.

HAMILTON, August 30.—James Owen, 60 years old, proprietor of the Station hotel, Oakville, went to board the 5,55 train for Toronto as it was slowly moving out last evening. He missed the railing and fell between the platform of the two of the coaches. Brakesman M. Connell jumped to save the man from being pulled under the wheels, but was unsucessful, and narrowly escaped being pulled under the train himself. Owen was dragged about 30 feet and one leg was cut off below the knee. He was removed to the City Hospital.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

A DASTARDLY DEED.

A Villain's Work Almost Causes Several People Their Lives.

About 10.30 last Saturday night, as Mr. J. H. Howry's family carriage, which had been to Lindsay, was descending Jordan's hill, less than a mile from the Falls, one of the pole straps broke and the pole of course fell to the ground. The coachman, Mr. George Hardy, hung on to the lines, and would probably have been able to stop his team if both of them had been of the same quiet disposition; but while one of them, Gypsey, did her best to hold back, the other, Frank, kept springing forward, though he considerately refrained from kicking. The result was that the carriage, after continuing to descend the hill for a few seconds in a wildly erratic fashion, was thrown over on its side and the horses were at the same instant liberated by the breaking of the bolt that holds the double tree to the pole, but for which latter circumstances we should probably have had a much more serious accident to narrate. The occupants of the carriage were (besides the coachman) Mrs. J. W. Howry, her sister, Mrs. Clarke, and her son, Mr. J. H. Howry, and we are glad to be able to say that none of the party received any worse injuries than one or two slight bruises. The carriage was badly damaged, but the horses were unhurt, and, after running a few rods, stopped of their own accord and waited at the roadside until they were led away. As the harness was practically new and made of first class leather, the breaking of a pole strap could not be accounted for until an examination revealed the startling fact that it had been cut through on both edges until the cuts nearly met in the middle. In any mill or factory in which a great many men are employed there are almost sure to be two or three with a grievance, and such men not infrequently seek to punish the party, whether boss or foreman, who has incurred their ill will; but to endeavor to do so by a trick that may result in injury to or even the death of innocent persons, is as dastardly an offense as can well be imagined, and it is to be hoped that in this, as in every other similar case, the perpetrator may be discovered and get his deserts.

A SEASON FOR GIVING.

A Novel Plan of the Salvation Army to Raise Money.

In 1892 Commandant H. H. Booth hit upon a new idea for raising funds, by inaugurating a plan for clearing poor corps and officers of debt.

The plan was an annual "Harvest Festival Scheme," to be held all over the Dominion and Newfoundland on certain dates. This year the dates are Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 31st, September 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

In this scheme it is posible for all who appreciate the Army's work to assist in some way or other.

The officer of the different corps are instructed to visit friends and collect from them anything they are able to contribute whether it be in cash or otherwise.

Gifts of produce, groceries, fruit, grain, cattle, poultry, or anything of any description which is saleable will be acceptable.

After the collection of these various articles a sale of the same is arranged for Monday and Tuesday night, and the proceeds placed into one column fund to help out the debts mentioned.

Commandant Booth hopes by this scheme also to replenish the storehouses of his various institutions, such as Rescue Homes for fallen women, Men's Shelters, Children's Institutions, Home for Sick Officers, also his Industrial Farm, so it will be unnecessary to spend money on these articles during the fall and winter.

He contends that, though money is scarce, the land is laden with good things and he calls upon those who have enough and to spare to remember those who are not so favorably circumstanced.

A RIVER SERPENT.

A 6 foot Reptile Killed in the River at Rosa's Bridge.

Citizens who took in the City of Peterborough's excursion to Rosa's bridge on Tuesday afternoon, were treated to something not on the program, in the shape of a terrific battle with a monster river serpent. There are sea serpents and river serpents, the latter not attaining the proportions of the former, but in ferociousness and fighting propensities, quite as formidable.

The boat was at the bridge, when a big commotion was noticed in the water right off the bow. There was a squirming and lashing and an upheaving of the waters, and the boat was swayed to and fro, just about in the same manner as when the water is let into the locks. This continued for a minute, when the head of the snake, resembling a twisted length of iron girder, was raised above the water.

The passengers crowded to the bow of the boat to witness the novel sight, very few of them at first realizing that they were gazing upon a veritable river serpent, but such it was.

Mr. Walter English had his rifle on board, and having caught a glimpse of the serpent, at once secured the weapon, determined to kill it, if a bullet could be forced through its skin. The serpent made an excellent target of itself, and taking careful aim, Mr. English pulled the trigger.

The bullet struck the serpent in the neck, and it immediately began the death struggle, which lasted for several minutes. Then it turned over and floated on the surface. It was pulled in with a hawser and brought to Peterborough.

The serpent measured 6 feet 9 inches in length, and in color was black. It was perfectly scaleless and not unlike a common black snake, except in size.

Mr. Herb Hall has had the serpent skinned, and it will be stuffed and placed on exhibition.

INS AND OUTS.

The phrenologist at Chemong Park has located an unknown bump of imagination on the cranium of Col. Ben Ostrom, which probably accounts for the fish stories that have floated up from that resort from time to time.

⁂

In answer to "Miss Prudish," who writes and asks if it is modest for a young woman to attend races where young men show their calfs, we will reply that at the races this afternoon the riders will probably go so fast that no one will know whether their legs are bare or encased in hose. We hope this won't keep "Miss Prudish" away.

Arrested for Theft.

Tuesday Chief Roszel received a communication from Chief Constable Bell, of Lindsay, stating that he held a warrant for the arrest of one Oscar L. Patrick, a pedlar of small wares, for obtaining a gentleman's coat under false pretences. The offence was committed at Fenelon Falls, and the man left there for Peterborough Saturday. Chief Bell sent a description of the man, which he received from the magistrate, and Chief Roszel was not long in locating the man at his residence on Charlotte street. The coat was found in his possession and he was brought to police headquarters. Mr. Patrick stated that he borrowed the coat Saturday morning to go to the station in order to see if some wares had arrived for him. As the goods had not arrived and as a train was about to pull out for Lindsay he boarded it for that town, sending a postal card when he arrived in Lindsay to the owner of the coat in Fenelon Falls, stating that he had not run away, but would be back in a day or two.

BURGLARS AT WORK.

An Attempt to Blow up the Safe of the Otonabee Flour Mills.

Burglars are again operating in Peterborough for they entered the office of the Otonabee Flour Mills, Ashburnham, some time during Sunday night and bored the safe from the top and emptied enough powder through the hole to blow open the safe had it been ignited. That an attempt was made to do this was clearly shown by a quantity of burnt matches which bestrewed the floor.

The burglars visited Mr. J. T. Craig's blacksmith shop in the village, and, gaining an entrance through a back window, secured a chisel, a brace and, it is supposed, several pieces of drill. Yesterday morning the chisel and brace, identified by Mr. Craig as his, were found in the office of Mr. Roger Davidson when he came to open up. Two pieces of drill, which Mr. Craig says may have come from his shop were also found. The burglars after securing the tools at the blacksmith shop, went to the mills, forced up the office window with a chisel and entered. They went to work on the safe at one corner, about a foot from the front and a foot from the side. They bored with a three-eighths drill, and succeeded in making three holes. Two of these holes had pieces of the drill in them yesterday morning, while the third hole had been bored through to top and down through the wooden roof inside. The powder was then poured in and went to the bottom of the safe. Had they bored a few inches nearer the centre the powder would have lodged on the shelving and been easily ignited. A large handful of blasting powder was found inside the safe, an amount quite sufficient to have opened the safe had it been ignited. Whether they tried to start it or not is perpaps a question, for the matches found lying around may have been used in the process of boring to see what progress was being made. It is probable that something frightened the man or men, who went out the window where entrance had been gained. There was only $2 in the safe.

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

A Horse Dashes Through the Opera House Arcade With a Vehicle.

Miraculous is it that many people were not knocked down and injured by a runaway which occurred Tuesday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock.

The delivery rig of Morris & Howden, the Hunter street butchers, was standing in front of Mr. Roger's law office on Water street, when the horse became frightened and dashed down the street increasing its speed at every jump.

It passed the police station like a meteor and cut across the market, scattering the pedestrians right and left. And then a remarkable thing occurred. The horse suddenly turned and made a bee line for the opera house arcade. It cleared the first heavy piers at the entrance, but the rig ran afoul the stairway, and the result was that both suffered, the shafts being wrenched from the rig, and with these beating on its heels the animal continued through the arcade and on to George street, and up George to Hunter, where it was brought to a halt.

The streets were almost vacated at the time, and this prevented several serious accidents, for had the runaway taken place a little later in the evening, when the streets are generally crowded, some one would undoubtedly have been injured.

ROBBED AT CHURCH.

Whips Stolen from the Vehicles of Church Goers From a Distance.

For some time members of St. Paul's church, who drive to church and leave their rigs in the driving shed, have been annoyed by having their whips stolen from the vehicles, and a number of whips and other things have been taken while the owners were at service.

The police have been on the lookout for the miscreants and had a suspicion that some small boys were the perpetrators, committing the petty thefts more for mischief than for what could be realized on the stolen articles.

Young Bert Hill, a lad 13 years of age has been arrested, charged with stealing the whips, and will have a hearing in the police court this morning.

Burglars at Lindsay.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Fox, who lives on Victoria ave., west of the circus grounds, locked the house and came down town to the store of Mr. G. H. Fox. Some time during the afternoon burglars effected an entrance through the back door and searched the house for money, disturbing everything they come in contact with. Every drawer in the house had been investigated. They found no money, however, but took away a belt, with a silver buckle belonging to Miss Fox, and so far that is all that has been missed, but had there been any money secreted in the house at all they would surely have had it as the condition the place was in on the return of Mrs. Fox would show that they were bound to have it.

Not satisfied here they entered the house of Mr. Courtemanche, just a few doors from Mrs. Fox's house, and there they found a black coat and vest, which just filled the bill and so the party or parties took it away with them.—Lindsay Post.

Bird Foods
Explained...
Much of the seed sold and fed to birds is positively injurious to health and song. Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of Bird Seed in the market and the best for Birds? Because just as a good physician knows what is best for his patients, we having made Birds and Bird Foods a study for many years, know just what is necessary to keep Birds in health, song and brilliant plumage. Each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected Seed, with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods. Price 25c. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage, feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

HENRI ROCHEFORT.

A Famous Writer Whose Caustic Pen Got Him Into Trouble

A cable correspondent estimates that 200,000 people were at the railroad station in Paris the other day to welcome Henri Rochefort on his return to the French capital after years of exile in England. Rochefort has been called the D'Artagnan of French journalism. Daring to the point of rashness when he handled a pen, Rochefort is timid if called to plead his own cause by word of mouth. If he had been in that Paris court a few months ago when the magistrate sentenced him to three months' imprisonment for "insulting the bench" in one of his blazing leaders in the Intransigeant he would probably have made a poor appearance. But when he took up his pen and began to dissect the limb of the law who had shown his resentment by making "complete amnesty" difficult for him, the advantage was all on his side. With the lightning of his irony he so "scarified" that judge that he made him ridiculous, and in France ridicule kills.

The exile which has just come to an end is not the first to which he has been subjected. For his share in the wild doings of the commune he was condemned to death, but the sentence was commuted to transportation to New Caledonia. The story of his escape from that penal settlement and of his passing through the United States is well known. On his return to Europe, as he, of course, would not go to France, he settled down in Switzerland and lost no time in annoying the French government by his political articles and pamphlets. In 1880 an amnesty bill was passed, which restored all those implicated in the commune to France, and Henri Rochefort at once returned to Paris. He started the Intransigent—the word means one who will never compromise — and the paper rapidly obtained a large circulation. Its attacks on the government and on all public men prominent in its counsels were daily and of the most unrelenting and violent kind These attacks were in the form of a short signed leader printed in large type.

When the Boulangist movement began, Rochefort, although he had not spared General Boulanger when the latter was minister of war, became one of his warmest supporters and made the Intransigeant one of the chief organs of the party. When the government decided to crush the Boulangist, Minister Constans issued an order for the arrest of the general, Count Dillon and Rochefort. All three received timely warning and escaped to Belgium. From Brussels Rochefort continued his attacks, sending his daily article to the Intransigeant, and when the Belgian government, a few weeks later, requested him to leave the country, he went to London. In his absence he was, along with General Boulanger and Count Dillon, tried by the senate, organized as a special tribunal, found guilty of having attempted to overthrow the government, and sentenced to imprisonment. It is from the effects of this sentence that Rochefort is relieved by the amnesty bill passed the other day by the French chamber and senate.

Rochefort has been trying hard to return to France since the advent of Casimir-Perier to power, says the New York Advertiser. But it was latterly intimated to him that the door is not likely to be opened, as he is the guardian of too many dangerous and compromising secrets. It was the anger awakened by this news which prompted the article that caused the government's anger. The government has not forgotten the Boulanger business and the important role which the great journalist played in it. Rochefort may almost be said to have created Boulanger. He acted as keeper to the elephant during the early months of the campaign. But he is too adroit to be left with an elephant on his hands, and he was getting well out of the affair when the crash came. It was not exactly the thing to desert the poor, misguided general when the cardhouse was falling about his ears. But Rochefort claims that he could not do otherwise. He had counted on seeing the general triumphantly parading through Europe on his famous black charger, and it made him furious to find his scheme a failure and to have that failure complicated with enforced absence from Paris.

Besides he found General Boulanger altogether too feeble in presence of adversity. To a man with the iron nerves of Rochefort, who had looked down the muzzle of the pistol of General de Gallifet's aid-de-camp when he was arrested without flinching; who had not murmured during the months in prison; who had refused chances to escape before the trial came on, and who had been able to build up a great newspaper enterprise after touching bottom, socially and financially—the plastic, yielding nature of Boulanger was incomprehensible.

In his quality of gentleman allied to the cause of the people he pleased the masses better than if he had sprung directly from their ranks.

He was poor as poverty, and when he began to write his caustic political chroniques in the Figaro he had not a hundred francs to his name. In eighteen months he had risen to the command of a salary of $400 monthly for contributing three columns per week, and he got a bonus when he had his contract. From that time forward Rochefort has made journalism pay in the sense that painters and actors who are successful make their professions pay.

Rochefort's Lanterne lighted the empire to its tomb, and illuminated the bold writer's way to parliamentary life. But in the arena of debate he does not seem to have been an imposing figure. When it was dangerous merely to utter the word republican in France it was natural that his appearance in the corps legislatif should have given him prominence. People expected too much of him, and they were disappointed. His true role was then, as it is now, in aggressive journalism; in the article which draws blood every time.

For years Rochefort has been rich. When he started the Intansigeant, a journal devoted to the proletariat, he was living in a sumptuously furnished little mansion, and spent more on his breakfast than a workman's whole expense for a week. Luck comes to him when it is needed. It was luck which prompted the banker, Edmond Adam, to send the 26,000 francs which opened the way to Rochefort's escape from the penal colony of Noumea. It was luck which prevented his recapture and ignominious return to Australia. And now luck has brought him amnesty again. He has been amnested so often that he begins to look upon the operation as a periodical necessity. Yet this time he feels the triumph keenly. And he feels that there is still room for him in the militant politics of the third republic.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION,

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Weather.

Probs.—Fine today; not much change in temperature; showers in some localities tomorrow.

New Insurance Manager.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, B.A., has accepted the appointment of district manager for Peterborough and surrounding counties, for the North American Life Assurance Company. He is having his offices in the Cox block beautifully and tastily fitted up, and will occupy them in a few days.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 651 Stewart street.

A National Labor Day.

Monday, September 2nd, has been declared a public holiday by the Ontario Government, and will be generally observed as such throughout the province. A lacrosse match in town and an excursion down the river are all that has been announced so far to mark the holiday in Peterborough.

Horses Wanted.

All persons having horses to dispose of should await the visit of Mr. W. J. Pearson, the horse buyer, who is prepared to give the highest prices for a carload of good sound horses of every description. He is billed as follows: White's hotel, Peterborough, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 4th, 6th and 7th; Crocker's hotel, Millbrook, Thursday, Sept. 5th.

Church Notices.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. A. De Barritt will speak in St. Paul's, and at the Charlotte street church in the evening. His last meeting in Peterborough will be at the George street church the following Monday night. Admission free. He leaves for Toronto the following Tuesday morning. A thanks offering from the Bethany congregation has been received by Mr. De Barritt.

A Brave Deed Recognized.

The brave deed of young Ephraim Godfrey, of Young's Point, who rescued two companions from drowning, will be remembered by our readers, who will be pleased to learn that his heroism has been recognized by the Royal Canadian Humane Association. At a recent meeting of the investigation governors, held in Hamilton, young Godfrey was awarded the Association's bronze medal.

Harvest Festival.

Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Aug. 31st, Sept. 1st and 2nd are the dates of the S. A. harvest festival this year. The citizens of Peterborough, also the farmers of the country have done grandly. Gifts of all kinds have been given. Saturday and Sunday the barracks is going to be beautifully decorated with the gifts; going to be a beautiful display of God's handiwork. A sale of all the goods on Monday night 8 o'clock.

The Tent Blew Down.

At the Driving Park yesterday afternoon, the uncovered part of the grand stand was shaded by two large tents, held by ropes fastened to stout poles in front of the stand. There was a strong wind blowing and just as one of the races was about to start, the wind caught the tent with such force as to snap the poles and down went the canvas on the heads of those underneath. Fortunately nobody was hurt, although several ladies were badly frightened.

Patron's Harvest Home.

A mammoth Harvest Home picnic and excursion, under the auspices of the Patrons of Industry is to take place on Monday next, Sept. 2 (Labor Day) to Jubilee Point. Prof. Mills, of Guelph Agricultural College; Mr. C. Mallory, Grand President Patrons of Industry; E. H. Hilborn and others have possitively agreed to be present and address the meeting. Steamer City of Peterborough at 8 a.m., and locks at 8.15, calling at all points on river, and returning at 7.30. Round trip tickets 40 cents, from Peterborough and 35 cents from locks. Steamers from all points on Rice Lake and River Trent. This is the trip of the season. Good music in attendance.

Post Office Notice.

The Post Office Department has found it necessary to issue instructions to postmasters in order to correct a very common misapprehension in regard to the postage on open or unsealed letters. The fact is that a letter which has been left open is not on that account entitled to any reduction in postage. A letter or any communication of writing serving the purpose of one, must be prepaid at letter rate, whether the envelope containing it is open or closed; and if any letter goes forward insufficiently prepaid, the postmaster at the receiving office is charged to be careful to collect double the deficient postage on delivery.

Twenty Thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking of his beauties. He ships them by mail and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 65 King street west

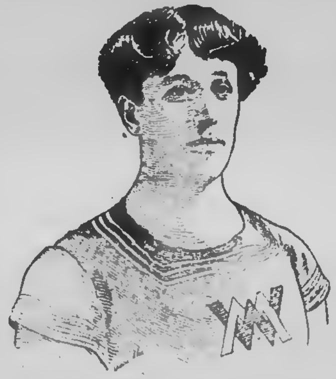
THE BICYCLE "FLYERS."

AMERICAN CIRCUIT RACES AT THE DRIVING PARK.

Coulter Lowers the Canadian One Mile Record—Fast Time Made on a Fast Track—King Wins the Novice—The Winners of the Events.

Fully one thousand people were in attendance at the bicycle races in the Driving Park yesterday afternoon, and they witnessed splendid and fast riding. The weather was fine, but perhaps a little warm, the track was in excellent condition and several seconds faster than when the last racing was held two weeks ago. In fact the good condition of the track was immediately remarked by the riders.

The American cyclists arrived in the morning on a special car. The American circuit is almost completed and in consequence many of the flyers have dropped out, so that the number of entries was not so large as expected. This obviated the racing in heats at the track, and enabled the officials to get through with the long program of events much earlier in the evening than would otherwise have been the case. All the events were run off without delay. Some of the riders objected to the time limit in one or two events, but were firmly held to it by the officials. In the class A. one mile open event, a strong protest was made against the time limit of 2.25, and some of the entries refused to ride. The event was run with only three riders at the tape, and was paced by a class B tandem. Loughead, the class A champion of Canada, came in first in 2.09 4-5, proving that the officials had not fixed a restrictive time limit. Loughead rode a splendid race in this event, and humped over the tape fully 75 yards ahead of Gardner.



MONTE SCOTT, WHO CAME IN SECOND IN THE TWO MILE OPEN—HE IS A NEW YORK RECORD BREAKER.

Official Referee Orr was not present, but Mr. Dryer's, a member of the C.W.A racing board, acted in his stead.

Lionel King won the one mile novice event yesterday, riding a splendid race, and easily winning. King rode in splendid form and gives great promise of coming to the front in the future.

In the class B, one mile tandem race, Young and Brown of Toronto, the only Canadians who started, won from the American riders, and crossed the tape amid great cheering. The American entries made a barefaced attempt to foul the Canadians on the bell lap, but were sadly left and the Canadians shot by them and won first place.

The different events were run off as follows:—

CLASS A—ONE MILE NOVICE.

Entries—F J Smith, Campbellford; E Lord, T. Lush, Peterborough. Won by—
Lionel King, 1; T Lush, 2; Time, 2 35.

CLASS B—ONE MILE OPEN.

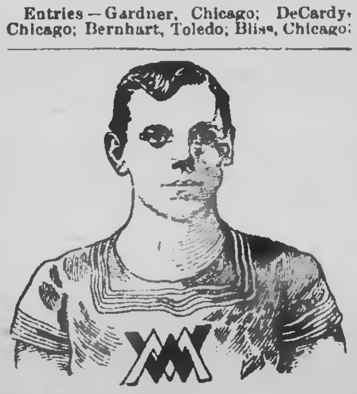
Entries—Tom Cooper, Detroit; Dr. Brown, Cleveland; Gus Steele, Chicago; C R Coulter, Mansfield, O.; F. R. Rigby, Toledo, O.; H H Maddox, Chicago; A McLeod, Sarnia. Won by—
Dr. Brown, 1; C R Coulter, 2; F R Rigby, 3 Time, 2.07.

CLASS A—QUARTER MILE OPEN.

Entries—H R Morris, Mich.; C D Spittal, Ottawa; A D McKellar, Toronto; Bert Macdonald, Ottawa; R Gardner, Toronto; F. Loughead, Sarnia. Won by—
F. Loughead, 1; A D McKellar, 2; R Gardner, 3. Time 31 2 5 seconds. This is the best time for one quarter mile, made since the circuit left the States.

CLASS B—HALF MILE HANDICAP.

Entries—Gardner, Chicago; DeCardy, Chicago; Bernhart, Toledo; Bliss, Chicago; Wells, Toronto; Walker, Peterborough; Young, Toronto. Won by—
M G Walker, 1; A E Young, 2; Marshal Wells, 3, time 1.01. This was Walker's first race in class B, and he rode a splendid race.



W. DECARDY, A CHICAGO FLYER WHO RODE YESTERDAY.

CLASS A—ONE MILE HANDICAP.

Entries—Morris, Spittal, Smith, Gardner, Loughead, Ramsey, Laler, Tilt, McDonald, King, Evans, McKellar. Won by—
Loughead, 1; Gardner, 3. Time, 2.17 2.5

CLASS B—ONE MILE TANDEM.

Entries—Young and Brown, Toronto; Bainbridge and Anderson, Chicago. Won by—Young and Brown, 1; Bainbridge and Anderson, 2. Time, 2.10.

CLASS A—ONE MILE OPEN.

Entries—Morris, Spittal, Macdonald, Gardner, Tilt, Loughead, McKellar, Won by—
Loughead, 1; Gardner, 2. Time, 2.09 4-5.

CLASS B.—ONE MILE HANDICAP.

Entries—Gardiner, DeCardy, Bernhart, Bliss, Kennedy, Wells, McCarthy, Scott, Cooper, McLeod, Young, Coulter, Anderson. Won by—
A McLeod, 1; O P Bernhart, 2; A D Kennedy, 3. Time 2.17 2-5.

CLASS B.—TWO MILE OPEN.

Entries—Gardner, Scott, Cooper, Brown, Coulter, DeCardy, Bliss, Rigby. Won by—Tom Cooper, 1; Monte Scott, 2; J P Bliss, 3.

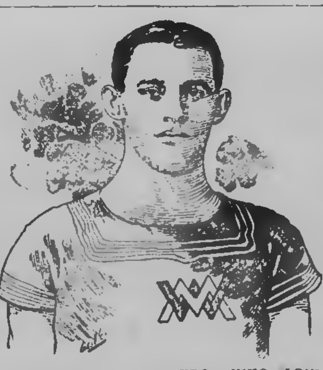
ONE MILE RECORD LOWERED.

C. P. Coulter, of Toledo, Ohio, a member of the Morgan and Wright team, rode an exhibition mile against the Canadian record of 1.59 and lowered it to 1 57 4-5. It was a splendid exhibition of riding, and Coulter was enthusiastically cheered as he rode in front of the grand stand. Coulter left Toledo and went to Waterloo at the recent C.W.A. meet, for the special purpose of winning the $1,000 horse offered by Mr. J. E. Seagram as a prize. He accomplished his purpose and won the prize.

A FAST TRACK.

The time made yesterday in some of the events proves that Peterborough has the fastest track in Canada, outside of the ⅓ mile track at Toronto Island. The Class B two mile open event, was raced in 4.31, the fastest made for two miles on the Canadian circuit. There is no doubt that the fast time made yesterday will help to bring the C.W.A. meet of 1896 to Peterborough.



C. P. COULTER, OF TOLEDO, WHO LOWERED THE ONE MILE CANADIAN RECORD TO 1.57 4-5.

THE PRIZES AWARDED.

The successful riders were awarded their prizes last night in the skating rink by Mayor Kendry. A large crowd of citizens were present and as each winner stepped forward to receive his diamond he was loudly cheered. The rink was tastily decorated with flags and bunting and presented a pretty appearance. The Fire Brigade Band was in attendance and after the presentations a promenade concert was held.

The riders left last night for Montreal.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

A Meeting Called for This Evening—Other Sports.

The season for Rugby football is almost here, and this game will be the go in a week or so. Peterborough has splendid talent in this line, and tonight a meeting will be held in the Palace restaurant parlors for the purpose of organizing.

A Rugby football club was organized at the Collegiate Institute Thursday afternoon with the following officers:

Hon. President—C A Fessenden, M.A.
President—W J Drope.
Vice President—W C Philip,
Secretary Treasurer—Harold Lewis.
Committee—Jim Hamilton, Garnet Bell, Pat Kelly, Kennedy Gray, and Jack Fessenden.

LACROSSE MONDAY.

The lacrosse match at the Driving Park on Monday (Labor Day) between the Athletics and the Markham, should be exciting, as the latter is a strong aggregation, and the Athletics will put on a strong team. There will not be many more lacrosse matches in Peterborough this season, and this opportunity of witnessing a good game should not be missed.

LATEST FROM SLOPEVILLE.

From our own Correspondent.

Weather continues very showery.

The farmers are nearly all finished with the harvest.

Mr. Wm. Walsh sprained his ankle while playing in a football match here on Monday last.

Mr. A. Whibbs, blacksmith, of Cobble town, has put in a tender for the sharpening the picks and drills for the Trent Valley canal. Success to you Gusht!

Mr. P. Whibbs is starting a new wood yard in the village. Mr. Whibbs will locate his yard on the east side of Bollivar Park, where he will pay the highest cash price for poplar, maple, mahogany and punkwood.

Mr. D. O'Leary, of Dowds Rapids, passed through the village on Monday morning for Lakefield. Mr. O'Leary is an old superintendent of canals and aqueducts and was calling to inspect the proposed route of the Trent Valley canal.

Mr. Wm. Allen, of Fitzville, passed through Slopeville on his road to Flynville for the purpose of initiating several new members into the Lime Juice Club. Bro. Allen had in his possession a fine Alpaca goat which he purchased from Louis McDonald and which will make a benevolent offering in the Hall of Wisdom in the latter village.

A semi annual meeting of the Lime Juice Club was held at Lodge 21, Block Road, on Monday last. Bro. Bahaly filled the chair and Bro. C. Quinlan read the minutes. It was moved by Bro. Corkery and seconded by Bro. J. Conroy, That all dogs not bearing tags should be shot without judge or jury. The Hall of Wisdom was filled to the door to hear Bro. T. Heffernan give his interesting lecture on the "Modern Pea Threshing of the Nineteenth Century." The meeting was closed by Bro. Frank Fitzgerald's solo "The Ha Ha's Nest with a hi he's egg in it."

LATEST FROM CHANDOS.

Correspondence Morning Times.

A meeting was called on Saturday evening for the purpose of discussing the organization of an Orange Lodge in Chandos. A most enthusiastic gathering responded to the notice and we believe that the ranks of the followers of King William will be augumented by a L.O.L from Chandos before next July.

Miss Clare Barriage and Mr. Wilson Hoard were the guests of Mr. Terrill on Sunday.

Jonas was painting the township red on Sunday.

All worshippers of Terpischore gathered at Mr. Charles Rusaw's on Monday evening, and soon the enlivening strains of the violin and the sound of tripping feet were heard. Mr. Hugh McDougall was the master of ceremonies, and music was furnished by the Chandos orchestra in their usual efficient manner.

Things we would like to know:—
Who stole the cake?
When the thief will be caught?
Why all the young men took a stroll up west before the party?
What is the attraction for our boys across the lake?
Where Bob was on Sunday?
What will stop a dog from barking at pedestrians after sundown?

LATEST FROM FRASERVILLE.

Correspondence Morning Times.

Mr. Robert Stewart shipped a carload of pigs and sheep on Monday.

Whils loading a car with sheep on Monday night Mr. D. Haskill, of Ballieboro, had the misfortune to loose three sheep, two of which he recovered next morning, but the other has not turned up yet. However there is a good pasture around here and the missing one may turn up fat and sleek before next shipping day.

A wrestling bout took place here last night between two of our local sports. Some money was placed on the result and the young John L. won by throwing his adversary best three in five. Several prominent men viewed the match and decided it was the best seen in some time.

THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Changes and Failures Throughout all Ontario

J. J. Lambke, boots and shoes, Walkerton, has assigned to the sheriff.

E. H. Cuddy, men's furnishings, Brampton, has assigned to E. H. Tremeer.

Taylor & Smeellie, grocers, Brussels, have dissolved.

J. E. Potts, general merchant, Staples, has assigned to C. B. Armstrong.

Daniel McLean, the well-known leather merchant, assigned last night to E. R. C. Clarkson. The business he has been doing lately has been small and his liabilities will probably not exceed $5,000. The assets nominally exceed that amount.

Railway Notes.

Workmen are today busy repairing the coal chutes at Waubaushene.

By a recent treasury ruling, repairs made in Canada to locomotives and cars of international railways are not dutiable.

The five air break engines which have been in service on the main line handling the Knights' Templars excursions returned yesterday.

A ballasting train is still at work on the "missing link" bridge, near Omemee. It is expected that when they get through the work there will be no more bother with it.

The Visit Cancelled.

THE TIMES made the announcement yesterday that Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, the new president of the Grand Trunk Railway, would arrive in town Firday morning accompanied by Vice-president Jos. Price and other officials of the road.

In the afternoon Station Agent Hayden had been notified that the officials were at Belleville and would come up by the Grand Junction on a tour of inspection. The G.T.R. station and offices were made ready for the visit of the railroad magnate, and Mr. Hayden had everything in splendid shape for the president's inspection.

The Mayor heard of the intended visit and was to have called a Council meeting to arrange a reception to the distinguished president, but yesterday morning word was received that the visit had been cancelled and the officials went by the main line from Belleville to Toronto. Mr. Hayden expects a visit from Mr. Price, the vice-president, in the near future, but he does not think the president will have the time to inspect this division.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail for 50 cents. Dr Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co. Last of the Season:

To-day half-holiday is the last of the summer series, and to-day's early closing ends the 5 o'clock movement for the present.

We believe in considering the welfare of salespeople. We also believe in considering the interests of shoppers.

Closing at 5 o'clock daily and at 1 o'clock Saturdays during the summer months is a wise move every way. Judged by the sales increase it is a most emphatic success.

But next week and the weeks to come will bring us all the trade we can attend to, and no single interest must be neglected

Over 1,100 employees have enjoyed the summer immensely and are ready now for all the business there is. That's why we emphasize the fact that—

Beginning next week the store will close at 6 O'CLOCK
every day, including Saturdays.

School Needs:

Soon be time to think of something else besides play. We've anticipated every possible need of boys and girls, and are ready now with—
—School Suits
—School Dresses
—School Shoes
—School Hats
—School Books
in vast assortment, at seemingly impossible prices. You can figure on paying less this year than last, and getting better satisfaction. That's the goal we aim at—better and better values all the while.

Shoe Leather:

The Shoe man is very emphatic in praise of his stock. That's natural. Who wouldn't be with such styles and values? But that means little or nothing to you. You want facts to judge by, and a chance to pick up bargains if there are any. Perhaps these items are what you've been looking for:

—Men's Patent French Calf Laced Boots, latest New York style, Goodyear welt, razor or pointed toe, in size from 6 to 10, the prettiest boot in Canada; regular price $5.50, Saturday morning at........ $4.00

—Men's Canadian Calf Laced Boots, with patent leather toe cap, medium or wide toe, McKay sewn, in sizes 6 to 10 and plenty of them; regular price $2.50, Saturday morning at........... 1.50

—Ladies' Black Over Gaiters, 50c quality, hundreds of pairs to select from, at...... .39

We handle Shoes as thoroughly as though we had nothing to sell but Shoes. No old styles! No fancy profits. Selling at dry goods prices gives us such an advantage over the trade that you can't afford to ignore.

Corset Special:

On Saturday morning we offer the following special.

—Fine Drab Strip Corset, long waist, 5-hook, size 18 to 26; regular price 65c, Saturday., .25

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

HOLMES' MURDER PLOTS.

STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM IN HOWARD'S CASE.

His Movements in Indianapolis—Druggists Identify the Fiend at First Sight—Shot From Ambush—Five Persons Killed by Lightning.

Special to the Times.

LEXINGTON, Aug. 31.—A feud has broken out at the headquarters of Strait Creek, in Harlan County. Several men have been killed during the past few weeks. The Helton, Brooks, and Taylor families are the ones who are engaged in the war.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—A special to the Chronicle from the city of Mexico says lightning struck a house near Croix yesterday, killing five persons, and seriously injurying four.

MRS. PARTRIDGE GRAND MASTER.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—The general grand chapter of the order of Eastern Star this afternoon elected for Most Worshipful Grand Master, Mrs. Mary E. Partridge, of Oakland, Cal.

A CONVICTED FORGER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Alonzo J. Whiteman, convicted of forging a cheque for $500, was sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary today by Judge Wallace. A stay of thirty days was granted, so that an appeal can be prepared. Whiteman is an ex-member of the State Senate of Minnesota. He gambled or dissipated away two or three hundred thousand dollars which he inherited, and then became noted as a professional swindler.

MURDERED HIS GIRL.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 31.—A special to the Journal from Johnstown says: A horrible murder was committed this morning on Gas street, in this city. Miss Teresa Komaryn, a beautiful girl, 22 years old, was killed by her lover, Joseph Flamal, thirty years old. Both are Slavs, and they were to have been married within a month. The victim's throat had been cut by a razor, inflicting a gaping wound four inches long, entirely severing the left jugular vein. After murdering his victim, Flamal cut his own throat, from which he bled freely, though he will recover. There is great excitement in the city, and the Slavs and Hungarians would no doubt lynch Elamal if they could get hold of him.

WAS MURDERED BY HOLMES.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—Coroner Carter's jury has brought in a verdict that the remnants of the body found in the chimney hole of the house at Irvington are the remains of young Howard Peitzel, and that he came to his death through the instrumentality of cyanide of potassium, administered by H. H. Holmes. John Navin said that Holmes visited his store frequently. during the first week of October, Several times he purchased a solution of cocaine, and one time called for four grains of morphine, dissolved a two drachm vial of water. Dr. Navin readily recognized him by the photograph, Druggist Perry sold Holmes at one time a pound of chloroform. This was on the 2nd of October, Holmes several times lounged about his drug store, accompanied by a little boy, whom he said was his son, and for whom he bought candies. As recognized by the photograph, the boy was little Howard.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

BUFFALO, N.Y., August 31.—The little village of Fort Erie is in a state of excitement over an outbreak of lawlessness. Within the last two days there has been an attempt at murder and a bold highway robbery. Joseph Ellis, manager of several land companies, while driving to his home Tuesday night was fired at from ambush in a lonely spot. The bullet missed, and the horse becoming frightened ran away. Three more shots were fired, but did no injury, and later Ellis gathered a posse and sought his assailants, but found no trace of them. A young lady who witnessed the affair, however, saw the would-be murderer, and today Thos. Badger, a well-know character of the village and a relative of his attempted victim, was arrested. He will be tried tomorrow.

WHAT LORD DUNRAVEN SAYS.

He is Non-Committal as to His Yacht—His Personal Appearance.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Earl of Dunraven, who arrived last night, was inclined to be uncommunicative at first, but after a good dinner he gave the reporters a few words. Lord Dunraven is an old sea dog, and he enjoyed the rough weather the Teutonic experienced. Lord Dunraven's appearance has not changed any since his last visit here two years ago. He is rather below the medium height, and has an iron gray moustache and a prominent nose. He is also somewhat bald.

In regard to the prospects of the Valkyrie, he said he knew very little of her abilities as yet, and opinioned that those who saw her performances here were better able to judge of her racing qualities than he. He said he was disappointed because Valkyrie had been painted black and it is probable that she will wear a new coat.

The Earl declined to be interviewed on the chances of the Valkyrie. A list of questions was presented to him after dinner and he courteously replied to them. The questions and answers were as follows:

"Will the Valkyrie return to England at once after the races or when will she go back?" "Depends upon the weather," was his Lordship's reply.

"Will she take part in any local races?" "I did not know there were any," he answered.

"Will you challenge again if Defender wins?" "Sufficient for the day is the evil thereof."

"Do you consider favorably the idea of building 75 footers hereafter instead of 90 footers for international racing?" "Yes, decidedly."

BRITAIN AND CHINA.

A Demand for the Recall of the Former's Ambassador.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says that the Tsung Li Yamen, or Chinese foreign office has instructed the Chinese Minister in London to procure the recall of the British Ambassador at Pekin, Sir R N Connor, owing to the menacing attitude in connection with the demands made by Great Britain for the appointment of a commission to enquire into the Ke Chung massacres.

TROOPS FOR CUBA.

Twelve Hundred Reach Havana—Insurgents Score a Victory.

Special to The Times.

HAVANA, Aug. 31.—The steamer Cataluna having on board 146 Spanish officers and 1,200 troops, as well as a battery of artillery, arrived here from Spain today. The city and the vessels in the harbor were decorated with flags and large crowds of people were assembled to welcome the reinforcements.

It is announced in Government circles that a lieutenant of infantry, named Lobos Grandos, being informed that a number of insurgents had attacked a plantation near Macagua, went there with 17 soldiers and encountered an insurgent force of 360 men, commanded by Bermeduz, and after a stubborn fight the lieutenant and 14 of the soldiers were killed. The three remaining members of the detachment escaped and joined the main body of Spanish troops. The insurgents, it is asserted, retired and left many dead and wounded on the field. It was stated in official circles today that a detachment of 200 insurgents recently surprised a guard of soldiers and volunteers who occupied a small fort at Mordazo. The troops are said to have deen betrayed by a native officer, who allowed the insurgents to enter the fort. Two civil guards and one volunteer, it is added, were wounded, and a sergeant, a corporal, and two soldiers of the Government forces were also wounded. The insurgents captured all the arms, ammunition and medicine in the fort.

TURKEY STARVING ARMENIANS.

Effective Obstacles Placed in the Way of Distribution of Relief Supplies.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Duke of Westminster, who is vice-chairman of the English Committee formed for the relief of the Armenians from outrages at the hands of the Turks, received today full reports showing the inhumanity of the Turkish officials at Sassoon, who have put every possible obstacle in the way of the distribution of food, clothing, medicines and other forms of relief among the starving Armenians. The report received by the Duke assert that many Armenians are dying each day because of the systematic cruelties practised by the Turks in the respects mentioned. Urgent representations have been forwarded to Lord Salisbury of the need of the immediate application of a large measure of relief, and alleging that the Turkish officials complained of are acting in accordance with the policy of the Porte, which comprehends the extermination of the remaining Armenian fugitives.

ROYALTY IN DANGER.

King Alexander of Servia Nearly Drowned—Servia's Queen Thrown from a Horse.

Special to the Times.

BIARRITZ, Aug. 31.—King Alexander of Servia nearly lost his life while bathing this morning in the Bay of Biscay. He went out swimming with an instructor. and both were carried off their feet and away from the shore by a strong current. The swimming master was drowned in spite of exertion made to save him, and King Alexander only reached the shore with the greatest difficulty.

THE QUEEN OF BELGIUM INJURED.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 31.—The Queen of Belgium, who has been staying at Spa, was thrown from her horse while jumping a ditch outside the town. Her Majesty fell on the roadway. Her head was cut, and bleeding severely.

ACCIDENT AT BARRIE.

S. Sewrey and T. Morley Seriously Injured—Lost Fingers.

Special to the Times.

BARRIE, Aug. 31.—At Sewrey's foundry this morning S. Sewrey and T. Morley were raising a large drill when some machinery gave way, allowing it to fall and collide with the workers' hands. Morley lost two fingers on his right hand and one on his left; one of his knees was seriously jammed. Sewrey lost one finger, several others being severely bruised.

CHOLERA IN HAWAII.

The Epidemic Brought There by a Chinese Boat.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Officers of the steamer Monowai report that when the Monowai arrived off Honolulu she was met by a small boat containing the American Consul, the Pacific mail agent and other officers, who called out that cholera had broken out there and that there had been eight deaths among the natives and Chinese. The epidemic broke out shortly after the China steamer Belgic arrived at Honolula, and it is supposed that the steamer brought it from China.

CHARGED WITH MURDER,

Three Small Negro Boys Said to Have Set Fire to a Playmate.

Special to the Times.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 31.—Ed, Isaacs Forran, Joe Starke and Will McCain, negroes, ranging in age from fourteen to eighteen years were committed to the City Prison last night for pouring kerosene on Edgar McAfee, fifteen years of age, in the City Park, ten days ago, setting fire to the oil and burning their victim so that he died. They will be tried for murder.

Both Reached the Century Mark.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Aug. 31.—At the House of Refuge lie the bodies of two centenarians, Robert Stewart born in 1795, in Armagh, but a resident of Oxford County from his youth, and Jessie Douglas, born Sept. 5, 1793, formerly a resident of Ingersoll.

Trouble in the Eddy Family.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—E. B. Eddy, of Hull, is being sued by his only daughter, Mrs. Bessy, for $120,000, the value of a farm willed to her by her mother. This is one of the series of law suits in the Eddy family. Mr. Eddy, not long ago, married a second time.

Hired Men Hunt Gold in Graves.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Aug. 31.—Agriculture is suffering from the lack of laborers. Farm hands have abandoned the country to search for gold in the cemeteries of old towns. It has been reported that many graves contain gold ornaments of great value, and that in one grave jewelry was found worth a million dollars.

His Body is Found.

QUARANTINE, S. I., Aug. 31.—The body of R. W. Inman was picked up at South Beach last evening. The identifying marks on the body are conclusive, and there is no doubt that it is that of the unfortunate yachtsman.

FUTURE OF THE G.T.R.

SIR CHARLES WILSON AT THE TORONTO BOARD OF TRADE.

He is Told in Plain Words That His Road is Behind the Times and in Reply Speaks of the Reforms in Contemplation.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—When Sir Charles Rivers Wilson was seen by a reporter today he was asked:—

"What is your opinion of the line between here and Montreal?"

"That," said Sir Charles, smilingly, "I shall be prepared to tell the directors over in London."

"What do you think of Toronto?"

"As far as I have seen it is a beautiful city, and certainly a hospitable one."

Sir Charles held levee in his room at the the Queen's from an early hour this morning, and every minute was filled with business. One of his earliest callers was Sir Casimir Gzowski. Robert Jaffray also dropped in to pay his respects to the new president of the Grand Trunk, and Alderman McMurrich came down from his country house at Lake Simcoe to interview Sir Charles, who is a director of the Alliance Insurance Company.

INSPECTED THE UNION STATION.

At eleven o'clock Sir Charles inspected the new Union station, and expressed himself pleased with the improvements. The freight sheds and roundhouse were also visited.

At noon Sir Charles and party attended a reception in the Board of Trade rotunda, and met a large number of merchants and manufacturers, and was not able for the very pertinent address delivered by President Stapleton Caldecott. He pointed out the importance of the G.T.R. in future progress of the country and its present faults of omission and commission.

"These," said Mr. Caldecott, "are the reforms needed to keep the G.T.R. in marching order with the progress of the country:

The appointment of a local board in Canada clothed with authority to decide at once upon important questions without reference to London.

The reduction of passenger rates not more than two cents a mile. As in England.

An improved service between Buffalo, New York and Toronto.

An improved service to Muskoka where at present the G.T.R. has afforded no worthy accommodation for tourists.

Improved rolling stock on branch lines. Canadians do not want foul smelling cars that were out of date twenty-five years ago.

A line between North Bay and Lake Temiscamingue. The G.T.R. now possesses a charter, but has done nothing toward construction. The people of Toronto will soon be looking for a railroad that will do something to that end.

In conclusion Mr. Caldecott expressed the hope that St. Charles would justify his imperial reputation by his acts. He assurred Sir Charles that what the Grand Trunk needed was the management of an able man with an enterprising spirit.

After luncheon at the Queen's Sir Charles made a tour of inspection on the G.T.R. belt line. This evening the Council of the Board of Trade will tender him an informal dinner at the Toronto Club.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

NO REDUCTION OF PASSENGER FARES—THE DEFECTIVE ROLLING STOCK.

After the usual complimentary utterances, Sir Charles took up the president's objections seriatem.

1st. With reference to the reduction of passenger fares, he thought it was not the time considering the last balance sheet of the company, to ask for further sacrifices.

2nd, With reference to a local Board, he thought that the directorate at Montreal could deal adequately with all important questions. The reason that the Board had its headquarters at London was obvious. The shareholders were there and until Canadians came forward and purchased stock more largely they were likely to remain there.

3rd. As to the defective state of rolling stock he understood that such existed only on branch lines. Every mile of these would be inspected and reported on.

4th. As for increased facilities of transport between Toronto, Buffalo and New York he understood that Toronto had carried on successful negotiations with another line for such facilities.

5th. As for the extension to North Bay and Lake Temiscamingue he was inclined to think that the English shareholders would regard it with great hesitation and difficulty. There was an idea that a great deal of the railroad's misfortune had been due to the desire for over extension.

IS MRS. KELLER GUILTY?

Her Son Now Said to be the Murderer of Albert Kempthorn.

Special to The Times.

SCRIBA, N. Y., Aug. 31.—It is now asserted that Albert Kempthorn, late of Pickering, Ont., was not shot dead by Mrs. Keller after he had assaulted her, but by her 15-year-old son, to whom Kempthorn's visits to his mother were objectionable. The inquest was opened yesterday. The story now told by Mrs. Keller differs in many particulars from her first statement, but she still maintains that the fatal shot was fired by her hand. Her son, she says, was awakened from his sleep by the report of the gun. She has not yet attempted any explanation of the condition of the murdered man's clothes. When the neighbors arrived the body was lying on the bed with no covering save a shirt. Kempthorn's coat and vest were folded and laid on the window sill and the pants lying on the floor. The son's arrest is expected.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such an enormously increased sale of the medicine.

Nervous Diseases

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of Nervous Diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, etc., that the old modes of treatment fail to cure. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by any medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is pursuing a dangerous practice. Properly treated, these diseases can be

Positively Cured

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will most assuredly do so. It is the only known power that will supply what is lacking, namely nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system. It will most assuredly cure,

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 2, 1896

Under clerical pressure a deplorably inefficient system is to be continued in the Separate schools of Ottawa for six months more. Will the Minister of Education allow this?

His Sublimity of Turkey must have had an off day when he imagined that Russia and France would take his side against Britain, who is backed by the United States and Germany.

The life insurance companies have themselves to thank for the frequent swindles. Energetic companies with swift agents, were too active in taking all kinds of risks without any precautions.

The number of murders the authorities are trying to fasten onto Holmes would lead to the belief that he has half a dozen lives and they want them all. He can only be hanged once, and if they would devote themselves towards making out one good case, it would be more embarrassing for Mr. Holmes than a dozen poor ones.

One of the brightest things ever said on the subject of prohibition was a remark made by Dr. Bayard, the venerable president of the Canadian Medical association, in his annual address to that body on Wednesday. He condemned the use of alcoholic drinks, but didn't believe in prohibition as a temperance measure. "All I will say about prohibition," he said, "is this: it was tried in the garden of Eden, and failed.

The news that the Duke of Orleans head of the Royalist party in France and claimant to the throne, had become convinced of the futility of further fighting the Republic and had abandoned the offices of the Royalist committee in Paris, will likely make his esteemed father, the Count of Paris, turn in his grave. The average man who has a knowledge of French affairs will not consider that the Duke has abandoned very much.

It looks as though the Sultan had just discovered that Great Britain, France and Russia are in earnest in proposing reforms for Armenia. His letters to the French and Russian Governments, complaining that Great Britain was too harsh in its attitude, have evoked the response that they cannot give him any encouragement. The Sultan will avoid reforms so long as he can, but if Great Britain remains firm he will be compelled to give way in time.

Great Britain's attitude on the Armenian question has caused the Porte to make complaint to France and Russia. He says that Britain's "discourteous attitude is derogatory to the prestige of the Sultan," and he therefore appeals to the other two nations to use their good offices to induce John Bull to modify his attitude. His supreme nerve excels even that of the Chinese authorities. France and Russia seem to think so, too. Their replies do not favor Turkey's contention nor give the Sultan any encouragement whatever.

The jewels which it is reports Mr. Stanford, widow of the California senator, intends to sell for the benefit of Leland Stanford, Jr., university, are valued, according to San Franisco papers, at over $2,000,000. Among the complete sets of jewels, each comprising a tiara or necklace, pendant earrings, bracelet, brooch and finger-rings, is one set of yellow diamonds, while there are some genuine black diamonds in the collection and a number of beautiful rubies, sapphires and emeralds. Some of the jewels once belonged to the Duke of Brunswick's famous collection. There are over sixty diamond finger-rings in Mrs. Stanford's jewel-box

THE HOUSEHOLD PLANTS.

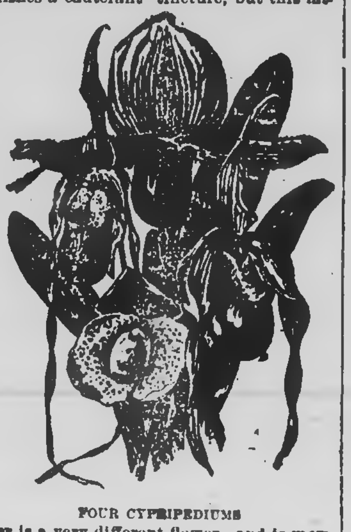
Four Varieties of the Orchid Which Anyone Can Raise Without Difficulty.

Nature is now at her best. The trees are covered with tender leaves, the grass is green in the meadows, the birds are singing their summer canticles and bees and butterflies are seeking honeyed sweets among the flowers. This is the month for flowers, and it is also a month when from the shelter of sunny greenhouses we remove out treasures to the open air, confident that no cutting wind or chilly night will mar their beauty.

Of all household plants the tenderest, perhaps, are orchids. It is only recently that they have become in any degree popular, owing to their great cost, but for a decade past they have been grown by many florists and are now within reach of nearly all. Some very rare ones cost hundreds of dollars, but the price in general varies from one to fifteen dollars, the greater number costing three and five dollars apiece. This sounds extravagant, but it is not in reality, for a careful woman will gather the seed, and thus indefinitely increase her collection.

Orchids are air plants, parasites. They are found in all tropical countries, growing on the old wood of the forest trees, giving them a many-colored glory which alone they could never attain. Nothing is more beautiful than when walking through a tropical forest, with live-oaks, palms and myrtles growing thickly together, to come upon some grand old oak with a rubber tree growing in a cleft of the trunk, and the gnarled branches almost hidden by purple, red, yellow and white orchids; some standing out boldly, a single blossom on a wiry green stem, others following the line of a branch in rows of delicate mauve blooms with a darker purple centre, and nearby a veritable cascade of delicate white flowers, a dozen or more on a single drooping vine-like stem, and, framing all, like a delicate veil, the beautiful Spanish moss (white man's shroud, the Indians called it), stretching from branch to branch and from tree to tree, as far as the eye can reach.

Our illustration shows four varieties of an orchid which any one who can raise a geranium will find no difficulty in growing. The flower affords a curious field of observation. The odd pouch, or labellum, and the variously-colored petals, sometimes invisible, again drooping in long spirals, are arranged for the best accomplishment of a definite object. The foliage, rich green, or beautifully mottled, always presents a pleasing aspect, but the crowning glory of the cypripedium is its period of bloom. If left on the plant the flowers will last in perfect condition from two to three months, and even when cut and put in water they will remain perfect for at least a month. The common name for the cypripedium is Venus' Slipper, from Cypris, one of the names of Venus and pes, pedis, the Latin for a foot. This name, in English, is sometimes applied to the "lady's slipper" which furnishes a cauterant tincture, but this latter is a very different flower, and is more correctly named "the balsam." Our illustration was drawn from a group of four distinct varieties. The leaves were plain green and spotted green. The uppermost flower had a dorsal petal of bluish white heavily veined with green and dark red; the two horizontal petals were green with maroon spots, and were edged with a species of furze. The pouch, which is almost closed, is shaded from a deep brown at the lip to a pale green at the base of the cup. The flower on the right hand is of shaded green throughout, save for the interior of the cup, which is a delicate mauve spotted with maroon and purple and flecked with light yellow. On the left is a flower of a red variety. It is of a high art shade of old rose, streaked with green and a darker tint of the same color, the cup being yellow on the inside, throwing the dark spots into high relief.



FOUR CYPRIPEDIUMS

The fourth flower in the group is almost white, tinted with a greyish green, except at the edges. The lateral petals almost enclose the pouch, which is pale yellow near its opening, and the entire blossom is spotted with a rich purple.

The general treatment for orchids is to give them an abundance of heat and water during the development of the pseudo-bulb; when this is full grown, as little water as possible till the buds appear, then more heat and more moisture, with only a little shade from the heat of the sun. Orchids vary so much that each individual one needs special directions, which can be obtained when they are purchased.

For Semi-Dress Occasions.

Taffetas are very much in vogue for semi-dress occasions. Some are shown in changeable effects with fine stripes and chine figures between the stripes. Some others are of plaid, often a fine line of black on a colored ground covered with chine flowers. Many of the favorite taffetas are small checks, never larger than half an inch; they also come in glace and chenille effects and in a rainbow, chine, Watteau, pointille and Persian patterns. Somewhat akin to them are the Pompadour, Bengalines and foulards with ombre grounds; then there are gros de Londres in brocaded stripes and quite novel three-toned effects, and duchesse silks and satins in every imaginable color. These silks are rivaled by the dainty figured Habutai silks in checks, stripes and plaids, and Shanntungs delicately printed in monochrome and in mixed tints

Black and white in combination are much seen; but the stripes are closer and narrower than during the winter season. One novelty in this particular is the trimming of white muslins with black lace, and this gives an enlivening touch to the dead white which is so unbecoming to the majority of people. It is quite a fad to finish a bodice with a large black velvet bow placed where the yoke and arm's eye join.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

"PRAY FOR ME."

A Preacher Ridiculed the Church. His Tongue Paralyzed.

Special to the Times.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 30.—William Hague Wood, once a noted Methodist lay preacher, turned infidel. He attended a revival meeting several nights last week at High Shoals, and ran an opposition meeting outside the church. He made nightly addresses declaring that the preachers were talking nonsense and were trying to fool the people. Suddenly his tongue was paralyzed while he was making a speech, ridiculing the Church. This frightened his hearers.

To-night Wood attended the meeting and handed up the following note to the preacher in charge: "I now believe there is a hell and that I am doomed for it. Pray for me." The sensation in the church was such that in less than five minutes the altar would not accommodate half the mourners. The meeting will probably last all night.

Horrible Murder Committed.

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 30.—A special to the Journal from Johnstown says:—A horrible murder was committed this morning on Gas street in this city. Miss Teresa Komarny, a beautiful girl 22 years old, was killed by her lover, Josef Flamal, thirty years old. Both are Slavs and they were to have been married within a month. The victim's throat had been cut by a razor inflicting a gaping wound four inches long, entirely severing the left jugular vein. After murdering his victim Flamal cut his own throat from which he bled freely, though he will recover.

FORMATION OF COAL.

In Some Places the Perfect Form of the Decayed Trees Have Been Found.

The formation of coal, according to Dr. Homer Greene's cosmical theory, was due to the solar orb bringing forth, millions of years ago, when it was larger and hotter than to-day, a wonderfully luxuriant vegetation, including plants of strange kinds, mosses as large as forest trees, and ferns thirty feet in height, growing up richly from the clayey soil and forming dense jungles in the vast marshes, the latter covering great areas of the earth's surface; these ferns, mosses, and the leaves, branches, and trunks of trees in time falling and decaying where they grew, only to render the soil more fertile and the next growth more luxuriant—year after year, century after century, this process of growth and decay going on, until the beds of vegetable matter thus deposited became of great thickness; the earth's body, however, still continued to shrink, in consequence of which her crust at times contracted and fell in, the land then sinking throughout vast areas, the beds of vegetable matter going down and the water sweeping again over the great marshes. Sand and mud and gravel were laid down anew over the deposits, and the clayey soil from which the next rich growth would spring was spread out on the surface, this process being repeated again and again, as often, indeed, as seams of coal in any coal bed.

In this way, according to Dr. Greene, the conditions for the formation of coal were made complete, atmospheric air being entirely excluded while the vegetable beds underwent the processes of decomposition, so that in some beds of coal whole trees have been found, with roots, branches, leaves and seeds complete, and all converted into the same kind of coal as that by which they were surrounded.

LINCOLN'S COUSIN A PAUPER.

Resembles the Martyred President, and Proves His Family Relationship.

The discovery has been made that John Lincoln, eighty-six years old, a cousin of ex-President Abraham Lincoln, is in the almshouse at Reading, Pa. His features much resemble those of the martyred president. His mind has given way, and his answers to questions are very childish. He is a son of Thomas Lincoln, a wealthy farmer and hotel keeper, who died in 1859. John inherited $30,000, and in his time was regarded as a great sport. His money went rapidly, and he was finally compelled, through family estrangements, to go to the county almshouse. His wife, Mrs. Annie Lincoln, died at her home in Exeter a few years ago, and this circumstance recalled the fact that the husband still lived and was a ward of the county. During the war John Lincoln made a trip to Washington and called on the president, and the two cousins had quite a lengthy chat, during which their relationship was fully established.

Two Colossal Children.

The quaint little town of St. Nicholas, in East Flanders, boasts the possession of two children of such extraordinary abnormal growth as to put completely in the shade all similar infant prodigies of the past or present. These Brobdignagian youngsters are boy and girl. The older, Master Clement Smedst, is fifteen years of age and weighs no less than 420 pounds; the circumference of his body is six feet six inches; he measures thirty-six inches around the leg and twenty-eight inches around the arm. His sister, Bertha, is eight years old, and turns the scale at 224 pounds. In spite of their dimensions their activity is remarkable, for they trip and skip about with all the agility of other children of an equal age. It is an astonishing sight to see these infant mountains of humanity romping about in country lanes with other children of the village. One would imagine them to be the offspring of a race of giants, so high do they tower over the heads of their little playfellows. Their appearance is interesting, both having extremely handsome and regular features. Bertha, like other girls of tender years, delights in nursing a doll, which seems ludicrously out of place and proportion in the arms of the young giantess. The couple are attracting the attention of the country around, and on fine days crowds of people flock into the quiet little town in order to catch a glimpse of these colossal children.

Mexico's Varied Climate.

For variety of climate New Mexico is said to lead the other territories of the Union. This is due in part to her extent from north to south, covering as it does seven degrees of latitude. More still is perhaps due to differences in altitude, which, within her borders, ranges from 4,000 to 16,000 feet. Conditions of aridity and rarefaction and highly electrical conditions of the atmosphere dependent upon altitude increase the diversity beyond the mere question of cold and heat. In establishing an arbor day for the territory the legislature at first selected two days, one for the northern and the other for the southern half of New Mexico, but these proved insufficient to meet the conditions of climate to all localities. So the designation of the day in each county is now left with the county school superintendent, who is supposed to fix it at the best season for tree planting in his locality.

Simple Cure for Lockjaw.

A writer in Clark's Horse Review gives his experience in curing lockjaw, in which he says: "If a nail is picked up get it out, of course, as soon as possible; then get a half pail of hot water—as hot as the horse can possibly stand it—pour in plenty of vinegar and also plenty of salt. This is all, only it must be so hot that at first when you put the horse's foot in it he will pull the foot out of the water; put in again; and hold the foot in steadily. Hold it in an hour or longer and repeat it again after two hours. Do this at least four times or more the first day and repeat the process next day. In nine cases out of ten it will save the horse. It has been tried on man, and I used it myself on my own horse. Some one may say that this remedy is no good, but if I had a valuable horse it is the remedy I would try. Nothing will kill the poison quicker if taken in time."

These are Chinese Maxims.

When the sword is rusty, the plough bright, the prisons empty, the granaries full, the steps of the temples worn down and those of the law courts grass grown, when doctors go afoot, the bakers on horseback, and the men of letters drive in their own carriages, the empire is well governed.—L'Arlequin.

Modern Buildings.

"How was it the building fell down with a crash?"

"One of the bricklayers took a pinch of snuff, contrary to strict orders; he was compelled to sneeze and—the mischief was done!"—Dorfbarbier.

Bird Foods Explained . . .

Much of the seed sold and fed to birds is positively injurious to health and song. Why is C. B. S. the most valuable packet of Bird Seed in the market and the best for Birds? Because just as a good physician knows what is best for his patients, we having made Birds and Bird Foods a study for many years, know just what is necessary to keep Birds in health, song and brilliant plumage. Each packet of C. B. S. contains 16 ounces of a proper mixture of clean, nutritious and carefully selected Seed, with no waste about it, also a 5c. cake of our Patent Bird Bread, thus giving 15c. worth good value for 10c. For other reasons read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods. Price 25c. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage, feed Cottam's Bird Seed. For sale by all the best grocers and druggists.

LIFE.

And life, at best,
Is vague unrest—
A shadow ever moving.
A little rare,
A little prayer,
A little hopeless loving.

A breath of light
Blown through the night,
Intangible and fleeting;
The sum of years
Is in our tears,
Our parting and our meeting.

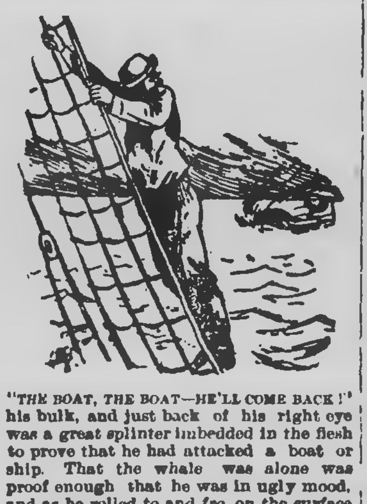
And some sad day
We pause and say
We're tired of its keeping,
A little sigh—
The world goes by,
And leaves us to our sleeping.

KING OF THE SEA.

By M. Quad.

We had four boats out for the school of whales, which were slowly making their way to windward, and the three or four of us left to mind the ship were beating slowly against the lazy breeze, when the carpenter suddenly uttered a shout of alarm and pointed to the north. The sight we saw made every man hold his breath. A great bull whale, fully ninety feet long and of enormous girth, was breaching. He shot out of the water, until it seemed to us that he rested on his tail alone, and being not over a quarter of a mile away, it was as if a great pillar of stone had been shot up from the bottom of the sea by some mighty power. The huge body held its poise while you could have counted thirty. Then it leaned to the south and toppled over like a giant tree under the blows of the ax, and the crash was like the collapse of a brick building. There was no sea on when he appeared, but directly after his fall three great waves came rushing down upon us, and the ship was tossed and buffeted for the moment as if facing a howling gale.

It was not that the monster had breached so near us that turned every face white with fear as he fell, but it was what we had seen during the half minute his gray-black body was exposed. There were two harpoons sticking into him, with their lines coiled many times about his bulk, and just back of his right eye was a great splinter imbedded in the flesh to prove that he had attacked a boat or ship. That the whale was alone was proof enough that he was in ugly mood, and as he rolled to and fro on the surface and beat the water into foam we realized that he must be in pain as well. No man moved hand nor foot for five minutes, but the creaking of the yards and the slatting of the sails betrayed us. With a single sweep of his flukes the whale slewed himself around until he was head on, and as we stared at him it was like looking upon a great bowlder lying upon the foaming surface of the sea. He seemed to be deliberating for two or three minutes on a plan of attack, and then slowly swam to windward, as if he had decided to attack the boats. At the distance of half a mile, and just as we had began to feel relieved, the monster slewed about and came for the ship under full headway. Every man cried out in terror and sprang into the mizzen shrouds, but before anyone was thirty feet high the whale had passed us astern. The wheel having been deserted, the ship had broached to, and this action had upset the plans of the whale. It was such a close shave, however, that he carried the rudder away as he passed and rolled a sea over her quarter which flooded the decks two feet deep.



"THE BOAT, THE BOAT—HE'LL COME BACK!"

"The boat, the boat—he'll come back!" shouted the carpenter as the ship tossed about like a cork, and we clung to the rigging with iron grip.

There was no time to launch the yawl hanging to the stern davits. Not one of us had set foot on deck when the whale, which had run a mile or more to leeward, turned for another rush. He came with greater speed this time, and he had the ship broadside on and could not miss her. We had him full under our eyes, but were helpless to avoid the danger. We saw the wave in front of him grow larger and larger, the great head loom up higher and higher, and he must have had a speed of thirty miles an hour as he struck us on the port side and fairly amidship. Let a rock weighing three or four tons roll down a hillside for a mile or more and strike a farmhouse, and the crash could not equal that which we felt and heard as the whale struck the vessel. She was a stout-built craft, but the blow shivered plank and rib and timber and opened a cavern, into which the water rushed with such volume that she lurched and staggered and settled away right under our feet. We went overboard as we felt her sinking, and all were drawn into the vortex and cast up again with the wreckage. Each man seized something to support him, and when we could see about us the whale was lying quietly on the surface, and we were rubbing along his side with the run of the sea. With one sweep of his flukes he could have killed us all, but fortune was with us. He made no move until we were all clear of him, and then he settled away into the sea so slowly and quietly that scarcely a ripple was raised over the spot. No one saw him after that. Man had hunted him down and sought his life, and he had revenged himself by sending a noble craft to rest on the bottom of the sea and leave her crew in open boats 2,000 miles from land. Anything less would have been unworthy of a king of the sea.

How Thoughtless of Him.

Jack—Oh, grandma, a telegram has come to say that Harry has broken the record at college.

Old Lady—Dear me! how careless of him! If it cannot be mended, I suppose he will have to pay for a new one.

A Safety Match.

Cora—Was it a love match?

Dora—Well, as her money paid his debts and kept him out of prison, I should say it was a safety match.

MORE TROOPS FOR CUBA,

Reinforcing the Spanish Army—Rebels Twice Repulsed.

Special to the Times.

HAVANA, Aug. 30.—A despatch from Puerto Principe says that Col. Ybanez's column, which started on Aug. 11 for Guiamiaro, conveying provisions, met at Clueco a band of about 500 rebels under Adan Castillo and Rodriguez. The rebels occupied very favorable positions, but after a sharp fight they were dislodged and routed. The rebels' loss was 18 killed, 23 wounded and 2 prisoners.

Lieut. Cabanellas, who, with 50 cavalry, was guarding the Puerto Principe railroad, was attacked by 200 rebels on August 23 near Alta Gracia. The rebels were repulsed, and their loss is believed to be heavy. The Government loss was two killed.

Madrid, Aug. 30.—Several battalions of troops left Cadiz and Valencia yesterday to reinforce the Spanish army in Cuba. The final contingent of troops will leave for Cuba today.

The report which has been in circulation that the Minister of Marine has called out the reserves is denied in official circles. General Salcedo, who recently returned from Cuba, repeated in an interview today the statement he made upon his arrival here that a large body of troops should be sent to reinforce the army in Cuba.

VESSEL AFIRE AT SEA.

The Banking Crisis in Newfoundland is Becoming Complicated.

Special to the Times.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 30.—It is uncontended today that the bank trustees have no authority to attempt to collect the reserve liability on shares owing to the defects in the law relative to the winding up of banks. The whole question of bank liquidation is becoming curiously complicated, and lawyers expect that it will take years to solve it.

The schooner Energy, from Poorto, which arrived today, reports that on Aug. 15, about 500 miles off the coast, during a great gale after nightfall, what was believed to be a burning ship was seen. The Energy tried to reach her, but when within twelve miles the wind failed and she could not get near enough to distinguish what sort of a ship it was, but the captain of the Energy is certain that it was a burning vessel, probably a large one. The Energy lay to all night, but in the morning nothing was visible of the ship or wreck.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.
Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

THE TRUTH.

Rev. Chas. H. Parkhurst, D. D., the great reformer, writes October 24, 1894: "Mrs. Parkhurst and myself have used Pond's Extract so long and so constantly that we can speak appreciatively of it and in terms of warm commendation."

Rev. Chas. S. Robinson, D. D., editor of "Songs for the Sanctuary," "Laudes Domini," and other well known hymn books, writes October 23, 1894: "Not once in many years have we been without Pond's Extract in our house. My family prize it as we do the presence of an old and true friend. It fulfills every promise it makes and is a help to every one of us."

Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, writes November 13, 1894: "I have been using a great deal of Pond's Extract for the past year in gargling, as I find it affords great relief in colds."

During the past month the Pond's Extract Company have received over 2,000 orders from physicians. We have on our books testimonials and orders from most of the Governors and many of the Senators of the United States; from the royalty of Europe, such as Her Majesty the Queen of Roumania, the Duchess of Cumberland, Princess of Wied, and others too numerous to mention.

When the clergy, the medical profession, statesmen and royalty all unite in praise of an article it seems unnecessary to say anything additional, but we do find it necessary to warn the public against imitations. These words of praise are all in favor of Pond's Extract—the genuine and only.

It is because of its intrinsic merit and high reputation that Pond's Extract has been imitated. If it were not of such great value and so world renowned there would be no imitations.

TWO ARRESTS MADE

In Connection with the Death of James Barrett on Buck Lake.

Special to the Times.

NOVAR, Aug. 31.—Morris Moles and Chas. Moleon, of McMurrich Township, have been arrested by Detective Greer on the charge of murdering James Barrett on Buck Lake.

The action has caused considerable surprise, as Barrett and the two men arrested were on the best of terms, according to Mrs. Barrett and the neighbors, who can suggest no motive of violence unless a quarrel took place.

BRIEF WIRELETS.

The French fishing vessel Yacinthe has foundered on the Grand Banks. Her crew of nineteen was picked up by a schooner, and safely landed at St. John's Saturday. A terrible storm swept the Grand Banks Monday night and wrought much damage to the fishing fleet.

The Queen of the Belgians, who is staying at Spa, near Liege, was thrown from her horse while riding yesterday. Her Majesty was slightly cut about the head and blood flowed from her wounds, but her condition is not serious enough to cause anxiety.

The police made a tour of Paris last Friday evening for the purpose of inspecting the newspaper stands, every one of which was visited. All of the copies of the German Pictorial publication, the Lustice Blatter, that could be found were seized. The seizures were made on the ground that the periodical contained cartoons and letter press matter grossly insulting to France.

The eastward record made by the Etruria, from New York, Aug. 24th, for Liverpool, which arrived at Queenstown last evening, was six days and 30 minutes, an average of 19.42 knots an hour.

Among the saloon passengers on the steamer New York, which sails from London today, are Sir Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry.

The Prince of Wales cutter Brittannia has been into winter quarters at Cowes. The Prince has ordered that she be made ready for a cruise in the Mediterranean in the spring. The yacht's record in British waters is remarkable, as she captured 32 prizes in the 39 races in which she started.

The police of St. Etienne, in the Department of Loire, made a seizure yesterday of a quantity of dynamite in the house of a shoemaker of that town. Upon being questioned at the police station the shoe maker declared that he had not the slightest idea how the explosive got into the house, and professed ignorance of everything concerning it.

The police authorities at San Sebastian, Spain, are taking every precaution to prevent foreign republican agitators from entering the Basque provinces.

Agriculture is suffering from the lack of laborers in Costa Rica. Farm hands have abandoned the country to search for gold in the cemeteries of old towns. It has been reported that many graves contain gold ornaments of great value, and that in one grave jewellery was found worth a million dollars.

Reports received today at London show the inhumanity of the Turkish officials at Sassoon, who put every possible obstacle in the way of relieving the starving Armenians. Urgent representations have been forwarded to Lord Salisbury of the need for the immediate application of a large measure of relief.

Beaten and Robbed.

BUFFALO, Aug. 31.—Wednesday night Customs Collector John Young, whose office is on the Canadian side just opposite Fort Erie street and near the ferry dock, was on his way home. It was about 9 o'clock. The collector was hobbling along at a slow pace, as he is a cripple. One limb was lost in the Queen's service and it has been replaced by a wooden one. He was passing up a shaded lane when two men sprang up from beside the fence. Both wore masks and presented revolvers. With a deep oath they demanded Mr. Young's money. He replied that he had none, but they laughed at him, saying they knew he had made large collections that afternoon. That was really the case. Despite his crippled condition Mr. Young sprang at one of the highwaymen, hoping to take him unawares and get the revolver. The ruse did not succeed and the collector was in a moment on the ground with both robbers on top of him. It did not take them long to relieve him of all his money, said by some to be $200. Mr. Young is said to have named a much smaller sum to the police. As soon as they had their swag the highwaymen ran to the river bank, jumped into a row boat and paddled across to Buffalo.

WON'T GIVE IN.

Manitoba Will Accept no Compromise on the School Question

Special to the Times.

WINIPEG, Aug, 31.—In conversation with the News correspondent one of the members of the Greenway Cabinet spoke very decidedly on the school question.

"This talk about a compromise," he said, "is all rubbish. There is going to be no compromise. We have decided to yield up nothing. Manitoba will tolerate but one school system, and all the judgments that can be obtained in the British Empire won't force any more on us. We will make the schools purely secular, and take religion out of them altogether if a portion of the people so desire but that is the only concession, if you can call it a concession we will make.

"This story about Premiers Greenway and Bowell meeting to compromise the matter bears its own falsity on its face. We have no love for the Bowell Cabinet on political grounds first. They tried to bulldoze us in an unwarrantable manner and failed next. Under those circumstances, is it likely we will help them out of the hole they are in by a compromise? Not much! If we were inclined to compromise at all, it would be with Lanrier, but we are not. Manitoba schools are on the basis they are going to stay on, and the sooner the people of the Dominion realize that the sooner this difficulty will be settled."

HIS LITTLE BICYCLE.

Fastening the Evidence of Howard Pietzel's Death Upon Holmes.

Special to the Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 31.—Before leaving for Philadelphia yesterday, Detective Geyer and Inspector Gary located the places where Holmes bought the second-hand furniture and the stove which he used in the Irvington cottage. The draymen who hauled the goods to Irvington was located, and the men who had dealings with Holmes indentified his picture as being the photograph of the man who baught the goods.

Further digging in the Irvington cottage cellar brought up a five-gallon oil can and a little toy bicycle which the boy was seen playing with at the cottage. The druggist who sold Holmes chloroform has also been located, Holmes' handwriting appears on two prescripton ats Dr. Wright's drug store.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

NO PAPER TO-MORROW.

In order to enable our staff to enjoy the full benefits of the holiday there will be no issue of THE TIMES tomorrow.

The Weather.

Probs.—Fresh southerly winds, shifting to westerly and northwesterly; fair and warm; showers or thunderstorms in some localities; cooler tomorrow.

Duck Shooting Today.

It is not often that the lawmakers, Provincial and Federal, combine to do the sportsmen a genuine good turn. But so it will be today. By Federal enactment it is a public holiday, by Provincial legislation duck shooting legally commences.

The Band's Outing.

The Fire Brigade Band's excursion to Jubilee Point on Saturday was enjoyed by a fairly large crowd. The cool weather kept many away. The band boys spent a pleasant afternoon on board the City of Peterborough and at the Point.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 654 Stewart street.

L. O. L. Excursion.

On Tuesday morning Fraserville Loyal Orange Lodge will run a cheap excursion to beautiful Idyl Wyld per steamer City of Peterborough. The steamer will leave the wharf at 8.30. The Fraserville brass band will be in attendance and render delightful airs. A splendid program of sports has been provided for and no doubt a very enjoyable time will be spent.

New Goods

At Clegg's, now arriving every day for the fall trade. Not only fine and expensive furniture, but the cheaper lines as well. Good common chairs at 33c, a good bedstead, all hard wood and well finished, for $2. Mattresses, springs, pillows, etc. Cheap extension tables and sideboards. Four flats one hundred feet long filled full of furniture and all at bottom prices, A. Clegg's 427 George street.

Thieves at Sturgeon Point.

Thieves have been operating at and around Sturgeon Point for some time past. Not long ago some $300 was stolen from a farm house, and one evening last week the tea table at Mr. Graham's was completely cleared of all the edibles, leaving rather a scant fare for the guests, who were present. On Saturday night last, some scamps, probably the same parties, ran off with the steam yacht, Mizpah, and spent Sunday in "doing" the lake. A few days ago a boat belonging to Rev. Mr. Kitts was also taken.

A Fish Worm Industry.

Mr. J. Edgar, of Bobcaygeon, has struck quite a line in the fish worm industry. The local worm is not the fine large ripe toothsome morsel that the Toronto worm is. Some time ago Mr. Edgar had a few Toronto worms left over from an outing, and he put them in a large box of broken sod. It frequently occurred to him to water the box, and the other day having occasion to use a few worms he bethought him of the box. To his surprise he found that he had a ranch of thorough bred, finest quality wums, and he now intends giving his wum ranch every attention.

The Mystery Explained.

A canoeing party who returned to town last Saturday from a ten day's outing among the back rivers and lakes, with blistered hands and sunburnt noses, tell an a-w-f-u-l fish story. As they were quietly paddling down a river cows were noticed standing in the water close inshore. As the canoeists came up to them a queer looking varmint was observer sucking one of the cows. When they had recovered from their astonishment a gaff hook was slipped in the water and what proved to be a 20 lb. lunge landed. The body of the fish was swelled out to an abnormal size and upon being opened was found to contain a 4 lb. cheese in prime condition. We give the story just as it was told us, and as the members of the party have hitherto borne exemplary characters we have no reason to doubt the truth of it. By the killing of this fish a great mystery has been solved in that section. The creamery closed down a few weeks previous owing to the scarcity of milk, and the oldest inhabitant was unable to explain why there should be a dimunition in the supply of lactated fluid. Now the thing is as clear as mud.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. FIGHT AT SPRINGVILLE.

BLOWS AND BRICKBATS IN THE QUIET LITTLE HAMLET.

Postmaster Smith and the Irwins Engage in a Bloody Battle of Fisticuffs—Mrs. Smith Brings up the Rear With Brickbats—Smith Arrested.

A very bloody fight took place at Springville, seven miles southeast of Peterborough, on Saturday night, and the services of County Constable Moore were needed in the dead hour of the night.

Thomas Smith, the postmaster, has been arrested and placed in jail on the charge of assault, at the instance of Mr. Thomas Irwin, a resident of Springville. More arrests may follow.

There has been bad blood between the Irwins and the Smiths for some time. Several times the Irwins have lost property by fire, and it was broadly hinted that there was an effort being made to burn them out of the village. Several fires followed in rapid succession and each bore evidences of having been of incendiary origin.

On Saturday evening, according to young Irwin's story, he went into the post office and asked Smith if there was any mail. Smith is alleged to have said:

"Here's your mail and your the ——— I want."

Then, so Irwin says, Smith invited him out into the road, and the two men pulled off their coats and began a fight that would have been to the death, had not outsiders interfered.

They bit and scratched and pounded until they tore each other's shirts into shreds and both were covered with blood, when Mr. Thomas Irwin, father of young Irwin arrived on the scene and made an attempt to separate the infuriated men. But no sooner had he taken a hand, when Mrs. Smith, it is said, also hove in sight, and began firing brick bats, with such deadly aim that the elder Irwin was laid out very badly injured. The fight continued for some time, the friends of both parties taking a hand, and for some time there was a regular riot in the peaceful hamlet, that would have put a Paris mob outbreak to shame.

Finally, after much blood had been spilled, things quieted down. Young Irwin got a rig and drove his father to Peterborough arriving at 12 o'clock Saturday night. A doctor was seen and dressed the wounds of the elder man. Five stitches were put in gashes under one eye, and bruises under the other eye had to be lanced in three places. Several ribs were also broken, and there were bruises and cuts too numerous to mention.

A warrant for the arrest of Smith was sworn out before Magistrate Edmison and Constable Moore went out to Springville at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning and made the arrest.

Postmaster Smith says that Irwin came into the postoffice and invited him out into the street to fight. He went.

The case will come up tomorrow.

THIS IS LABOR DAY.

Also Laborers' Day—What Will Transpire in and About Town.

Today is Labor Day, not only in Peterborough, but throughout the Province. By statutory enactment, it is declared a public holiday, and by reason of it being the first statutory holiday declared by the premier of Ontario, there attaches to it some importance and significance.

The Government had no thought for the employer of labor, the merchant, the banker, or the wealthy, when it proclaimed the 2nd of September a holiday, but it designed the day for the laboring man and the laboring woman, for while the former may work just as hard, still it is the laboring man and the laboring woman who seldom have the opportunity for a day's outing and who labor incessantly and unceasingly six days in the week the whole year round. But today everybody can rest, and spend a day of enjoyment, for the Government says so, and its a pretty dangerous thing to monkey with the Government.

TODAY'S AMUSEMENTS.

There will be a lacrosse match in the Driving Park this afternoon between the Athletics and the Markham team. The latter are said to be great lacrosse players and the game should be interesting and worth going to see.

There will also be a baseball match between the 'Prentice Boys, and a team composed of the George Matthews Co. employees. The grounds had not been decided upon last night, but will be announced by posters this morning.

There will be an excursion down the river, the City of Peterborough leaving at 8 o'clock, for the Patrons of Industry harvest picnic at Jubilee point. Hundreds will attend this event and no doubt it will be a pleasurable outing. At the Point speeches will be made by Prof. Mills, of the Guelph Agricultural College, Grand President C. A. Mallory and other prominent speakers, and a program of sports will be held as well.

The Trades Union will run a trip around the lakes from Chemong to Lakefield.

The public schools will be closed today.

Battalion Orders.

HEADQUARTERS,
PETERBOROUGH, Aug. 31th, 1895.

Orders by Lieut. Col. R. W. Bell, Commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers.

The Battalion will parade on Tuesday evening, Sept. 3rd, at 8 p.m.. and each succeeding Tuesday evening until further orders, to prepare for annual inspection. Every officer and man must be present.

By order,
E. F. MASON, Capt.
Adjt. 57th Batt.

Eclipse of the Moon.

Tomorrow night there will be an eclipse of the moon, it will be a specially good night to call on your best girl. You can tell the old folks not to sit up, as you are going to wait and see the eclipse of the moon. The first contact takes place at eighteen minutes to eleven, unless you get a chance sooner. The beginning of the total phase commences at eleven minutes to two and the middle of the eclipse occurs at 2.39; the end of the total phase is at 3.30, and the last contact should be at 4.35, or the old man will be getting on to the racket. This schedule is official and should offer a very pleasant time, certainly not by any means hurried.

Fire at Bobcaygeon.

The fire company was called out on Monday night. A vacant building owned by Mr. Wm. Martin, and situated above Mr. VanValkenburg on the the Fenelon road, was found to be on fire. The building had been fired on two or three occasions lately. It was Mr. Martin's intention to pull down the building and use the material in a stable on his farm. It was a frame building and had been up some thirty years. Whilst the amount of the loss is not very great, there have been several buildings burnt lately, and it would be well if a detective were put on the case. Those capable of firing buildings for mere deviltment would be capable of greater atrocities. A sentence of seven years in the penitentiary, might have a wholesome effect in the protection of property.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

DEATH OF MR. ROBERT POPE.

A Widely Known and Highly Respected Citizen Passes Away.

The death of Mr. Robert Pope, street inspector, occurred yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at his residence on Stewart street. The sad occurrence was not unexpected, as Mr. Pope had been ill for a long time and as the improvements in his condition from time to time were of short duration, it was felt by his friends and relatives that ultimate recovery was hopeless.
